RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

a Net earnings here given are after deducting taxes.
b Net earnings here given are before deducting taxes.
c Figures revised for previous year so as to accord with the new classification of earnings and expenses now required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.
d The company now includes the earnings of the Denver Enid & Gulf RR., Pecos Valley system and Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix Ry. in both years. For March taxes and rentals amounted to $241,765, against $196,025 in 1907; after deducting which, net for March 1908 was $2,697,149, against $3,030,474 last year. For period from July 1 to March 31, taxes and rentals were $2,143,781 in 1908, against $1,741,513 in 1907.
g These results are in Mexican currency.
h For March 1908 additional income showed a deficit of $816, against a credit of $9,781 in 1907, and for period from July 1 to March 31 was $29,232 in 1908, against $45,564 last year.
k For March 1908 additional income was $33,439, against $12,145 in 1907, and for period from July 1 to March 31 was $155,643 in 1908, against $176,375 last year.
n These figures represent 30% of gross earnings.
s After allowing for miscellaneous income, which was a debit item for the month of March 1908, total net earnings were $436,546 in March 1908, against $329,503 last year, and for period from July 1 to March 31 were $3,018,541 this year, against $3,353,099.
v In accordance with the contract of Nov. 1 1907 between the Atlantic & Birmingham Construction Co. and the Atl. Birm. & Atl. RR. Co., the Construction Co., as the part of expenses chargeable to it on account of the unfinished condition of the work and the interference by its work with the operation, pays each month to the Railroad Co. such portion of the operating expenses as equals the excess of the total operating expenses above 70% of the total operating revenue.
x These figures are on the basis of accounting required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.
z Includes $55 other income for March 1908 against $398 in 1907, and for period from July 1 to March 31 includes $792 in 1908, against $4,069 last year; beginning July 1, the earnings of the Dublin & Southwestern RR. are included in both years.

Interest Charges and Surplus.—The following roads, in addition to their gross and net earnings given in the foregoing, also report charges for interest, &c., with the surplus above or deficit below these charges.

a Figures for the month in both years include operations of the Scranton Ry., acquired Jan. 1 1906. c These figures are for consolidated company. d These are results for main line. f No earnings for Detroit Jackson & Chicago Ry. for Jan. 1907 included in these figures. h Decrease due to strike and boycott. k Does not include the Charing Cross Euston & Hampstead Ry. for last year.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—In the following we show both the gross and the net earnings to latest dates of all STREET railways from which we have been able to procure monthly returns. As in the case of the steam roads, the returns of the different roads are published by us each week as soon as received, and once a month we bring together all the roads reporting, as is done to-day.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Annual Reports.—An index to annual reports of steam railroads, street railways and miscellaneous companies which have been published during the preceding month will be given on the last Saturday of each month. This index will not include reports in the issue of the "Chronicle" in which it is published. The latest index will be found in the issue of April 25. The next will appear in that of May 29.

Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada.

(Report for Half-Year—Earnings for Entire Year 1907.)

President C. Rivers Wilson, in his report dated March 27, covering the half-year ending Dec. 31 1907, says in part:

General Results.—The gross receipts for the half year show an increase of £178,400, or 4.98%; the working expenses, including taxes, an increase of £149,438, or 5.83%; and the train mileage an increase of 581,682, or 5.85%.

The continued increase in traffic receipts, which had marked the progress of the company for a lengthened period, began gradually to diminish in October as the result of a bad harvest in Canada and of the severe financial crisis in the United States, until in the middle of December the weekly returns began to show, for the first time since 1904, a marked decrease as compared with those of the corresponding period. In view of these circumstances stringent measures are being taken by the management to restrict, so far as is consistent with the interests of the company, all expenditure in the different departments so long as the present depression of business continues.

Capital Account.—The total charges to the capital account amounted for the half-year to £293,900. Of this sum £6,209 was discount and commission on 4% guaranteed stock issued during the half-year, less premium on 4% debenture stock sold and issued in exchange for Midland of Canada sectional bonds. The actual expenditure on capital account was £287,691, as follows:

|---|---|---|---|
| Double track | 78,038 | Land purchased | 14,531 |

Grand Trunk Pacific Ry.—Satisfactory progress has been made in the construction work of the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry., taking into consideration the scarcity of labor during the past season and the difficulty of obtaining supplies of materials. 356 miles of track have been laid between Winnipeg and Edmonton, and it is expected that this portion of the line (793 miles) will be completed during the ensuing summer.

Contracts have been let for the line between Edmonton and Wolf's Creek (123 miles), the end of the Prairie section, and on the Mountain section from Prince Rupert, the Pacific terminus, eastward for about 100 miles, and contracts will shortly be let for about 200 miles of the Mountain section westward from Wolf's Creek.

The track has been laid on 120 miles of the Lake Superior branch.

The whole of the funds estimated as the amount to be provided on the guaranty of the Grand Trunk Co. for the construction of the Prairie and Mountain sections, and of the Lake Superior branch, have been raised, with the exception of £696,000, which it is not considered will be required for a considerable period.

International Traction Co. System, Buffalo, &c.

President Henry J. Pierce, under date of Buffalo, N. Y., March 17 1908, says:

General Results.—Notwithstanding the financial panic, which so seriously affected general business during the last quarter of the year, the gross earnings of the system for 1907 were $5,445,070, being an increase of $420,771 over those of 1906. The surplus for the year was $312,261, or $152,593 less than for the previous year, on account of higher operating expenses, taxes and interest. The car mileage was increased 1,779,790 miles, equivalent to 9%.

Depreciation, Improvements, &c.—During the year $525,328 was expended for repaving, relaying tracks with heavy rails, &c., and $865,578 for additions to equipment, track and buildings. These expenditures were charged respectively to the fund for depreciation and to capital account.

The following improvements were completed during the year: The construction of the Fillmore Ave. line of 11.2 miles was completed, thus increasing the total mileage to 369.58 miles of single track. A new car house and storage yard, having a capacity of 200 cars, was completed at a cost of $225,000, on Broadway, Buffalo. Tracks were laid under new franchise through Franklin St., Buffalo, from Chippewa St. to the Terrace.

The East Avenue line in Lockport was extended to the city limits, to meet the new interurban road from Rochester, that will be in operation next spring; and a large number of minor improvements were installed.

In addition to the above, 50 new pay-as-you-enter cars were purchased during the year and put in service in January, 1908, on our Niagara St. line in Buffalo. They have proved a marked success. The work of installing the pay-as-you-enter feature upon 150 of our standard cars has been begun at the Cold Springs shops, and will be pushed to completion so that before the end of this year there will be 200 pay-as-you-enter cars in operation in Buffalo, out of a total of 600 operated.

It is expected that legal proceedings in connection with the opening up of Elmwood Ave. from Virginia to Chippewa streets will be completed by spring, making it possible to build new lines through Chippewa, Franklin and other streets, under franchise recently granted to the International Railway Co. These lines, when finished, will relieve the congestion of street car traffic now existing on Main St. and make the street railway system of Buffalo most complete.

United Railways & Electric Co. of Baltimore.

President William A. House, under date of Baltimore, April 8 1908, says in part:

General Results.—Comparing 1907 results with those of 1906, we have the following: Increase in gross earnings, $434,979, or 6.61%; increase in operating expenses, $249,145, or 7.74%; increase in other income, $1,780; increase in fixed charges, $122,356, or 5.17%; increase in amount carried to surplus for the year, $16,359.

The increase in operating expenses was mainly due to increased car service and to advance in rates of wages paid employees in the various departments, this advance being operative during the entire year 1907, while it was only effective for 5 2-3 months of 1906. This item was also increased by the cost of operating Bay Shore Park, and by the advance in the cost of materials and supplies.

The increase in fixed charges is due to the additional obligations incurred for interest on Maryland Electric Railways Company's bond proceeds; increase in interest on the new funding bonds, and increase in taxes.

While naturally it was to be expected that the revenue should be somewhat affected by the recession in general business conditions during the latter portion of the year, resulting from the closing down, in whole or in part, of the manufacturing establishments on its lines, it is gratifying that the earnings were only so affected during November and December. The receipts for these months, however, show increases over the corresponding months of 1906, but not to the same extent as would have obtained under normal business conditions.

Extraordinary Expenditures Charged ta Income.—The company has continued the policy referred to in the last annual report of charging to income for an account designated as "extraordinary expenditures" the amounts required for rehabilitating the property other than ordinary maintenance and repair. These expenditures for the year aggregate $1,028,899, viz.

|---|---|
| Track reconstruction, including electric welding | $219,385 |
| Reconstruction of overhead lines, additional feeders, &c | 92,734 |
| Construction and reconstruction of viaducts and bridges | 36,012 |
| Improvements to power plant and sub-stations | 318,904 |
| Payments on account of car trusts (net) | 104,718 |
| Construction and reconstrutcion of cars at company's shops | 42,622 |
| Interest on sundry construction loans | 75,765 |
| Interest on Maryland Electric Rys. Co.'s bond proceeds | 58,131 |
| Miscellaneous | 80,628 |

Construction.—New track and overhead construction amounted to $61,834, of which $23,687 was provided from the proceeds of sale of 4% treasury bonds and $38,147 is yet to be provided from the same source. There was also charged to capital account $315,492 for power-house machinery and equipment. The latter sum was derived from the sale uring the year of old property deposited in a special fund and disbursed: for new property, including engines, generators, transformers, cables, &c.

Track Operated.—The company now operates 396.192 miles of main line, of which 173.325 miles are laid with "T" rail on suburban lines and 173.844 miles with 9-inch girder rail, while 49.023 miles are made up of various types of smaller sections, the joints upon 39.72 miles of which have been cast-welded.

Bridges.—The sub-structure of the Bear Creek bridge has been reconstructed its entire length, 3,786 feet, without interruption to the service.

Cars.—Eighty new double-truck cars of the semi-convertible type, equipped with air-brakes and multiple control, were received during the year and placed in service, thereby giving the company ample equipment to care for the traffic.

McCall Ferry Power Co.—On June 28 1907 an agreement was entered into with the McCall Ferry Power Co., under which that company agrees to deliver 10,000 k. w. electric energy (13,500 h. p.) daily as an adjunct to the present power plants; the supply of current to begin Sept. 1 1908. The McCall Co. was, however, obliged to suspend operations on its plant, owing to the unfavorable financial conditions which have existed since the fall of 1907. It is not thought, therefore, that it will be in shape to furnish current by the time specified in the contract.

Power Plants.—As a result of the additions and improvements made during the year the power situation of the company at present is as follows:

| Capacity of Generating Stations (k.w.). | | Capacity of Sub-Stations (k. w.). | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pratt Street | 25,000 | Druid Hill | 5,500 |
| Pratt Street | 5,400 | Nunnery Lane | 2,000 |
| Light Street | 2,000 | Eastern Avenue | 5,000 |
| Falls Road | 750 | Northern No. 1 | 4,000 |
| Owings Mills | 780 | Northern No. 2 | 3,000 |
| Bay Shore | 1,375 | Central | 7,500 |
| Total kilowatts | 35,305 | Total kilowatts | 27,000 |

Maryland Electric Railways Co.—The purchase of the 80 semi-convertible cars and 1 coal car; the acquisition of sites and construction of car-houses thereon; the acquisition of the necessary sites and construction of the Central and Northern No. 2 sub stations and the Bay Shore power plant, with the necessary machinery and cables, have been made by the Maryland Electric Railways Co. at an expenditure during the year of $1,770,347, which company has, in turn, leased the same to your company under the financial plan adopted in 1906 and explained in the eighth annual report of the company (V. 84, p. 993; V. 83, p. 156.)

Transfers.—With a view to improving the transfer privilege and lessening the opportunities for abuse, the company on April 1 inaugurated a new transfer system. There is now an exchange of transfers between the lines of the system at 193 junctions with 1,614 direction privileges, thus enabling passengers to reach any section of the city for a single fare.

Summary of All Improvements and Additions.—The following expenditures aggregating $3,176,573 over and above the usual operating expenses were made for improvements, betterments and new construction during the year 1907 by or for the use of your company. (The report describes the various improvements and additions at much length.—Ed.):

| "Extraordinary expenditures" account (see details above) | $1,028,899 |
| Extension of tracks | 61,834 |
| Power-house machinery and equipment account | 315,492 |
| Cars, car houses, power plants, sub-stations, &c. (Maryland Electric Railways Co.) | 1,770,318 |

Manner in Which Said Extraordinary Expenditures Were Met.

| From income | $1,028,899 |
| Balance from sale of treasury bonds | 23,687 |
| Proceeds of sale of real estate | 315,492 |
| Sale of Maryland Electric Railway Co.'s bonds | 1,770,347 |
| Increase in notes payable on account German St. and Dickeyville extensions | 38,147 |

It will be seen, therefore, that the physical condition of your property was greatly improved during the year 1907, and that, notwithstanding these large expenditures, the company's bills payable and accounts payable increased but $168,664, while this amount was more than offset by the cash balance on hand at the end of the fiscal year, which was $555,674, as against $115,977 in 1906, an increase of $439,697.

It will also be recalled that under the company's funding plan all surplus to Dec. 1 1910 may be used to pay the company's floating debt; to improve its property, or for any of its corporate purposes.

United States Steel Corporation.

(Earnings for the Quarter ending March 31 1908)

The following financial statement of the Corporation and its subsidiary companies, showing the earnings for the first quarter of the current calendar year, was given out on Tuesday, after the regular monthly meeting of the directors. The earnings of the Tennessee Coal Iron & RR Co. are included in 1908. The "net earnings" in all cases were arrived at after deducting each month the cost of ordinary repairs, renewals and maintenance of plants and interest on bonds and fixed charges of subsidiary companies. See also note below. We append the results for quarters in previous years.

This change reduces by approximately $200,000 per month the earnings reported, as compared with the former method, and correspondingly reduces the charges shown as deductions from earnings for fund reservations. The balance of earnings after deducting fund reserves is not affected by the change in method. See annual report, V. 84, p. 634.—V. 85, p. 1459, 1466.

Hudson River Electric Power Company.

(History and Description of Enterprise.)

The management has prepared an elaborate statement describing at great length the hydro-electric plants, transmission systems, &c., now controlled by the Hudson River Electric Power Co. as the parent company. Condensed excerpts follow:

Hudson River Water Power Co.—At a point ten miles to the northwest of Glens Falls, N. Y., the Hudson River breaks through the foothills of the Adirondack Mountains between two high granite cliffs. In 1899 the Hudson River Water Power Co. was organized with an authorized capital stock of $2,000,000 (subsequently increased to $5,000,000) and an authorized bond issue of $2,000,000, and undertook the development of this great power.

The "Spier Falls Development" embraces an intake canal 400 feet long; a reservoir 5 miles long and about one-third of a mile wide; a dam 154 ft. high, 113 ft. thick at the base and 17 ft. thick at the top, and a power house of brick and steel, 420 ft. long. The equipment in the power-house at present consists of five 5,000-horse-power McCormick units, each directly connected to a 2,500-k.w., 2,000-volt, three-phase General Electric alternating-current generator; one Swain turbine of 5,000 h.p., connected to 2,500-k.w. generator, and two 4,000-h.p. McCormick turbines, connected to 2,000-k.w. generators. This is a total generating capacity at the present time of 22,000 h.p., capable of a 50% over-load. Besides these seven units, provision is made for three additional units of 5,000 h.p capacity each, and the turbine for the eighth unit is already on the ground. Transformers raise the voltage from 2,000 volts up to 30,000 volts.

The station is designed for an ultimate capacity of 50,000 h. p. The station was started in August 1903 with only three units.

Hudson River Electric Co.—It was originally intended to develop but 50 feet of the available 80-foot head, but before the plans were completed the demand for power from Schenectady, Albany and Troy was so great that it was decided to develop the entire 80-foot head and transmit the electricity to these larger cities named. Many difficulties were encountered and the original issue of $2,000,000 Hudson River Water Power Co. first mortgage bonds not being sufficient for the enlarged development, the Hudson River Electric Co. was organized April 23 1901 with a capital stock of $3,000,000 and an authorized issue of $3,000,000 bonds. These bonds were guaranteed by the Hudson River Water Power Co. by endorsement and such guaranty secured by a mortgage on all the property of the Hudson River Water Power Co., &c., including the Spier Falls development. The capital stock of the Hudson River Electric Co. went to the Hudson River Water Power Co. as a consideration for guaranteeing its bonds. The bonds were sold and the proceeds used to complete the property of the Hudson River Water Power Co. and to acquire several undeveloped water powers, and also to acquire the capital stock of the Hudson River Power Transmission Co.

Hudson River Power Transmission Co.—This company, a going concern organized July 12 1897, with a capital stock of $750,000 and an authorized issue of $500,000 first mortgage bonds covering all its property, had built a water-power plant on the Hudson River at Mechanicville, 2 miles south of the village of Mechanicville and 11 miles from Troy, 18 from Albany and 17 from Schenectady. The generator capacity of the station is 7,000 h.p. in seven generators, each of 750 k.w. capacity. There is also an auxiliary steam plant of 1,000 h.p. capacty. The immediate market for the power generated at this station includes the cities of Cohoes, Troy, Albany and Schenectady. The surplus power is fed into the trunk lines of the Hudson River Electric Co.

Distributing Stations in the Hudson Valley.—From Glens Falls on the north to Albany on the south the Hudson River Electric Power Co. has a chain of distributing stations and switch-houses interconnected by 30,000 volt lines over 70 miles in length.

Hudson River Electric Power Co.—The demand for power continued to increase and the New York Central RR. became interested in acquiring trolley roads paralleling its lines through the Mohawk Valley, and applied for power for its system. The bonds authorized by the Hudson River Water Power Co. and Hudson River Electric Co. having been exhausted, and the original object for which these companies were organized having been greatly outgrown, it was found necessary to form another company with a broader charter to cover this greater field of operation. The Hudson River Electric Power Co. was therefore organized Dec. 23 1903 with an authorized capital stock of $10,000,000 ($6,000,000 of which has been issued) and an authorized issue of $5,000,000 bonds. In March 1905 a contract was made for 20,000 h.p. running 25 years, with the Utica & Mohawk Valley Ry. (controlled by the New York Central RR.) for the operation of its trolley system and any extensions thereof. This system has since been extended to Syracuse, N. Y., on the west, and to Little Falls, N. Y., on the east.

A modern steam turbine plant of 8,000 h.p. was built at Utica, N. Y., to supply this system until transmission lines could be extended from Amsterdam to Utica and additional water power developed. In the meantime a line was built from Ballston Spa, N. Y., to Amsterdam, N. Y.

The current (from the steam plant) is delivered at Clark's Mills to the Oneida Railway and operates the third-rail West Shore electric line between Utica and Syracuse, a distance of 48 miles.

The foundations for the high-tension house at the Utica plant are completed, and with very little expense the building can be arranged for the incoming 60,000-volt lines from the water-power plants in the Hudson and Mohawk valleys.

Empire State Power Co.—This company was organized in May 1900 with a capital stock of $1,000,000 and an authorized issue of $1,500,000 of bonds, for the purpose of acquiring five undeveloped water powers on the Schoharie River and developing one of them. Of the bonds issued all but $210,000 have been returned to the trustee for cancellation and these outstanding bonds are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Hudson River Water Power Co. under the arrangement by which it secured control of this property.

Saratoga Gas Electric Light & Power Co.—In December 1899 the capital stock of the Saratoga Gas, Electric Light & Power Co., $210,800, consisting of $180,400 preferred and $30,400 common, and later the capital stock of the Ballston Spa Light & Power Co., $35,000, was acquired by the Hudson River Water Power Co. and put under the mortgage securing its bonds. The capital stock of the Hudson River Power Transmission Co., $750,000, was acquired by the Hudson River Electric Co. and put under the mortgage securing its bonds.

Hudson River Electric Power Co., the Parent Company.—In the meantime arrangements had been made for exchanging the stock of the Hudson River Water Power Co. for that of the Hudson River Electric Power Co. The latter company became the parent and controlling company, with operations extending from Syracuse on the west to Albany on the east and Lake George on the north, serving a population of 525,000 people, with 6,000 manufacturing establishments capitalized at $185,474,459, employing 133,776 hands and paying out annually $58,633,572 in wages.

Schoharie Falls Development.—The Schoharie River, on which the generating station of the Hudson River Electric Power Co. is located, has its source in the Catskill Mountains and flows northerly a distance of about 80 miles to the Mohawk River at Fort Hunter, near the city of Amsterdam. The total drainage area is about 947 square miles. The present development at Schoharie Falls is only a small part of the general plan for the development of the stream. This plan contemplates the building of storage reservoirs, dams and generating stations which, under a total head of 217 feet, will give a production of 18,000 h.p.

The present development includes a dam, canal and a power-house 67 ft. long. The plant, worked on an effective head of approximately 40 ft., consists of two pairs of 40-inch Samson turbines, a pair of McCormick tnrbines, 24-in.; two Stanley three-phase, 12,000-volt, 650-k.w., 40-cycle generators, connected to the water wheels by means of a rope drive; also a 250-k.w. General Electric generator, which is connected to the 24-inch McCormick wheels by a rope drive. This station is connected with Amsterdam, 7 miles distant, by a 30-000-volt transmission line.

Steel Tower Transmission Lines.—All new lines are now being constructed on galvanized steel towers with concrete bases and arranged for carrying 60,000 volts. At present the company has 27 miles of such tower lines in operation, namely from Utica plant to Clark's Mills, 8 miles, and from Ballston to Amsterdam, 19 miles.

Summary.—The Hudson River Water Power Co. owns the plant at Spier Falls. The Hudson River Electric Co. distributes the energy throughout the Hudson Valley. The Hudson River Electric Power Co. is the parent company and owns the stock of all the other companies. It is the distributing company throughout the Mohawk Valley.

The Hudson River Electric Power Co. also owns and operates the Hudson River Power Transmission Co. at Mechanicville, a 7,000-h.p. station, all completed and in operation. It also owns an 8,000-h.p. steam plant in Utica, operating all the cars of the Utica & Mohawk Valley Ry. from Rome to Little Falls, and the Oneida Railway from Utica to Syracuse. Its purpose is to construct the 60,000-volt line from Amsterdam to Utica, when all the plants will be operated in multiple, giving the company five sources from which to derive its power. This will practically eliminate any possibility of interruption.

The company is furnishing the General Electric Co. of Schenectady 14,000 h.p., or 90% of what it uses. It is operating all the cars on the Schenectady Railway and all the cars of the United Traction Co. of Albany and Troy. It furnishes all the electric lighting, both public and private, for Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Glens Falls, Saratoga Springs, Ballston Spa, Watervliet, Green Island, Oneida and Canastota, and practically all the power used in these cities. It has a large sub-station on Church St., Amsterdam, and a line from Ballston Spa to Amsterdam for the purpose of furnishing light and power in connection with the Schoharie Falls plant, which the company owns.

Under the terms of this contract, which is made for 25 years and provides for the taking at the beginning of 5,000 h.-p., increasing from time to time up to 20,000 h.-p. the Hudson River Electric Power Co. receives a "flat" or guaranteed revenue of $84,000 per annum, and additional income which will bring this revenue up to $140,000 per annum. This income will be gradually increased as additional power is taken by the New York Central Railroad Co. for the further equipment of its trolley system until the maximum amount of 20,000 h.-p. shall have been reached, calling for the payment of at least $750,000 per annum."—Ed.]—V. 86, p. 54.

New Orleans Railway & Light Co.

The income account for 1907, specially furnished to the "Chronicle," was given in V. 86, p. 598. President E. C. Foster, under date of New Orleans, April 13, says:

General Results.—The gross earnings of all properties for the year were $6,041,301, being an increase of $268,111, or 4.6%. Operating expenses increased $196,382, or 6.4%, due chiefly to the increased volume of business in the railroad and gas departments and to an increase of ½ cent per hour in wages to employees from July 1. The net income for the year was $745,267, after paying $312,500 to the preferred stockholders, was $432,767.

Improvements.—For construction, improvements and betterments and the acquisition of new property during the year we have expended $1,009,833. Of this amount $598,497 was paid on account of the power houses, which are now completed; the balance, $411,355, having been expended or the various properties as follows:

| | | | |
| New Orleans City RR. Co. | $157,144 | Orleans RR. Co. | $2,918 |
| N. O. & Carrollton RR. dep. | 24,906 | N. O. & Pontchartrain RR. Co. | 250 |
| RR., L. & P. Co. Elec. dep | 102,124 | New Orleans Gas Light Co. | 82,034 |
| St. Charles Street RR. Co. | 41,959 | | |

(See also "Chronicle," V. 86, p. 168, 338.)

During the year we completed and placed in operation the extension of the Levee and Barracks line.

In the electric light and power department for underground and line construction we expended $32,474, largely for extending our services to new customers in heretofore undeveloped sections of the city.

We purchased property on Bourbon St. near Bienville St. for a substation and have placed therein one 1,000 k. w. motor generator for transforming alternating current as generated at the main power house to 230 volt direct current for distribution to our customers in the underground district.

The contract for furnishing electrical energy to the city of New Orleans has about 7½ years to run, having been entered into Sept. 30 1905 for a period of ten years.

In the gas department there were laid during the year 1907 new mains of various sizes to the extent of 55,170 feet. The territory which we now furnish will soon be extended, owing to the inrcease of population, and this will demand a further extension of mains. This, in turn, means a larger number of consumers and increased revenues.

The city of New Orleans is now engaged in constructing a water supply system. The installation of sewerage and water mains which has been in progress the past two years will be completed in an estimated period of one to three years. Due to the carrying on of this work, about 25 miles of girder rail track has been undermined and thrown out of position by the building of parallel trenches close to the tracks, very much to their detriment. It is the intention to expend, due partly to the installation of these sewerage and water pipes, for re-surfacing and rehabilitation of our track, about $500,000, as soon as it can be consistently done with due consideration for the company's interest.

Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., Limited, Toronto.

President G. G. S. Lindsey, under date of Feb. 19 1908, says in substance:

The coal mined this year amounts to 981,939 tons, as against 806,901 tons mined in 1906; production of coke 231,368 tons, as against 213,295 tons. But for a strike during April and the action of the smelters in raising wages, and so depriving us of our coke-oven men in mid-summer, and then for the most part shutting down their mines and smelters for the last two months of the year because they could not operate under the new wage scale, the output would have over-reached considerably the million-ton mark for the year.

The costs of mining and coke-making during 1907 were increased greatly by reason of the advance in wages to miners, the irregular working of the men, the, at times, scarcity of labor, the expense of securing new miners, the higher prices paid for all materials used, the heavy increase in freight rates, the larger cost of compensation for injuries to workmen and the extremely severe weather during the first three months of the year. Besides, a fluctuating demand for coal involved pressing the mines at times for tonnage, which had the inevitable influence of raising the cost. These conditions were the most unfavorable in the history of the company.

During the year there has been spent on improvements the sum of $414,591 by the Coal Company; $21,735 by the Electric Light & Power Co., and $57,582 by the Morrissey Fernie & Michel Railway Co. (the last two being subsidiary companies of the Coal Company), or a total on improvements of $493,819.

A new agreement between the company and its employees was reached on May 2 1907 lasting till April 1 1909. Increases in some of the mining rates, as well as to outside and inside labor, were accorded the men and a joint committee agreed upon to settle all disputes.

Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Co., Meat Packers, New York.

Under date of April 14 1908 the company has issued the following balance sheet of Feb. 1 1908 which we compare with that of Dec. 31 1906. The company says:

Enclosed please find copy of our balance sheet as of Feb. 1 1908, certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., chartered accountants, who, during the past year, have revised our accounts and whose recommendations as to methods of accounting, depreciation reserve and adjustments have been adopted. Upon their recommendation our advances to subsidiary companies have been carried as investments, and the packing plants of the company (all of which are unencumbered) have been taken at the values fixed by the appraisers appointed by the bankers who purchased our ten-year debenture notes, plus the additions since, the depreciation reserve upon buildings, machinery and equipment recommended by the accountants having been deducted.

a The item of real estate, buildings, machinery, &c., on Dec. 29 1906 was made up as follows: valuation Dec. 31 1905, $9,276,701; additions during 1906, $766,091; written off in previous years $2,900,000; balance Dec. 31 1906, $7,142,792. The packing plants (all of which are unencumbered) were appraised in 1906 by independent appraisers as having an aggregate value about $2,000,000 in excess of the book values, on which the statement of Dec. 29 1906 was based. In the balance sheet of Feb. 1 1908 the valuation of the packing plants has been marked up on the basis of the aforesaid appraisal and other changes have been made, as stated in the text above and foot note "b" below.

b The total surplus Feb. 1 1908 was obtained by adding to surplus on Dec. 29 1906 the surplus of $1,248,121 arising from the appraisal of properties less depreciation of plants and other adjustments (net) recommended by accountants, and also $516,048, being the net earnings for 13 months ending Feb. 1 1908, $912,885; less reserves recommended by accountants, viz.: provision for depreciation and renewal, $346,837 and reserve against market fluctuations in inventory, $50,000. In 1906 the total surplus was increased $922,758.—V. 86, p. 550, 424.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Bonds Offered.—Moffat & White, Lee, Higginson & Co. and Clark, Dodge & Co. are offering, by advertisement on another page, the unsold portion of a block of $4,000,000 general mortgage 4% gold bonds, dated 1895. Amount authorized, $165,490,500; amount outstanding, $152,155,000. These additional bonds were listed this week on the New York Stock Exchange.

The bonds are secured by an absolute first mortgage upon 5,160 miles of railroad, by direct lien upon 1,488 additional miles were listed this week subject to only $17,855,000 divisional mortgage bonds, and they have also a lien, through collateral, on 1,635 miles of railroad.

Earnings.—For 8 months ending Feb. 29:

| 8 mos. | Gross Earnings. | Net Earnings. | Other Income. | Int., taxes, Rentals, &c. | Bal. for Dividends. |
| 1906-07 | 60,959,258 | 23,033,732 | | | |

From the balance as above in 1907-08 were deducted semi-annual dividend No. 19 on the preferred stock (2½%) paid Feb. 1 1908, $2,854,345; semi-annual dividend No. 14 on the common stock (3%), paid Dec. 1 1907, $3,088,695; and appropriations for fuel reserve fund $79,140, leaving a surplus for the 8 months of $1,970,687.—V. 86, p. 1041, 980.

Through the sale of these $4 000,000 general mortgage 4% bonds to the banking firms named above only a comparatively small amount of the issue is left available for future use. Of the remaining $12,928,000 authorized, the bulk is either reserved to retire bonds which do not mature for several years, or was originally reserved for purposes for which it is now improbable that bonds of this issue will be put out. The general mortgage 4s are legal investments for savings banks in New York State. They have priority in all respects over other bonds and stocks of the Atchison having an aggregate par value of $357,246,230. For the year ended June 30 1907, the company had a surplus over interest charges of $21,168,723.

Expects to Retire, at Least Temporarily.—Chairman Victor Morawetz is quoted as saying:

I expect to retire for a short time at least in order to obtain rest and look after my other business interests, which I have been forced to neglect for several years. My relations with the President and directors are more than cordial. The company does not need my services at this time as its property and finances are in good shape and no important questions of policy are likely to come up this year.—V. 86, p. 1041, 980.

Atlanta Birmingham & Atlantic Ry.—Syndicate Notes Extended.—The "Boston News Bureau" of April 23 said:

The syndicate which floated an issue of about $6,000,000 "terminal and railway syndicate" notes last year, to provide funds for the construction purposes of the Atlanta Birmingham & Atlantic, has taken advantage of its option and extended the notes for another year from the first of May. The notes are secured by nearly $9,000,000 collateral. It is expected that by fall the entire road will be completed, and it will then be possible to get a definite idea of the earning power of this railroad, in which several millions of New England capital has been invested.

First Train into Atlanta.—The company has operated its first freight train into Atlanta, and the passenger service was expected to begin on May 1, the trains entering the Union Station. The new railway reaches Atlanta by means of a branch about 70 miles long, connecting with the main line at Manchester, Ga. The completion of the main line to Birmingham, Ala., is being pushed, and will be concluded as soon as possible.—V. 85, p. 1204, 1143.

Atlantic City & Shore RR.—Favorable Decision.—The Supreme Court of New Jersey on April 3 in the quo warranto suit brought by the State to annul the charters of the two companies on the ground of alleged violation of the railroad law sustained the right of the company to own a controlling interest in the Central Passenger Ry. and also the right of the two companies to maintain a traffic agreement.

It was claimed the right could not be exercised because not expressly conferred by the railroad law. The companies filed a plea in which they claimed that they are still operated separately. The demurrer of the State to this plea was overruled.—V. 85, p. 158.

Augusta-Aiken Railway & Electric Co.—Change in Management.—The following has been confirmed:

James R. League has, according to a dispatch from Augusta, Ga., been appointed General Manager of the Augusta Railway & Electric Co. and the Augusta-Aiken Railway & Electric Co., succeeding E. T. Wetmore, resigned. New directors are elected as follows: Stuart F. Knott, Gordon N. Buck, W. S. Johnson and J. H. Hellen, C. C. Tegethoff, the retiring directors being William T. Van Brunt, D. S. Herdy, H. B. Parson and W. P. Gardiner. James U. Jackson remains as Vice-President.

These changes are presumably preparatory to the merger of the companies as proposed under title of Augusta & Columbia Ry. See V. 85, p. 220.

Berkshire (Mass.) Street Railway Co.—New Stock.—The Massachusetts Railroad Commission has been asked to sanction an increase in the capital stock from $1,648,100 to $1,933,100, to provide for floating debt and for additions to plant.—V. 84, p. 995.

Boston & Albany RR.—Sale of Bonds.—N. W. Harris & Co., jointly with Bond & Goodwin, New York and Boston, have sold $3,500,000 of the 4% 25-year bonds which they purchased last week (V. 86, p. 1041). These bonds were offered by the firms named at 98.45%, being dated May 1 1908 and due May 1 1933, guaranteed as to principal and interest by the New York Central & Hudson River RR. Co. "No mortgage can be placed upon the property without jointly including the above bonds in the lien."

British Yukon Railway.—Meeting to Authorize Bonds.—This company, controlled by the White Pass & Yukon Ry., and forming part of that company's main line (see V. 67, p. 1162; V. 84, p. 100) has called a meeting of shareholders at Ottawa May 27 1908 for the purpose of authorizing the directors to issue:

Bonds, debentures or other securities, to the extent of £6,000 sterling for every mile not exceeding 16 miles, of the company's branch line of railway, extending from a point at or near the 106th mile post on the company's line of railway as now constructed and operated south of the town of White Horse in the Yukon Territory, in a northwesterly direction towards the Tahkeena River, and to secure the said bonds, debentures or other securities by a mortgage upon the said branch line or other property of the company or otherwise. Charles J. R. Bethune is Secretary.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co.—Bonds Sold.—It is understood that the $5,000,000 4% convertible bonds purchased by J. P. Morgan & Co. some weeks ago have all been sold. —"New York Evening Sun."—V. 86, p. 1041, 933.

Canadian Northern Ry.—Subscriptions for Debenture Stock.—The subscriptions for the £2,000,000 4% consolidated debenture stock which was offered in London last week at 92, it is said, amounted to only a small portion of the issue.

The advertisement offering the new 4% debenture stock says under date of April 16:

The debenture stock is perpetual and irredeemable, and ranks pari passu in all respects with the 4% perpetual consolidated debenture stock now quoted on the London Stock Exchange. The trust deed provides that the total amount of debenture stock shall not exceed £2,000 per mile of line for the time being open and operated, and an amount not exceeding the cost price of securities of independent corporations from time to time deposited with the trustees, but the company cannot issue any debenture stock against such securities without the consent of the trustees. The debenture stock is secured by a general charge upon the undertaking, property and assets (other than land and money subsidies) of the company, subject to the £1,180,600 of bonds primarily charged on the Ontario Division of the railway (287 miles), and to charges created, or to be created, not exceeding $10,000 per mile of line, other than the above-mentioned 287 miles of line in Ontario, or $15,000 per mile if guaranteed by the Parliament of the Dominion, or any of the Provinces of Canada, and is a specific first mortgage upon certain securities deposited with the trustees, particulars whereof can be obtained at the company's office. (compare V 81, p. 1609 and foot-note to balance sheet in V. 85, p. 1204.)

The company is now operating 2 874 miles, which includes 710 miles of leased lines, and in addition has already constructed 350 miles of new branches, which will shortly be opened, and has some further mileage partly constructed.

New Bond Issue for Subsidiary.—See Canadian Northern Ontario Ry. above.—V. 86, p. 1041.

Canadian Northern Ontario Ry.—New Bond Issue to Be Guaranteed by Government.—The Legislature of the Province of Ontario, shortly before its adjournment, authorized the Government to guarantee the principal and interest of an issue of $2,500,000 40-year 3½% bonds, of which $1,000,000 will be issued for the construction of 50 miles of new railway at $20,000 a mile, including a proposed line to the Moose Mountain iron deposits and the Garson mines, and the remaining $1,500,000 on account of terminals in Toronto. —V. 84, p. 930.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.—Taxation of Lands under Water Upheld.—The United States Supreme Court on April 27, in an opinion by Justice Holmes, sustained the validity of the tax imposed by the City of Jersey City on lands under water in New York Bay.

The question has been in dispute since 1899, Mayor Wittpenn being quoted as saying that the amount involved is about $800,000. It was claimed that, under an agreement made in 1834, the State of New York was granted powers of supervision over the waters of New York Bay, and that therefore the State of New Jersey had no right to tax the lands thereunder. The Court held that this agreement giving police supervision in no way affected the sovereign power of the State of New Jersey to tax, which is co-extensive with the State boundary.—V. 86, p. 667.

Charleston & Summerville Electric Railway.—New Stock.—The company has applied for an amendment of Charter increasing the capital stock by the further issue of not more than $249,500 additional common stock, and by the issue of not more than $100,000 of preferred stock, making a total of $300,000 common stock and $100,000 preferred stock. A public hearing on the question of granting the petition will be held May 7.—Compare V. 86, p. 667.

Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Ry.—Option to Subscribe for Preferred Stock.—A circular signed by President Finley, under date of April 20, says in substance:

Of the $3,000,000 of 5% cumulative preferred stock without voting power there is unissued and now available for issue 10,000 shares of the par value of $1,000,000. The board of directors has determined that certain improvements and betterments are necessary for the economical operation of the road and pending the consideration of estimates of cost and the determination of details the opportunity is now offered to all stockholders of record April 25 (both preferred and common) ratably to subscribe at par for all or such part of such 10,000 shares of preferred stock as the Board of directors shall on or before June 1 determine to issue at this time. Subscription in the form herewith enclosed must be delivered on or before May 25 1908 to Charles Patton, Treasurer, Cincinnati, O. As soon as may be after the board shall have determined the amount to be issued, each stockholder who shall have subscribed will be notified of the amount allotted upon his said subscription, and subscriptions shall be payable forthwith. Upon receipt of such payment the Treasurer will issue certificates of such stock. Dividends on the preferred stock will begin to accrue from the first day of the calendar month next succeeding the date of such new certificates.—V. 85, p. 1393.

Cleveland Electric Ry.—Settlement of Dispute with City—New Security Franchise.—The City Council on Monday evening accepted the offer of settlement made by F. H. Goff on behalf of the company to lease the property to the Municipal Traction Co. for a return of 6% on the stock after scaling the latter down to 55% of its former amount, provided the company also obtained a new "security" grant for 25 years over the streets of the city in place of the present franchises, some of which would shortly have expired. (The new franchise has been published in five Cleveland papers.) The company may operate under the new franchise, should the lease be forfeited, charging 25 cents for six tickets. All outstanding litigation is to be dismissed.

Acquisitions and Lease—Change of Name.—The stockholders earlier in the day, by a vote of 156,000 out of 234,000 shares, authorized a reduction of the stock from $23,400,000 to $12,870,000 (55% of the former amount), and of the directors from 17 to 7, and the acquisition of the Forest City Ry., the latter having previously purchased the Low Fare Ry. The stock was thereupon authorized to be increased to $35,000,000, of which, it is stated, $1,600,000 will be issued to represent the value of the Forest City Ry., $70,000 for the Low Fare Ry. and $150,000 for the Neutral Ry. (V. 86, p. 1042), and about $9,565,000 will be reserved to retire the outstanding bonds of the Cleveland Electric Ry., and the remainder for future requirements. The stockholders of the latter will on June 2 vote to change the name to the Cleveland Railway Co. under the terms of the new franchise.

Terms of Lease.—The lease contains among others the following provisions:

The length of the lease is to be 50 years, with the right of renewal for another term of 50 years on six months' notice. The franchises of the Cleveland Electric Ry. are to be renewed every ten years, and are not to be permitted at any time to have less than 15 years of life or the lease is to be forfeited to the Cleveland Electric Ry. Dividends of 6% are to be paid quarterly on the first days of April, July, October and January on all stock at any time outstanding, the first payment to be made July 1; also an amount to cover interest on bonds, all taxes, assessments, license fees, &c. The lessee has the right to purchase the property for a sum equal to the par value plus 10%, payment to be made in one of the methods prescribed in the lease.

Three-Cent Fares.—The three-cent fare was put into effect all over the city on April 29 (no fares being charged on April 28 in commemoration of the settlement) with a charge of one cent additional for transfers. Mayor Johnson says it is expected to give universal transfers without charge within 90 days, or as soon as the slips can be printed.—V. 86, p. 1042, 602.

Consolidated Railway & Light Co. of Delaware, Philadelphia.—Receivership for Controlled Company.—See City Heat and Light Co. of Fostoria under "Industrials" below and compare V. 74, p. 1195.

Duluth Rainy Lake & Winnipeg Ry.—First Train into Canada Over Company's Line.—The bridge over the Rainy River, near Fort Frances, has been completed, connecting this road with the Canadian Northern and opening up a direct line from Winnipeg to Duluth.

The new line, it is stated, is 56 miles shorter to Duluth and 70 miles shorter to Chicago than other routes. The first train of the company entered Fort Frances, Ont., on April 29. Compare V. 85, p. 1518; V. 86, p. 546.

Evansville & Eastern Electric Ry.—Proposed Lease.—See Evansville Ter inal Ry. below.—V. 84, p. 1551.

Evansville Terminal Ry.—Guaranteed Bonds Offered.—Subscriptions are being received for $200,000 of an issue of $300,000 first mortgage 30-year 5% gold bonds at 90 and interest, with a bonus of 30% in 6% cumulative preferred stock of the Evansville Rys. Co., which company owns the entire outstanding stock and "guarantees the prompt payment of the principal and interest" of the bonds. American Trust & Savings Co., trustee, Evansville, Ind.; interest coupons also payable at Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, Ill. A circular says:

The $200,000 bonds are offered for sale for the purpose of providing funds with which to construct a line between Evansville and Newburgh, Ind., a distance of 9 miles; the line to be operated by both electricity and steam. It is proposed to lease the present property belonging to the Evansville & Eastern Electric Railway, now in operation between Newburgh and Rockport, a distance of 21 miles, and to operate the lines as one system, together with the line west to Mt. Vernon, Ind.; total mileage 48 miles.

The business at present handled by the Evansville Suburban & Newburgh Ry. Co. for the account of the Evansville & Eastern, since that road was placed in operation, to March 1 1908, shows annual business amounting to $23,152 and cost of operation $6,280. The new line should earn on new business $25,000 per annum, which, together with the business already developed, as above stated, will amount to $48,152 gross, with net earnings of $32,500. After deducting interest on $200,000 bonds, a balance of $22,500 should remain for dividends or other purposes.

The Evansville Rys. Co. owns all of the stock of the Evansville & Mt. Vernon Electric Ry. and 98% of the outstanding stock of the Evansville & Eastern Electric Ry. besides the total capital stock of the Evansville Terminal Ry. The company is capitalized as follows: common stock, $1,000,000; preferred stock, $500,000. It has no bonded debt and has not heretofore guaranteed bonds of either of the other roads owned by it; therefore the guaranty referred to is the first and only direct obligation the company.

Forest City Ry., Cleveland.—Sale.—See Cleveland Electric Ry. above.—V. 86, p. 1042.

Fort Worth & Denver Terminal Ry.—Bonds.—Application has been made to the Texas Railway Commission for authority to issue $1,446,000 of the company's $2,500,000 new bonds, of which $1,200,000 on account of the new terminals at Fort Worth and the extensive new yards at Hodge. A press report says:

The terminal was valued years ago and bonds issued to the amount of $200,000. The road wants authority to make a new issue of $2,500,000 of bonds and to register a total of $1,446,229, alleging its present and contemplated value to be $2,729,729.—V. 86, p. 52.

Galveston (Texas) Terminal Ry.—Proposed Bond Issue.—The following is an official statement sent to us April 24:

This company was organized to build terminals at Galveston, which will when completed be used by The Trinity & Brazos Valley Ry. Co., by which company the Terminal Co is controlled. At a meeting of its shareholders held March 24 1908, the Terminal Co. authorized an issue of not exceeding $5,000,000 first mortgage 5% bonds. The company has practically completed about 27 miles of main line and sidings at and near Galveston, Texas, extending from 29th St. to Bridge Junction. A large freight depot and warehouse have been built and about 14 blocks of territory are owned within the City of Galveston adjoining the water front.

Directors: W. E. Green, Pres.; John Sealy, Vice-Pres.; B. Adoue, I. H. Kempner, M. Marx, Charles Fowler, C. H. Moore.—V. 86, p. 981.

Grand Trunk Pacific Ry.—Progress of Construction.—See report of Grand Trunk Ry. Co. under "Annual Reports." A technical paper on April 14 said:

According to a report recently made to the Dominion Parliament, the estimated cost of this line (Grand Trunk Pacific Ry.) is now $85,000,000. On the eastern division, Moncton, N. B., to Winnipeg, work amounting to $44,389,393 is under contract and $19,030,173 is the estimated cost of lines for which contracts are yet to be let on this section. The prairie section is to cost $21,872,200. From a point 193 miles west of Quebec, west to Winnipeg, the surveyed distance is 1,147 miles, of which 571 miles is already let, leaving 576 miles not yet under contract. West of Winnipeg lines aggregating 1,014 miles are now under contract, of which 415 miles is finished.

Hon. George P. Graham, Canadian Minister of Railways, recently stated that contracts have been let for all sections between Moncton, N. B., the eastern terminus, and a point known as Waymontachene, 193 miles west of Quebec.

Time Extended.—An extension of time of two years has been granted to the Grand Trunk Pacific Branch Lines Co. for extension of various branches from the main line.—V. 86, p. 794, 720.

Grand Trunk Railway.—Report.—See "Annual Reports".

Guaranteed Stock.—The total amount of the authorized issue of £10,000,000 now outstanding is £9,836,128.

Matured Bonds.—The Midland Railway of Canada first mortgage bonds which matured May 1st were paid off as presented in cash on that date.—V. 86, p. 1042, 602.

Guayaquil & Quito Ry.—Deposits.—The Council of Foreign Bondholders gives notice in London that upwards of $5,500,000 of the bonds of the company have been deposited with them. After April 30 bonds deposited will be liable to the payment of a deposit fee of ½%.—V. 86, p. 168.

Gulf & Ship Island RR.—Offering of Short-Term Mortgage Bonds.—Fisk & Robinson, having sold a large part of the bonds, are offering the remainder of the issue of $1,000,000 6% mortgage gold bonds, due April 1 1909, 1910, 1911, at prices to net 6½ to 6¾% per annum. The bonds were fully described in the "Chronicle" for Feb. 29, p. 547. See also description with map in our "Railway & Industrial" section.—V. 86, p. 981, 547.

Hartford & Springfield Street Ry.—Dividend Deferred.—The directors have decided to defer the May semi-annual dividend, on the ground that business conditions do not warrant paying out funds in the face of a floating debt of about $40,000.—V. 84, p. 102.

Interborough Rapid Transit Co., New York.—Notes Offered.—Description of New Bonds Deposited as Collateral.—J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, received subscriptions at par until 10 a. m. April 29 for $25,000,000 3-year convertible 6% gold notes, dated May 1 1908; interest payable Nov. 1 and May 1, convertible on any interest date at option of the holder, during a period of 2½ years from date, into mortgage bonds of the company, at par, less 1%. The advertisement calling for subscriptions is published for record purposes on other pages of this issue, although the period for receiving subscriptions has already expired, the issue having been largely over-subscribed. It is understood that the subscribers were allowed in the neighborhood of 50% of the amount for which they applied.

Holders of notes due May 1 1908 were permitted to deposit their notes, ex-coupon due May 1 1908, with the application and receive preference in allotment to the extent of notes so deposited, such notes being accepted in full payment for a like amount of the new notes. The holders of a little more than $13,000,000 of the $15,000,000 maturing notes, it is said, availed themselves of the privilege to exchange.

Subscriptions and notes maturing May 1 were also received at the offices of Lee, Higginson & Co., Boston.

Abstract of Letter from President August Belmont, New York, April 24 1908.

Pursuant to the authorization granted by the Public Service Commission for the First District, the company proposes to issue a series of $25,000,000 of its 3-year convertible 6% gold notes, to be dated May 1 1908, to be payable May 1 1911, to bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum, payable semi-annually, and to be convertible at par at the option of the holder during a period of 2½ years from date into mortgage bonds of the company, at par, less 1%. The said notes are to be secured by pledge under trust agreement with Morton Trust Co., trustee of

Bonds Pledged—New 45-year gold Mortgage Bonds and Security Therefor

$30,000,000 face value of a new issue of "45-year gold mortgage" 5% bonds of the company, issued under the mortgage executed to Morton Trust Co., trustee, to secure an issue of not exceeding $55,000,000 principal of bonds, and also to secure the two present outstanding issues of gold notes of the company, viz.:

Three-year 4% gold notes maturing May 1 1908, $15,000,000.
Three-year 5% gold notes maturing March 1 1910, $10,000,000.
(Bonds being reserved under the mortgage to provide for the payment or retirement of the said notes.)

The said mortgage will cover the leasehold interests of the company in the rapid transit railroads above referred to, and in the Manhattan Railway, and all the real and personal property heretofore and hereafter constituting the equipment of the subway, pursuant to the provisions of the leases, which equipment to Dec. 31 1907 had cost the company upwards of $26,000,000.

There will also be pledged under the mortgage 18,140 shares out of a total of 20,000 shares of the capital stock of the Subway Realty Co. (the owner of the Hotel Belmont), 32,048 shares, out of a total of 32,350 shares, of the New York & Queens County Railway Co., and one-half of the total outstanding stock and bonds of New York & Long Island Traction Co. and Long Island Electric Co.

The mortgage will also provide that the securities, amounting to upwards of $4,000,000, known as "Manhattan guaranty fund", when released from pledge as security for the performance of the lease of the Manhattan Railway (which will probably occur on July 1 1909), shall be applied toward the retirement of the outstanding gold notes of the company; and that if and when the company's interest in the New York & Long Island RR. or "Steinway Tunnel", shall be sold, the proceeds shaall be applied to the reduction of the outstanding mortgage indebtedness.

Application of Proceeds of the $25,000,000 Notes.

(a) To the discharge or lawful refunding of the following obligations, viz.
$15,000,000 4% three-year gold notes, due May 1 1908.
$6,250,172 promissory notes outstanding April 1 1908, payable on demand or from time to time on or before June 30 1908; and

(b) The balance to pay obligations heretofore incurred by the company for the acquisition of property, the construction, completion, extension or improvement of its facilities, or the improvement or maintenance of its service and including, if the company shall deem it expedient, the sum of $3,770,000 or thereabouts, payable to Rapid Transit Subway Construction Co. on the completion of the Brooklyn extension of the Rapid Transit railway to its terminus at Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, Brooklyn, being on account of the excess cost of said railway over and above the amount payable with respect to the construction thereof by the City of New York.

| Earnings from operation | $23,513,172 | Deductions— | |
| Exp. of oper. (13.87%) | 10,316,528 | Fixed charges, interest, rentals and taxes | $10,510,546 |
| Net earnings | $13,196,644 | Net income | $3,754,723 |
| Other income | 1,068,625 | Dividends, 9% | 3,150,000 |
| Gross income | $14,265,269 | Surplus | $604,723 |

It is estimated that with the opening for operation of the extension of the subway in Brooklyn to the Long Island RR. Co. station at Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, about May 1 1908, the earnings of the system will be largely increased and that the company will for the year 1908 earn a substantial surplus over and above operating expenses, fixed charges, and the regular 9% dividend upon the stock. Compare V. 86, p. 981, 1042.

Brooklyn Extension in Operation to Flatbush Ave. Station of Long Island RR.—The extension of the company's subway system from the Borough Hall in Brooklyn to the Flatbush Ave. station of the Long Island RR. was placed in regular operation early Friday morning, making it possible to go direct from Manhattan and the Bronx to Long Island points, via the trains of the Long Island RR.—V. 86, p. 1042, 981.

Low Fare Ry., Cleveland.—Sale.—See Cleveland Electric Ry. above.—V. 86, p. 421.

Mexican Central Ry.—Listing of Certificates of Deposit.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed:

Central Trust Co. certificates of deposit for $779,000 first consolidated mortgage bonds, $1,314,00 first consolidated income bonds and $1,609,000 second consolidated income bonds, and has authorized the listing from time to time, but prior to January 1 1909 of additional amounts up to $65,881,000 first consolidated mortgage bonds due Jan. 1939, $20,570,000 first consolidated income bonds due Jan. 1939 and $11,285,000 second consolidated income bonds due Jan. 1959.

Success of Plan Reported Assured.—The deposit of the various classes of securities of the Mexican Central and National RR. of Mexico affected, it is said, have already reached a point insuring the success of the plan. It is the purpose of the readjustment managers to make public offerings of the bonds of the new company in New York and Europe within a short time after the plan is declared operative. (Compare plan in V. 86, p. 982.)—V. 86, p. 1042.

Mississippi Central RR.—See Scranton Lumber Co. under "Industrials" below.—V. 85, p. 221.

Missouri Kansas & Texas Ry.—Bonds Offered.—H. W. Poor & Co., New York and Boston, are offering at 75½ a block of 'first and refunding mortgage" 4% gold bonds due Sept. 1 2004, of which $5,182,000 are outstanding and $4,797,000 additional are held in the company's treasury.

Abstract of Letter from Vice-President and Treasurer Charles G. Hedge April 10 1908.

Referring to the "first and refunding mortgage" 4% bonds which you have purchased, I would say that $9,979,000 of these bonds have been issued, as follows:

|---|---|
| New equipment | $5,910,000 |
| New shops and terminals at Parsons, Kansas | 1,413,000 |
| New terminals at Kansas City | 1,868,000 |
| Terminals at Parsons, Kan., Sedalia, Mo., and Phillips, Okla | 367,000 |
| To retire $337,000 Mo. Kan. & Oklahoma RR. Co. extension 5s | 421,000 |

Of the issued bonds, $5,182,000 have been sold and the remaining $4,797,000 are in the company's treasury.

| Terminals at Kansas City, estimated value | $2,500,000 |
| Locomotive shops at Parsons, Kansas, estimated value | 2,000,000 |
| Terminals at Parsons and Sedalia, acquired prior to execution of mortgage, estimated | 350,000 |
| Equipment (embracing, it is stated, 68.6% of the company's entire amt. of rolling stock—Ed.), namely, 271 locomotives (out of 505, being 53%.—Ed.); 167 passenger cars (or 66% of the total number 253, including combination); 49 baggage, mail and express (out of 104); 13,679 freight and miscellaneous cars (out of a total of 19,765.—Ed.), estimated value | 18,530,000 |
| All lands, terminals, yards, depots, round houses, turntables, stock yards, side and spur tracks acquired since June 1 1890, and prior to Sept. 1 1904, and not covered by any of its other mortgages, of an estimated value of | 1,000,000 |

The estimated value of the property on which the "first and refunding mrotgage" is a first lien is $14,401,000 in excess of the amount of bonds issued, and consists principally of terminals and equipment without which the road could not be operated.

Under the refunding provisions of the mortgage, it will become a first lien, in fact it is now actually a second lien, upon the following properties:

164.5 miles of railroad in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma constructed under first extension mortgage of Nov. 1 1894, securing bonds at $20,000 per mile.

273.4 miles of railroad in Oklahoma, covered by first mortgage of Missouri Kansas & Oklahoma RR. Co., securing bonds at $20,000 per mile.

117.35 miles of railroad in Oklahoma, covered by first mortgage of Texas & Oklahoma RR. Co., securing bonds at $20,000 per mile.

$1,000,000 first mortgage bonds of Denison & Washita Valley Ry. Co., constituting a first lien on 37 miles of railroad in Oklahoma and Texas, including valuable terminals at Denison, Tex., which bonds are now pledged to secure 968 bonds of the Southwestern Coal & Improvement Co.

Order of Railroad Commission Indefinitely Suspended.—The order of the Texas Railroad Commission requiring the company to purchase 165 new locomotives and 6,000 freight cars during the three years 1908, 1909 and 1910 has been indefinitely suspended.—V. 86, p. 421.

Municipal Traction Co., Cleveland.—Leases All Roads in City.—See Cleveland Electric Ry. above and Forest City Ry. item.—V. 83, p. 94.

Natchez Eastern Ry.—New Bonds.—See Scranton Lumber Co. under "Industrials" below.—V. 85, p. 160.

National Railroad Co. of Mexico.—Listing of Certificates of Deposit for Capital Stock.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed Mercantile Trust Co. certificates of deposit for 5,484 shares preferred stock and for 6,804 shares second preferred stock; and has authorized the listing from time to time of additional amounts prior to Jan. 1 1909 up to $28,832,900 preferred and $22,030,600 common.

Amounts of Preferred stock and second preferred stock Deposited or Pledged under plan.

| | New York. | London. | Ams'dam. | Mexico. | Total. |
| Pref. stock | $548,400 | $8,475,000 | $418,000 | $10,052,000 | $19,493,400 |
| 2d pref stock. | 680,400 | 3,560,000 | 2,659,000 | 9,343,900 | 16,243,300 |

Of the above shares, approximately 193,000 are owned by the Mexican Government, which has agreed to the terms of the plan. The greater part of the residue of the securities is held in Europe, and have been deposited or are pledged for deposit with foreign depositaries, as stated above. See plan, etc., V. 86, p. 918, 1043.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Improvements.—In connection with the application to the Public Service Commission for authority to issue additional bonds, granted last week (p. 1043), the company made a statement showing the amount ($49,000,000) expended for improvements during the period of about 5½ years, 1902-1907, and the purposes for which it is proposed to expend $8,547,153 this year.

The schedule submitted showed that of the $93,000,000 of improvements authorized that up to December 1907 there had been expended $49,000,000. The authorization of bonds at this time is to provide for obligations incurred for improvements in the past, amounting to $7,120,000; expenditures this year of $8,547,153, and the balance for future improvements.

The improvements to be made during the year are:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Motive power facilities | $747,650 | River division | $283,853 |

Refunding Arranged until Jan. 1 1910.—An agreement has been entered into with Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston providing for the sale of about $9,000,000 first mortgage bonds of underlying merged road now held in the treasury and also for the sale of about $2,000,000 short-term notes, the proceeds of which will be used to pay off between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 securities maturing up to Jan. 1 1910, among them $8,320,000 of 2-year debenture notes which mature this fall.

Listing of Convertible 6% Bonds.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $17,446,000 of the 6% convertible debentures due 1948, offered for subscription at par last November (V. 85, p. 1339), and has authorized the listing of $21,583,000 additional of said bonds on notice that they have been issued and paid for in full, making the total amount authorized to be listed $39,029,000.

Earnings.—For 9 months ending March 31 (Inter-State Commerce Commission Classification):

| Total oper. revenue | $40,410,628 | Total net income | $14,935,008 |

| | | Balance, deficit | $2,763,940 |

An exchange paper has the following:

Traffic conditions on the system have recently shown some improvement. From Jan. 1 up to the first week in April they were about as bad as they could be. By far the greater portion of the loss in business has been in the freight department. The trolley and passenger business has held up well, and while present conditions leave much to be desired, it cannot be denied that a very tangible betterment has taken place during the month of April. The road has just passed through that period of the year when earnings are always at the lowest point; the large revenue is derived in the period extending from April to December.—V. 86, p. 1043, 982

Norfolk & Western Ry.—Notes all Sold.—It was announced on March 25 by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York that the $7,500,000 2-year 5% secured notes which the trust company purchased two days previous had all been sold. See V. 86, p. 1043.

Old Colony RR.—Stock at Auction.—The 5,000 shares ($500,000) of new stock offered at auction in Boston on April 27 by R. L. Day & Co. were bid in as follows:

3,200 shares at 180 for George B. Phippen, acting for the N. Y. N. H. & Hartford, which will hold these shares in its treasury; 100 shares at 182¼, 200 at 180¼ for H. C. Wainwright & Co.; 900 shares at 182¼, 200 at 180¾, and 300 at 180¼ for Weld, Grew & Co and 100 at 180⅜ by Moore & Cabot.—V. 86, p. 1043, 982.

Pennsylvania RR.—Subscribers for Bonds Get Only 5% of Amount Applied for.—So great was the demand for the $40,000,000 4% consols offered last week by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. (p. 1043) that allotments will be made on the basis of 5% of the amount subscribed for, while applications for less than $15,000 will be rejected since they would result in the allotment of only a fraction of a bond.

Dividend Reduced from 7% to 6% Basis.—The directors yesterday declared a semi-annual dividend of 3%, payable May 29 to holders of record May 5, thus reducing the annual rate from 7%, established in Nov. 1906, to 6%, the rate prevailing from May 1900 to May 1906, both inclusive. On the $314,585,000 stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange, the reduction means an annual saving in dividend charges of $3,145,850.

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey.—Bonds.—Press reports yesterday afternoon stated that the shareholders would meet at an early day to authorize an issue of 5% bonds to a total of $25,000,000 or $50,000,000, to provide for the retirement of existing gold notes and for other purposes. A leading official, while not denying the report, states that he has no information regarding the matter.—V. 85, p. 1402.

Rio de Janeiro Tramway, Light & Power Co.—Sale of Debentures in Paris.—Touching the sale in Paris of £1,750,000 5% debenture mortgage bonds dated April 1908 and due April 1958, referred to last week (p. 1044), the "London Financial News" says:

The Rio de Janeiro Tramway, Light & Power Co., Ltd., has concluded arrangements with some leading banking houses in Paris and Brussels for placing £1,750,000 (one-half) of the issue of new 5% debentures, £400,000 of these debentures having been paid in full. A public issue of £900,000 will be made simultaneously in Paris and Brussels on May 12, and the balance, £850,000, of the above amount reserved for Paris and Brussels, will be offered in the autumn.—V. 86, p. 1044, 982.

Rochester (N. Y.) Railway & Light Co.—Authorized.—The Public Service Commission, Second District, has sanctioned the issuance of $1,474,000 5% consols of 1904 to provide for indebtedness.—V. 86, p. 982.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—Coupons Due May 1 Paid.—Blair & Co. of this city are paying the coupons due May 1 on the $10,000,000 of 5% collateral trust bonds of 1902.—V. 86, p. 1044, 982.

Southern Railway.—New Bonds for Subsidiary.—See Virginia & Southwestern Ry. below.—V. 86, p. 982, 669.

Springfield (Mass.) Street Ry.—New Stock.—Application has been made to the Massachusetts Railroad Commission for authority to issue $500,000 additional capital stock to provide for floating debt and additions to plant. The present stock is $2,258,100.—V. 85, p. 1271.

Underground Electric Railways of London.—75% of Profit-Sharing Notes Deposited.—Over 75% of the profit-sharing notes, it is stated, have already been deposited under the plan, which was given at considerable length in this column last week (p. 1044, 1039). The consensus of financial opinion in London seems to be strongly in favor of the plan. Deposits will be received to May 6 inclusive.—V. 86, p. 1039 1044.

United Railways of St. Louis.—Notes Offered.—The Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and Francis, Brother & Co., both of St. Louis, are offering at 99.45 and interest (yielding 6%), by advertisement on another page, $800,000 5½% collateral trust gold notes, dated July 1 1907 and due July 1 1909, but subject to call at company's option after Jan. 1 1908 on thirty days' notice; interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1. The following particulars are furnished:

Total issue $1,200,000, secured by deposit with the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., trustee, of $1,500,000 of the company's general first mortgage 4% gold bonds and $500,000 of its preferred stock, which at present market prices equal more than a 27% equity above the amount of the notes. Compare annual report in last week's "Chronicle," p. 976.

Virginia & Southwestern Ry.—Merger and New Mortgage.—The Virginia & Southwestern Ry., whose capital stock was purchased by the Southern Railway Co. at $200 a share, has taken over the Virginia & Southeastern, a projected line, the Holston River RR., about 40 miles in length and the Black Mountain RR., 30 miles. These latter two roads, with the Virginia & Southwestern make about 210 miles of road, with $3,000,000 worth of equipment. The first consolidated mortgage bonds of the V.&S.W.Ry.just authorized for $7,000,000 will be 50-year fives, dated April 1 1908. They will be issued and reserved as follows:

| To be issued to reimburse the Southern Ry. Co. for money spent on construction of Black Mt. and Holston River roads | $2,000,000 |
| To be issued to complete the Holston River RR | 1,000,000 |
| do do to take care of equipment obligations | 1,000,000 |
| To be reserved against the $2,000,000 outstanding 1st M. bonds. | 2,000,000 |
| do in company's treasury | 1,000,000 |

The Holston River line when built will shorten the route from the Virginia coal fields to the Carolinas about 60 miles. Henry K. McHarg, 40 Wall Street, is the President of the company.—V. 86, p. 858, 796

Wabash RR.—Listed.—Of the $889,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds of 1889 sold to Tailer & Co. (V. 86, p. 1045), $421,000 have been listed on the New York Stock Exchange and the remainder, $469,000, are authorized to be listed prior to Jan. 1 1909 as from time to time sold and delivered, making the total authorized to be listed, $33,900,000.

American Locomotive Co.—Called Bonds.—Twenty-five first mortgage 5% bonds of the Rogers Locomotive Works have been called for redemption at par and interest on May 14 at the Trust Co. of America, 37 Wall St., New York.—V. 86, p. 722.

American Sewer Pipe Co., Pittsburgh.—Dividend Previously Deferred Now Omitted.—The directors on April 23 decided to omit the dividend which would have ordinarily been declared last March, but action on which was temporarily postponed.—V. 86, p. 722.

Arnold Print Works.—All Receivers' Certificates Authorized since Nov. 13 Retired.—Boston "Transcript" of Apr. 28 says:

All of the receivers' certificates of the Arnold Print Works authorized by the United States Circuit Court at different intervals beginning Nov. 13, have been retired. There were $360,000 certificates of the Arnold Print Works proper authorized, besides $125,000 of subsidiary companies.—V. 86, p. 287, 110.

Atlantic City (N. J.) Electric Co.—Offering of Guaranteed Bonds.—Edward B. Smith & Co., Philadelphia and New York, are offering at 92½ and interest, by advertisement on another page, at which price the yield is over 5½%, the unsold portion of $750,000 first and refunding mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each (c*) dated March 2 1908 and due March 1 1938, but subject to redemption after March 1 1913, at 110 and interest, guaranteed principal and interest by the American Gas & Electric Co. Girard Trust Co., Trustee. Interest March and September. Authorized issue, $5,000,000; reserved for future additions, etc., under carefully guarded restrictions, $3,750,000; reserved against underlying bonds, $231,000; present issue, $1,019,000.

Abstract of Letter from H. T. Hartman, Vice-President of both Atlantic City Electric Co. and American Gas & Electric Co., April 16 1908.

The company supplies electric light and power in Atlantic City and adjoining towns located on Absecon Island, N. J., and operates also a hot water heating system in Atlantic City. Incorporated under the laws of New Jersey in 1907 as a consolidation of four companies. Franchises unlimited in time except one, which runs for 100 years from 1905. Additions to property account during the three years ending Dec. 31 1907 aggregate over $377,000.

| Gross earnings | $267,890 | $249,964 | $211,914 |
| Operating expenses | 136,043 | 115,099 | 99,474 |
| Net earnings | $131,847 | $133,865 | $115,440 |

The interest on the total amount of bonds now outstanding, including both the bonds which you have purchased and the underlying bonds of constituent companies, amounts to $62,500, so that the net earnings for 1907 left a surplus of $69,346 over fixed charges.

The total authorized issue of these bonds is $5,000,000, but $3,750,000 thereof are reserved to be certified in the future only to the extent of 80% of the actual cost of betterments, improvements, developments, extensions or additions, and then only provided that the net earnings for the twelve months next preceding the application for certification shall have been not less than twice the annual interest charge upon the bonds outstanding and those then applied for. Moreover, before bonds can be issued under this provision there must have been expended or reserved for repairs, renewals and maintenance, during the 12 calendar months referred to, an amount not less than 10% of the gross earnings. Annual sinking fund 1% on the amount of bonds outstanding, from 1913 to 1921, 1½% from 1921 to 1930, and 2% from 1930 to 1937, the bonds to be drawn by lot at 110%, if not purchasable at or below that price. All, but not less or than all, of the bonds may be redeemed at 110% on March 1 1913 or any interest day thereafter.

Status of American Gas & Electric Co., the Guarantor Company.

All the common stock of the company is owned by the American Gas & Electric Co., which guarantees the payment of principal and interest on the bonds which you have purchased. The American Gas & Electric Co. acquired all of the property of the Electric Co. of America in January 1907 and now owns companies operating electric light and power and, in nearly every case, steam and hot-water-heating properties in Scranton, Pa., Altoona, Pa., Conshohocken, Pa., Auburn, N. Y., Canton, O., Wheeling, W. Va., Marion, Ind., Muncie, Ind., and Rockford, Ill., serving a total population of about 450,000.

Earnings of Guarantor Company.

(Net earnings of constituent companies after payment of all fixed charges.)
1907 $552,765 1906 $518,025 1905 $485,166

After deduction of interest paid on the collateral trust bonds issued to the Electric Co. of America for all of its property, and other deductions, there was a balance of earnings available to the American Gas & Electric Co. for dividends in 1907 of $264,840, from which were paid dividends amounting to $71,851 on its preferred stock, leaving net balance surplus earnings of $192,989. Earnings for the first quarter of 1908 show a substantial increase over the same period of the previous year.

The permanent population of Atlantic City and adjacent towns is estimated at 42,515. The actual population is stated as never less than 60,000, and during the three summer months is between 100,000 and 150,000.

Batopilas Mining Co.—Report.—For calendar years:

(J. G.) Brill Co., Philadelphia,—Acquisition.—The company, it is announced, has purchased for cash a controlling interest in the stock of the Danville (Ohio) Car Co. A Philadelphia paper says:

The plant of the Danville company was completed in 1906 and has been operating with fair success since then, but it is understood that recent necessities compelled the company to seek new capital and it was in this way that the Brill Company secured control. The Danville Car Co. has a capital of $650,000 outstanding. There is $350,000 common stock and $350,000 preferred, of which $300,000 is issued. There are also $22,000 bonds. The name of the company will remain unchanged. Samuel M. Curven was elected President. The plant covers a tract of 217 acres and has excellent railroad facilities.—V. 86, p. 1045, 983.

City Heat & Light Co., Fostoria, Ohio.—Receivership.—On April 22 this company, on application of the Consolidated Railway & Light Co. of Philadelphia (see V. 74, p. 1195), was placed in the hands of E. W. Allen, Fostoria, and A. R. Law, Philadelphia, as temporary receivers. The applicant holds a judgment for $72,945 and alleges that the Fostoria concern has an indebtedness of $365,000, $93,500 being due, with no assets for its payment.—V. 74, p. 1198.

Comstock Tunnel Co.—Dispute Settlement.—The following announcement is made:

The company announces that its rate of royalty, which has been under dispute for the past two years, has been settled on a basis giving the company a royalty upon the gross bullion product. Heretofore deductions have been made for freight and treatment charges and a royalty paid on the net product. This change is in accordance with the company's contracts with the 42 mines upon the Comstock lode and the increase is estimated at about 28%.—V. 69, p. 1149.

Consolidated Arizona Smelting Co.—Reorganization Plan.—Benjamin Prince, Secretary, 71 Broadway, New York, in an advertisement states that a plan for the rehabilitation of this company, with the aid of certain financial interests not heretofore connected with the company, has been proposed.—V. 85, p. 1341.

Crawfordsville Water & Gas Co.—Reorganized Property.—This company was incorporated on or about March 16 1908 with $375,000 capital stock, in shares of $100 each, as successor of the Crawfordsville Water & Light Co., foreclosed as stated below, and reorganized per plan in V. 82, p. 931-932. The new company is authorized to issue $175,000 common stock, $200,000 preferred and $75,000 first mortgage 5% bonds.

Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co.—New Stock—Stock Dividend of 66 2-3%—Bond Issue.—The shareholders at a meeting held in Toronto on April 20 authorized (1) an increase in the authorized issue of capital stock from $4,000,000 (of which $3,727,500 is outstanding) to $10,000,000, (2) the payment of a stock dividend of 66 2-3%, calling for the issuance of $2,485,000 new stock, to shareholders of record April 20, and (3) the creation of an issue of $2,500,000 bonds, which it is explained will be used only as collateral. A circular dated April 10 1908 gives the resolutions of the board of directors on the subject, saying in substance:

There has been paid into the treasury from time to time by way of premium on the sale of stock $2,141,250, which amount is standing at the credit of the company in its reserve fund. There was standing to the credit of profit and loss on Dec. 31 1907 the sum of $381,400, which two sums together amount to $2,522,650. As it may be desirable to distribute as a bonus dividend so much of said sum of $2,522,650 as amounts to $2,485,000 among the shareholders of record on April 20 1908, resolved that a special general meeting of the shareholders be called for April 20 1908, and that the above suggestion be submitted to them for consideration and approval, and their opinion asked as to the desirability of the directors declaring a dividend of 66 2-3% upon the paid up capital stock by way of bonus, which bonus dividend would amount to $2,485,000.

The reserve and surplus profits having been used for expenditure on capital account, it will be necessary to provide this amount of money by the sale of the company's shares; the declaration of the bonus dividend must depend on the consent of every shareholder to subscribe for as many shares of stock at par as will yield by the payment therefor an amount equal to the said bonus dividend. This would result in each shareholder acquiring two thirds of one share of stock in addition to each share of stock held by him at the said date. For example, every holder of three shares would become the holder of five shares. Payment for the shares would be met by the bonus dividend.

The directors deem it expedient that they be authorized to issue bonds to the extent of $2,500,000, for the purpose of selling the same or borrowing money thereon from time to time, as it may be required, to pay off the company's present bank loans, and for betterment of, and additions to, the company's plant and property, as well as for the general purposes of the company.

Denver Tramway Power Co.—Called Bonds.—Forty-seven ($47,000) first mortgage 5% improvement bonds dated 1903 have been drawn for redemption (at 105 and interest) on May 16 at the International Trust Co. of Denver.—V. 83, p. 36.

East Chicago & Indiana Harbor Water Co.—Earnings for Year 1907.—The Milwaukee Trust Co. in offering a block of first mortgage bonds at price to net about 6% report earnings on basis of calendar year 1907 as follows:

|---|---|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $50,191 | Int. on $300,000 bonds | $15,000 |
| Net (aft. op. exp. & taxes) | 34,228 | Balance, surplus | 19,228 |

Compare V. 85, p. 1404.

Eastern Steamship Co.—Receivers' Certificates Authorized.—Judge Putnam in the Circuit Court at Portland, Me., on April 27 authorized the issuance of $115,300 receivers' certificates, chiefly for the following purposes:

The payment of bond interest due May 1, $60,300; $22,950 to meet bills due for labor, coal and provisions at St. John, N. B.; $21,650 for rental of Union Wharf, Boston, and $10,400 for interest due the Portland Trust Co. on mortgage on the steamer Bay State.

| First mortgage 30-year 5% gold bonds due May 1 1930 | $100,000 |
| 20-year 5% gold coupon notes due March 1 1921 | 65,000 |
| Stock (par of shares $100) | 800,000 |

The stock is now receiving dividends at the rate of 7% per annum. The company operates in the City of Brockton, Mass., under the management of Stone & Webster of Boston.—V. 84, p. 1554.

Electric Properties Co., New York.—Dividends.—This ally of the Westinghouse interests, which in May 1906 took over the stock of the engineering and construction concern, "Westinghouse-Church-Kerr Co.," declared on April 28 a dividend at the rate of 6% per annum from July 31 1907, the date of the last quarterly dividend, to April 30 1908, on the preferred stock and preferred stock subscription receipts, payable May 11 1908 to holders of record May 4.

The above dividend is in payment of the 1½% deferred quarterly dividends Nos. 5 and 6 and dividend No. 7 for the quarter ending April 30 1908, which completes the full dividend of 6% for the fiscal year ending on that date. Compare V. 84, p. 1055, 1426.

Equitable Illuminating Gas Light Co. of Philadelphia.—Output.—The statement of income from gas sales in the city of Philadelphia for the quarter ending Mch. 31, as filed with the city authorities, compares as follows:

| Cub.ft.gas 3mos.en'g Mch.31 | 2,142,893,000 | 2,106,863,900 | 1,928,542,330 |
| 3 mos.' gross revenue | $2,142,893 | $2,106,864 | $1,928,542 |
| Of which city receives | $263,852 | $210,686 | $192,854 |

Bills are payable quarterly those for the December quarter not being required for example, until Jan. 9 or 10, with five day's additional grace. Payment of gas moneys, therefore, cover operations during two quarters.

Under clause 12 of the gas lease, 15 cents per 1,000 cubic feet out of collections accrues to the city after Jan. 1 1908, as against ten cents per 1,000 cubic feet previous to that date. (Compare V. 84, p. 1304). The consumption of gas for the first quarter of 1908, on which the former rate of 10% accrued to the city, was 1,151,622,870 cubic feet, and that on which the new 15% rate applies was 991,270,930 cubic feet.—V. 85, p. 1145.

Federal Railway Signal Co., Albany, N. Y.—Reincorporation.—See Federal Signal Co. below.—V. 84, p. 1430.

Gottlieb-Bauerschmidt-Straus Brewing Co.—Interest on Income Bonds Reduced.—The directors have declared a semi-annual interest payment of ¾ of 1% on the $3,500,000 second mortgage income bonds, payable May 1. This reduces the annual rate from 3%, the rate heretofore maintained, to 1½%. Compare V. 84, p. 999, 1184.

Helena Power Transmission Co.—Injury to Hauser Lake Dam.—The Hauser Lake Dam, completed by the company last year across the Missouri River, was partially washed away on April 15, but it is estimated can be rebuilt for $250,000. The company also supplies electricity from the Canyon Ferry Dam and its steam station in Butte.—V. 86, p. 112.

Hudson County (N. J.) Water Co.—Unfavorable Decision Affirmed.—The United States Supreme Court on April 6 (Justice Holmes writing the opinion) affirmed the decision of the State courts, which sustained the constitutionality of the Act of May 11 1905 forbidding the diversion of the potable waters of the State to another State. This prevents the carrying out of the contract to furnish 3,000,000 gallons daily to Staten Island. Compare V. 83, p. 1414.

Hudson Navigation Co.—Coupon Payment.—Coupons due May 1 1908 on the first mortgage 5% bonds of the New Jersey Steamboat Co. were paid on presentation at the National Copper Bank, No. 115 Broadway, New York.—V. 86, p. 724.

Inland Steel Co., Chicago.—First Refunding Mortgage.—A mortgage has been filed to the First Trust & Savings Bank and Emile K. Boisot both of Chicago, as trustees, to secure an issue of $3,000,000 6% "first refunding mortgage gold bonds," of $1,000 each, payable April 1 1928.

Sufficient of the new bonds no doubt is reserved to retire at or before maturity the $2,500,000 first mortgage 5% bonds placed in 1906-07 and fully described, as also the property owned, in the "Chronicle" V. 84, p. 105· V. 83, p. 1526.—V. 86, p. 339.

Laclede Gas Light Co.—Bonds Purchased.—N. W. Harris & Co. and Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago have jointly purchased $300,000 refunding and extension 5% bonds, which will be offered shortly. There are now $8,100,000 of the issue outstanding.—V. 84, p. 807.

Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co., Philadelphia.—Time for Deposit of Stock in Voting Trust Extended to and Including June 30.—The following notice is given:

Referring to the notice of the company dated March 23 1908 the trustees for the stockholders, under agreement of Dec. 31 1904, will receive additional deposits of stock of said company under said agreement, from June 8 1908 to June 30 1908, inclusive, at the office of the depository, the Provident Life & Trust Co., 409 Chestnut St., Philadelphia. The trustees have taken this action to enable subscribers for new stock, and stockholders who have not previously deposited their certificates, to place their holdings in the trust. Compare V. 86, p. 797, 979.

Los Angeles Dock & Terminal Co.—Bonds.—An issue of $500,000 6% 20-year bonds of $500 each has been authorized.

The company was incorporated in September 1905 with $1,500,000 authorized capital stock, the incorporators being C. W. Cost, R. W. Kemp, D. D. Hieghes, C. W. Franklin, E. D. Morrison, L. P. Mayo and Murry Mitchell of Los Angeles. Application was made in February 1906 to the War Department for permission to construct $1,000,000 worth of jetty works at the mouth of the San Gabriel River (West Long Beach), to give direct ocean entrance to the Long Beach inner harbor then under construction by the company. The plans of the company call for about six miles of wharfage and channels of a minimum depth of 21 feet and a maximum depth of 32 feet. The projected harbor will be built north of Sea Side Park, comprising 500 acres of marsh land lying three miles east of San Pedro City. About 1,500 feet will separate it from the ocean. The tracks of the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake RR skirt the harbor north and south respectively.

Louisville (Ky.) Lighting Co.—New Directors.—Matt L. Akers and D. X. Murphy have been elected directors to fill vacancies occasioned by the death of George Gaulbert and the removal from the city of Udolpho Sneed.—V. 84 p. 1310.

Lowell (Mass.) Electric Light Corp.—New Stock.—The company has recently been authorized by the Massachusetts Gas & Electric Light Commission to issue $93,000, par value, additional stock at $150 per share, par $100.

The present outstanding capitalization is as follows:

| First mortgage 20-year 5% gold bonds, due Jan. 1 1914 | $119,000 |
| Stock (par value of shares $100) | 930,000 |

Dividends at the rate of 8% per annum have been paid from May 1 1903 to Feb. 1 1908, inclusive, and a quarterly dividend of $2 per share has been declared, payable May 1 1908. The company operates in the city of Lowell, Mass. It is managed by Stone & Webster of Boston.—V. 83, p. 1527.

Lynn (Mass.) Gas & Electric Co.—New Stock.—Shareholders of record Jan. 28 1907 (not 1908) are entitled to subscribe at $235 per share (par $100) until 12 o'clock May 6 for 1,950 shares of new stock (full shares only) to the extent of 39-161ths of a share for each old share held.

Subscriptions are payable 50% May 18 in exchange for certificates dated May 21, and the remainder Aug. 17 for certificates issuable Aug. 21, or payment may be made in full on or before May 18, in which case certificates will be issued May 21.—V. 86, p. 671.

McCall Ferry Power Co.—Agreement—Status.—See report of United Railways & Electric Co. of Baltimore under "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.—V. 85, p. 1465.

Manufacturers' Light & Heat Co. of Pittsburgh.—Report.—For quarter ending March 31:

| 1907 | 1,404,772 | 983,109 | 204,295 | 778,814 |

Payment of Bonds.—The Union Trust Co. yesterday, it is stated, paid off $400,000 of the outstanding bonds, making $912,000 bonds retired since Jan. 1.—V. 86, p. 478.

Metropolitan Water Co., Kansas City, Kan.—City Council Votes to Condemn Property.—The Kansas City, Kan., Council voted April 28 to proceed at once to condemn the plant of the company.—V. 83, p. 1039.

Michigan State Telephone Co.—Bonds Offered.—N. W. Harris and Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago have purchased and are offering $300,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, which were held in the treasury. There are $6,581,000 of the issue outstanding. Compare V. 86, p. 984, 921.

Minnesota Thresher Manufacturing Co.—Dividend by Receiver—Purchase of Claims by Stockholders' Committee.—The receiver, Theodore R. Converse of Stillwater, Minn., under an order of court recently distributed to creditors a dividend of 88%.

The amount found to be due several years since was about $444,000, on which interest has accumulated. Suits are still pending against some of the stockholders to enforce collection of the full 100% statutory (double) liability. The greater part of the stockholders have, however, contributed $27 per $50 share to a stockholders' committee formed last July, with Lincoln R. Welch of Fitchburg, Mass., as Chairman and Charles P. Searle of 50 Congress St., Boston, as counsel, who have purchased 99% in amount of the claims against the company. The committee paid the assessment in full to the receiver in behalf of the contributing stockholders and received for their benefit the dividends paid by the receiver on the claims purchased by the committee. The litigation will be continued against the non-contributing stockholders and meantime the receiver will, of course, not be discharged. Compare V. 85, p. 472; V. 84, p. 117.

In 1907-8 there was 16,520,062 lbs. of copper produced, against 32,865,907 in 1906-7 and 30,954,788 in 1905-6. Average price received 16.6 cents per pound against 20.37 in cents 1906-7 and 16.47 cents in 1905-6. —V. 85, p. 1344.

North Electric Co., Cleveland.—This company, which manufactures telephone exchange equipment, has increased its capital stock from $1,750,000 to $2,250,000. No bonds.

The stock now consists of $1,250,000 common and $1,000,000 7% cumulative preferred, of which there is outstanding the entire amount of common and $502,000 of preferred; par of shares $100. In 1907 the National Engineering Corporation of Baltimore, which was formed to manufacture the "Clement-Auto-Manual Telephone Switch Board," and had been in existence several years, was consolidated with the North Electric Co., the latter having during 1907 increased its capital stock from $250,000 to $1,750,000. C. H. North is President and George C. Steele is Secretary and Treasurer.

Northern Navigation Co. of Ontario, Toronto.—New Stock.—The following notice was given at Toronto, April 23:

Notice is given that at a meeting of the board of directors, held to-day, it was decided to issue $160,000 new stock, making, with the $840,000 now existing, the total capital $1,000,000. Shareholders on record May 30 1908 will be invited to subscribe at par for one share for every five shares of their then holding, payable 20% on each of the following dates: July 2, Aug. 1, Sept. 1, Oct. 1 and Nov. 2. H. H. Gildersleeve is Manager.—V. 73, p. 394.

Ohio Public Service Co.—Bonds Offered.—A company with this name and an office at 107 West Third St., Cincinnati, recently offered for sale at par and interest $25,000 6% gold bonds "secured by first mortgage on its new plant at Bradford, Ohio, where it has a 25-year franchise and 10-year street-lighting contract."

Pacific Coast Co.—Reason for Dividend Reduction.—A circular accompanying the dividend checks says:

The reduction in the dividends from 1½ to 1¼% is on account of falling off in receipts and profits, because of the panic and depression in business throughout the country. The property of the company is in excellent condition. It is hoped and expected that business will improve, and that our receipts and profits will increase in the near future. See V. 86, p. 797.

People's Gas Light & Coke Co., Chicago.—Additional Bonds Sold.—The company has sold to N. W. Harris & Co. and the Harris Trust & Savings Bank an additional $1,000,000 of refunding mortgage 5% bonds, making the total amount outstanding $12,400,000. The proceeds will be used to provide for improvements, extensions and betterments, including the company's new office building. Compare V. 86, p. 725, 419.

Pittsburgh (Pa.) Oil & Gas Co.—Earnings.—For the fiecal years ending March 31:

| Fiscal Year— | 1907-08. | 1906-07. | 1905-06. |

| Net | $508,182 | $611,457 | $322,125 |

The increase in investments for the year was $70,876, against $351,284 in 1906-07, and the decrease in indebtedness was $137,306, against a decrease in 1906-07 of $260,173.—V. 85, p. 1579.

Rotary Ring Spinning Co., Boston.—Reduction of Stock—Option to Subscribe for New Shares.—The stockholders on March 10 1908 voted to amend the certificate of incorporation by decreasing the authorized capital stock from $5,700,000, divided into 57,000 shares, par $100, to $1,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares, par value $10. Under date of March 17, shareholders of record were offered the right to subscribe pro rata at par ($10 a share) until April 15 for $52,130 new stock in the proportion of one share for each ten shares held, the issue having been underwritten.

About 80% of the $100,000 stock of the American Worsted Machinery Co., which owns a manufacturing plant at Abington, Mass., was recently acquired, with a view to manufacturing the rings and placing them on the market. Charles S. Smith is now President of the Rotary Company.

Scranton Lumber Co.—Offering of Guaranteed Bonds.—Clark L. Poole & Co., First National Bank Building, Chicago, are offering at par and interest $1,000,000 6% first mortgage gold bonds dated April 1 1908; denominations, $1,000 and $500 each (c*); principal due $250,000 Oct. 1 1911, $250,000 April 1 1912, $250,000 Oct. 1 1912, $250,000 April 1 1913. Principal and interest (payable at Central Trust Co. of Illinois, trustee, Chicago) guaranteed unconditionally by the United States Lumber Co., which has a capital and surplus of $8,011,496, and among its directors a number of the most prominent business men of Scranton, Pa. A circular says in substance:

The United States Lumber Co. owns the entire $1,000,000 capital stock of the Scranton Lumber Co.; also the entire capital stock of the Lackawanna Lumber Co., of Pennsylvania, and the J. J. Newman Lumber Co., of Hattiesburg, Miss. Through the ownership of these subsidiary companies the United States Lumber Co. owns something over 4,000,000,000 feet of standing yellow pine timber in Mississippi and operates three large modern lumber-manufacturing plants located at Hattiesburg and Sumrall, Miss., which in point of economical operation are not excelled in the South. The United States Lumber Co. built and now owns the Mississippi Central RR., running from Hattiesburg, Miss., the centre of its timber holdings, west to Brookhaven, Miss., about 84 miles, and it also built and owns the Natchez & Eastern Railway Co., which is an extension of the Mississippi Central RR. from Brookhaven to Natchez, Miss., 66 miles, thus possessing unsurpassed facilities for marketing its product and has the most complete organization to successfully conduct the lumber business in every detail.

This mortgage is a first lien on about 54,450 acres of uncut virgin timber lands, well grouped, located in Perry and Greene counties, Mississippi, heavily timbered with long-leaf yellow pine. The trust deed provides that none of the timber standing on the lands covered by this bond issue is to be cut or turpentined during the life of this bond issue.

Abstract of Letter from F. L. Peck, President United States Lumber Co., Scranton, Pa., Feb. 26 1908.

The Scranton Lumber Co. is a Delaware corporation, organized with a paid-up capital of $1,000,000 (all owned by the United States Lumber Co.) for the purpose of acquiring timber holdings located in Perry and Greene counties, Miss., approximately 25 miles from Hattiesburg, consisting of about 56,000 acres, estimated by J. D. Lacey & Co. to contain standing yellow pine timber of over 600,000,000 feet. The Gulf & Ship Island RR. runs within a short distance on the west, the Mobile Jackson & Kansas City RR. on the east and the Mississipi Central RR., which is now building to the Gulf, has already been completed to within 10 miles of these lands, and eventually will pass directly through them.

Explanation in Regard to Assets in Aforesaid Balance Sheet.

1. First mortgage bonds of the Natchez & Eastern Railway Co., $1,540,000.—The Natchez & Eastern Ry. Co. is an extension of the Mississippi Central RR. from Brookhaven, Miss., to Natchez, Miss., 66 miles. It is a standard-gauge road with 80-lb. steel rails and steel bridges, traversing a section of Mississippi heretofore without railroad facilities. Three years ago the United States Lumber Co. built the Mississippi Central RR., extending from Hattiesburg, Miss. (the centre of its timber holdings), west to Brookhaven, Miss., about 84 miles, and bonded it for $1,680,000 and stocked it for $1,500,000. A leading New York house purchased the bonds (V. 85, p. 221). This road has not only been earning and paying its bond interest, but dividends of 6% per annum upon its $1,500,000 of stock, and has accumulated a substantial surplus. These bonds are all closely held by investors and are to-day selling around par. The United States Lumber Co. encouraged the building of this road and largely financed it (as it has also done with its extension, the Natchez & Eastern) because of the added outlet for the product of its mills, furnishing as it does a connection with the Missouri Pacific at Natchez and water transportation on the Mississippi River at that point. The Natchez & Eastern is now practically completed (it will be opened for traffic over its entire length by May 1 1908) and negotiations are now in progress looking to an early sale of the bonds owned by this company, which bonds cover advances made from time to time as the work progressed.

2. Stock of the Great Southern Lumber Co., $375,450.—This stock is carried on our books at par (which represents the cost to us), and could be sold to-day at a higher figure. The company is controlled and largely owned by the Goodyears of Buffalo, the well-known lumbermen. The property consists of between 500,000 and 600,000 acres of virgin yellow pine timber situated in Louisiana and Mississippi.

3. Timber lands and real estate, $4,159,703.—This item comprises about 260,000 acres of virgin yellow pine timber lands, besides lands from which the timber has been removed. Making full allowance for timber already cut off, we still have a conservative estimate of four billion feet of timber. This property is carried on our books at its original cost, and stumpage has been credited to the land for timber already removed at a price more than sufficient to wipe out the investment when all the timber has been removed, and show considerable profit. These lands are conservatively worth to-day from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, this estimate being based on a valuation of $3 to $4 per 1,000 feet for the standing timber. The timber land already cut over is worth $250,000 to $300,000 in addition.

4. Plants and railroad equipment, $1,367,610.—This item comprises four saw mills with latest improvements, all built within five years, having a total capacity of 900,000 feet per day of 22 hours. These mills include dry-kilns, extensive planing mills, &c. Railroads and equipment consist of 60 miles of logging railroad, laid with 40 and 45-lb. steel rails, 15 locomotives, 10 log-loaders and several hundred logging cars.

5. United States Construction Co., cash advanced, $475,847.—This amount, representing cash advanced for the construction of the Natchez & Eastern Ry. and the Pascagoula extension of the Mississippt Central RR., it is expected, will be paid back to us in the near future, upon the conclusion of arrangements for the permanent financing of the railroad property.

6. Bills receivable, $510,000.—Represents notes due from the purchasers of our West Virginia lands, secured by first mortgage on the property.

7. Logs, lumber and supplies on hand, $777,043.—Inventory of stock on hand, figured at cost.

8. This company has been a large manufacturer of yellow pine lumber since 1896 at Hattiesburg, Miss., which is about the centre of its timber holdings, and at Sumrall, Miss., 20 miles west of Hattiesburg, since 1902. Hattiesburg is situated 110 miles from New Orleans, on several railroads. Sumrall, Miss., is on the Mississippi Central RR. The company has earned and paid not less than 8% dividends in cash annually to its stockholders since its organization, and its lands comprise one of the finest bodies of yellow pine timber in the State of Mississippi.

The dividends as above include $7 per share (par $5) paid in 1907, against $5 in 1906. In Jan. and April 1908 quarterly dividends of 50 cents each (10%) were paid. Compare V. 85, p. 1592. Copper bullion and supplies on hand Dec. 31 1907, $1,205,131, against $1,853,210 in 1906. There were produced 13,987,551 lbs. fine copper, 390,296 oz. fine silver and 34,555 oz. gold in 1907, against 18,533,974 lbs. of copper, 457.812 oz. of silver and 42,601 oz. of gold in 1906.—V. 86, p. 289, 55.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—Stockholders Must Subscribe or Lose Their Equity.—Circulars have been sent out under date of April 28 by President George Westinghouse and also by the stockholders' committee, Charles Francis Adams, Chairman, urging on the shareholders the vital necessity, if their equity is to be preserved intact, of subscribing for their pro rata amount of new common ("assenting") stock (one share for each four shares or fraction held) as required by the plan of the Merchandise Creditors' Committee (compare V. 86, p. 922).

President Westinghouse says in part:

Your affairs have been efficiently administered by the receivers, and since their appointment the direct and contingent liabilities of the company with reference to its Canadian and European interests have been reduced by $1,750,000. They have also converted into cash a large amount of surplus materials, raw in process and finished, on hand Oct. 23 1907.

Your interest in the company as a stockholder is nevertheless in serious jeopardy. Your creditors have been very indulgent and have already given a total of seven months (until June 1) to permit an adjustment conserving your interests.

The Readjustment Committee are willing to accept the plan of the Merchandise Creditors' Committee in place of their own bond-mortgage plan, provided the company promptly provides subscriptions at par to $10,000,000 of new "assenting stock," of which amount $4,000,000 is to be provided by creditors through the exchange of their claims therefor at par, and $6,000,000 must be provided by stockholders. In less than twenty days creditors representing $3,250,000 of such claims have signed or agreed to sign the agreement. The committee are confident that the entire $4,000,000 of subscriptions will be in hand soon.

In the spring of 1907 the financial requirements of the company were so urgent that we invited you to subscribe for $5,000,000 assenting stock. There was no material response. In order to meet the situation resulting form this lack of support, the Security Investment Co., with the aid of my personal resources (the Investment Company and myself owning together about 50% of the outstanding assenting and preferred stock), made large contributions to the company in an effort to maintain its solvency. These efforts resulted in the exhaustion of my own resources, as well as those of the Security Investment Co. It is, however, my expectation that, through a plan and agreement recently submitted to the creditors of the Security Investment Co., which has already been accepted, signed or agreed to by many of its lagre creditors, the assenting stock required to be taken by that company will be provided for, as well as the stock required to be taken by me personally.

There have, however, already been deposited under the Readjustment Committee's plan of Jan. 20, more than a majority of all the creditors' claims, and this majority empowers the readjustment committee to determine the advisability of a sale of the company, so that a failure on your part to subscribe for one new share of assenting stock for each four shares or fraction thereof of preferred and assenting stock held by you will almost certainly result in a sale of your property for the benefit of creditors and the elimination of all present stock interests. Should the usual course of a sale to a new company be adopted, there undoubtedly would be some provision for a participation by those stockholders who will submit to an assessment in order to retain their interest in a greatly depreciated equity; but this assessment will certainly be larger in amount and upon more onerous terms than the subscription now solicited.

[The stockholders' committee states that over 500 stockholders have already subscribed for the new stock, at an average rate slightly above one share for every four shares of existing stock held by them, these subscriptions being exclusive of the very considerable amount already under agreement in the interest of the Security Investment Co.—Ed.]

Meeting Not Held.—Owing to the proposed substitution of the plan of the Merchandise Creditors' Committee for the plan of the Readjustment Committee, the meeting called for April 29 was not held.

Settlement with French Subsidiary.—Judge Young in the United States Circuit Court at Pittsburgh recently authorized the receivers to return 2,500,000 francs (par value) debentures of the Societe Anonyme of Paris to that company, the amount named to be credited upon the balance due on the Westinghouse subscription to 10,000,000 francs debentures of the Societe Anonyme.

Removal.—The New York offices of the company have been removed from 111 Broadway and 11 Pine St. to the City Investing Building at 165 Broadway. (Telephone 8607 Cortlandt.)—V. 86, p. 922.

York Haven (Pa.) Water & Power Co.—Bonds Offered.—Earnings, &c.—Julius Christensen & Co., Drexel Building, Philadelphia, who are offering at 92½ and interest $100,000 5% sinking fund consolidated mortgage gold bonds, say:

| Capital stock | $3,000,000 |
| 1st mortgage 5% bonds, due 1951 (V. 77, p. 2103) | 1,500,000 |
| 2nd mortgage 6% bonds, due 1924, redeemable at 105 in 1909 (V. 78, p. 2390) | 1,000,000 |
| Consolidated mortgage 5% bonds dated May 1 1907 and due May 1 1957, but redeemable at 105 on or after May 1 1927. Authorized, $4,000,000; outstanding | 300,000 |

Of the $4,000,000 consolidated 5% bonds, $1,500,000 are held by the trustee to retire the 1st M. 5% bonds due 1951 and $1,050,000 to retire at 105 the $1,000,000 2d M. 6s in 1909; the balance, $1,450,000, can only be issued for extensions, for which purpose $300,000 have now been issued, of which we offer $100,000 for sale.

Plant and Contracts for Power.—The company now has installed 10,000 H. P., and contracts for the installation of 10,000 H. P. additional have been let, and the preparatory work is now under way. The present 10,000 H. P. has all been contracted for, and will be fully employed before July 1 1908. About 7,000 H. P. is being delivered, and the remainder has been contracted for by three large corporations, which have commenced taking power, and will absorb the entire remaining 3,000 H. P. before July 1 1908. About 5,000 H. P. additional has been contracted for, for delivery during the present year, and the balance of the new installation of 10,000 H. P. has been spoken for and will undoubtedly be contracted for by the time the machinery is ready.

| Gross earnings | $111,863 | Net earnings | $96,041 |
| Operating expenses | 15,822 | Interest charges | 71,000 |
| Net earnings | $96,041 | Balance, surplus | $25,041 |

By July 1 1908 the earnings should reach at least $25,000 per month from the present installation of 10,000 H. P., without increase in operating expenses or interest charges. The raceway, retaining wall, dam, wheel pits, foundations, &c., have been built for the installation of 20,000 H. P. and the company thus has an investment of $1,000,000 in property which will bring no revenue until the additional 10,000 H. P. is installed. The construction of the plant is of the most substantial character. The company owns in fee simple about 400 acres of land suitable for manufacturing sites, and also Duffy's Island, of about 400 acres of land, upon which its dam rests. The plant is within easy transmitting distance of cities and towns containing a population of about 200,000, and using about 65,000 H. P., which prior to the advent of the company was generated by steam at a cost of about $100 per H. P. per annum. The York Haven Water & Power Co. obtains about $50 per H. P.—V. 84, p. 1253.

—G. Elliotte Little, C. P. A., and Edward C. Goodman, C. P. A., on Thursday formed a co-partnership under the firm name of Little & Goodman, certified public accountants and auditors, with offices in the United States Express Building, 2 Rector St., New York. Mr. Little has practiced public accountancy in New York under his own name for many years and was formerly associated with his father, Stephen Little, acquiring an expert knowledge of corporation and banking business. Mr. Goodman was also associated with Stephen Little for six years and was identified with the Audit Company of New York as chief accountant and later for two years as manager of the company's Philadelphia office. He was also Comptroller of the General Asphalt Co. in Philadelphia.

—Mr. George G. Henry, Vice-President of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, has written a useful little book entitled "How to Invest Money." A chapter is devoted to each class of securities and the writer discusses the general principles of investment and the market movement of securities. ## COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, May 1 1908.

A process of slow improvement is going on, but the note of caution struck many months back still governs business everywhere. The outlook for the crops seems to be good, and the export business in wheat has noticeably increased, coincident with diminished foreign shipments, while the ready placing of the Pennsylvania R.R. loan and the rise the in value of securities have had a good effect.

LARD on the spot has advanced, owing to a rise in the market for futures at the West, an advance in the live-hog market, smaller receipts of hogs and light offerings. A better inquiry has been reported at times, but the sales have been limited to small lots. Western 8.50c. and City 8¼c. Refined lard has been firmer for Continent and steady for other grades. Trade has been quiet. Refined Continent 9.10c., South America 9½@9¾c. and Brazil, in kegs, 11c. The speculation in lard futures at the West has been active and prices have advanced under the stimulus of a diminished live hog movement, buying by commission houses and covering of shorts. Packers have been the principal sellers.

COFFEE on the spot has been quiet and steady at 5⅞@6c. for Rio No. 7. West India growths have been quiet and steady; fair to good Cucuta 9@10c. The speculation in future contracts has been moderately active. Early in the week prices advanced, influenced by firmer European and Brazilian advices, light receipts and offerings, covering of shorts and buying by local dealers and roasters. Of late, however, the market has shown a reactionary tendency owing to renewed liquidation and weakness in Europe. Foreign houses have sold here to some extent.

The closing prices were as follows:

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been only moderately active as the trading has still been for the most part of a professional character. Prices continued to decline until Wednesday, when an advance took place, which continued on Thursday, reaching at its best nearly 60 points in two days, owing largely to light frost in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas and predictions of further frosts for Thursday night in Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas. Coincident with this alarm about the weather came heavy buying both here and in Liverpool by large spot interests and much covering by Southern shorts, to say nothing of the bear liquidation for local and Wall Street account. It was also said that retailers' stocks of dry goods at the West were at a low stage. Another and by no means uninfluential factor was the very general belief that in any case a rally was due after so prolonged and severe a decline. But to-day, when it was found that no frost had occurred over night anywhere in the belt, and that it was warmer in the Southwest, prices broke sharply, the downward movement being accelerated by heavy selling for Liverpool account. Commission houses generally were sellers and local traders were emboldened to take the short side again. Late reports are to the effect that the crop has on the whole had a good start. Spot markets at the South have been generally quiet, though there has been some New England inquiry for cotton in the New York stock. The better grades seem to be pretty well held at the South but the poorer descriptions are evidently difficult to sell. The question, How much cotton may the South be holding back? is one of great interest to the trade and opinions on the subject differ widely. In the main the idea is that considerable remains to be sold. On the decline a large Wall Street speculative interest is supposed to have bought December freely. July, however, was offered down steadily to the close. Spot cotton has been quiet. Middling upland closed at 10.20c., an advance for the week of 10 points.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Fair | c1.75 on | Middling | Basis | Good mid. tinged | Even |
| Strict mid. fair | 1.50 on | Strict low mid | c0.30 off | Strict mid.tinged c | 0.20 off |

EUROPEAN COTTON CONSUMPTION TO APRIL 1.—By cable to-day we have Mr. Ellison's cotton figures brought down to April 1. We give also revised totals for last year that comparison may be made. The spinners' takings in actual bales and pounds have been as follows:

| October 1 to April 1. | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. |
| For 1907-08. | | | |
| Takings by spinners.....bales | 2,267,000 | 3,391,000 | 5,658,000 |
| Average weight of bales....lbs. | 505 | 484 | 492.6 |
| Takings in pounds | 1,144,835,000 | 1,641,244,000 | 2,786,079,000 |
| For 1906-07. | | | |
| Takings by spinners.....bales | 2,366,000 | 3,600,000 | 5,966,000 |
| Average weight of bales.....lbs. | 505 | 484 | 492.3 |

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Great Britain is 505 pounds per bale this season, against 505 pounds during the same time last season. The Continental deliveries average 484 pounds, against 484 pounds last year, and for the whole of Europe the deliveries average 492.6 pounds per bale, against 492.3 pounds last season. Our dispatch also gives the full movement for this year and last year in bales of 500 pounds.

OUR COTTON ACREAGE REPORT.—Our cotton acreage report will probably be ready about the 1st of June. Parties desiring the circular in quantities with their business cards printed thereon, should send in their orders as soon as possible, to ensure early delivery.

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have been firmer in the main, though the changes, as a rule, have not been important. Trade has continued quiet and of a hand-to-mouth character; the strength of the wheat market has been the dominating influence. A better inquiry for export has been reported at times at Northwestern centres; actual sales, however, have been small. The output is smaller than at this time last year, but is far in excess of the demand. Stocks in the hands of dealers are light as a rule. Millers, however, show no disposition to shade prices. Rye flour has been quiet and firm. Corn meal has been dull and steady.

Wheat has felt the stimulating effect of decreased world's exports. That gives rise to a very natural query whether Europe may not be forced to buy more freely in America in the near future. In fact, what may perhaps prove to be the herald of these larger purchases was the excellent demand which prevailed yesterday when some half a million bushels were taken for Europe here and at other seaboard ports, as well as at Chicago and the Northwest. Moreover, some 240,000 bushels of durum wheat have been sold for export to St. Petersburg, Russia, a fact which has naturally excited no little comment. Odessa's receipts and stocks are steadily decreasing, and it is stated that reserve supplies in Southwestern Europe are small, while the crop outlook in that portion of the Continent is also anything but flattering. Then, too, the receipts at our Northwestern markets have been relatively small, and in a week the stock at Minneapolis has decreased 1,250,000 bushels. Meanwhile European markets have been advancing. From portions of our Southwestern States have come complaints of excessive moisture. Killing frost has occurred in Iowa, though it has probably done no harm any more than the snowstorms which prevailed some days ago in Indiana and Ohio. It is certain, however, that vegetation is not forwarded by such temperatures as have latterly prevailed over a wide area of 24 to 44 degrees, the lower figure prevailing in some parts of Kansas. Furthermore, Bradstreet's statement of supplies had a bracing effect. It showed a decrease in the world's stock last week of 4,645,000 bushels, against a decrease in the previous week of 2,349,000 bushels and an actual increase for the same week last year of 610,000 bushels. The world's stock of wheat now is stated at 138,704,000 bushels, or approximately 30,000,000 bushels less than that of a year ago and 7,000,000 less than at this time in 1906. To-day prices advanced early, May rising sharply. The deliveries on May were only 400,000 bushels and they were quickly taken in by Armour brokers. The receipts continued light and stocks were decreased. The weather was cold and stormy over a wide area. Unfavorable crop reports were received from Kansas. Before the close, however, liquidation caused a reaction.

Indian corn futures have been firmer with the trading more active. Stimulating factors have been heavy rains over a wide area, which have delayed farm work, small country acceptances, light receipts and support from influential Chicago interests. Nervous shorts have covered freely at times. The cash market has been firmer with an increased demand. Chicago bulls, it is stated, have arranged to ship a part of the stock out of that market. Smaller receipts are expected. Reactions have occurred at times on liquidation, attributed in part at least to leading Chicago bulls. Some who have bought May of late have sold July and September rather freely. To-day prices advanced early with wheat. The weather was unfavorable. A better cash demand was reported at firm prices. May deliveries amounting to some 4,000,000 bushels were taken in. Later liquidation caused a reaction.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have shown irregularity. There has been considerable selling pressure at times, especially of September. Commission houses have been prominent in this selling. Cash interests have also sold freely at times. The stock at Chicago continues to increase. During the past week the increase was nearly 300,000 bushels, making the total stock of contract grade there 5,284,000 bushels, or more than 4,000,000 bushels larger than the stock at this time a year ago. But the offerings have been readily absorbed. Prominent interests have given support whenever it was needed. The cash demand has increased and prices have been firm. Seeding has been delayed by cold rains. To-day prices were firmer on bull support, unfavorable weather and covering. May deliveries of 6,000,000 bushels were promptly taken care of by leading bulls.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climatological Division of the United States Weather Bureau, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the weather in the various States for the week ending April 27, summarizing them as follows:

During the week ending April 27 the temperatures were favorable in the middle and South Atlantic and east Gulf States. The fore part of the week was favorable throughout the Lake region and central valleys, and the latter part in New England and Texas, while the latter part was too cool throughout the central valleys and the Lake region, and freezing temperatures occurred in the more northerly portions of these districts, with frosts in the interior of the Middle and South Atlantic States.

Heavy rains caused damage in the central and east Gulf States, where violent and destructive local storms occurred on the 23d and 24th, mostly on the latter date. Light but beneficial rains afforded some relief in California.

High winds were prevalent throughout the central valleys and Lake region from the 24th to the 26th.

There was less than the usual amount of sunshine in the east Gulf districts, central Missouri Valley, and northern Rocky Mountain region; elsewhere it was generally normal or above.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, May 1 1908.

There have been some slight signs in the cotton-goods market of a broadening trade during the past few days, but the improvement so far has been very slight and very slow. It is a fact, however, that buyers are showing a greater willingness to contract ahead if prices are right and the number of small orders for goods to cover immediate requirements are larger than they have been in the recent past. At the same time values have fallen still further, and while business is somewhat larger it has been done at the lowest prices named for a long time. Manufacturers in some cases have notified prospective buyers that they will not sell goods at the current level and prefer to close down their mills rather than manufacture goods to sell at a loss. Curtailment is continuing in all sections of the country and is even greater than reports would lead one to suppose. In spite of this, however, goods are accumulating as a result of the running out of contracts. A favorable feature of the situation is the indication that re-selling by second hands has about run its course; this should naturally result in greater activity in the primary market, inasmuch as the falling off in business at first hands has been much more severe during the past few months than it has been among jobbers and retailers. While there is a growing optimism, it is felt that many agents are making a mistake in shipping goods on memorandum and thereby strengthening the hands of buyers in their efforts to still further depress values. There has been some improveemnt in the market for men's wear woolen and worsted goods during the week, but dress goods have been seasonably quiet.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending April 25 were 4,048 packages, valued at $232,395, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York to April 25. | Week | Since Jan. 1. | Week | Since Jan. 1. |
| Great Britain | 10 | 182 | 65 | 399 |
| Other Europe | 165 | 402 | 121 | 370 |
| China | | 8,980 | | 6,923 |
| India | 550 | 3,481 | | 4,173 |
| Arabia | 370 | 8,578 | | 16,223 |
| Africa | 2 | 1,524 | 11 | 3,306 |
| West Indies | 465 | 7,263 | 186 | 8,184 |
| Mexico | 31 | 613 | 37 | 800 |
| Central America | 211 | 1,691 | 238 | 5,390 |
| South America | 2,076 | 14,742 | 503 | 17,074 |
| Other countries | 365 | 5,635 | 370 | 13,035 |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $3,717,647 in 1908, against $4,837,193 in 1907.

The low price of the raw material has resulted in further declines in the price of drills and sheetings and the demand has been limited, owing to the expectation of still further reductions in the event of cotton going lower. In the South, particularly, efforts have been made to dispose of goods at levels considerably below those prevailing in Northern markets, and prices have been named that are the lowest reached in three years. There have been some sales of both drills and sheetings for export to miscellaneous countries, and in addition to these the export demand has included bleached goods, colored goods, prints and a fair-sized quantity of duck. The domestic demand for bleached goods is entirely of a hand-to-mouth character, as it is fully expected that lower prices will be named for the fall trade inside of the next six weeks. The decline in the price of duck has resulted in a slightly better inquiry. Linings are in moderate request at the lower level recently named. Napped goods contiue to sell fairly well for fall. New showings of prints are constantly being made, but sales are small, as further revisions are expected in the near future. Ginghams are quiet. Print cloths have again been reduced and standard gray goods at Fall River are now quoted at 4c. Print cloths regulars remain nominally 3¼c., but narrow goods have sold at 2⅞c. for 28-inch 64x60s; converters are watching the market closely, believing that prices have nearly reached bottom.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The men's wear woolen and worsted goods market is in a much more satisfactory condition than seemed likely a little while ago, for not only has there developed a belated demand for lightweight goods for the current spring season, but duplicate ordering of heavyweights has set in at least two weeks earlier than had been anticipated. The spring demand shows no change in character from a week ago, but the fall re-ordering has mostly been of fine goods and has almost entirely been confined to worsteds. Some of the duplicate orders received have been of substantial volume, but others have been disappointing in this respect, and indicate that clothiers have already found a market for every yard they order. This in itself is not a bad thing and may indicate that these same byers will have to enter the market again later on. Curtailment of manufacture is still drastic and this will doubtless have its effect upon the market later. Duplicate ordering of dress goods for the fall has hardly commenced as yet, although some few orders have already been received. It is admitted that the initial business has been disappointing, but many in the trade believe that there will be a decided improvement later on and for this reason are prepared to go ahead and manufacture goods for stock. Woolen mills are encouraged at the outlook, believing that the drift will be more towards woolens as against worsteds.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The demand for high grade imported woolen and worsted goods is regarded as satisfactory. Silks are very quiet and ribbons are dull. Linens are not active and price revisions are expected on new goods. Burlaps are steady.

PAST AND PRESENT OF "THE CHRONICLE."

The present number of the "Chronicle" is the last to be issued from the building at the northwest corner of Pine and Pearl streets. Hereafter the office of publication will be two blocks further east. The Pine Street entrance will be No. 90 Pine; the Front Street entrance will be Nos. 136, 138 and 140. A strictly business entrance has been made on Depeyster Street. It hardly needs to be said that the old quarters have long been crowded and obviously inadequate. That could not be otherwise when it is borne in mind that the publication and editorial and financial departments have always been growing ever since the first number of our journal was issued; and in recent years the pages published and work done have multiplied many times. Under such circumstances, it hardly needs to be said that of late the work required has been carried on under a stress and discomfort which has been borne as a necessity and with the patience that naturally comes from expectation of relief.

The new "Chronicle" building was purchased five years ago with the object of adapting the two upper floors for our own use. Alterations were designed and started almost immediately, but in various ways unavoidably prolonged. The building is not a steel-frame structure, but of stone, modern in being of the most substantial character, with passenger elevators, and having an architecture at once chaste and satisfying in its business-like simplicity. It has fewer floors than would be supplied if projected to-day; but the unusual loftiness of its seven stories makes for the comfort, health and visual organs of its occupants, and in this respect is a decided gain over many others of later date and design. As the building has a frontage on three streets—the business and editorial offices meet every reasonable desire as to light and ventilation; and the composing room, which is on a higher floor, occupies the entire area of the building without obstruction by any divisions.

The regular composition has for some time past been done with machines. Typesetting by machine on a practical scale began with the "Linotype" (line-of-type), which, as is well known, casts the type afresh for each occasion, the result, however, being that each line in the column is a single piece of metal, and the necessary corrections can be made only by casting the line anew. A later development is the "Monotype," which has been adopted and used on the "Chronicle." The requisite number of machines were obtained, and key-boards like exaggerated typewriters to be played upon by the fingers of the operator, making perforations corresponding to the letters and other characters required, in a wide ribbon of manila paper which is fed from a drum. These perforated ribbons are placed on the casting machines, where they serve as "copy" and guide. In this case the machines cast the type singly, although with great rapidity, "composing" them at the same time. They come out, line after line, into column form, each type being a separate and movable piece of metal instead of one in a solid line, as by the earlier process. Errors are corrected by substituting the proper letters in the old way. The types could, of course, be "composed" new by hand and used again; but in the case of the "Chronicle" this is never done. Each week the type is melted and goes through the same process, being set up by the machines, as already described.

Although, for convenience, the "Chronicle" is commonly known and mentioned by the second adjective in its title, it has always been, as it began, "commercial" as well as "financial"; moreover, the several "departments" into which it was divided at the start can still be found, although enlarged in size but not materially in scope. Its growth is of interest, as furnishing in itself an illustrative commentary upon the development of the commercial and industrial world. It began as a publication concurrent with and extending "Hunt's Merchants' Magazine," a monthly which was then 26 years old, but was found to have served its purpose. A feature of the magazine was the broad extent of its circulation. It went to every civilized country, it being the only record of our commercial affairs published in those early years. We notice this fact because it gave to the "Chronicle" an immediate entry into foreign lands at a time when Europe especially was seeking information about the industiral affairs of America; being also the leading cotton authority helped this tendency. Later, it was encouraged and our situation in that particular strengthened, as the information respecting the financial and commercial markets which we catered to was everywhere sought after. Our foreign subscription list has always steadily increased, and to-day our largest list of subscribers in any city outside of New York is in London.

The growth in the number of pages of the "Chronicle" illustrates the general development of it and the country. At first 32 pages was the limit. Not long after that, we find it was 64 pages. From that point the progress has been steadily upward. The limit now is 96 pages. Correspondingly the departments of the paper have had a special growth of their own—a feature of the country's industrial development. Cotton was the first which in that way commanded attention. Not only was a separate annual review in the department of cotton made necessary, but the weekly report gathered into its pages all information available respecting that staple, obtained by quickest transit. First the telegraph was made subservient for this purpose; then came the cable and through it the European cotton data. Thus every Friday evening the results of our work thereby secured were obtained by New York cotton merchants and sent by them to every cotton market in the world as soon in the night as the figures were ready.

After raw cotton and cotton manufactures, if one studies the prospective agencies active in industrial affairs during those early years, the production of breadstuffs and railroad building will attract chief attention. It is a notable fact however that when the "Chronicle" was started (July 1865) the railroad miles in operation were only 35,085. When gold payments were established in 1879 the length had only reached 86,556 miles; the previous year (1878) the length was 81,747 miles. Gold payments in the United States brought American securities into demand in Europe and a consequent inflow of foreign capital to America. During the 10 years ending with 1879 the net exports of gold from the United States were $244,576,083; in the three years following the flow of gold was reversed, there being a net inflow into the United States of 176,374,672 dollars. During the 5 years from 1879 to 1883, inclusive, the growth in railroad mileage was 39,675. It was such an industrial growth as these figures indicated (the most phenomenal the country had ever experienced) that taxed our resources and made necessary one after another, the supplements which we are issuing. The amount of systemized and continuous labor they call for can be imagined but not easily or intelligibily described.

Each department of our journal as originally designed was taken advantage of, as the country developed for enlarged work. When our pages, even with the rapid extensions noted, were too contracted for a complete story of industrial progress in every direction we sought to cover, one by one supplements were provided to take up the overflow and so give room for a full record in our columns of the commercial and financial history of the times made by every sort of invention and development. It is impossible to pass without mention the notable fact that while the "Chronicle" has more than tripled in size, its annual subscription price at the start has remained unchanged.

The increase in size and adding of successive supplements have been no more premeditated than they have been for their own sake desired; they have grown naturally and irresistibly out of the growth of the country. Thirty years ago no one foresaw the development of electricity, out of which have come the electric car and a re-distribution of population; nor could anybody have foreseen the great development of railways, of industrial processes, of banking, and the change and expansion in the trust company. As all this made new demands, the "Chronicle" met them successively; to stand still is to perish, and no individual business can long survive unless it is deeply-rooted and is capable of adapting itself, by progressive changes, to the general movement of which it must form a part.

The foregoing relates to the past and present of this journal; conjecture of its future would be idle. Material and national advance show no signs of halting. Discovery and invention seem to go by bounds rather than short steps; for example, there came a story, only a few days ago, of driving and guiding cars by "wireless," in the shop service of one of the railways of the West, and if this is not quite true it must be regarded as only premature, so that it no longer seems safe to affirm of anything that it is impossible. Rapidity brings its own dangers, among which are class struggles and sharp stresses on the national structure by unwise legislation and the crudest governmental attempts to construct general well-being artificially. These bring perplexities and anxieties, yet in the broad view there is no room for pessimism. For there are some fundamental principles rooted in the constitution of things and therefore immovably sure. Men come and go, fretting and fuming in their brief path across the stage; but these principles abide, and they will prevent wide and permanent divergence from the road of general improvement.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The situation continues to develop favorable features. Weeks ago we referred to several which have made more definite progress since; they are well marked by the condition of better net earnings, although still accompanied with decided loss in gross and increase in idle cars. The improvement in the presence of adverse conditions is reached in divers ways. First is the circumstance that freight can always be handled more economically when the supply is not excessive and shippers are more urgent. Moreover, labor is then more willing to work, more anxious to keep the job it has; then too the poorer hands—that is, the shirks—have been laid off, and altogether the average efficiency of the working force left is increased. This higher morale counts for more than one not familiar in handling labor usually gives credit for. There is also another feature not generally understood, which is that very many concerns which have had large surpluses continuously have gotten themselves, by judiciously accumulating and using these surplus earnings, into condition to make almost everything within their lines cheap. This is brought about because, with plenty of cash, machinery can always be kept of the best and newest styles, and all purchases of material be made under the market; add to this that these advantages have been attained without increase in fixed charges. Moreover, in this way a concern secures the power to turn its machinery on to and upon goods with broadest margin of profit, and thus to produce what at any moment pays best within a given body of products.

The organization last week at St. Louis of the National Prosperity Association may prove an event of some importance. That such an association, made up of business men and to have, according to present plans, ramifications all over the country, is capable of a great deal of good, cannot be doubted. Whether or not this object shall be attained will depend upon the way it proceeds in its work. The slogan of the Association is said to be "Let us alone"—meaning that further legislation destructive of confidence and detrimental to business interests must cease—and the purposes of the association are defined as follows in a formal address issued Friday night of last week "To keep the dinner-pail full, to keep the pay-car going, to keep the factory busy, to keep workmen employed and maintain present wages." All this is in the highest degree laudable, and we are sure the movement will have the full support and co-operation of the entire business community and also of the labor classes.

The aim seems to be to get men to take a bright view of the future, to impress them with the idea that there is no reason why the present gloomy state of trade should continue, and generally to bring sunshine into business affairs. There surely can be no objection to all this, but it should be distinctly understood that prosperity cannot be brought back by mere resolves or the simple taking of bright views. A restoration of confidence, now so greatly disturbed, is plainly the desideratum needed above everything else at the present juncture, but active efforts must be made to bring about such a result. The promoters of the movement evidently appreciate that adverse legislation has been a seriously unsettling agency. It will not be sufficient, however, to rest content with a mere expression of opinion on the subject. Active opposition to such legislation must be declared and all further moves of that kind vigorously antagonized.

The Chairman of the National Prosperity Association is E. C. Simmons, formerly President of the Simmons Hardware Co. In a statement made by him on May 1 he said: "On all sides we find expressions of favorable sentiment to the effect that further legislation against railroads and large corporations shall cease, that the business interests of this country shall be given a rest, and that the departments of justice be allowed to proceed with their work in a quiet manner. It is absolutely essential to the welfare of this country that the railroads should again prosper, because more than 1,500,000 men are in the employ of the railroads to-day and as many more are dependent upon the revenue from railroad investments; hence, it is deemed almost impossible that we should return to a full measure of prosperity unless the railroads participate in the same." This shows a true conception of the nature of the trouble under which the country is laboring, and if the association, with the various adjuncts of the same to be formed in other cities, will work along these lines, it cannot fail to prove highly serviceable and contribute in an important degree to that return of prosperity for which we are all sighing.

We notice, however, that in a dispatch to the New York "Times" under date of May 6, Chairman Simmons, though having declared himself so strongly and so emphatically with regard to the importance of promoting the welfare of the carrying interest, is quoted as opposing any attempt on the part of the railroads to advance railroad freight rates, as they are supposed to be planning to do. He is reported as saying that the proposed advances of freight rates would mean an increased revenue of $100,000,000, that the proposition seemed incredible, and that such a movement on the part of the railways would not only destroy the confidence of the people, but would antagonize all the shippers of the East and West. It must be admitted that advancing rates at a time of business depression is rather anomalous, but what else can the roads do? The only alternative would be to reduce wages, and that the Prosperity Association opposes. Mr. Simmons has himself shown in the most convincing way how the whole country must necessarily suffer if the railroads continue to suffer. We regret to be obliged to state that, up to the present time, there has been not the slightest indication of any improvement in the railroad situation. During January, February and March gross earnings of United States railroads fell off at the rate of $300,000,000 a year. For April, it looks as if they had been falling off at the rate of $500,000,000 a year.

This means that the railroads have just that much less to spend and that, consequently, that much less money is going into reproductive enterprise. At the same time, their new capital expenditures have been curtailed in like manner through the crusade against the railroads which has been in progress during the last few years. To be sure, the $40,000,000 bond offering of the Pennsylvania Railroad in April proved an immense success, and there is good reason for feeling encouraged over the fact. But the character of the loan had much to do with its successful outcome. The bonds are gilt-edged and the Pennsylvania Railroad stands sui generis among American railroads. The placing of this loan, therefore, and of others like it, at a time when the money markets of the world are congested with idle funds, proves nothing. It certainly does not indicate that the railroads are again able to borrow with the freedom of a few years ago. On the contrary, the avidity with which the Pennsylvania issue was taken up stands in sharp contrast with the apathy displayed towards new capital flotations on the part of the railroads generally. Why, under these circumstances, any one comprehending the facts of the situation should oppose a reasonable advance in railroad freight rates—on goods and commodities able to bear the advance—is difficult to understand.

In the matter of further adverse legislation, this Prosperity Association must also take a determined stand if it would accomplish its object of bringing back sunshine and prosperity. Mere declamation will not suffice. Specific propositions of new legislation must be attacked and the legislator must be given to understand that if he does not heed the protests, the opposition will be carried to the polls at election time. It is pertinent to ask what the National Prosperity Association purposes doing concerning certain legislative projects which are being urged with so much vehemence upon the attention of Congress by the occupant of the White House. We refer to the anti-injunction bills, the proposal to allow the Inter-State Commerce Commission an extra large appropriation so as to enable it to begin the task of a physical valuation of the railroads, and the proposition to amend the Sherman Anti-Trust law in such a way as to give the Government at Washington the right to decree virtually the life or the death of all concerns engaged in business among the States. These are all hurtful projects and their enactment could not fail to further unsettle trade and defer business revival.

In this State, if a branch of the National Prosperity Association is formed, it must concern itself with Governor Hughes's moves and propositions. Mr. Hughes never delivers a speech now-a-days but he makes some reference to some propositions upon which he has been insistent right along, and which he expects to urge anew upon the consideration of the Legislature at the extraordinary session of that body which he has called for the present month. We need refer to only one of these schemes, namely the proposal that telephone and telegraph companies be placed under the control of the Public Service Commission. Even if that Commission were immaculate, it is so loaded up with work it could not possibly undertake more. Under these circumstances, what good purpose would the act serve, and how could it fail to be highly disturbing in view of the effect of the Commission's action with regard to the street railways in Manhattan and the Bronx? Are telegraph and telephone companies to be subjected to like treatment, and is such a prospect at all pleasing or assuring? It is with matters like these that the Prosperity Association and its various branches and adjuncts must concern itself. It is no time for the political tenderfoot, and the promoters of the new movement must adopt an aggressive policy in warding off further adverse legislation.

The signs of the times are plainly indicated in the platform and action proclaimed at the meeting last Saturday night in Carnegie Hall of the State convention of the Independence Party, made up of William R. Hearst and his followers. Mr. Hearst is commonly credited with unusual powers of divining current sentiment with regard to political affairs. Hence the character of the platform adopted by the party which he has called into being must be regarded in the highest degree as significant. It is evident that public thought is crystallizing into a belief that there is altogether too much legislation and too much government, too much centralization and too much interference with the freedom of the individual. Listen, accordingly, to this declaration in the platform of the self-styled Independence Party: "Our aim is just government, not more government. Individual liberty and business prosperity are alike jeopardized by unnecessary governmental interference, which invariably results in favoritism, special privilege, inequality and business uncertainty." Yet the adherents and promoters of this new political party are the very ones who have during recent years been inciting legislation of the most vicious kind. To their acts and this legislation are due in large measure the loss of confidence in the stability of affairs which, among other causes, is responsible for the great prostration of trade from the effects of which the whole country is now suffering so severely. But evidently this policy is no longer popular, so there is a complete face about. It is obvious that the adherents of that party can change their principles with the same facility that they have in the past changed their political allegiance. Last year they were in a fusion with the local Republican organization in this city. The year before, there was a fusion on the State ticket with the Democrats. Now it has been decided to abandon fusion and go it alone hereafter. With such an enunciation of principles as is contained in the extract from the platform we have quoted above, the new organization might be in position to command considerable political support at the coming election, were it not that the character of the men behind it is so well known. They will be judged by their acts, not by their professions.

One event of the week which caused some disturbance in the London market, resulting in a sharp fall in consols and a hardening of unofficial discount rates, was the rumored invasion of India by a large force of Afghans, which attacked the British frontier posts. The Afghan demonstration was checked by the prompt action of the British forces; it was, however, regarded by some of the English journals as indicative of a grave situation that might lead to a harassing war, much depending, however, upon whether the Ameer of Afghanistan was supporting the outbreak of his subjects or that the Anglo-Russian convention was responsible for the trouble. Concurrently with the Afghan assault, an anti-British conspiracy developed in Bengal which, it was thought, might foment an attempt at revolution. Later in the week there was a partial recovery in consols and an easier tone for discounts in London, reflecting more assuring advices from India, though the character of such advices was not indicated by the cables. It appears from London mail reports that the above-noted Afghan demonstration was not altogether a surprise. Mohammedan tribes have recently been gathering in large numbers and been reinforced from Afghanistan and other neighboring countries. It had been hoped that the success of the late operations by General Willcocks would bring peace, but late reports show that he is on the defensive.

Though the movement of gold hence to Paris, through arbitration operations, has been checked, because of exchange conditions unfavorable to its continuance, it is regarded as probable that the movement will soon be resumed, for exchange at Paris on London has fallen this week and rates at New York on the British capital have risen. Possibly, too, there may be coincident exports hence to Berlin, also through arbitration operations. The rate for exchange at Berlin on the British capital this week declined one pfennig to 20 marks 43 pfennig, or within 4 pfennig of the Mint par; a fall of 9 pfennig would cover the cost of shipping gold from London to Berlin. Should such cost be reduced through favorable conditions for exchange at New York on London, gold might, it would seem, be moved hence to Berlin as an arbitration operation almost as readily as it was last week to Paris through a similar process; the course of the exchange at Berlin on London will, therefore, doubtless be regarded with much interest by bankers who are seeking profit from international gold exports.

Regarding the effect upon the movement of gold hence to Europe of the purchase in London of 20 million dollars of Pennsylvania RR. bonds, it may be noted that payments for such bonds were required to be made in installments, so that but 5%, or one million dollars, would be paid on application, and 20%, or four millions, on allotment, the remainder being payable between June 2 and Oct. 2. The sum of five millions immediately payable is so small that it was considered as unlikely that it would have much effect upon gold shipments. The proceeds of the American subscriptions to the bonds that were placed in New York last week have been largely invested in municipal bonds of this city, bearing from 3¾ to 3½% interest, which bonds will mature on or before the close of the year.

The reason why, recently, the London open market has been so short of gold that it has been obliged to borrow it from the Bank of England is that the latter has been purposely refraining from employing its money in the purchase either of Government or of other securities, and it is keeping a larger amount of cash unemployed than usual; the object of the Bank in pursuing this course is to prevent the unofficial rate of discount from falling to a level which might result in the Bank's losing gold on balance for export. Requirements for export are met by purchases in the bullion market, thus accounting for the advance in the price of the metal when the demand becomes urgent. The withholding of gold by the Bank from the market, as above indicated, eanbles it to make its official rate effective.

The price of silver fell this week to 24 pence per ounce in London and 52 cents in New York, the lowest since January 1903. Among the causes for the decline are the suspension of purchases by the Indian Mint for coinage purposes; selling by Chinese banks of silver exchange because of poor trade conditions in China; smaller requirements for silver in India due to the famine, and consequently to derangements in Anglo-Indian exchange, and a lighter consumption of the metal in the arts as the result of the panic of 1907.

An incident of local interest was reported this week in connection with the underwriting by a banking syndicate of the 25 million Interborough three-year 6% notes that were offered by J. P. Morgan & Co. for subscription last week. The syndicate subscribers agreed to advance on May 1 at least enough to pay the 15 millions notes of the company that would mature on that date, for the taking up of which provision was made through the note issue. The 25 millions emission was so largley over-subscribed by the public that the syndicate were not required to discharge their underwriting obligations. In the settlement of the affairs of the syndicate the subscribers thereto received about 2¾%, or $2,750 on each $100,000 subscription, or an aggregate, as estimated, of $687,000, realizing a clear profit of that amount without advancing a cent of cash, but by contributing their character and credit.

The phenomenal success of last week's bond negotiations—as indicated by the subscriptions for 20 millions Pennsylvania RR. and the 25 millions Interborough bonds, which were largely oversubscribed for, attracting subscriptions, as reported, of more than half a billion dollars in this city alone—was the striking event of the week; so, too, was the eager applications this week for 40 millions of New York City municipal bonds. These events clearly show that capital is promptly responding to offers for its employment when such offers are of a character to inspire confidence. Whether capital will as promptly respond to appeals for investment in other corporate properties seems to depend upon the public view as to their merit. Presumedly before long three-fourths of a billion, if not a round billion, of capital will be sought for refunding of maturing notes, for new creations, for extensions and for railroad improvements. The bonds offered for these purposes must, it would seem, have a high standard of excellence to attract capital, even while it is so abundant as it is now, or they must have the endorsement of bankers in whom the public have confidence; otherwise the negotiations will fail. The stock and the investment markets last week were sentimentally influenced by the above-noted events, and if sentiment shall be supported by the demonstration of the substantiability of the basis for improvement, there would seem to be encouragement for hope for permanent recovery from our embarrassments.

Cotton-trade anxiety as to findings and recommendations as a result of the investigation of cotton exchanges of the country by the Bureau of Corporations, Department of Commerce and Labor, has in a measure been appeased by the publication this week of Part I of the report of Commissioner Herbert Knox Smith. The initiative in the matter of the investigation was taken by the House of Representatives, that body on Feb. 4 1907 passing a resolution requesting an investigation by the Bureau of Corporations of the causes of the fluctuations in the price of cotton and the difference in the market price of various classes of cotton, with the particular object of ascertaining whether fluctuations resulted in whole or in part from the character of future contracts or any combinations or conspiracy in restraint of trade—the latter having to do with farmers' or other organizations at the South.

In presenting his report to the President, Mr. Smith states that the investigation has been confined to the specific feature of trading in cotton futures, without attempting a discussion of the general merits or abuses of the system as a whole, and further explains that Part I deals exclusively with the character of future contracts and especially with the methods of establishing grade differences in price. The report goes exhaustively into the subject investigated, and while necessarily lengthy, is very comprehensive and gives evidence of quite thorough familiarity on the part of the Commissioner and his assistants with the matters covered. Furthermore, while there are bound to be divergent opinions upon the findings and recommendations, there can be no accusations of playing to the galleries or striving for effect.

Starting with the statement that there are but two Exchanges in the United States—those at New York and New Orleans—on which organized future trading in cotton is conducted, the Commissioner goes into a very full and intelligent explanation of the methods and rules under which operations are carried on. In contradiction to various Southern interests, which can see nothing but evil or crime in dealing in cotton for future delivery, Mr. Smith recognizes its distinct advantage. Characterizing "hedging" as a legitimate and most important function of future trading, he gives a very clear example of how that operation acts to protect the merchant or manufacturer against loss pending the receipt of the cotton for which he has contracted. He points out, however, that in the delivery of cotton under future contracts, all advantages as to grades to be tendered and time of tendering rests with the seller, and that every known means should be adopted to have the price differences between grades just and equitable. It is on this latter point that he quite strongly criticises the New York Cotton Exchange, asserting that its method of establishing the differences at which grades other than middling (the basis) shall be delivered on contracts is wrong in theory and the cause for much complaint.

He refers to the lack of rules or standards by which the Revision Committee shall act in fixing differences, and the impracticability of using New York quotations, owing to the narrowness of the spot market, as a basis for contract differences. He contends, therefore, that the committee must base its revision on the differences prevailing in leading Southern markets. His strongest criticism, however, is directed against what seems to be the vulnerable point in the method of procedure of the New York Exchange—the time of making revision. He maintains that the present system of revision—twice a year in September and November, the differences fixed in the last month being the basis of operations for the next ten months—violates fundamental commercial principles (the laws of supply and demand), tends to favor the seller as against the buyer and disorganizes the future market, and is to be condemned. Mr. Smith suggests that a radical change in the present system should be made by providing for revision at least once a month, using the average official quotations of several representative Southern markets as a basis, making allowance, of course, for the relative importance of the markets, as well as for discrepancies in standards of classification.

We note a disposition on the part of prominent interests connected with the New York Exchange to take strong exception to the Commissioner's findings and recommendations on this point, but we are unable to discern any valid reason why some change should not be made. The impossibility of arriving at any correct basis in November on which grades other than middling shall be delivered during the remainder of the season must be admitted. Weather conditions play an important part in determining grade and all danger of storm damage, &c., has not passed by Nov. 10. It would seem that something should be done, and that promptly, to meet the Commissioner's recommendations and silence complaint from within the Exchange itself. There is a disposition in some quarters to construe as a veiled threat the Commissioner's concluding remark that "if the New York Cotton Exchange cannot exist under such rules as are equitable and commercial, then it has no right to exist at all." We are more inclined to look upon it as a remark used to point out the extreme importance of the matter. If it be true that the Exchange is engaged in a character of business that is neither equitable nor commercial, how can it be justified?

The statement of commercial failures for the month of April is the most favorable exhibit of the kind since that for November last. It does not necessarily follow that the showing is in any sense a satisfactory one, for such it is not; but in number of failures and in the aggregate of liabilities they cover there is improvement over the totals for any month from December to February inclusive. In other words, the amount involved is less. According to the statement compiled by Messrs. R. G. Dun & Co. the number of failures in April this year was 1,309, with liabilities of $20,316,468, which compares with 799 in number and indebtedness of $11,082,096 in the month of 1907. A feature of the April exhibit this year, as pointed out by Messrs. Dun & Co., is that nearly one-half of the total liabilities was furnished by 35 large failures, leaving only $10,763,157 for the remaining 1,274, or an average but little greater than for the same class of failures last year.

Among manufacturers the insolvencies, while relatively large as compared with months prior to last August, were notably less in amount of liabilities than in any month of the last eight. The total as given for April 1908 is $7,705,199, as against $6,060,341 in the corresponding period last year. It is worthy of remark, moreover, in this connection, that the only conspicuous increase in liabilities as compared with last year is in what may be called the building division, the April 1908 indebtedness of "lumber, carpenters, &c.," being reported at $2,420,972, against $1,094,591 in 1907. Trading failures with liabilities of $6,125,061, while much less than in March, largely exceeded the $3,485,251 total of April 1907; but the most unsatisfactory situation as compared with the month of the previous year was among brokers, transporters, &c., the indebtedness of whom reached an aggregate of $6,486,288, against only $1,260,349 in March 1908 and $1,536,504 in April 1907. Suspensions of financial institutions covered liabilities of $2,637,541, a distinct improvement over March, and comparing with $633,809 in April 1907.

For the four months of 1908 the number of failures was 6,218, with total liabilities of $96,022,659, compared with 3,915 and indebtedness of $43,157,687 in the similar period a year ago. The manufacturing mortality in the four months of this year was $40,961,976, against $19,839,398 for the corresponding interval of 1907; trading disasters make up $37,584,573 of this year's total as compared with $19,011,457 a year ago, and the remaining failures cover liabilities of $17,476,110, against $4,306,832 in 1907. Bank and other financial institution suspensions for the period since Jan. 1 comprehended liabilities of $72,389,164, against but $9,619,028 for the four months last year.

Bank clearings for April 1908 in the aggregate for the whole country also make a more favorable comparison with the corresponding period of the previous year than has been the case in any month since October last. We have to say of this, as we said of failures, that it does not follow, however, that the exhibit is a satisfactory one. On the contrary, in most sections of the country the volume of clearings continues noticeably less than in 1907, although in many instances the percentages of decrease are much less than they were in earlier periods of the year. But at a number of points in the West clearings are now showing increases over a year ago, and for the United States as a whole the result for the week ending to-day is quite satisfactory, the completed figures bidding fair to show a falling off of barely 6¾%—a gratifying exhibit as contrasted with preceding weeks of the year. Altogether, a more settled feeling seems to be apparent in commercial circles, and business, while not at all active, gives evidence of a tendency toward improvement.

Stock Exchange transactions continue well below those of last year in the aggregate, although dealings in bonds have thus far in 1908 been largely in excess of 1907 and slightly greater than in 1906; moreover, the last two weeks there has been a noticeable expansion in share transactions on the New York Stock Exchange, where dealings have exceeded the totals for the period a year ago. For the month of April, however, the local transactions reached an aggregate of only 11,648,123 shares, against 19,235,652 shares in the month of 1907, and for the four months the total was but 54,021,979 shares, against 90,617,909 shares a year ago. And as there is here represented a falling off of 3¾ billions of dollars in the market value of shares traded in, a considerable portion of the decline in clearings at New York for the four months is easily accounted for. At the Boston Stock Exchange, the second in importance in the country, a situation similar to that at New York is apparent, the month's transactions in 1908 having been but 627,532 shares, against 1,148,825 shares in 1907, with the four months' figures respectively 3,404,148 shares and 7,352,692 shares.

Giving specific attention to the compilation of clearings for April and the four months, it is seen that only 20 out of the 114 cities included show increases over the previous year, and with four exceptions these are located in the West. For the whole country the loss in the April total from that for the month of last year reaches 22.8%, and for the four months is 26.8%. Compared with two years ago, the decreases are 24.3% and 27.5% respectively. Outside of New York the aggregate records a decline of 14.4% for April and 14.9% for the four months, contrasted with 1907, but compared with 1906 the losses are only 1.2% and 6.7%. Considered by groups, the returns for the Middle Section, in consequence of large declines at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, &c., as well as at New York, show the greatest ratio of loss for the month and since Jan. 1. The aggregate of clearings for the cities going to make up the New England group exhibits a decrease of 20.1% for the month and 23% for the four months, and the Middle West records losses of 6.8% and 7.8%, respectively, for the same periods. On the Pacific Slope the month's decline is seen to have been 24.5% and that for the four months 27%, while at the South the falling off in April was 10.5% and since Jan. 1 reached 10.3%. The "Other Western" group, in which about half of the cities make a better showing this year than last, records a gain in the aggregate in April of 0.5%, and the increase in the four months' total is 2.3%.

The grain crop outlook in the United States, so far as it appears from official and private sources of information, is encouraging and certainly much more so than at this time a year ago. This remark applies not only to the fact that fall-sown crops—winter-wheat and rye—are developing satisfactorily, but that excellent progress has been made in planting spring-wheat and oats, and that preparations for corn seeding have been greatly facilitated by favorable soil conditions.

As regards winter-wheat the notable fact to be recorded is that rains within the last three weeks in Kansas, Nebraska and along the Pacific Coast have been of great benefit, removing apprehension of damage from drought and putting the crop in fine condition. There have been some complaints of too much moisture in portions of the central region, but no appreciable injury seems to have resulted therefrom.

The satisfactory present status of winter-wheat is reflected in the Department of Agriculture's report on condition of the crop May 1, issued yesterday. It indicates only a very moderate deterioration during the month. In fact, the condition is placed at 89 May 1, which compares with 91.3 on April 1 this year, 82.9 on May 1 1907, 90.9 on May 1 1906 and a ten-year average of 85.8. In a number of the most important winter-wheat producing States the contrast between conditions this year and last is very marked, the condition in Missouri May 1 this year being given as 92, against 84 last year; Ohio, 91, against 77; Indiana, 94, against 74; Tennessee, 95, against 83; Oklahoma, 92, against 72; Michigan, 90, against 73; and Texas, 88, against 43. Furthermore the Department finds the percentage of abandoned acreage to have been smaller than in any recent year, the area remaining in cultivation on May 1 being stated at about 29,751,000 acres, as compared with 31,069,000 acres sown last fall, or a loss of 1,318,000 acres—barely 4¼%.

On the whole, therefore, the promise from that crop is decidedly better than a year ago, when, according to the Department of Agriculture, between April 1 and May 1 there was a drop in condition from 89.9 to 82.9, and a further deterioration to 77.4 during May. While the planting of last fall comprehended an area 1.9% less than sown in 1906 the acreage remaining under cultivation is not only greater than at this time a year ago but heavier than in 1906. Consequently the indications at this time seem to be for a yield not only materially in excess of 1907 but close to the record figures of 1906.

Preparations for and planting of the other grain crops of the country have as a rule proceeded under quite generally favoring conditions. Rain has been a deterring influence at times and at the South some lowlands have been flooded, but in the main conditions have been satisfactory. Planting of spring wheat is pretty well advanced, and the seeding of barley and oats is generally well under way. With the ground in excellent shape for plowing, work of preparing for corn has progressed very satisfactorily and some seed has been put in. In fact some land in bottoms in Texas already planted in corn was flooded recently, necessitating a small amount of replanting.

Crossing the border into Canada we learn that seeding is actively in progress in grain-raising localities and that a large increase in the area devoted to crops is contemplated this year. Naturally wheat, of which over half the crop has already been planted, will receive a good measure of the increase. Advices from Southern Europe cover appreciably better crop conditions than a year ago, but from Northern latitudes there have of late been some complaints of unseasonably cold weather. The Argentine wheat crop for 1907, harvested in December last, and now being marketed, exceeded all previous records, and a heavy corn yield was also secured. Recent rains in Australia are reported to have been very favorable to wheat seeding.

Notwithstanding the very promising outlook for cereal crops in most quarters of the world, the markets for grain are holding quite firm at a high level of values. This, however, is not a strange situation under existing conditions. It will be some months before the markets will be under the influence of the movement of the new crop, and in the meantime available supplies are much lower than in late years. Not only is the visible supply of wheat and corn in the world appreciably below that of a year ago, but the amount held on farms in the United States, as indicated by the recent report of the Department of Agriculture, shows a marked deficit.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week. Compared with last week, unofficial or open market rates were easier. The only important feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was the smaller surplus reserve, as indicated by the actual conditions on Saturday, compared with that disclosed by the average; the actual surplus was $60,810,875, while the average was $62,352,900. The difference appeared to be due to the loan, cash and deposit items, the latter including Government funds. The loans decreased $63,000 according to the averages and increased $6,332,400 as shown by actual conditions. The average cash was augmented $5,082,000; the actual gain was $2,564,300. Average deposits, including $41,407,800 public funds, increased $6,855,400; actual deposits, including $39,955,000 Government funds, showed a gain of $13,959,800. As the result of these changes the average increase in surplus reserve was $3,368,150, while the actual decrease therein was $925,650; the actual contraction in Government deposits during the week was $3,533,500, due to surrenders in anticipation of the maturity of the Treasury call for 20 millions on May 9; the contraction this week in local Government deposits as the result of such surrenders by Friday was 1½ millions.

of public deposits, and the activity in the stock market, day-to-day money was actually lower this week than in previous weeks, the minimum rate recorded being 1½% against 1¾% recently. It is noteworthy, too, that money on stock collateral for thirty days was cheaper this week than it has been in corresponding months in a decade. While ninety-day money is quoted at 3%, responsible borrowers have no difficulty in obtaining concessions, though the period of maturity will be in the early summer and during the wheat crop-moving season. The sale this week by the Comptroller of 40 millions New York City revenue bonds, which were issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes in October and later, brought these securities in direct competition, because of the low rate of 3½@3¾% therefor, with commercial paper; the bonds were in somewhat urgent request on account of their desirable character, and some of them are said to have been marketed abroad.

Money on call, representing bank and trust company balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 2% and at 1½%, averaging about 1¾%—the lower rate was recorded on Wednesday and thereafter, and it is said to have resulted from some pressure of trust company money and also of that which had been paid into banks for New York City bonds. Banks and trust companies quoted 1½% as the minimum. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were 2@2¼% for thirty days, with only a light demand, 2½% for sixty days, 2¾@3% for ninety days, 3¼% for four and 3¾@4% for five to six months; or until over the November election. Commercial paper is scarce and the best names are quoted at 4@4½%—with occasional sales at 3¾% for very choice—for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable and for four to six months' high-grade single names; the demand is less urgent because of the diversion of the inquiry for investment from paper to New York City bonds.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London, 2½%. The open market rate at Paris is 2⅜% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4⅛@4¼%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £118,947 bullion during the week and held £37,469,387 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due wholly to imports from Egypt. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports £185,000 (of which £180,000 from Egypt and £5,000 from Australia); exports, nil, and shipments of £66,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was dull and generally firm this week, growing stronger toward the close, and fluctuations were within a very narrow range. There seemed to be an indisposition, early in the week, to operate, owing to the uncertainty as to the gravity of the Indian situation; when apprehension concerning conditions in that part of the British Empire had been allayed, the market was affected by speculation as to the probable volume of drawings against the London installment of the Pennslyvania Railroad loan. There were some indications of an oversold condition, as the result of last week's bearish demonstrations; the shorts were, however, apparently inclined to defer attempts to cover because of the possibility that such a movement would be likely to invite drawings in order to realize the resulting higher rates. The scarcity of bills and a better demand for remittance to pay for securities that had been sold for European account contributed to a firmer tone on Wednesday; the market then became dull, awaiting further developments, later, however, becoming active and strong because of a covering movement. In the absence of an active demand for exchange, bankers are disposed to operate in futures. Because of ruling rates for short-time money, there is no expectation of profit resulting from the loaning of the proceeds of long bills which would be drawn in order to effect transactions in futures. There is, however, a probability that at the maturity of the sixty or ninety-day bills, sight exchange will be so low—because of the activity in money that would result from the recall of public deposits from the banks—as to enable such sight drafts to be procured for cover for the maturing long bills at a rate which would afford a profit on the transactions in futures. Moreover, if cover for the maturing bill could not then be obtained at advantageous rates, the ninety-day bill, which would fall due in August, could be renewed for a further period of three months, thus extending the maturity into November, when, or before, all kinds of exchange would doubtless be low on account of the supply of bills that would be drawn against cotton. With a view to the avoidance of any possibility of loss resulting from miscalculations or erroneous forecasts of future conditions of the exchange market, bankers who were inclined to indulge in this form of speculation in exchange could contract for the delivery of sight bills for the desired cover at the period when they would be needed, and thus insure themselves against loss. Operations in futures such as are here described seem now to be in progress to a moderate extent, and they are said to account for the recent fall in long sterling, while short has been affected by a scarcity of bills and by various other causes heretofore noted. The offering of advantageous opportunities for operation in futures, which will probably soon be presented, should, it would seem, make an increase in the volume of such operations more perceptible toward the close of the month.

There were slight changes in the European factors affecting international gold movements this week. The price of gold bars in London recovered from that to which it had fallen last week, and it is now 77 shillings 10⅜ pence per ounce; this recovery seemed to be the reason for a fall in exchange at Paris on London on Tuesday to 25 francs 12½ centimes, though later there was a rally. Of the £500,000 Cape gold that was offered in the London bullion market on Tuesday, £350,000 was taken for Paris and the balance for India and the trade. It may be noted that the gold that the Bank of France has been receiving from the Bank of England, in repayment for the advances of $15,000,000 that were made in November by the former to the latter, has, according to mail advices of the 25th ult., effected a reduction in such indebtedness of the Bank of England to £400,432; after this balance shall have been repaid, possibly there may be a rise in the rate for exchange at Paris on London as the result of the liquidation of the sterling bills that were the media for the above-noted advances.

The market for foreign exchange was easier for long on Saturday of last week, and, compared with the previous day, there was a fall of 10 points to 4 8435@

4 8450; short was 5 points higher at 4 8690@4 87, while cables were 5 points lower at 4 8715@4 8725. On Monday long fell 5 points to 4 8440@4 8445, short 10 points to 4 8685@4 8690 and cables 5 points to 4 8715@4 8720. On Tuesday there was a rise of 5 points all around—long to 4 8445@4 8450, short to 4 8690@4 8695 and cables to 4 8720@4 8725. On Wednesday long fell 5 points to 4 8440@4 8445 and short rose 15 points to 4 8695@4 87; cables were unchanged. On Thursday the market was strong and 20 points higher for long at 4 8460@4 8465, 5 points for short at 4 87@4 8705 and 25 points for cables at 4 8750@4 8760. The market was strong on Friday at an advance of 20 points for long and 15 for short; cables were unchanged.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

b The Austro-Hungarian Bank Statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of Gulden and Kreutzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 80 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

d The total of gold in the Bank of Russia includes the balance held abroad—that is, the amount held for Russian account in other Continental banks. The proportion so held, and consequently duplicated in the above statement, is about one-quarter of the total.

ENGLAND AND THE INDIAN FRONTIER.

Dispatches from the frontier of India last Tuesday turned attention suddenly to a quarter of the world from which it had been long diverted. The cables reported more or less vaguely an attack by armed bodies of Afghans on certain English posts, and intimated that such attacks might have been made with the collusion of the Afghan authorities. The reception of these advices on that day was partly governed by a feeling of uneasiness which has for some time seemed to have prevailed regarding the situation in India itself. At all events, British consols broke a full point on the London market during the day when the news came in, and the English Stock Exchange, generally, was much demoralized.

So far as can be judged from later dispatches, the seriousness of the event was much exaggerated. Apparently the Afghans have been driven back with little loss of English troops and the frontier district is again reasonably well held in hand by the military authorities. The London markets have recovered. Some questions yet remain to cause doubt—among them the pretty well authenticated fact that the Ameer of Afghanistan is irritated over the recent Anglo-Russian agreement regarding commercial activities of the two nations in that country, which he resents because of its having been put in force without his personal participation and signature. In the English press much attention has also been paid to the fact that these bodies of hostile natives have somehow been equipped with modern arms, and attention has been directed to the fact that unprincipled dealers have been engaged on a large scale in contraband operations of this sort. In this, however, there is nothing new. The same difficulty lately arose regarding the alleged shipping of arms by Japanese merchants to Chinese rebels, and similar occurrences have come to light in numerous other colonial possessions of Eurepean powers. One is reminded of how, during our own Civil War, even Northern merchants occasionally engaged in expeditions to run the blockade and provide the South with munitions, and of the mysterious facilities enjoyed by the Indians, in our colonial history, to procure rifles and powder.

Even as it stands, however, the Afghan situation gives occasion for some fresh consideration of the colonial situation of the great Powers. Probably the first comment which will be made by those who have followed the course of events is that the problem of the India frontier has been vastly simplified as compared with only a very short time ago. When, in the early eighties, the discussion of "Russia at the gates of Herat" was a matter of eager interest in English circles, there were apparently strong and logical grounds for predicting an ultimate collision, not alone between the colonizing Power and the natives, but between the two great Powers which were gradually extending the borders of their Asiatic domain in the direction of one another. For two or three generations, the idea that Russia, in pursuance of what was then called her "manifest destiny," would be compelled to challenge Great Britain's power on the Northern frontier of India, and perhaps to fight for possession of India itself, held equal sway with the similar argument regarding the Russian advance on Constantinople.

It cannot, perhaps, be said that the problem of Turkey in Europe is even yet near its final solution. The problem of European possessions in Asia is, however, far simpler in its nature than it ever has been since other Powers began to imitate England in its colonial enterprises. The Anglo-Russian treaty was itself a recognition by each of the possible antagonistic powers that the limit of territory and influence to be enjoyed by each must be positively fixed by formal agreement. On both sides the arrangement actually made was greeted with manifest relief, and its reality as a solution of the problem was best illustrated by the entire disappearance from rumor and discussion of the question of impending Anglo-Russian war.

That this happier situation is by no means confined to Great Britain and Russia, the recent history in a number of other outlying colonial possessions has proved. Twenty years ago England's occupation of Egypt on the present basis would have provoked a hostile demonstration from at least two other European States; ten years ago the free hand now asserted by France in Morocco, with the approval of the other Powers, would have been inconceivable. Even more recently, the vexatious terms of an eighteenth century treaty, regulating the rights of France and England on the northeastern coast of the American Continent, were freely discussed as a possible course of a diplomatic breach and belligerent operations. But the relative rights have now been as plainly, positively and fairly defined by formal treaty as has the other irritating question of the Alaska boundary between the United States and Canada.

The change has been something revolutionary in diplomacy, and it has had a double cause. On the one hand, States with colonial aspirations have recognized the fact that unless they guarantee fair play and immunity from diplomatic annoyance to other States occupying such positions, they will never be secure in the occupancy of their own. On the other hand, the two recent wars in which European Governments have engaged have shown that the cost of international conflicts on the larger scale is such as to exhaust and cripple even the wealthiest and most powerful of governments. War and the irritating diplomacy which has so often in the past been the real cause of war are no longer the playthings of statesmen in the degree in which they certainly were thus employed half a century ago. Perhaps the larger aspect of such incidents as this week's troubles on the frontier of India is the light which it throws on the colonizing movement. That trade, commerce and civilization are bound in the nature of things to extend into the interior regions of Asia, which have so long been held as exclusive possessions of non-progressive peoples or barbarous tribes, is now an admitted fact in the progress of the world. No backward step is likely to be taken in this regard, except, as in the case of the unfortunate Chinese "sphere of influence" treaties of a decade ago, where the idea of civilizing from the outside was erroneous because the power of development in the community itself had been underestimated.

TRUST COMPANY RESERVES UNDER THE NEW LAW.

There is again discussion on the part of the members of the New York Clearing-House Association of the propriety of admitting the trust companies to membership in the association—either full membership, or partial membership, such as would enable the trust companies to enjoy the privileges and advantages which would result from alliance or from co-operation of the two classes of institutions. The time has certainly arrived for taking up the subject in earnest. The present arrangement, under which the trust companies keep outside of the Clearing House (except a very few institutions which have never severed their Clearing-House connection), would seem to be of benefit to neither class of institutions, while resulting in much inconvenience to both. Up to the time (in 1903) when the trust companies withdrew almost in a body from Clearing-House connection, these institutions were able to have their checks cleared through the Clearing House. This facility is now absent, and it would seem highly desirable to have it restored.

Most of all, it is important to the banks themselves that the trust companies should again clear their checks through the Clearing House, for the banks cannot well refuse to accept checks on the trust companies from their depositors. But when such checks are received by them, they must be presented for payment at the offices of the individual companies, instead of being cashed through the system of offsets prevailing at the Clearing House. As far as this matter of taking care of the checks drawn on the trust companies is concerned, the banks really got the worst of the controversy which resulted in the trust companies withdrawing as non-member institutions from the Clearing House. The banks have had to employ extra runners, while the trust companies have suffered nothing from the severance of connections with the Clearing House, since those having accounts with the companies have no occasion to find fault so long as their checks are accepted and pass current in the ordinary way. The mode of cashing or paying the check is obviously a matter of no consequence to the depositor, so long as the banks do not discriminate against trust company checks.

The rock on which the two classes of institutions split was the question of cash reserves. But this question of cash reserves for the trust companies has now been definitely settled by the legislation enacted at the current year's session of the New York Legislature, and there would therefore seem to be no good reason for keeping alive the old contentions. The new law does not accord with the views of the extremists on either side, but has all the more to recommend it on that account. It does not go to the length of requiring the same cash reserves for the trust companies as for the banks, nor, on the other hand, does it give legal sanction to the views of those trust-company advocates who would allow the trust companies to conduct their business with very little cash on hand. The lawmaker has steered a sort of middle course between these two extremes.

It is noteworthy that the requirement under the new law will be rather more onerous than that which the Clearing House sought to enforce in 1903, and which led the trust companies to withdraw from Clearing-House privileges. That is an additional reason for the trust companies and the banks to get together. The difference which originally parted them has in this way been in large measure removed. The Clearing House proposed to enforce a maximum cash reserve in vault of 10%. The lawmaker has now fixed the amount at 15%, though in the computation certain classes of deposits are to be exempt from the legal requirement in that respect.

Of course, latterly, the Clearing House has been inclined to raise the limit of its reserve requirements for the trust companies. It will be recalled that last January the Clearing House adopted an amendment to its constitution providing for the admission of trust companies to full membership in the association on condition that they maintain a cash reserve in their own vaults of 25% of deposits. This, however, was immediately after the panic of last October and November, when excitement was still running high and the disposition was to exalt unduly the advantage and merits of large cash reserves. A proposition made at that time to admit the trust companies to the privileges of the Clearing House as associate members on condition that they maintain in their own vaults a cash reserve equal to 15% of their deposits was held in abeyance pending the action of the Legislature on the question of reserves. The Legislature has now acted, and the banks should accept this as conclusive and not attempt any further straining over the question. President William A. Nash of the Corn Exchange Bank last week addressed a letter to the members of the Clearing House advising the adoption of this proposition, but there still appears to be more or less opposition to such a course.

On the whole, the Legislature may be said to have dealt wisely with the subject of trust company reserves, since the bills passed recognize that a distinction exists between much of the business of the trust companies and that of the banks, and seek as far as possible to provide for this distinction. We may go further and say that it is to the credit of the New York Legislature that it enacted a considerable body of new banking legislation, and that practically the whole of it may be regarded as wise and needful. The matter goes to show the degree of good that can be done by a legislative body when it welcomes the guidance of those competent to advise it, instead of accepting the nostrums of quack doctors or those having some ulterior purpose to serve. Any one who will take the trouble to compare the banking laws enacted at this year's session of the New York Legislature with the recommendations contained in the report of the committee appointed last November by Governor Hughes for the purpose of suggesting changes in the State banking laws will notice that the two are pretty nearly identical.

The committee referred to consisted of A. B. Hepburn, President of the Chase National Bank of this city; Edwin S. Marston, President of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co.; Edward W. Sheldon, President of the United States Trust Co.; Algernon S. Frissell, President of the Fifth Avenue Bank; Stephen Baker, President of the Bank of the Manhattan Co., and Andrew Mills, President of the Dry Dock Savings Institution, and we published their report in our issue of Dec. 31 last, pages 1554 and 1555. The recommendations of this committee had the endorsement of Clark Williams, the Superintendent of Banking, who in the brief period during which he has been the official head of the department has distinguished himself for wise and efficient administration as have few of his predecessors in office. On the question of trust company reserves, the committee was divided, as we pointed out at the time, and in these circumstances the lawmaker followed the suggestions of Mr. Williams entirely, except that in the percentage of reserve required the Legislature has made a distinction between the different boroughs in the Greater New York in the portion of cash to be held in vault.

Up to 1906 the amount of reserve to be kept by the trust companies was at their own discretion. The lawmaker had not fixed any minimum. In that year an Act was passed requiring the trust companies in cities having a population of over 800,000 (applying, therefore, to all the boroughs in the Greater New York) to have on hand a reserve fund equal to at least 15% of the aggregate of their deposits. The law declared, however, that only one-third of this, namely 5%, need consist of cash in vault. Another 5% might consist of bonds of the United States and bonds of the State of New York and of certain municipalities in the State. The remaining 5%, it was provided, must consist of money on deposit subject to call in certain other banking institutions. Elsewhere in the State a reserve fund of 10% of the deposits was required, of which only 3%, it was provided, need be cash in vault, 3% might consist of bonds of the kind just mentioned, and the remaining 4% was to be on deposit in other banking institutions.

In the law as now amended the aggregate of the reserve fund is not changed. It remains 15% in the Greater New York and 10% elsewhere in the State. But permission to keep any portion of this in bonds is done away with, and the portion of the reserve fund which must consist of cash in vault is greatly increased. In the case of Manhattan Borough, indeed (any borough which had, according to the last preceding State or United States Census, a population of 1,800,000 is the requirement), the whole of such 15% must be cash on hand—subject to certain deductions from the deposits to be mentioned below. In the case of the other boroughs, 10% out of the 15% must consist of cash on hand and the balance may be on deposit with other institutions. Elsewhere in the State 5% out of the 10% must be cash on hand (instead of only 3% previously) and 5% on deposit.

In the computation, however, of the reserve fund, certain important deductions are allowed to be made from the aggregate of the deposits. This is an attempt to meet the contention on behalf of the trust companies that parts of their deposits consist of trust funds or of time deposits not subject to immediate call and against which, therefore, there is no need for keeping any very extensive cash reserves. The law says that the deposits shall be figured "exclusive of moneys held by it (the trust company) in trust which are not made payable under the conditions of the trust within thirty days and also exclusive of time deposits not payable within thirty days, represented by certificates showing the amount of the deposits, the date of issue and the date when due, and also exclusive of deposits which are secured by outstanding unmatured bonds issued by the State of New York." This is in substance the recommendation made by Superintendent Clark Williams. Mr. Williams had wide experience as a trust company man before accepting public office, and he knows that a considerable part of the trust company deposits belong in a totally different category from the deposits in the banks of loans and discounts and he sought to provide for that fact.

Evidently the purpose of the new statute is as far as possible to rest the reserve requirement on the demand deposits—to those subject to call at any time. Of course even in the case of such deposits there is often no very close analogy with the deposits of mercantile banks, the trust company deposits subject to call very frequently representing dormant or inactive accounts not likely to be drawn against, and therefore calling for relatively little cash reserve. But that is a distinction for which provision could hardly be made by statutory enactment.

The additional cash is to be accumulated gradually. After July 1 1908 the trust companies in Manhattan must have 10% of cash in vault and the full 15% is not required until Feb. 1 1909. In the case of the other boroughs of the Greater New York, cash in vault July 1 1908 must be at least 7½% and the full 10% of cash is not demanded until Feb. 1 1909. Elsewhere in the State the requirement is 4% by July 1 1908 and the full 5% by Feb. 1 1909.

These changes in the law must tend to strengthen materially the position of the trust companies in this State and we may assume that the growth in their business, which was interrupted by the events of last October and November, will be resumed, and soon again, doubtless, the aggregate of their deposits will be larger than ever before. It is to be added that in the case of the State banks of loan and discount the lawmaker has also increased the reserve requirements. State banks in this city have heretofore been required to keep a reserve of 15%, of which one-half had to be cash in their own possession; while elsewhere in the State the requirement was to keep 10% reserve, of which one-half had to be cash in vault. In practice, however, as was pointed out by the Hughes Advisory Commission, State banks in this city have maintained at least 15% cash reserves and most of them 25%. The law has now been changed so as to increase the total of the reserves to 25% in the case of boroughs having a population of 1,000,000 or over and to 15% in the case of banks located elsewhere in the State. Two-fifths of the 25%, or 10%, may be on deposit with other institutions in the case of Manhattan Borough; one-half of the 15% required of the other boroughs of the Greater New York may be so kept on deposit, and three-fifths of the 15% required elsewhere in the State, or 9%, may be kept on deposit with other institutions. The increase in reserves in these cases is also to be acquired gradually. We gave the text of the new statute in our issue last Saturday, page 1075.

Altogether, therefore, the banking position in this city and State has been greatly strengthened, at least so far as it is possible to do this by legislation, and it would be a further point gained if the trust companies and the banks could now be got to work harmoniously together.

THE TRANSIT SYSTEM IN BROOKLYN.

Last Sunday's "New York Times" contained an interesting contribution to the discussion of the transit problem in Brooklyn from the pen of Edward W. Winter, the President of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. We do not find it possible to accept Mr. Winter's conclusions in their entirety, but no one who reads his remarks on the subject can fail to be impressed with the lucidity and force of his arguments. Nor will any one be inclined to disagree with him as to the fundamental conditions which must be complied with before the people of Brooklyn can expect to get additional transit facilities. If new lines of transit are to be built or operated by private capital, there must be sufficient inducements to tempt capital to come in. This is the sum and substance of Mr. Winter's reasoning, and, of course, the proposition, when stated in this broad way, is such a self-evident one that no one will be inclined to dispute it. Yet it is necessary that emphasis should be laid upon it, since in the public's treatment of the local transportation companies, this self-evident fact has been completely ignored.

Mr. Winter contends that subways in Brooklyn, if built, can hardly be expected to earn a fair interest rate on the investment. His experience as a transportation man necessarily gives great weight to his opinion in a matter of this kind, though we should be inclined to take a much more sanguine view of the possibilities for subway enterprises in the borough across the river. Mr. Winter gives it as his belief that it is not possible to build a subway anywhere on the other side of the East River that could on its completion, or for a long time after its completion, be made to return one-half of what would be regarded as a fair rate of interest on its actual cost plus the expense of maintenance and operation. Furthermore, he considers it most doubtful if any of the lines now so urgently demanded could be made to yield the bare cost of the three items, maintenance, operation and taxes—on the basis of five cents per passenger and no transfers. If by this is meant carrying passengers in a subway for a five-cent fare all the way to Coney Island, Mr. Winter is resting on impregnable ground and his statement may be regarded as incontrovertible.

But it appears to us to go too far to assert that subways in Brooklyn could not be made to return a fair rate of interest on actual cost on the basis of reasonable fares—fares, too, which the public would be prepared to pay for quick transportation service such as a subway system is supposed to provide. Though a five-cent fare would be insufficient, a ten-cent fare might be wholly adequate. That a large portion of the traveling public would not be averse to paying an extra fare for quick service is demonstrated by the experience since the opening of the tunnel under the East River to the Brooklyn City Hall and beyond. Large numbers of passengers now make it a practice to leave the elevated cars or the surface lines at points near to or connecting with the tunnel route and avail of the tube for reaching Manhattan Island. Thereby they are obliged to pay an extra fare, which would be saved by continuing the journey on the elevated or surface lines across the Brooklyn Bridge into New York. Saving of time is the inducement that prompts the payment of the extra fare. The same consideration would come into play with the building of a complete subway system in Brooklyn. Except to Coney Island, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit charges a fare of only five cents. But we know of many persons, as just stated, who since the opening of the tunnel have been paying two fares and even three fares for the purpose of getting into New York more speedily.

It should also be remembered that subways can be built much more cheaply in Brooklyn than in Manhattan Island, except, possibly, in the downtown sections of Brooklyn. There is no such net-work of sewer, electric wire, gas and water pipes to contend with as in New York, no rocky formations, and no such high buildings with foundations and vaults extending deep into the ground. In the outlying sections of Brooklyn construction would be entirely through a sandy soil, making the work easy and inexpensive. We are also disposed to look for a much heavier traffic for a subway system in Brooklyn than Mr. Winter is inclined to allow. Of course no such dense traffic as the transit lines on Manhattan Island enjoy could be counted on, but by reason of its nearness to Manhattan Island, Brooklyn makes a very desirable residential section and the construction of subway lines in Brooklyn would mean the rapid building up of that borough. The large and steady increase in the traffic of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., as shown in the annual reports of the company from year to year, attests that population in Brooklyn keeps steadily expanding, and the building of subway lines would mean even faster growth in the future. Given, therefore, an adequate fare—which need not be a forbidding one—subways in Brooklyn, according to our way of thinking, could be made to pay.

However, this is not the portion of Mr. Winter's article to which we wish particularly to direct attention. It comes last in his remarks. We refer to it, first, because plans for a subway system in Brooklyn have already been laid out and yesterday bids were received by the city authorities for the building of certain sections of what is known as the Fourth Avenue line to Coney Island. These bids were numerous, but the fact has no bearing upon the probability of profits from the enterprise, since the proposals came simply from contractors anxious to do the construction work. No bids for the operation or equipment of the projected subways were invited.

What is of widest interest in Mr. Winter's article is his enumeration of the general principles that must be observed in seeking to obtain additional transit facilities of any kind, and here Mr. Winter is fortunate in the convincing way in which he presents the case. He argues that no system of transit will be created and grow with the city's growth that can not beyond reasonable doubt hold its own financially and give returns to the investor. The public has come to demand a thing which, in form and quantity, cannot be given for the price the public is accustomed to pay. Hence, one of two things must happen before any very material improvement can take place; the public must consent to a rate of fare that shall be duly proportionate to the cost of the service it desires to have rendered, or it must reconcile itself to the use of the form of transit the cost of which will be proportionate to the fare collected.

Mr. Winter points out that it sometimes happens that we are incapacitated for correctly judging a subject by reason of our being in close contact with the situation. We are also liable to be hampered by the influence of current sentiment and too willingly guided to our conclusions by the popular voice whose words, by the mere force of repetition from mouth to mouth, carry conviction for the moment, though in fact often serving only to befog and osbcure the situation. The Manhattan subway, he well says, was popular in a day, was a public necessity in a week, and up to this time has furnished the best example of urban transportation in the world. Consequently, nothing is more natural than that this form of transit service should be desired in other parts of the city. With such demonstration, however, of its utility, public sentiment has been such as to repel rather than to invite the further investment of capital in that way. What Mr. Winter has to say on this point is worth quoting in full, as follows:

"With so favorable an inauguration of underground transit, one would expect the ways of this new servant of the people to be illumined, for a while at least, by the light of a tolerant, even generous, public sentiment; but notwithstanding its beneficent gifts of comparative comfort, facility and safety, there was one black bone in the subway meal—the prospect of a profitable return to its owners. And so, before this horrible suspicion could be either dispelled or confirmed by actual experience, nay, almost before the great plant was ready for operation, the cry of the city 'giving away the people's birthright' to a private corporation was sounded, the law which made the creation of this form of transit possible was amended into an Act of very different complexion, and, so far as could be, restrictions were sought to be placed on the operating privileges granted by the original Act. Now, mark how quick and deadly have been the effects on subway development of this movement when coupled with the ascertained results of subway operation. Taking them together, as effectual a barrier has apparently been raised against subway construction by private capital in Manhattan as if the law had forbidden its progressive march as a penal offense."

Mr. Winter then puts the query: Where are we to go for capital to enter a subway field such as Brooklyn has to offer, even though the present law be modified to the utmost possible extent, or where, assuming that the city could finance the work, would be the justification, on economic grounds, of municipal construction without the certainty of rental and its equipment and operation by private capital when completed? He urges that Brooklyn should disabuse her mind of delusions and look the situation squarely in the face from the standpoint of the investor; with him, however we may involve the element of municipal construction, must finally lie the answer to this question. Under these circumstances Mr. Winter would have Brooklyn look to extensions of her elevated lines for a solution of the transit problem. For ourselves, we think the better course would be to consent to adequate fares, accord liberal treatment to capital and invite the construction of a subway system.

CLEVELAND'S STREET RAILWAY EXPERIMEMT.

After seven years of strife between the people of the city of Cleveland, Ohio, headed by Mayor Tom L. Johnson, and the management of the trolley lines of the Forest City, peace has at last been declared, an amicable agreement between the warring factions having been entered into. During the period of strife at times intense bitterness prevailed, the conflict leading to the tearing up of tracks and to much litigation, in two instances at least lawsuits being carried to the United States Supreme Court for determination. The conflict started after the election of Mr. Johnson as Mayor in 1901 upon a platform pledging to the citizens three-cent car fares. Having granted rights to the Cleveland Electric Railway, which could not be rescinded or abridged, the council of the city granted franchises to two independent companies, known as the Forest City Railway and the Low-Fare Railway for the purpose of obtaining transportation at the low price of three cents. Injunctions and other litigation grew so rapidly out of the complicated situation that no less than fifty cases were pending in the courts of Cuyahoga County last month in efforts to determine controversies arising out of the conflict between the companies and the city. The re-election of Mr. Johnson for a fourth term as Mayor on the same old issue convinced the investors in the Cleveland Electric Railway that it would be foolish to continue the conflict longer, and last December Frederick H. Goff, an attorney, was authorized by the railway company to enter into negotiations with the city authorities for the purpose of effecting a settlement.

During the last five months negotiations have been conducted with apparent earnestness on both sides. No less than 97 conferences were held and for the purpose of guidance fourteen public meetings were held in the various wards of the city that the councilmen might fully understand the wishes of their constitutents. As a result of these persistent endeavors an agreement was reached and executed so that on the night of April 27th last the operation of all the street railways in the city of Cleveland was turned over to the Municipal Traction Company.

In the process of adjustment a new corporation known as the Cleveland Railway Company was formed, with a capital of $35,000,000. The Cleveland Electric Railway, which was capitalized at $23,400,000, divided into 234,000 shares of the par value of $100, was turned over to the new corporation at a valuation of $55 per share, and thus $12,870,000 of the capital stock of the new corporation passed to the stockholders of the old Cleveland Electric Railway Co. Of the stock of the new corporation, there is reserved $8,026,000 to provide for the bonded indebtedness of the Cleveland Electric Railway and $1,288,000 to cover the floating debt of the old corporation. The Low-Fare Railway was absorbed by the Forest City Railway and then the Forest City was sold to the Cleveland Railway Co. for $1,805,600 of stock of the new company, the shares of the Forest City being accepted at par in the exchange. The balance of the stock of the Cleveland Railway Co., $11,010,400, is reserved for extensions and permanent improvements.

The city council passed what is known as the "security franchise ordinance," granting to the Cleveland Railway Company the right to use the streets of the city of Cleveland for a period of 25 years. The Cleveland Railway Company leases all of its property to the Municipal Traction Company, which undertakes to operate all of the street railways in Cleveland and to pay upon the stock of the Cleveland Railways Company annual dividends of 6 per cent. The rate of fare is not to exceed three cents and there are to be universal transfers after the lapse of 90 days from the date of the agreeement. In case the Municipal Traction Company fails to carry out this agreement, the property goes back into the hands of the Cleveland Railway Company, which may operate it for the balance of the period of 25 years, and this company may sell six tickets for twenty-five cents.

The Municipal Traction Company has a capital of only $10,000, divided into 100 shares of the par value of $100. This stock is divided into twenty-share lots, the owners being the officers of the company, who are also its directors; these officers being A. B. du Pont, President; Frederic C. Howe, Vice-President; Edward Wiebenson, Secretary and Treasurer; C. W. Stage, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, and William Greif, Second Assistant Treasurer. This stock is not transferable. It is locked up in a safe-deposit vault. However, if a director dies or resigns, a majority of the board has an option on his holdings of stock. The Municipal Traction Company is not organized for profit. Out of its earnings it must pay its operating expenses, taxes and fixed charges, and the balance of earnings must be used for improvements and extensions. The plans now agreed upon call for the construction of 40 miles of new track, part of which will be laid upon that exclusive and much admired thoroughfare, Euclid Avenue, which has heretofore been exempt from street car traffic. A new high-level bridge over the Cuyahoga River for the sole use of street cars is projected.

There was great rejoicing in Cleveland over the reduction of fares, and the change in the management of the railways was celebrated on Wednesday April 29th by free rides, no fare being charged on that day. The plan agreed upon is regarded as being as near to actual municipal ownership as is practical. Mr. Johnson some years ago made a proposition to the city of Detroit which was arranged nearly on the same lines as the Cleveland agreement, but the people of Detroit were somewhat suspicious and they rejected the proposition.

The Cleveland plan will be watched with great interest by investors and the public alike. Mr. Goff, who conducted the negotiations for the Cleveland Electric Railway Co. regards the terms of the sale as equitable. The total price paid, including allowance for the funded and floating debts, is $22,184,131. Mr. Goff valued the physical properties at $17,112,098 and certain franchises at $4,976,701, making a total of about $22,088,799. The difference between the price paid and the valuation is $95,331, which is given as the value of the good-will. As the stock of the Cleveland Electric Railway Co. was sold at a price $45 per share below par, it is the general belief that the property has been acquired at a fair valuation and that the Municipal Traction Company has not assumed a burden which it cannot carry when it undertakes to pay 6 per cent dividends to the Cleveland Railway Company according to the terms of the lease. The Forest City Railway Co. paid 4½ per cent last year and its January dividend this year was at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. The Cleveland Electric Railway Co. was paying dividends at the rate of 3 per cent per annum on its capitalization of $23,400,000 the disbursement amounting to $702,000. Six per cent upon $12,870,000 to which this capitalization was reduced amounts to $772,200, so that the increase on this one item is but $70,200, a sum which will be easily saved in salaries.

While the seven years' controversy was in progress the management of the Cleveland Electric Railway on several occassions made efforts to give the citizens the benefit of reduced fares. In 1903 the company sold six tickets for 25 cents and granted universal transfers, but it was found that the loss sustained was greater than the company could bear and the arrangement was of necessity modified. On December 31 1906 the experiment was tried of selling seven tickets for 25 cents and giving two transfers on all crosstown lines, but after a trial for three months it was found necessary to modify this arrangement. Again last fall seven tickets for 25 cents were sold for a time, but the privilege was abandoned.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—No bank stocks were sold at auction this week and the sales at the Stock Exchange amount to only 76 shares. The transactions in trust company stock reach a total of 285 shares.

—The Republican members of the House of Representatives on the 6th inst, by a vote of 115 to 21, placed themselves on record as approving "recognition of commercial paper through clearing-house associations as a safe and logical asset for emergency currency." They also expressed approval of the proposition for a currency commission, and in their resolution provided for the appointment of a committee of five, which is to report a perfected bill by Monday next. The following is the text of the resolution:

"Resolved, That the conference approves recognition of commercial paper through clearing-house associations as a safe and logical asset for emergency currency, and also approves the proposition for a currency commission, and be it further Resolved, That the Chair appoint a committee of five to perfect a bill, such committee to report the perfected bill to the conference at an adjourned meeting to be held within five days."

The Chair appointed as such committee Representatives Vreeland of New York, Burton of Ohio, Weeks of Massachusetts, McKinney of Illinois and Knowland of California. It is understood that the new measure will follow the general lines of the Vreeland bill, which had been offered as a substitute for the Aldrich bill. In the endeavor to secure a suitable bill, the committee has sent the following letter to each member of the House, asking his views on questions pertinent to the matter:

"The members of the committee would especially prize an expression from you on one, or preferably all, of the following inquiries:

1. Would you favor limiting the authorized issue of notes under the bill at an amount less than $750,000,000?
2. Would you favor the requirement that the members of associations be located in contiguous territory?
3. Would you permit more than one association in any one city?
4. Would you favor making the banks of all associations jointly and severally liable for all notes issued by its constituent members?

The members of the committee would value any other suggestion which you may have to offer in regard to currency legislation. A very early reply addressed to the Chairman of the committee is requested."

EDWARD B. VREELAND, Chairman.
J. R. KNOWLAND, Secretary.

—An inquiry addressed to the New York State Banking Department with regard to the time savings banks are to be allowed for the disposal of railroad bonds which, because of recent dividend reductions, have ceased to be legal investments, has been answered by First Deputy Superintendent George I. Skinner in the following letter, bearing date April 29:

"Your inquiry with regard to how much 'grace' the Department allows institutions in which to dispose of railroad bonds which have ceased to be legal investments for savings banks is at hand.

"Whenever the attention of the Department is called to the fact that a savings bank is holding railroad bonds which have ceased to be legal investments for savings banks, it will take such action with regard to requiring the banks to dispose of the bonds as the facts and circumstances seem to justify. There is no time fixed by law within which a savings bank must dispose of such investments. In the case of bonds of cities which are held by savings banks and which have ceased to become legal investments, the following provision is inserted in the statute:

"'The Superintendent of the Banking Department may, in his discretion, require any savings bank to sell such bonds or stocks of said city as may have been purchased prior to said increase of debt.'

"No such provision is inserted in the sub division relating to investments in railroad bonds. The Attorney General of the State, however, has held that the Superintendent has the power to require savings banks which have any railroad bonds which have ceased to be legal investments although legal at the time of purchase, to dispose of the same. He adds:

"'This does not necessarily mean that it is the duty of the Superintendent to issue a peremptory order to such bank to dispose of the same at once. Such a course might conceivably result in such a depression of the price obtainable therefor, and such a sacrifice of values, as to work serious injury to the interests of the depositors. It seems to me that the method and manner of effecting the necessary changes of investment are lodged in the sound discretion of the Superintendent.'"

—One of the bills passed at the late session of the New York Legislature amends the law with respect to the investments of capital, surplus, undivided profits and deposits of trust companies. As amended, the law prohibits trust companies from holding or owning stock of another financial corporation the par value of which is in excess of 10% of the total amount of the stock of such other corporation; this limitation, however, does not apply to the ownership of the capital of a safe-deposit company whose vaults are connected with such trust company. The law is further amended by the insertion of a provision stipulating that stocks and bonds constituting a part of the lawful investment of the captal of a trust company shall not be valued on its books or entered in its reports to the Superintendent of Banks at a higher price or value than their investment value as determined by amortization, after providing for the gradual extinction of premiums or discounts on all such securities so as to bring them to par at maturity. We give herewith the law as amended, showing in italics the new matter, and in brackets the old law to be omitted:

AN ACT

To amend the Banking Law relative to investments of capital, surplus, undivided profits and deposits of trust companies.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 159 of chapter 689 of the laws of 1892, entitled "An Act in relation to banking corporations," as amended by chapter 160 of the laws of 1903 and chapter 479 of the laws of 1904, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 159. Investments of capital, surplus, undivided profits and deposits. The capital of every such corporation shall be invested in bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real property in this state [to the extent of] not exceeding sixty per centum of the value thereof, or in the stocks or bonds of this State, or of the United States, or of any county or incorporated city of this State duly authorized by law to be issued. Stocks or bonds constituting a part of the lawful investment of capital of any such corporation shall not be valued upon its books or entered in its reports to the Superintendent of Banks at a higher price or value than their investment value as determined by amortization, after providing in a manner approved by the Superintendent of Banks for the gradual extinction of premiums or discounts on all such securities so as to bring them to par at maturity. The moneys received by any such corporation in trust may be invested in its discretion in the securities of the kind in which its capital is required to be invested, or in the stocks or bonds of any State of the United States, or in such real or personal securities, as it may deem proper. No such corporation shall hold stock in any private corporation to an amount in excess of ten per centum of the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the corporation holding such stock [.]; nor shall any such corporation hold or own stock of another moneyed corporation the par value of which is in excess of ten per centum of the total amount of the stock of such other moneyed corporation issued and outstanding, provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to the ownership of capital stock of a safe deposit company the vaults of which are connected with or adjacent to an office of such trust company.

Section 2. This Act shall take effect immediately, except that a trust company which now holds stock in another moneyed corporation in excess of ten per centum of the total amount of the stock of such other moneyed corporation issued and outstanding shall have one year from the passage of this Act within [which to sell or dispose of the excess so held.

—The Executive Council of the American Bankers' Association, at its meeting at Lakewood this week, decided to hold the 1908 convention of the Association at Denver. The meeting will probably take place thel atter part of September. The Brown Palace Hotel will be the headquarters. George M. Reynolds, Vice-President of the Association, extended an invitation from Chicago to hold the 1909 convention in that city. A legal department was created by the Executive Council this week and Thomas B. Paton was elected General Counsel. It was also decided to publish a monthly journal, to be devoted exclusively to the affairs of the organization, and containing committee reports, &c. A copy is to be mailed to the members each month. The Council also appointed a finance committee of nine, to whom will be submitted all the appropriations each year, and this committee will make up a budget and present the same to the Council for their action.

—A circular has been addressed to the members of the New York Clearing House Association by William A. Nash, President of the Corn Exchange National Bank, advocating the bringing of trust companies and outside banks into the clearing system. Mr. Nash does not, as has been stated in some of the daily papers, urge the admission of such institutions to full membership in the association, but suggests the desirability of their affiliation with it as associate members, with a 15% reserve, as is provided in a proposed amendment to the constitution of the association, which we gave in our issue of Jan. 18, but on which the association has deferred action. This amendment, Mr. Nash states, offers certain restrictions and certain privileges. "The restrictions," he continues, "are exclusion from full membership and the right to vote and govern the association. The privileges are and should be a participation in the advantages of the Clearing House, principally the right to receive the assistance that our members enjoy in times of panic by the use of Clearing House loan certificates. The right to call themselves associate members is also an advantage that is extended in order to compass the desirable process of daily exchange for which our Clearing House was organized." Mr. Nash considers that the solidifying of the desirable banking institutions of New York in one controllable body in the Clearing House is so essential that it should be authorized without hesitation.

—A petition in bankruptcy was filed against the firm of Inman & Co., cotton merchants, of Augusta, Ga., on the 4th inst., and T. G. Barrett Jr. was named as receiver. The members of the firm are James F. McGowan and James R. Gray. Walter P. Inman, who died last year, was formerly its head. The liabilities are said to be about $1,250,000. The embarrassment is understood to have been due solely to the depression in the cotton market, the practical suspension of buying by the mills leaving the firm in a position where it was unable to dispose of its large holdings at anything like fair figures. It is stated that the firm is not connected, as far as business operations are concerned, with either the New York house of Inman, Swann & Co. or Inman, Akers & Inman of Atlanta.

—At the annual meeting of the New York Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, J. Edward Simmons, President of the Fourth National Bank, was re-elected President. William H. Porter (President of the Chemical National Bank) has been elected Treasurer, succeeding James G. Cannon (Vice-President of the Fourth National Bank) who lately became Chairman of the Committee on Finance and Currency. George Wilson has been re-elected Secretary.

—A plan to merge the Northern and Riverside banks of this city with the Hamilton Bank, under the name of the Northern Bank of New York, is to be submitted for the ratification of the stockholders of the respective institutions on the 18th inst. The combined deposits of the three banks are over $7,000,000, according to the statements of March 25; on that date the Hamilton reported capital of $200,000, surplus and profits of $115,200 and deposits of $3,789,800; the Northern showed capital of $300,000, surplus and profits of $232,000 and deposits of $1,611,400, while the Riverside had capital of $100,000, surplus and profits of $100,400 and deposits of $1,642,000. The Riverside Bank, James T. Wood President, is located at 57th Street and 8th Avenue, and the Northern Bank, of which Leo Schlesinger is the head, is at 692 Broadway; the Hamilton is a Harlem institution, with its main office at 215 West 125th St. A year ago the Riverside Bank consolidated with the Bank of Discount. The Hamilton Bank, which is now under the presidency of Frank L. Grant, was closed from October 24 last to January 20, re-opening under a deferred-payment plan. A notice announcing the removal of the final restriction on all deposits after July 1 was issued by President Grant under date of the first inst. The reorganization plan had provided for the payment of 10% with the re-opening, 15% in ninety days from November 20 1907, 15% in six months from that date and 60% in one year from November 20 1907. Both payments of 15% were anticipated and the last payment of 60% which was not due until November 20 next, becomes available to depositors on July 1.

—It was officially announced Thursday that "representatives of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. have acquired a large interest in the stock of the Franklin Trust Co. of Brooklyn. Moses T. Pyne, Edwin S. Marston, Charles A. Peabody and H. D. Auchincloss have been elected directors of the Franklin Trust Co." This plan is in accordance with the previous announcement in this paper, which stated that both companies would soon enter into a closer business alliance. The Franklin Trust Co. will not be absorbed by the Farmers' Loan & Trust, but will continue its identity as at present with the added strength of the interests affiliated with the Farmers' Loan & Trust. The trustees of the Franklin Trust Co. have accepted the resignation of its President, George H. Southard, who has been in ill-health for some time and is now convalescing in California.

—Henry S. Redmond, of the banking firm of Redmond & Co., has been elected a director of the Fifth Avenue Trust Company.

—George R. Leslie and Abraham B. Baylis, the Exchange members of the firm of Mayer & Co. of this city, which failed in October, were reinstated to membership in the New York Stock Exchange on Thursday. The petition in bankruptcy against the firm was dismissed last week by Judge Holt.

—A petition in bankruptcy was filed on the 6th inst. against the New York Stock Exchange firm of Coster, Knapp & Co., which suspended on April 29. Louis Werner, the assignee, has been appointed receiver by Judge Hough.

—It is reported that Charles W. Morse and his friends have turned over to Receiver Charles A. Hanna of the National Bank of North America of this city about $250,000 in cash and securities in settlement of the bank's claims against him aggregating $480,000. The cash payment is said to be about $60,000. In view of this settlement it is understood that the suit brought against Mr. Morse to recover $405,673 alleged to have been obtained by him through dummy-loan transactions will be dismissed. Besides this, no further action is to be taken against Mr. Morse, it is stated, in the case of the bank's claim of $243,000, which Mr. Morse is said to have reduced to $100,000, and the bankruptcy proceedings pending against him will be dropped. The settlement, however, does not, it is stated, affect the suit for the recovery of $700,000 brought against the directors, of whom Mr. Morse is one. A dividend of 25% is expected to be paid to the depositors of the bank shortly.

—W. M. Haines, formerly credit man with the Arnold Print Works, was recently appointed an Assistant Cashier of the Citizens' Central National Bank of this city.

—The stockholders of the Interboro Bank of this city, at a special meeting this week, decided to liquidate the affairs of the institution. With the election last month of A. E. G. Goodridge, President of the bank to the Vice-Presidency of the Guardian Trust Company, and the election of four of the bank's directors to the board of the trust company, it was generally understood that it was planned to liquidate the bank. The latter was organized in December 1904 with $100,000 capital, which was increased a year ago to $200,000. At the time of the increase in capital the deposits were reported as $1,000,000; the last report of the bank (March 25 1908) showed deposits of but $378,700.

—The Home Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough has discontinued its Manhattan Branch at 22 Vesey St. and its branch at Hamburg and Myrtle avenues, Brooklyn. Both were closed on Saturday last and the business transferred to the company's main office on Montague Street.

—The hearing on the motion for the removal of the receivers of the Williamsburgh Trust Co. of Brooklyn, set for Monday last, has been postponed until the 12th inst.

—The First National Bank of Manasquan, N. J., closed its doors on the 1st inst. following the suicide of its President, Morgan Delancey Magee. National Bank Examiner John W. Schofield is in charge of the institution. The bank had a capital of $50,000. It is claimed that the late President had lent large sums to the New Jersey & West Virginia Bridge Co., in which he was a stockholder, and his action in taking his life is reported to have been due to the fear of financial ruin because the promised payment last week of $40,000 by interests in the bridge company was not met. An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company on the 6th inst. and Frank Wyant, its President, and Benjamin Price have been appointed receivers for the concern.

—The Union Trust Co. of Providence, R. I., which suspended on October 25 last, resumed business on Monday the 4th inst. at its main office, and at its Olneyville, East Greenwich and Central Falls branches. The last-named branch, however, is to be discontinued at the end of next week. The final decree dissolving the receivership was entered in the Superior Court on the 5th inst., the Court allowing a fee of $25,000 to each of the three receivers. On its opening day the company reported $279,500 as paid out and $197,000 deposited. President Gardner expressed himself as well pleased with the showing, considering it a remarkable one in view of the fact that the depositors had been waiting six months for their money. The company's rehabilitation was accomplished through a plan providing for the payment, with its re-opening, of all deposits of $100 or less, and 50% of the trust accounts; the remaining 50% of the trust accounts are represented by negotiable certificates of deposit. The claims of other creditors and depositors are payable as follows: 10% with resumption, 70% in negotiable certificates of deposit bearing 3% interest, and payable in 7 installments of 10% each, in from 6 months to 3½ years, and 20% in contingent certificates dependent upon future profits. The old stockholders received deferred certificates for their shares. Other details regarding the plan of reorganization will be found in our issue of Jan. 18 1908. The company issued the following summarized statement showing its condition on May 2 1908.

President Gardner announced on Monday that the company, in addition to paying 10% to depositors in accordance with the above plan, was loaning money on the negotiable certificates of deposit (representing 70% of their balances) to the extent of 75% of their valuation, these loans bearing 6% interest. The institution has discontinued its savings department but will continue to conduct commercial banking in connection with the trust business. The officers of the reorganized company are Rathbone Gardner, President; Archibald G. Loomis and James M. Scott Vice-Presidents; Walter G. Brown, Secretary and Treasurer; Francis E. Bates, Assistant Secretary and Assistant Treasurer; Clinton F. Stevens, Assistant Treasurer and George W. Lanphear, Comptroller.

—The Veazie National Bank of Bangor, Me., was placed in voluntary liquidation on April 21, its business having been consolidated with that of the Merrill Trust Co., which since Nov. 1905 has owned a majority of the stock. The bank had a capital of $100,000 and deposits (Aug. 22 1907) of $516,561. The entire clerical force of the bank has been retained by the trust company, and A. B. Taylor, for many years Cashier of the Veazie National, is now Secretary of the Merrill Trust. The trust company began business on June 1 1903 as successor to the banking firm of Merrill & Co. On April 21, the date when the Veazie National was taken over, it reported deposits of $1,274,488 and total resources of $1,611,278. It has a capital of $200,000, surplus of $75,000 and undivided profits of $47,509. The company is now located in its newly completed building, which is the first structure to be built solely for banking purposes in Bangor. In order to secure an advantageous location on Kenduskeag Stream, the company was obliged to take over a larger site than was needed for its banking requirements. Two distinct buildings have been erected, one for its own use and the other for a store and office building. The structure is of the Colonial type of architecture, and is built of Harvard brick trimmed with limestone and terra cotta. The portion occupied by the trust company is about 35 feet front and 85 feet deep. The building is equipped with safe-deposit vaults, and is otherwise up to date in its appointments.

—H. Stockton has replaced the late Col. Franklin Haven as President of the Merchants' National Bank of Boston.

—The stockholders of the National Bank of the Republic of Boston, at a meeting on the 7th inst., ratified the action of the directors in placing the bank in liquidation. The business of the institution was taken over last month by the National Shawmut Bank. The liquidating committee consists of Charles A. Vialle, Albert Stone, Jacob F. Brown, Charles Hayden and William H. Wellington.

—An offer for the purchase of the Consolidation National Bank of Philadelphia by the Union National Bank has been accepted by the directors of the first-named institution, subject to the approval of the stockholders, who will meet on June 6 to act on the matter. The Consolidation National has a capital of $300,000 (in shares of $30 each), surplus and profits of $210,130 and deposits (Feb. 14) of $1,288,000. Under the merger arrangement with the Union National, its stockholders will receive $40 per share for their holdings in addition to the regular May dividend. The Consolidation National was founded as a State bank in 1857. Horace T. Potts, its President, will, with other members of the board, be added to the directorate of the Union National; it is understood that its Cashier, Louis N. Spielberger, and its Assistant Cashier, F. C. Hansell, will have similar posts with the Union National, Albert E. Fletcher, the present Cashier of the latter, being made a Vice-President. W. H. Carpenter is President of the Union National, which has a capital of $500,000, surplus and profits of $750,000 and deposits of about 3¾ million dollars.

—William Montgomery, Cashier of the Allegheny National Bank of Pittsburgh, was arrested on the 7th inst. charged with embezzlement of the bank's funds. He was later released under $50,000 bail. The alleged defalcation is said to amount to at least $469,000. In a statement issued on Thursday night President William Stewart said:

"The Allegheny National Bank will open for business as usual in the morning. Our capital is unimpaired and the value of our banking building and the property on which it stands, while carried on the books at $90,000, is almost enough to cover the defalcation alleged against William Montgomery, our Cashier. In addition we have a surplus of $700,000 and, under the last statement, undivided profits of $129,461. Any deficiency will be taken from our surplus and the loss stricken from the books."

The bank has a capital of $500,000. It has on hands funds of the State to the amount of $532,222.

—Myron T. Herrick was unanimously elected President of the Society for Savings of Cleveland on the 30th ult., to succeed the late Albert L. Withington. Mr. Herrick had formerly been at the head of the institution for more than ten years but resigned in 1905 during his term as Governor of Ohio. At that time the post of Chairman of the Board was especially created for him and he had since continued to occupy that office. This position, it is said, will probably be abolished at the annual meeting in June. It is also stated that some new executive positions will likely then be created for the purpose of relieving the President of much detail work. Mr. Herrick has resigned as Chairman of the Board of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Ry. and will also, it is understood, sever his connection with some of the other organizations with which he is identified.

—George H. Worthington has been elected President of the Union National Bank of Cleveland to replace the late Eben H. Bourne. Mr. Worthington has been a director and member of the executive committee of the bank for a number of years. He is President of the American Chicle Co., a director of the Guardian Savings & Trust Co. of Cleveland and of the Interurban Railway & Terminal Co. of Cincinnati.

—Englewood, a suburb of Chicago, is soon to have additional banking accommodations. The Illinois Auditor of Public Accounts has issued a permit for the incorporation of the Guarantee Trust & Savings Bank, to be located at Englewood, with a capital of $200,000. The incorporators are: William H. C. Stege, Paul Schulze, Charles T. Chandler and C. H. Sippel and Fred A. Rathje, attorneys. Mr. Stege will be President of the new bank. Its location will be at the corner of 63d and Green streets.

—Edwin C. Day was appointed receiver for the brokerage firm of Wallace H. Hopkins & Co. of Chicago on April 23. On the same day indictments were returned against Mr. Hopkins on alleged charges of having accepted $5,165 for stock which the customer failed to receive. The liabilities of the concern are estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. Mr. Hopkins is said to have been the promoter of Consolidation Zinc Co.

—The creditors of the failed Ravenswood Exchange Bank of Chicago have accepted an offer of the receivers for the payment of 75% in final settlement of their claims. The institution suspended in November last, and on March 1 a dividend of 20% was paid by the original receiver, the Chicago Title & Trust Co. The American Trust & Savings Bank, which was later appointed receiver, now agrees to pay the creditors 55% in addition to the dividend already paid. The deposits at the time of the failure were $382,000.

—The Kansas Bankers' Association will hold its annual convention at Kansas City, Kan., on Wednesday and Thursday next, the 13th and 14th inst. William B. Ridgely, ex-Comptroller of the Currency, and President of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, Mo., will be one of the speakers.

—E. B. Anderson was named as Assignee of the Daviess County Bank & Trust Co. of Owensboro, Ky., on the 30th ult. The institution suspended cash payments on April 23, and on the 28th of the month filed a general deed of assignment. It has a capital of $50,000 and its deposits are reported as over $600,000.

The Owensboro Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Owensboro also suspended cash payments on April 23, and has since been placed in the hands of a receiver. It had a capital of $200,000, and deposits of over $1,000,000. The institution, it is said, had experienced a run as the result of the circulation of false rumors.

—The new $400,000 capital of the Hamilton National Bank of Chattanooga, Tenn., recently increased from $250,000, became operative on April 20. The selling price of the additional 1,500 shares was $125 per $100 share to old stockholders and $135 per share to new subscribers. Through the premium the bank has increased its surplus and profits to $120,000.

—According to the "Macon Telegraph," J. W. Cabaniss, ex-President of the failed Exchange Bank of Macon, Ga., has settled in full every claim held against him by the receivers of the institution, and as a consequence the various suits pending against him will be dismissed. In addition to the transference to the bank of his home and other property, Mr. Cabaniss has also turned over to it securities valued at $52,000. The settlement does not, it is stated, affect the indictments returned against Mr. Cabaniss.

—In a reference (April 18) to the recent payment made to the depositors of the Memphis Savings Bank of Memphis, Tenn., by the Union & Planters' Bank & Trust Co., the amount was erroneously given as 5% instead of 50%. That this was a typographical error was obvious from our remarks in the same item that the Union & Planters' Bank, which was appointed receiver of the Memphis Savings Bank on February 4, had obligated itself to pay to the depositors of the latter one-half of their claims in sixty days, 25% in twelve months and the remaining 25% in eighteen months.

—The Barnett National Bank of Jacksonville, Fla., began business on April 15 as successor to the National Bank of Jacksonville, whose charter expired by limitation on April 14. The Barnett National Bank has a capital of $750,000, and deposits of approximately $4,500,000. It is under the management of Bion H. Barnett, President; W. D. Barnett and John G. Christopher, Vice-Presidents; George R. De Saussure, Cashier; R. E. Wheeler and W. R. McQuaid, Assistant Cashiers.

—The California Bankers' Association is to meet in annual convention at Pasadena on the 14, 15 and 16 inst. Some of the topics of discussion will be "Depositors' Guaranty by Legislation" by C. F. Hamsher, Cashier of the Bank of South San Francisco; "Needed Reforms in our Banking Laws" by H. W. Magee, of Pasadena, former member of the Board of Bank Commissioners; "Bond Investments as a Secondary Reserve" by Cyrus Pierce of N. W. Halsey & Co., San Francisco, and "The Torrens Land Act from the Bankers' Standpoint" by John Ginty, Cashier of the French-American Bank, San Francisco.

—J. Dalzell Brown, former Vice-President and General Manager of the failed California Safe Deposit & Trust Company of San Francisco, pleaded guilty on April 27 to the charge of embezzling 65 bonds of the Sacramento Gas & Electric Ry. Co. which were on deposit with his institution. He was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

—The stockholders of the Mercantile Trust Co. of San Francisco held their annual meeting on April 29. The reports presented indicated that the institution had enjoyed a prosperous year despite the late financial disturbances. The net earnings for the twelve months, after the payment of all expenses and taxes, amounted to $347,261, this comparing with $230,747 for the previous year. Two dividends aggregating $160,000 were paid respectively in Sept. 1907 and March 1908 on the $2,000,000 capital, being at the rate of 8% per annum. On April 29 the capital, surplus and profit and loss account of the company stood at $4,006,358. The following are the officers of the institution: William G. Irwin, President; Henry T. Scott, Vice-President; John D. McKee, Vice-President and Cashier; W. F. Berry, Assistant Cashier and Assistant Secretary; O. Ellinghouse, Assistant Cashier and Secretary, and A. H. Winn, Trust Officer.

—The First Trust & Savings Bank of Oakland, Cal., incorporated on March 12, is to open for business the latter part of the present month or early in June in the new First National Bank Building. The new institution has an authorized capital of $300,000, one-half of which is already paid in, the remainder becoming payable shortly. The newly organized bank will be under the same directorate as the First National Bank; P. E. Bowles, President of the latter, and also President of the American National Bank of San Francisco, is to be at the head of the First Trust & Savings Bank, of which O. D. Jacoby will be Secretary and Cashier.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, April 25 1908.

The long-expected death of the ex-Prime Minister, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, which took place this week, has had no influence upon the course of public affairs or upon the money or stock markets. Having dissassociated himself from all party connections during his long illness, his last days were watched sympathetically by all classes in this country, to whichever party they belonged. The press of all shades of opinion gave long biographical laudatory notices of the ex-Prime Minister. In private life he was greatly esteemed, being a man of genial personality, readily accessible, and in private intercourse quite without ceremony.

His father, who was Lord Provost for Glasgow, made an immense fortune in founding one of the first great stores in Great Britain. Sir Henry never himself took any part in business. After leaving the High School in Glasgow he spent some time in the University of his native city, then proceeded to Cambridge and started almost immediately upon his long political career. It is remarkable that while Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman led the Liberal and Radical Party here, not only was his father a pillar of conservatism in his native city, but a brother of the late Prime Minister sat for many years in the House of Commons as a Conservative Member of Parliament. The most notable feat of his career was his keeping together the Liberal Party after the retirement of Lord Rosebery and the refusal of that party to serve under the leadership of the late Sir William Harcourt. During the South African War, to which he was very much opposed, he made, for so genial a man, many fierce attacks on his opponents and was responsible for the "Methods of Barbarism" speech. This naturally made him very unpopular with the war party, which was dominant in English politics at the time. He lived, however, to illustrate the rapidity with which political feeling changes, and the leader who had been abused for his anti-war speeches had the satisfaction of seeing himself within a very few years Prime Minister, with a greater majority than ever fell to the lot of the celebrated Gladstone.

Business upon the Stock Exchange has been very slack this week and the tone, if not actually depressed, is certainly doleful. With a 3% Bank of England rate of discount it cannot, of course, be said that money is dear, but so complete is the control of the Bank over the London money market that it is equally certain that it cannot be called plentiful. The immense sums, amounting roughly to £10,000,000, which the market lately received on account of dividends on the funds and in payment for supplies from the Government balances, have all been absorbed in paying back the market's indebtedness to the Bank and in financing the recent holiday trade. The market is once more indebted to the Bank, although this time for comparatively a small amount. The Bank return is by no means a bad one; the reserve is over £26,800,000, as against £25,900,000 a year ago. Money in the short loan market is quoted at 2½%, while discount rates are called 2⅝ to 2¾%. But these rates are really nominal, for, except in the case of the very highest classes of paper, in the event of any considerable sum being required it virtually becomes necessary to go to Threadneedle Street and to pay the full official rate of 3% or something more, as the directors may decide.

The feature of the week in the stock markets has been the announcement of the bond issue of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Bonds so well secured as is this issue upon so great a line as the Pennsylvania Railroad, and introduced by Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the Messrs. Rothschild and the Messrs Baring, have naturally been as well received as any new issue could be expected to be at the present time. To say that any new issue, whether from the American or English side of the Atlantic, is welcomed by the Stock Exchange in its present condition, would be far from the truth. The only recent new issue that can be described as having been a real success was the London County Council loan, and that success was due to a pure accident. It surprised the Stock Exchange at least as much as the public. It happened to be brought out on a particular day when the banks were flooded with nearly £8,000,000 of money which the Government had paid out in the way described above. The issue was a 3½% one and what is known as a "floater." The banks subscribed largely for it.

The India Council is still endeavoring to dispose of drafts without breaking the exchange market. It is, however, meeting with only a qualified measure of success. It now offers a modest 10 lacs per week for tender and at Wednesday's allotment it received applications for 40,000 rupees only. These were alloted at the now fixed rate of 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee. A year ago, when trade was so active in India, 70 lacs were offered for tender and the applications amounted to over 5 crores. The applications ranged from 1s. 3 3-32d. to 1s. 4 5-32d. per rupee. At that date the total sales had realized £1,900,000, while since April 1 to the present time the Council has realized just £57,000.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of April 23:

GOLD.—The Continent has again taken all this week's arrivals, the bulk going to Paris, and the price advanced to 77s. 10⅜d. Next week we expect £1,040,000 from the Cape. At the Bank £170,000 has been received from Egypt and £67,000 from Australia, all in sovereigns, while £171,000 has been withdrawn for Paris. Arrivals—Cape, £473,000; Australia, £189,000; Bombay, £74,000; West Africa, £3,000; West Indies, £31,000; Brazil, £14,000; total, £784,000. Shipments—Bombay, £70,330.

SILVER.—In spite of some support from the Indian Bazaars, the market has fallen since the date of our last circular from 25⅜d. to 25 1-16d., and at the close there seems to be a weak tendency. China has been a rather freer seller during the past week, while the demand for India is again slackening. The price in Bombay is Rs. 64⅝ for the June settlement. Arrivals—New York, £177,000; West Indies, £12,000; Chili, £4,000 total, £193,000. Shipments—Bombay, £159,900.

a Includes bank notes. b After eliminating the item "Due from reserve depositories and other banks and trust companies in New York City," deposits amount to $670,188,600, an increase of $13,673,100 over last week's figures.

Note.—In the case of the Clearing-House banks, the deposits are "net" both for the average and actual figures: in all other cases "gross" deposits are shown. The Clearing-House actual figures included U. S. deposits amounting to $39,955,000, a decrease of $3,533,500 from last week; averages included U. S. deposits of $41,407,800 a decrease of $2,127,100 from last week.

"Reserve on deposits" includes, for both trust companies and State banks, not only cash items but amounts due from reserve agents, and in the case of trust companies includes likewise municipal bonds. State banks in New York City are required by law to carry a reserve amounting to 15% of deposits, while outside of New York City only 10% is required, which reserve in both cases need not be more than one-half in cash. Trust companies in Greater New York are required to keep a reserve of 15%, of which only 5% need be in cash and 5% more may be in municipal bonds, while in the case of the trust companies in the rest of the State the required reserve is 10%, of which only 3% need be in cash and 3% more may be in municipal bonds.

The State Banking Department also furnishes the following report for State banks and trust companies outside of Greater New York.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The security markets have this week reflected a more cheerful feeling in investment circles. The volume of business has not been large but values have had a general upward tendency, so that of a list of 30 active railway issues from 15 to 20 have reached the highest quotation of the year. The latter include Atchison, St. Paul, North West, Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading, Louisville & Nashville and Chesapeake & Ohio, as well as several industrial issues.

This more hopeful feeling is not the result of increasing industrial activity, as statistics show that the number of idle cars is much larger than a month ago and traffic returns are additional evidence of the same conditions. It may be attributed, in part at least, to the more favorable financial situation at home and abroad. This is illustrated by the fact that the export movement of gold has ceased, for the present at least, and also that the announcement of a proposed new bond issue of $100,000,000 by the Union Pacific Company caused no disturbance in the markets.

The open market rates for call loans at the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1½% to 2%. To-day's rates on call were 1½@2%. Commercial paper quoted at 3¾@4% for choice 60 to 90-day endorsements and for 4 months best single names; 4@4½% for a slightly lower grade of 4 to 6 months single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £118,947, and the per cent of reserve to liabilities was 50.92, against 51.04 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%, as fixed March 19. The Bank of France shows an increase of 60,775,000 francs gold and 2,700,000 francs silver.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board $163,000 Virginia 6s def. trust receipts at 38 to 42.

The market for railway bonds has been increasingly active, the total transactions on at least one day of the week amounting to nearly $6,000,000 par value. This large volume of business was due in part to the activity in Pennsylvania new 4s, which has been a feature of the week.

The market has been strong and a few issues have advanced sharply.

Other active bonds are fractionally higher.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $35,000 2s, reg., 1930 at 103½ to 103¾ and $2,000 3s, coup., 1908-18 at 101¼. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been much less active than during the previous week, the daily transactions averaging little more than ½ million shares. The market has been strong, with the result mentioned above. In the upward movement Southern Pacific was advanced over 4 points, Louisville & Nashville and Chesapeake & Ohio 3 points, and Union Pacific, notwithstanding the large new bond issue referred to, advanced 2½ points.

Reading and Union Pacific have been, as for some time past, leaders of the market, and both are included in the list of stocks which have made a new high record for the current year.

Among the exceptional features is Manhattan Elevated, which declined over 2 points and partially recovered, and Canadian Pacific, which was weak and lower until to-day, when with Reading, Delaware & Hudson and Lackawanna, it made a substantial advance.

Industrial stocks have generally followed the trend of the market and with results similar to those noted in the railroad list.

Outside Securities.—The "curb" market was fairly active to-day, with a firmer tendency to prices. The rest of the week business was dull and without feature. Weather conditions and the transfer of trading in the new Pennsylvania 4s and Interborough Rapid Transit 6% notes to the Stock Exchange have reduced business. Copper and other mining shares shared in the general dulness. Boston Consolidated Copper was lower, receding from 12¼ to 11⅞, though it improved finally to 12. Butte Coalition went from 22⅞ to 23⅛ and down to 21⅞, but recovered all the loss and ends the week at 22. Cumberland Ely weakened from 8⅛ to 7⅞ and subsequently reached 8. Greene Cananea lost about ⅛ to 8, but moved up again to 8¼. Nevada Consolidated Copper was traded in between 11⅜ and 11⅞ and Nevada-Utah between 4 3-16 and 4½. United Copper common advanced from 6⅝ to 7 but closed lower at 6¼. A drop in Yukon Gold from 4¼ to 3⅜, the lowest price yet reached, was recorded though later it recovered to 4⅜. Goldfield Consolidated moved up from 5⅜ to 6 and ends the week at 5 5-16. The specialties have been extremely quiet. American Tobacco gained 4 points to 344, then lost 1 point to 343. A quarterly dividend of 2½% with 5% extra was declared, the same as at this time last year. International Salt sold up from 15½ to 17. Standard Oil from 586 advanced to 600, the final quotation for the week being 596. Chicago Subway was quiet around 17¾. Illinois Central "rights" were fairly active between 4 and 4⅜. The bond department has been neglected. Consolidated S. S. 4s sold between 9½ and 10⅜.

Outside quotations will be found on page 1151.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Annual Reports —An index to annual reports of steam railroads, street railways and miscellaneous companies which have been published during the preceding month will be given on the last Saturday of each month. This index will not include reports in the issue of the "Chronicle" in which it is published. The latest index will be found in the issue of April 25. The next will appear in that of May 29.

Long Island Railroad.

President Ralph Peters, under date of Long Island City, April 1 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—The operations for the year show an increase in gross earnings of $534,811, or 5.6%. Freight ton mileage increased 11.87% while freight train mileage decreased 0.33%. Passenger mileage increased 8.50% and passenger train mileage decreased 1.18%.

The operating expenses show an increase of $1,045,422, or 14%; occasioned by the following increases:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Advance in wages | $253,602 | Advance in prices of mater'ls | $25,582 |
| Personal injuries, &c | 86,410 | Replacements, &c | 56,875 |
| Per diem rate | 62,844 | New shop tools & machin'y | 31,453 |
| Federal & State laws | 15,198 | Freight locomotive renewals | 64,847 |

Fuel consumption due to city ordinance requiring use of anthracite coal, and to larger, heavier engines $89,000
Operation of electric motive power plants and equipment 42,000
Extraordinary repairs in maintenance of way; viz., rebuilding interlocking plants at many points, ballasting, docks and wharves, rail, ties and general improvement of roadbed and structures 240,000
The balance is due to general increase in station and train supplies, and increased forces.

The income account shows a deficit of $858,828, which is due to the extraordinary expenses above enumerated, and to an increase in taxes and fixed and other charges amounting to $201,033, which includes payment of interest on equipment trust certificates and interest on advance made by the Pennsylvania RR. Co. for the purpose of carrying on the improvements hereinafter named.

The operation of the Montauk Steamboat Co., Ltd., for the year shows a loss of $21,085, which has been charged against the income account of your company.

Improvements.—The main improvements carried on during the year were in connection with the passenger and freight terminals at Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn, the revision of the line to Bay Ridge and Manhattan Beach, and the finishing up of the work authorized in connection with the electrification of lines in Brooklyn and Queens.

As the work on the Bay Ridge improvement and the purchases of land in connection with that and other improvements necessitated capital expenditures from which no additional revenue can be derived until their completion, a proper proportion of the interest on the loans made to provide funds therefor has been charged into the cost of construction.

The charges to capital account for the improvements referred to aggregated $1,602,056, as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Atlantic Av. improvement | 606,731 | Bay Ridge Imp. and elim. of | |
| Atlantic Av. trolley | 12,728 | Bklyn grade crossings | $967,433 |
| | | Electrification of lines | 15,164 |

The work on the Atlantic Av. improvement was confined to the freight and passenger terminals. The passenger terminal is practically completed and all arrangements made for transfer of passengers to and from the Interborough Rapid Transit Subway, which will be completed and in in operation to your terminal before July 1 1908. (The opening took place May 1, see V. 86, p. 1100.—Ed.)

The freight terminal has been depressed and completed between Vanderbilt Ave. and Carlton Ave. and the yard placed in service. The remainder of the work between Carlton Ave. and 5th Ave. is about 85% completed. The merchandise terminal and warehouse which is located back of the passenger terminal is well under way, and will be completed this year.

The Bay Ridge improvement has progressed satisfactorily; several principal grade crossings have been eliminated and portions of the line put in operation.

Other charges to capital account were also made covering purchases of land for right of way and station grounds, additional running tracks, new passenger stations and general improvements in docks, wharves and yards and other freight facilities and elimination of grade crossings. The net cost of these was $755,006, of which cost of road and real estate represented $402,497; second and third track, $142,393; freight yard at Long Island City, $69,149; remainder various.

The funds to meet the capital expenditures were provided through advances made to your company by the Pennsylvania RR. Co.

The company has received franchise rights for building the Glendale cut-off, connecting the main line with the Montauk Division at Glendale

Junction, and for the Montauk freight cut-off connecting the North Shore freight tracks with the Montauk Division at Dutch Kills Creek.

No actual work has yet been done on the electrification of the line to Port Washington and Whitestone Landing and Jamaica, or in the terminal improvement at Jamaica, but progress has been made in securing property needed, and in perfecting plans for these improvements.

Rolling Stock.—Through the equipment trust referred to in two previous reports, your company added to its equipment 66 gondola cars, one passenger car and one tug-boat, and there are now under construction 50 steel passenger cars. The locomotive equipment shows an increase of five new freight engines of heavy capacity built to replace five locomotives sold in 1906.

Long Island Consolidated Electrical Companies.—Said company has secured all franchises, rights of way, &c., for the cross-island line from Huntington to Babylon, via Farmingdale and Amityville, and has graded and laid tracks covering about seven miles of the route between Huntington and Amityville. That company has not sold any of its bonds as yet, the funds for the above work having been advanced by your company until such time as securities can be sold to advantage.

Development of Territory.—During the year 5,107 dwelling houses, 515 stores, 38 factories and 300 miscellaneous buildings were constructed in villages on your lines outside of Long Island City and Brooklyn.

Change in Accounting.—Beginning with July the accounts of the company have been stated in the forms prescribed by the Inter-State Commerce Law, thereby making impossible accurate comparisons with previous years.

Outlook.—While the general condition of your property has been greatly improved and increased safety and economy in operation assured, the results for the year have been far from satisfactory, and are largely due to the effort made to provide greater accommodation for the public than your revenues justified. Late in the year radical reductions were made in the train service, and every effort made to bring down the operating expenses, but not in time to produce any marked effect upon the general result. The completion of the Rapid Transit Subway from the Battery to your Flatbush Ave. Station in Brooklyn will greatly increase the traffic upon the Atlantic Ave. and other lines that have been electrified, and will also shorten the time from all stations east of Jamaica to New York City. This should bring larger revenues without increased expense, and give you a return upon the heavy outlay made in electrifying portions of your road. While the traffic via Brooklyn will be greatly increased, that via Long Island City and 34th Street will be necessarily reduced, but not sufficiently to justify a very large reduction in the steam service to the latter point.

Pennsylvania Steel Co. (of New Jersey).

The report, signed by Chairman E. B. Morris and President E. C. Felton, under date of Philadelphia, May 2 1908, says in substance:

Mining Companies.—The coal properties in Indiana County, Pa., belonging to your subsidiary companies, the Penn-Mary Coal Co. and the Possum Glory Coal & Coke Co., produced in 1907 428,000 tons of coal, compared with 259,000 tons in 1906. These properties were further developed by the opening of a new mine and the construction of a steel coal tipple. A considerable number of miners' houses were also added.

The iron ore properties near Santiago, Cuba, belonging to your subsidiary company, The Spanish-American Iron Co., which have been producing for many years, were operated to their full capacity during 1907. They mined 500,000 tons of iron ore during the year and by explorations added more than this amount to their reserves.

In last year's report reference was made to the discovery on the north coast of Cuba by The Spanish-American Iron Co. of large deposits of iron ore, the development of one of which near Mayari was then under consideration. This new deposit is of vast extent and will supply all the needs of your manufacturing companies for many years to come. Its development was begun in June 1907, and is being pushed as rapidly as circumstances will permit. About three-fourths of the grading of the 16 miles of railroad and inclined planes which will be used to transport the ore from the top of the mountain on which it is found to the shipping port on Nipe Bay is completed, and track has been laid for some five or six miles. The necessary bridges have been manufactured and are now in Cuba ready to put in position. The harbor is being dredged and the town and shops are being built. It is hoped to have the development completed and the property ready to ship ore by the middle of 1909. A pamphlet describing these iron ore properties in Cuba was recently mailed to each stockholder.

Guaranteed Bonds.—To obtain the funds required for this development, The Spanish-American Iron Co. has authorized the creation of a mortgage on the Mayari ore properties, railways and terminals, securing $5,000,000 20-year sinking fund gold bonds, which are guaranteed as to principal, interest and sinking fund by your company; $2,500,000 of them have been sold. (V. 85, p. 350, 226; V. 86, p. 984.)

Manufacturing Companies.—These are The Pennsylvania Steel Co. of Pennsylvania, with works at Steelton and Lebanon, Pa., and Maryland Steel Co., with works at Sparrow's Point, Md.

Their production of pig iron in 1907 was 843,000 tons, compared with 809,000 tons in 1906. Of steel ingots they made 932,000 tons in 1907, compared with 977,000 tons in 1906.

At the Steelton works of The Pennsylvania Steel Co. the new open-hearth plant consisting of five 75-ton furnaces, which has been under construction for two years, was completed, the first steel having been made in May and the entire plant put in operation in August. This new plant has operated very satisfactorily and has shown a considerable saving in costs over those obtained in the older open-hearth plants at Steelton.

During the year No. 3 blast furnace of the Steelton plant was remodeled and largely re-built. The results obtained from the new furnace have been satisfactory as to output and decreased costs.

A comprehensive plan for improving the methods of mining at the Cornwall Ore Banks was perfected during the year and the work begun, but, owing to the existing financial conditions, further prosecution of this work has been postponed for the present.

Railroad Companies.—The railroad companies, owned or controlled, were successfully operated.

All Companies.—In the annual report for 1906 the statement was made that a decrease in net profits might be expected in 1907 because of the increased costs of labor, supplies and raw materials. The almost entire suspension of manufacturing operations during the last two months of 1907, brought about by the October panic, has caused a still further reduction in profits.

Financial.—Out of the balance of profits of all the companies remaining after deducting interest charges, charges to general and special depreciation and dividends paid, your subsidiary operating companies have transferred $755,472 to their reserves for future plant improvements. They expended during 1907 $1,529,877 for additions and improvements to plants, exclusive of the sums spent by The Spanish-American Iron Co. on its new developments in Cuba. This entire amount was charged against the previously accumulated account for reserves for plant improvements.

The completion of coke oven plant and new open-hearth plant of the Steelton works of The Pennsylvania Steel Co. were the principal items on which these expenditures were made.

Dividends amounting to 7% have been paid during the year on your preferred stock. No dividend has been paid on your common stock.

Outlook.—The outlook for the year 1908 is not encouraging. New business is small in volume and deliveries on the old orders already on your books are largely suspended.

During 1908 no additions or expenditures of importance are contemplated at any of your plants, with the single exception of those now being made by The Spanish-American Iron Co. for the development of the Mayari mines on the north coast of Cuba.

United Gas Improvement Co., Philadelphia.

President Thomas Dolan, Philadelphia, May 4, says:

Construction, &c., Requirements of Operating Companies.—The requirements of the Philadelphia Gas Works and other leased properties, and of the various companies in which the United Gas Improvement Co. is a shareholder, for construction account during 1908, may be summarized as follows:

| For Gas Companies. | | For Electric Light Companies. | |
| Imp. & exten. at works | $821,679 | Imp. & exten. at works | $363,216 |
| New pressure mains and misc. large mains | 175,323 | New lines and services | 29,655 |
| New distribution mains | 488,979 | New meters and transformers | 43,000 |
| New meters and services | 930,900 | | |
| Total | $2,416,881 | Total | $435,871 |
| Grand total | | | $2,852,752 |

All of the proposed expenditures for construction account referred to above have been most carefully studied by the engineering department, and by the executive committee and the board of directors. No expenditure will be made which is not absolutely necessary to maintain the high character of service given to their customers by the various companies in which this company is a shareholder and to provide for equally good service to the new customers who may reasonably be expetced to apply during the year for gas and electricity.

Sales of Gas.—The sales of the Philadelphia Gas Works for 1907 increased in volume 7.27% over those of the previous year (compare Equitable Gas Illuminating Co. of Philadelphia, V. 86, p. 1103) and the sales of the companies in which we are interested outside of Philadelphia increased for gas 12.4% and for electricity 7½%.

Physical Condition.—The physical condition of the Philadelphia Gas Works and the business methods employed in Philadelphia are typical of all the properties in which The United Gas Improvement Co. is interested. If, therefore, the stockholders will inspect the manufacturing plants holders, store-rooms, shops and offices in Philadelphia, and examine the lists of stocks and bonds verified by the directors' committee, all of which can be readily done upon application to the First Vice-President, they will be able to form an intelligent judgment as to how your business is managed and as to the location and value of your investments.

Security Investment Co., Pittsburgh.

(Status as of Feb. 29 1908.)

The reorganization committee in connection with the plan which is summarized on a following page has issued a circular, dated April 11 1908, containing the following particulars as to the book value of the assets of the company on Oct. 23 1907 (the date of the appointment of the receiver) and the market and estimated value on Feb. 29 1908, after deducting securities sold. The liabilities are also shown as of Oct. 23 1907 and as of Feb. 29 1908.

Note.—The statement of Feb. 29 1908 does not take account of interest accrued since Oct. 23 1907; the "market and estimated value" is made up of the market value Feb. 29 1908 of quoted shares and the value of other property as appraised by the company in 1906.

The principal assets of the company as of Oct. 23 1907, the restoration of the value of which is essential, were 231,888 shares of assenting stock and 6,575 shares of preferred stock (par value in each case $50 per share.—Ed.) of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., constituting 42½% of the outstanding capital stock of that company as of that date; and $3,244,000 5% convertible sinking fund bonds of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. The foregoing amounts have since been reduced by at least 23,105 shares of assenting and 825 shares of preferred stock, known by the receiver to have been sold by the pledgees. The market value of these shares and bonds at the prices prevailing on Dec. 31 1906 aggregated $21,957,858; while the market value as of Feb. 29 1908 was $7,683,778.

An appraisal has just been completed of the unpledged assets of the company by John L. Walsh of the Real Estate Trust Co. of Pittsburgh and William I. Mustin of the firm of George B. Hill & Co. of Pittsburgh, appraisers appointed by the United States Circuit Court at the suggestion of the Fidelity Title & Trust Co., receiver of the Security Investment Co. This inventory, which the appraisers think is extremely conservative, shows the value of the unpledged assets of the Security Investment Co. to be $3,691,835. While we have every reason to believe that these assets, consisting to a considerable extent of real estate and stock in the East Pittsburgh Improvement Co., which is a real estate holding company, could be ultimately liquidated at the appraised value, and thus produce a very substantial dividend, your committee feel that if an immediate sale were forced through the present receivership, there would be a very heavy shrinkage in the value of these assets.—V. 86, p. 1104, 550.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Anderson (S. C.) Traction Co.—Change in Receivership.—This property, which on March 4 was placed in the hands of Edwin W. Robertson of Columbia and Robert E. Ligon of Anderson as receivers, on application made by the Anderson Machine & Foundry Co., was on April 16, by Judge Pritchard at Asheville, N. C., turned over to Robert E. Ligon, Edwin W. Robertson and Frank R. Frost, as receivers, under complaint of the International Trust Co. of Maryland. Compare V. 86, p.601.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Mr. Morton Again a Director.—Paul Morton, President of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was on May 6 again elected a director, this time to succeed the late George G. Haven.—V. 86, p. 1098.

Boston & Albany RR.—Purpose of Issue.—At a hearing on May 5 respecting the proposition to issue $7,000,000 4% bonds for the purpose of repaying the New York Central & Hudson River RR., lessee, for improvements made and contemplated on the property, Woodward Hudson, appearing for the New York Central, stated that it was proposed to expend $4,543,753 for improvements in 1908, and that the balance of the $7,000,000 has already been expended. —V. 86, p. 1099, 1041.

Brinson Railway, Georgia.—Bond Issue.—A mortgage has been filed to the Savannah Trust Co. of Savannah, Ga., as trustee, to secure an issue of $2,250,000 5% bonds, dated May 1 1908; denominations $1,000, $500 and $100. See further particulars in V. 86, p. 720.

Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh Ry.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the 3 and 9 months ending March 31 were:

| 3 mos.— | Gross. | Net. | Oth. Inc. | Charges. | Bal., sur. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|

—V. 86, p. 545.

California Gas & Electric Corporation.—Time Extended.—The time for deposit of the "general mortgage and collateral trust" 5% bonds for exchange into "unifying and refunding mortgage" 5% 30-year bonds, per circular of March 26 1908 (V. 86, p. 980), has been extended from May 1 to July 1. A San Francisco paper says:

There have been reports on the street that the trust deed securing the new bonds did not cover the property of the Sacramento Electric, Gas & Railway Co., one of the most valuable properties owned by the California Gas & Electric Co. This is incorrect. While the physical property of the Sacramento Electric, Gas & Railway Co. has not been deeded to the corporation, all the stock is held by it and the new bonds will hold the same lien over the property of the Sacramento Electric, Gas & Ry. Co. as the old ones.—V. 86, p. 980.

Central Ontario Ry.—Mortgage of 1882 Discharged of Record.—Notice is given that the company on the 18th inst. deposited in the hands of the Secretary of State for Canada, discharge of a bond mortgage dated April 1 1882, made to the Toronto General Trusts Corporation to secure an issue of bonds to the extent of $2,200,000. George Collins is Secretary. See V. 84, p. 930, 1365.

Chicago Consolidated Traction Co.—Offer to Purchase Coupons of Sub-Companies.—The Chicago Consolidated Traction Co. gives notice to bondholders of Cicero & Proviso St. Ry. Co., Ogden St. Ry. Co., North Side Electric St. Ry. Co. and the Chicago & Jefferson Urban Transit Co. that the Chicago Railways Co. is prepared to buy the coupons maturing May 1 1908 detached from said bonds in the case of all holders willing to sell on the understanding that the coupons are to be kept alive as its absolute property upon surrender of the same uncanceled.—V. 84, p. 1181, 1306.

Chicago & Jefferson Urban Transit Co.—Offer to Purchase Coupons.—See Chicago Consolidated Traction Co. above.

Chicago Joliet & Kansas City Ry.—Increase of Capital Stock.—A special meeting of the stockholders of this projected road, it is announced, will be held in Chicago July 6 for the purpose of increasing the capital stock to $15,000,000. —V. 86, p. 720.

Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR.—Sale of Receivers' Certificates in London.—Chicago advices state that the entire $1,000,000 issue of the receiver's certificates for completing the road into Milwaukee has been subscribed by the Investment Registry, Ltd., of London, at 95, making $950,000 available for the completion of the line. Compare V. 86 p. 668, 856, 917.

Chicago Railways.—Distribution of New Securities May 15. —The Chicago Title & Trust Co. has sent out a circular announcing that the distribution of the new securities of the Chicago Railways will be commenced May 15 in the case of all holders of the old stock who have already paid their assessments or who have agreed to do so on receipt of new certificates.

Offer to Purchase May Coupons of Certain Sub-Companies.—See Chicago Consolidated Traction Co. above.

Directors, &c.—The directors and committees are:

Henry A. Blair, Chairman; John M. Roach, W. M. Eisendrath, A. B. Jones, Wallace Heckman, Frederick H. Rawson, Hemstead Washburne and J. W. Gary.

Finance Committee, Henry A. Blair, Chauncey Keep and B. A. Eckhart, Executive comittee, Henry A. Blair, John M. Roach and Wallace Heckman.

On New York Unlisted.—Central Trust Co. certificates of deposit, stamped for Chicago Union Traction Co. preferred and common stocks, have been admitted to the unlisted department of the New York Stock Exchange.—V. 86, p. 1039, 856.

Cicero & Proviso Street Ry.—Offer to Purchase Coupons. —See Chicago Consolidated Traction Co. above.

Concord Maynard & Hudson Street Ry.—Bonds.—Application has been made to the Massachusetts Railroad Commission for authority to issue $25,000 20-year 5% bonds, making $200,000 bonds now outstanding.—V. 85, p. 1338—

Consolidated Railway & Light Co. of Delaware.—Proposition to Bondholders.—The management has sent circulars to the holders of its collateral trust bonds proposing to exchange said bonds at par for stock at par in the Pennsylvania & Western Coal Co. The Pennsylvania & Western Coal Co. recently acquired through purchase the title of the Cook Inlet Coal Fields Co. to its coal-mining interests in Alaska. (Compare V. 79, p. 1267; V. 72, p. 89). See V. 86, p. 1099.

Danbury & Bethel Street Ry.—Offering of 6% Debenture Bonds.—Clarence E. Thompson & Sons, New Haven and Bridgeport, Conn., have recently been placing at par and interest $75,000 6% coupon debenture bonds.

These bonds are dated March 1 1908 and are due March 1 1918, but redeemable at 105 after due notice at any interest date. Interest payable March 1 and Sept. 1. Denominations of $500 and $1,000. The purpose of this issue of debenture bonds is to provide for the addition of another unit to their power-house, retire the floating debt and make other permanent improvements. Provision is made that no additional mortgage may be placed on the property without including these debentures. Capitalization: Capital stock, $320,000; bonds authorized and issued, $300,000. —V. 83, p. 36.

Denver & Rio Grande RR.—Additional Financing for Western Pacific.—As is well known, the Western Pacific Ry. Co., which is controlled by the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western Ry., is making rapid progress with the building of its line to the Pacific Coast. It is currently reported that in order to complete and equip the road, negotiations are pending with a syndicate of bankers, including the underwriters of the $50,000,000 Western Pacific first mortgage bonds, looking to the sale of a block of notes, possibly for $10,000,000, with the Denver & Rio Grande or Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western as makers or guarantors.—V. 85, p. 921.

Fulton Ferry Railway, New York.—Receivers of Metropolitan Street Ry. to cease Operating Property.—Protective Measures by Bondholders.—The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, as mortgage trustee, gives the following notice under date of May 2 to the holders of bonds secured by the first mortgage dated Nov. 1 1895:

The receivers of the Metropolitan Street Railway Co., who are operating the property of the Fulton Ferry Ry. Co., under a trackage agreement, have stated that they are about to disaffirm that contract and give up the operation of the road.

You are therefore requested to send to the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, 28 Nassau St., New York, the trustee of the said mortgage, your names and addresses, and the amount of your holdings, with a view to the proper protection of your interests.

Interborough-Metropolitan Co.—Decision Denying Application of Attorney-General Affirmed.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, First Department, yesterday unanimously denied the application of Attorney-General Jackson to bring suit in the name of the State to forfeit the company's charter. Compare V. 85, p. 654, 99. The Court says:

The same questions arising in this case were so recently considered in the matter of the Attorney-General for leave to commence an action against the Consolidated Gas Co. of New York (V. 86, p. 796, 493) that further consideration by this Court seems unnecessary, except to point out that the grounds for the present application seem more unsubstantial than in the gas company case, for in the gas company case a commodity was manufactured and sold, while in the present case transportation only is furnished.—V. 86, p. 475, 229.

Interborough Rapid Transit Co.—Convertible 6% Bonds—Listing of Trust Receipts, &c.—J. P. Morgan & Co. trust receipts for the $25,000,000 3-year convertible 6% notes dated May 1 1908 have been admitted to quotation in the unlisted department of the New York Stock Exchange, to be dealt in at a price and interest.

The members of the syndicate which underwrote the aforesaid issue, it is stated, have received checks for amounts equal to about 2¾% on their subscriptions, representing their profits on the underwriting. As the issue was over-subscribed by the public, the syndicate was not obliged to take any of the notes. Compare V. 86, p. 1100, 1042, 981.

Favorable Decision.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court on Wednesday affirmed the decision of Justice Fitts in August last, which set aside the assessment of the State Tax Commission for special franchises in 1905. Compare V. 85, p. 530.—V. 86, p. 1100, 1042.

International & Great Northern RR.—Receiver's Certificates. —Judge A. P. McCormick of the United States Circuit Court at Dallas, Texas, on April 29, upon application made by the Mercantile Trust Co. of New York and the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., authorized receiver Thomas J. Freeman to issue 6% receiver's certificates in order to provide for the payment of the interest, $338,730, due May 1 on the first mortgage bonds. The "Dallas News" of April 30 said:

The payment of these certificates is to be secured, the Court directs, by a first lien upon the net revenues of the railroad, this lien to be prior and paramount to any lien upon said revenues or mortgage of said railroad. The certificates shall not, it is ordered, be sold at less than face value, and the money borrowed shall be used only for the payment of interest. The Bowling Green Trust Co., trustee under the first mortgage, through telegram sent by Vice-President W. H. Taylor of New York, gave endorsement to the applications made.—V. 86, p. 1042.

Kansas City Fort Scott & Memphis RR.—Extension at 5% of $2,055,300 Kansas City Fort Scott & Gulf RR. 1st 7s.—Arrangements have been made with Moffat & White, 5 Nassau St., New York, for the extension at 5% until June 1 1911 of the $2,055,300 first mortgage 7% bonds of the Kansas City Fort Scott & Gulf RR. maturing June 1 1908. the lien of the mortgage to remain unimpaired, being a first lien upon the road from Kansas City, Mo., to Baxter, Kan., 159.92 miles, at the rate of $12,852 per mile.

Holders who desire to extend their bonds must present same ("ex" coupon due June 1 1908) at the office of Moffat & White, 5 Nassau St., New York, or at the Old Colony Trust Co., Ames Building, Boston, on or before June 1 1908, to be appropriately stamped, and to have affixed thereto new coupon sheets covering such extension period. A cash payment at the rate of $20 with respect to each $1,000 of bonds extended will be made to the holders accepting this extension.

Holders who do not themselves desire to avail of this privilege of extension will receive par for their bonds on or after June 1 1908 at the office of said bankers, or at the Old Colony Trust Co., Boston.—V. 86, p. 1042.

Lehigh & New England RR.—Car Trust Issue.—The company will issue certificates to the amount of $450,000 for 15 years, payable $30,000 yearly, at 4½%. The proceeds will be used to pay for the cars and locomotives recently ordered.—V. 86, p. 918.

Long Island RR.—Report.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

Held Liable for Fire Damage.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, Second Department, last week affirmed the decision of the lower court overruling the demurrer of the company to the complaint in the action brought by the State at the instance of the Forest, Fish and Game Commission.

The complaint alleged that forest fires in the town of Smithtown caused by the company's engines, through its negligence, did damage to forests and other property in the town in the sum of $119,300. It was claimed that the Commission had no jurisdiction because the forest lands referred to are not part of the State forest preserves. The decision, if sustained by the Court of Appeals, will make railroads responsible for damages caused by forest fires anywhere in the State. The case is still to be tried on the merits.—V. 86, p. 981.

Maryland Electric Rys.—Sale of Bonds.—The remaining $250,000 of the $1,000,000 first mortgage 5% bonds of the Baltimore & Annapolis Short Line have been sold to the Fidelity Trust Co. of Baltimore. The proceeds will be used in building a terminal station in Annapolis, proper connections for entering Baltimore, and for other purposes. —V. 86, p. 337.

Metropolitan Street Railway, New York.—Notice to Bondholders.—The bondholder's committee, Alexander J. Hemphill, Chairman, gives notice to the holders of "general mortgage and collateral trust 5% gold bonds, due 1997," that May 29 has been fixed as the limit of time within which said bonds may be deposited with the Guaranty Trust Co. under agreement dated March 5 1908. The committee said:

The default in the payment of the interest due on Feb. 1 has, by the lapse of ninety days, become absolute, as provided by the trust deed. The legal situation is such as to render it important to the interests of all the holders of said bonds that the committee be enabled at the earliest practicable date to authoritatively cooperate with the trustee in protecting the interests of the bondholders.

Receivers to Cease Operating Fulton Ferry Ry.—See that company above.—V. 86, p. 1042, 857.

Metropolitan West Side Elevated Ry., Chicago.—Bonds Sold.—The company has sold to the Farwell Trust Co. and N. W. Halsey & Co. of Chicago the remaining $1,250,000 of the authorized $5,000,000 extension and terminal first mortgage 4% gold bonds of 1901.

The sale of these bonds will provide for the retirement of equipment notes and loans falling due June 1 and generally place the finances of the company "in excellent financial shape."

The Western Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, in offering a block of the bonds recently, stated in a circular that the bonds are a first and only lien on (1) The Douglas Park Extension, originally 2 miles in length, increased during 1907 by 1¼ miles of single track and from 7 to 10 stations. (2) The Garfield Park Extension, originally ½ mile in length and now extended to 52d Ave., where the extensive terminals are located. (3) The Fifth Ave. terminals, extending through the 2 blocks bounded by Van Buren and Market streets and Fifth Ave. and Jackson Boulevard, in the heart of the downtown wholesale district and within easy walking distance of the financial and retail districts of Chicago, representing an outlay of considerably over $1,000,000. (4) Battery sub-stations located on the Garfield Park, Douglas Park and Logan Square lines and at Loomis St.; (5) Equipment consisting of 86 motor and passenger cars; (6) A 3,500-horse-power engine.—V. 86, p. 982, 418.

Midland Valley RR.—Cherokee Construction Co. Notes.—The committee on conversion of the Cherokee Construction Co. notes has declared the plan of Oct. 19 1907 operative and the new securities to be exchanged for them will be issued on or about May 11. All of the $5,600,000 old notes outstanding have been deposited under the plan by the holders thereof, who will receive in exchange Midland Valley first mortgage 5% bonds and new Cherokee Construction Co. 5-year 6% gold notes. The notes so issued are dated Dec. 2 1907 and are due Dec. 1 1912, the authorized amount of such issue being $2,500,000, of which $1,650,000 only are now issued. See further particulars in V. 85, p. 1462. —V. 86, p. 548.

Missouri Pacific Ry.—Mr. Fish Resigns.—Stuyvesant Fish, former President of the Illinois Central RR., who a year ago was elected a director and a member of the executive committee of the Missouri Pacific Ry., resigned from the latter positions May 4 on the account of the "pressure of other duties."—V. 86, p. 1043, 480.

Philadelphia Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.—New Directors.—At the annual meeting held at Pittsburgh on May 4 Secretary W. B. Carson and Russell H. Boggs, both of Pittsburgh, and Sidney H. March, New York, were added to the directorate. The other directors are:

James H. Reed, James D. Callery, H. J. Bowdoin, George E. McCague Joshua Rhodes, Patrick Calhoun, B. S. Guinness and Edwin W. Smith.

Report.—For year ending March 31:

| Fiscal Year— | Gross Earnings. | Expenses & Taxes. | Improvements, &c. | Other Income. | All Charges. | Bal. for Dividend |

From the surplus as above were deducted dividends of 5% on the preferred stock ($300,000) and 6% on the common stock, calling for $1,994,394 in 1907-08, against $1,926,137 in 1906-07, leaving a balance, surplus, of $372,884 in 1907-08, against $268,448.—V. 86, p. 286, 53.

Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.—Transfers only on Full Fare.—On and after May 18 the company will issue free transfer tickets only upon the payment of a 5-cent fare and only at the time the 5-cent fare is paid, when requested by the passenger. It is estimated that this change will increase the company's income by more than $400,000.—V. 85, p. 1402, 723.

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey.—New Bond Issue—Immediate Issue to Be Only $3,725,000.—President Thomas N. McCarter on May 5 gave out substantially the following statement regarding the authorization of an issue of $50,000,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds dated May 1 1908, to finance for years to come the company's requirements for additions, improvements, funding gold notes, &c., only $3,725,000 to be issued at present:

The board of directors, at their meeting held this afternoon, authorized the execution of a first mortgage upon all the property of the corporation, securing an issue of $50,000,000 5% gold bonds dated May 1 1908. The mortgage is designed to provide a complete financial scheme for the company for years to come. It covers all the real estate of the company, all the leases of gas and electric properties held by the company, and pledges as security thereunder all the shares and bonds of underlying companies owned by the corporation, running into a very large total. By the terms of the mortgage the bonds are to be issued and reserved as follows:

Disposition of said $50,000,000 First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds.

| To be forthwith delivered by the trustee to the corporation to recoup the company for betterments recently made and contracted for | $3,725,000 |
| Reserved for retiring a like amount of collateral gold notes, dated Nov. 1 1904, which notes are secured by a pledge of collateral of underlying securities, which collateral, upon the completion of the refunding of said notes, becomes primarily subject to this mortgage | 7,250,000 |
| Reserved for retiring a like amount, or so many thereof as may not have been converted of the convertible notes of the company dated April 16 1906 | 6,250,000 |
| Reserved under most carefully restricted provisions for future betterments | 32,775,000 |
| After the First $3,725,000 Bonds, Additional Amounts up to | $25,000,000 |

Can Be Issued Only when Earnings Exceed by 33 1-3% the Interest Charge on Bonds Issued and Desired to Be Issued.

After the delivery of the $3,725,000 at par of bonds directed to be delivered to the company simultaneously with the execution of the mortgage, no future bonds can be certified and delivered by the trustee unless there be delivered to the trustee a certificate verified by affidavit of the proper officers of the company, that, so far as any portion of said issue up to $25,000,000 at par is concerned, the earnings from the leased properties mortgaged and the income from pledged securities for the 12 calendar months next preceding the date of the certificate exceed by 33 1-3% the interest on all the bonds issued to date under said mortgage, plus the interest on the bonds the certification and delivery of which at the time is desired.

To Permit Issue of Bonds of Final $25,000,000, Aforesaid Surplus Over Interest Charge Must Be 50%.

So far as the issue of the remaining $25,000,000 at par of bonds is concerned, there must be delivered to the trustee a certificate, verified by affidavit of the proper officers of the company, that the earnings from the leased properties mortgaged and the income from pledged securities for the 12 calendar months next preceding the date of the certificate exceed by 50% the interest on all the bonds issued to date under said mortgage, plus the interest on the bonds the certification of which at the time is desiree

Issue Prior to Jan. 1 1911 Not to Exceed $25,000,000— Thereafter Not Over $4,500,000 Yearly.

Not more than $25,000,000 at par of said bonds can be certified and delivered under the mortgage prior to Jan. 1 1911, and thereafter not more than $4,500,000 at par of said bonds can be issued in any one year for betterments, except that this last provision is cumulative; that is to say, if a lesser number of bonds is taken in one year, an excess number may be taken the following year, provided the average does not exceed $4,500,000 at par.

The trustee under the mortgage is Fidelity Trust Co. of Newark; the coupons on the bonds are payable at the office of said Fidelity Trust Co. or at the agency of the company in the city of New York.

"The $3,725,000 bonds required to be delivered to the company simultaneously with the execution of the mortgage have all been sold by the company, together with a certain additional amount of bonds which, it is expected, will be certified and delivered during the ensuing year for additional betterments, so that the company's financing for this year is completed, and it is therefore not contemplated that any bonds secured by this mortgage will be offered to the public this year."

The mortgage has been examined and approved by R. V. Lindabury of Newark and John G. Johnson of Philadelphia.

See map of system on pages 64 and 65 of "Electric Railway" Section.—V. 86, p. 1101.

Quebec Central Railway.—Listed in London.—The London Stock Exchange has listed a further issue of £150,500 4% debenture stock, in lieu of the same amount of 5% prior lien bonds heretofore quoted.—V. 84, p. 571.

Railroad Freight Rates.—Deliberations Regarding Advance. —For some months railroad managers generally have felt that there should be an increase in freight rates to offset a part of the large increase in the cost of operating occasioned by the advances during the past two years in the rates of wages and the price of materials and supplies. The subject has been receiving serious consideration during the current week from the chief executive officers of the leading railroads east of the Mississippi River, and it is generally expected that an increase of from 2 to 10% will eventually be decided upon, more especially in the higher classes of freight, in which the advance would have only a small effect on the price of the goods. The method and time, however, for making the change appears quite uncertain. —V. 83, p. 38.

Raleigh & Western Ry.—Receiver Appointed.—This eight-mile road having suspended operations, was recently placed in the hands of President Samuel A. Henszey.—V.79, p.2797.

Rapid Transit in New York City.—Bids Received for Subway in Brooklyn.—The Public Service Commission on May 8 opened bids for the construction of the Fourth Avenue subway in Brooklyn from the Brooklyn terminal of the new Manhattan Bridge to Fourth Avenue and thence to 43d St. For section No. 1 there were nine bidders, for No. 3, three; for No. 5, eight; etc.

Application to List New Stock.—The London Stock Exchange was recently requested to list $600,000 additional stock. Compare V. 86, p. 53.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—General Manager Resigns.—T. F. Whittlesey having resigned as General Manager, to take effect May 15, W. A. Garrett, former President and now Chief Executive official, it is announced, will, in addition to his present duties, assume those of General Manager. —V. 86, p. 1101, 1044.

Temiscouata Railway, Canada.—Interest Payment.—In London on or about April 23 the bondholders' committee announced that interest at the rate of 1½% per annum, less tax, on the provisional certificates issued by the committee would be paid on May 1 at the Bank of Montreal, 47 Threadneedle Street, E. C., on presentation of coupon No. 1.

Application was recently made to the London Stock Exchange to list £565,300 provisional certificates of £100 each, Nos. 1 to 5,653 for 5% consolidated mortgage income bonds, in lieu of the certificates of deposit for the first mortgage debenture bonds. Compare V. 86, p. 795.

Texas & Pacific Ry.—Additional Improvements Ordered.—A press dispatch from Austin, Tex., on May 5 states that the Texas Railroad Commission, in addition to the extensive improvements previously ordered on other divisions (compare V. 86, p. 669), has made an order requiring important improvements, including the laying of 75-lb. steel rails on the division between Fort Worth and Sierra Blanca, a distance of about 500 miles.—V. 86, p. 920.

Tidewater Power Co., Wilmington, N. C.—Mortgage.—A mortgage has been filed to the Carnegie Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $2,000,000 5% first 40-year gold bonds.

Of these bonds $500,000, it is stated, is immediately available on account of recent extensions and improvements and also for the building of a transmission line from Lumberton, N. C., to Wilmington, with the ultimate purpose of bringing to the city current from the Rockingham Power Plant. Compare V. 85, p. 1144, 42.

Trinity & Brazos Valley Ry.—Bonds Authorized.—The Texas Railroad Commission has authorized the company to issue $1,335,000 bonds on account of its railroad property, &c., new rolling stock and 96 acres of land at Teague, now covered by shops and terminal properties, on which the Commission allows a valuation of $2,000 an acre. This land was originally purchased by the company, it is stated, at $30 per acre, and is believed by it to be worth at least $3 300 an acre.—V. 86, p. 287.

Union Pacific RR.—New Bond Issue, &c., Authorized.—The shareholders on May 5 authorized the proposed issue of $100,000,000 bonds and also the purchase of the Leavenworth Kansas & Western Ry. and the Topeka & Northwestern Railroad.

President E. H. Harriman on May 4 made the following statement: "The financial requirements of the Union Pacific have been much exaggerated. The maximum amount needed at this time to put the company in funds does not exceed $25,000,000, but we want to resume development and put our people to work. In no event, however, will over $50,000,000 of the bonds be issued against the properties now owned. While the stockholders will be asked at their meeting tomorrow to authorize an issue of $100,000,000 of bonds, at least $50,000,000 of the amount will be reserved for issue under strictly guarded provisions only for the construction or acquisition of new lines and for additions. Instead of mortgaging new lines as constructed or acquired, and thus having separate mortgages on different divisions, it is deemed best to provide in one mortgage for future extensions and new lines. The meeting is a preliminary step to put the company in a position to take advantage of favorable opportunities to raise additional capital to the best advantage."—V. 86, p. 795, 549.

Vicksburg (Miss.) Street Railway & Light Co.—Sold.—At the receiver's sale in Vicksburg on May 4 the property was bid in by Colonel S. S. Bullis of Olean, N. Y., under a court decree, for $50,000. Two other bids less than this were made. The "New Orleans Picayune" has a dispatch from Vicksburg saying:

The sale does not affect the present holders of $325,000 of bonds, J. C. Shaffer of Chicago, S. R. Hughes and S. S. Bullis. The sale eliminates all claims of the Southern Electric Securities Co. of New Orleans (V. 86, p. 230; V. 79, p. 104), which controlled until now a majority of the $500,000 stock. The New Orleans Company had no representative at the sale. Colonel Bullis says two companies will now be formed to operate the plant —one the Vicksburg Transit Co., to run the cars, the other the Vicksburg Power Co., to furnish power for other uses.—V. 86, p. 920.

Virginia & Southwestern Ry.—Bond Issue Authorized.—The stockholders at a meeting held on April 29 authorized the new $7,000,000 mortgage described in last week's issue and also the purchase of the Holston River RR., extending from Moccasin Gap, Va., to Persia, Tenn., 40 miles, and the Black Mountain Ry., extending from Appalachia, Va., to the coal fields of Lee County, Va., 30 miles. Compare V. 86, p. 1102.

—V. 86, p. 1045.

Waterloo Cedar Falls & Northern Ry.—New Mortgage.—A consolidated mortgage has been made to the First Trust & Savings Bank and Louis Boisot, both of Chicago, as trustees to secure an issue of $2,000,000 gold bonds of $1,000 each, dated April 1 1908; present issue $135,000.

These bonds are due April 1 1948, but subject to call on interest periods after 60 day's notice, at 103. Interest rate for successive issues to be fixed at not exceeding 5% per annum. Amount outstanding $135,000; reserved to retire prior liens, namely, $600,000 first mortgage bonds and $35,000 equipment notes, $635,000. Reserved for extensions and improvements on conditions named in mortgage, $1,200,000. Interest payable Oct. 1 and April 1 at office of trustee.—V. 78, p. 2386.

Wetzel & Tyler (Electric) RR.—Sold.—The property of this company in Tyler County, W. Va., it is stated, was recently purchased at judicial sale by H. W. McCoy of Sistersville, W. Va., for $15,644, the amount of a judgment entered in United States Court.—V. 83, p. 157.

Washington Traction Co.—Sale To-day.—This trolley line, extending from Springfield to South Charleston, Ohio, a distance of 14 miles, and projected to Chillicothe, a distance of about 54 miles, it is said, will be offered at receiver's sale to-day.—V. 85, p. 1463.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

American Pipe Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia.—Offering of $1,000,000 5% Collateral Trust Certificates.—The company is offering at par and accrued interest the unsold portion of $1,000,000 of its own 5% collateral trust certificates issued by the Girard Trust Co. of Philadelphia, trustee, and secured by $1,250,000 of bonds of subsidiary companies. The proceeds will be used for general corporate purposes.

An official circular says in substance:

These certificates are secured by a deposit with the trustee of $1,250,000 of bonds owned, which are valued at $1,250,000; also by an agreement to redeem $50,000 of the trust certificates on Oct. 1 in each year until Oct. 1 1926 at 102½ and accrued interest.

The company has the privilege of further redeeming at 102½ and accrued interest, at any interest period after Oct. 1 1908, any portion of the collateral trust certificates then outstanding.

These trust certificates offer an exceptional oportunity for investment: The fluctuation in prices and profits to which business generally is liable seldom occurs in water works, as the earnings are not affected to any appreciable extent by dull times.

These certificates are free from tax in Pennsylvania. Compare V. 86, p. 479.

American Steel Foundries.—Deposits—Meeting Adjourned Till June 4.—There has been deposited with the Guaranty Trust Co. about 90% of the capital stock in furtherance of the readjustment plan. The share holders' meeting has been adjourned to June 4.—V. 86, p. 1045, 796.

American Tobacco Co.—Extra Dividend Increysed to 5%.—The directors on Wednesday declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2½% and 5% extra on the $40,242,400 common stock, payable June 1 to holders of record May 15, as against

Armour Packing Co., New Jersey.—Reduction of Capital Stock.—The company on May 2 filed a certificate of decrease of capital stock from $7,500,000 to $1,000,000, the par value remaining $100 per share.

Of the $7,500,000 stock, $5,441,600 was owned by J. Ogden Armour, $500,000 was held by him as trustee and $1,557,900 was owned by Charles W. Armour, who is President of the company, the remaining $500 stock being held by five persons, one share each.—V. 83, p. 494, 971.

Austin City (Tex.) Telephone Co.—Foreclosure of Mortgages Made by Independent Companies.—The "Cleveland Finance" of May 2 said:

Attorney Barton Griffith left Thursday for Texas for the purpose of foreclosing the mortgages on three independent telephone companies of that State. The companies are the Austin City Telephone Co., the Bell County Telephone Co. and the Williamson County Telephone Co. Each of the companies has bond issues of about $125,000, each of which is secured by mortgages on their property deposited with the Columbia Savings & Trust Co., as trustee. Recently the companies have defaulted on the interest and the bondholders have asked the bank to foreclose. It is believed that steps will be taken to have receivers appointed for the properties.

Bell County (Tex.) Telephone Co.—Foreclosure.—See Austin City Telephone Co. above.

Bituminous Coal Companies.—Western Situation.—An editorial in the "Engineering and Mining Journal" of New York on May 2 said in substance:

The coal situation in the West has been gradually adjusting itself, as was anticipated. The most important step was taken at the Toledo conference, where Indiana, Ohio and the Pittsburgh district of Pennsylvania were represented. A joint agreement was reached (V. 86, p. 1041), providing for a continuance of the old mining rates for two years, until April 1 1910. The important point is that this is an inter-State agreement, going back to the former rule, which gave way to the separate district agreements two years ago. The miners are now voting on the new contract, but there is no doubt of its adoption. Some local points remain to be settled in the district conferences, but mining is resumed everywhere under the terms of the Toledo agreement.

The Illinois operators refused to join in the conference, and in that State the discussion between miners and employers is still going on. There are three points of difference. The resumption in other States, however, has hastened the Illinois negotiations, and the latest news is that an agreement has been adopted and submitted to vote.

In Iowa an agreement has been made which extends the old scale for a year, and work has been generally resumed. In the Southwest the old mining scales have also been extended for two years. An important point in the new Sotuhwestern contract is a provision for a board of arbitration similar to the Anthracite Conciliation Board—which is to act on any differences which may arise under the contract.

Except in Illinois, there is now no obstacle to mining arising from labor disputes. The demand for coal has been light, notwithstanding the temporary stoppage of mining, and production is generally restricted.—V. 86, p. 1041.

A. Booth & Co., Chicago.—Dividends Hereafter to Be Paid Quarterly.—At the annual meeting on May 5 it was announced that the dates of the dividend payment had been changed. Dividends on the preferred stock at the rate of 8%, heretofore semi-annual, will be paid quarterly on the first of June, Sept., Dec. and March of each year. The dividends on the common stock will be 3%, payable quarterly instead of annually, the dividend dates being the same as for the preferred stock.—V. 85, p. 795, 791.

Boston Rubber Shoe Co.—Sale of Guaranteed Refunding Bonds.—See United States Rubber Co. below.

Central Georgia Power Co.—Contract Awarded.—J. G. White & Co., Inc., of New York, have been awarded the contract for engineering and constructing a complete hydro-electric plant, with transmission lines, sub-stations, &c., for the Central Georgia Power Co. This plant will be built on the Ocmulgee River, about 36 miles above Macon, Ga., supplying power to that point and to other points in the vicinity. The normal capacity of the plant will probably be 12,500 K. W., generated by water wheels under a 100-foot head. The crest of the dam will probably be 750 feet.

The company was incorporated in Georgia on March 4 1907 as the Bibb Power Co.; the present name was adopted in Jan. last. On March 21 1908 the Georgia authorities sanctioned an issue of $16,000,000 bonds and $20,000,000 capital stock. A syndicate headed by A. B. Leach & Co. of New York, it is stated, has undertaken to finance the enterprise. The President is W. J. Masse, President of the Macon (Ga.) Railway & Light Co. The other officers are: John C. Walker, Vice President; M. Felton Hatcher, Secretary, and J. T. Moore, Treasurer. The first development, it is thought, will cost about $1,850,000. The ultimate development is expected to exceed 100,000 horse-power.

Dividends at the rate of at least 5% have been paid since 1890, and the $800,000 stock was recently placed on a 7% basis. This company does the entire electric lighting and power business of Brockton, Whitman and East Bridgewater, serving an estimated population of 62,000. In addition, it furnishes current to the Stoughton Gas & Electric Co. and has arranged to supply power to the Electric Light & Power Co. of Abington and Rockland. Compare V. 86, p. 1103.

Home Telephone Co., Joplin, Mo.—Offering of $100,000 Notes.—The Theodore Gary Investment Co., Macon, Mo., is offering a block of this company's $100,000 6% collateral notes issued in multiples of $700 at 6% and running for three to five years.

Each $700 note is secured by $1,000 of the 5% mortgage gold bonds of the company, dated July 1 1905 and due July 1 1925; total authorized bond issue, $750,000, of which $510,000 is "outstanding" (including $72,000 reserved to retire prior liens), but of this amount $180,000 is owned by the company. Capital stock authorized: common, $675,000; preferred 6% cumulative, $75,000; issued, $250,000 common and all the preferred; par, $100. Theodore Gary, Macon, Mo., is President. Compare bond offering in V. 81, p. 1103.

Nassau Light & Power Co., Roslyn, &c., Long Island, N. Y.—Bonds Offered.—N. W. Halsey & Co., New York, Chicago, &c., are offering for sale by advertisement on another page $547,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each (c*), dated Oct. 1 1907 and due Oct. 1 1927. Interest payable April 1 and Oct. 1 at Metropolitan Trust Co., trustee, New York. Total authorized issue, $1,000,000; outstanding, the aforesaid $547,000. A circular says in substance:

This issue is secured by an absolute first mortgage on the entire property, costing more than $1,300,000. The replacement value is estimated by Messrs. J. G. White & Co. at $1,100,000. No additional bonds can be issued except for improvements, and then only when authorized by the Public Service Commission.

The company owns and controls practically the entire electric light and power business of Nassau County, Long Island, N. Y., serving a territory of about 150 square miles, distant 11 to 28 miles from New York City Hall, with a population (New York State census) of about 41,346 in 1905. Its new steam turbine power house is located on the water front at Glenwood, L. I., and has a capacity of 5,000 horse power; equipment of the most approved design. Franchises are without burdensome conditions, and all long term, most of them running until 1950. Capital stock authorized, $1,000,000; issued, $969,000.

Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Ltd., Montreal.—New Securities—Special Dividend to Common Stockholders.—Preferred stockholders of record April 30 are offered the privilege of subscribing at the Royal Trust Co. of Montreal, on or before May 15, for $1,000,000 common stock of the company at par, holders of thirty shares and under, to the extent of one share of common for each share of preferred held by them, and holders of over thirty shares for one share of common on account of each two shares of preferred held.

The foregoing privilege is granted in accordance with the financial plan approved by the shareholders on April 6, which, in effect, is as follows:

(1) Make a first mortgage on the new mill and elevator at Fort William to secure an issue of $750,000 6% bonds to provide additional working capital, these bonds "to run concurrently with the existing $1,000,000 6% first mortgage bonds" (these last being due 30 years from June 1902 and subject to call at 115 and interest after June 1912; interest June 1 and Dec. 1.—Ed.).

(2) Increase the common stock from $1,250,000 to $2,500,000, par of shares $100.

(3) Under special agreement, sell pro rata to the holders of the $2,000,000 7% preferred $1,000,000 of the new stock at par.

(4) Distribute this $1,000,000 so received as a cash dividend of 80%, along with the remaining $250,000 common stock (i. e., 20% in stock, making 100% in all) to the holders of the $1,250,000 common stock.

President C. R. Hosmer explained the plan substantially as follows:

Since the present company was formed in 1902, the aggregate net profits for the six years has amounted to $2,856,514, which, after payment of 6% interest on bonds and dividends on preferred and common stock (both classes having received of late 7% per annum.—Ed.), left a balance of $1,503,765, which has gone into the company. In view of the fact that the common stock has earned during the six years under review an average of 25% under the old basis, or say 12½% under the new, while last year the net was equal to 17% on the $2,500,000, it was felt that the preferred shareholders were securing a valuable privilege. The insurable value of the property in 1902 amounted to $1,295,000, while at present it amounts to $2,871,451.

Pennsylvania & Western Coal Co.—Proposition.—See Consolidated Railway & Light Co. of Delaware under "Railroads" above.

Security Investment Co., Pittsburgh.—Plan.—A plan for the extension of the company's debt and the protection of its interest in Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. was recently issued under date of March 6 1908 by the following:

Depositaries.—Fidelity Title & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh; The Equitable Trust Co. of New York; The National Shawmut Bank of Boston.

This plan provides in substance as follows:

Extension of Not Exceeding Three Years for Well-Secured Notes and Claims.

Creditors, the value of whose collateral approximately equals or exceeds the face amount of their notes or claims, will receive in exchange for the existing notes or claims, new notes dated May 1 1908 for the same principal amount, secured by the same collateral, or, in the case of note-holders, at their option, may sign a written extension of their present notes endorsed thereon and assent to the terms of this plan. Such new or extended notes shall mature at the end of such period, not exceeding three years from May 1 1908, as will in the judgment of the committee enable the company to liquidate such collateral to reasonable advantage.

New Five-Year Notes for All Other Creditors.—Other creditors, both secured and unsecured, are to receive in exchange for the existing notes or claims new notes for the same principal amount, dated May 1 1908, maturing five years from date. In so far as the present notes and claims are secured by collateral, the new notes are to be secured by the same collateral as the existing notes and claims.

Interest 5% Yearly (Cumulative) Payable in so far as Income from Collateral Will Permit—On Unsecured Notes from Surplus Income.—All said "extension notes," whether issued in exchange for existing notes or claims or extended by written agreement, are to be subject to the following provisions:

1. The interest upon the extension notes shall be payable, from the respective dates to which interest was paid upon the old notes or claims, at the rate of 5% per annum on May 1 and Nov. 1 of each year, but only in so far as the income upon the securities deposited for the security thereof, respectively, will permit. The interest upon the extension notes shall, however, be a cumulative charge against the collateral pledged for the payment thereof respectively and against the company. The interest upon the unsecured extension notes shall be payable only from the surplus income of the company after the payment of all the interest of the new notes hereinafter mentioned, but shall be a cumulative charge against the co.

Extension Notes to Be Redeemed with Surplus Income—Also Callable upon Sale of Collateral.

2. The income received from the collateral securing each secured extension note shall be applied, first, to the payment of the interest upon such note semi-annually, and, second, to the reduction of the principal of such note, and, if after the payment of such interest and principal, there shall be any surplus, the same shall be paid to the company.

3. The company shall have the right to retire any extension note at any time by paying the principal thereof and interest to date of payment. The collateral may at any time be sold at such prices as the board of directors may determine, but not without the consent of the note-holder, unless the sale be either (a) for an aggregate amount at least sufficent to pay such note in full with interest, or (b) in case of sale at one time of less than all of the collateral for any note, at prices which, in the unrestricted judgment of the board, will permit of the payment of the balance of such note with interest by means of the sale of the balance of the collateral.

4. Any stock of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. which is security for any note now outstanding shall forthwith be deposited with the depositaries hereunder, but such stock shall continue to be security for the same notes or claims, respectively, for which it is now pledged, or for the extension notes issued in exchange therefor. The company, acting by its board of directors, two-thirds of whom shall be approved by the committee as hereinafter provided, is to have the right to vote all the stock deposited as aforesaid, and the committee is authorized to enter into such agreements for the surrender of said stock and the acceptance and deposit of new securities in lieu thereof as may be deemed advisable in connection with any readjustment of the affairs of the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co.

5. At the end of said five years, all the free assets in the possession of the company, including any surplus collateral remaining after payment of any extension notes and new notes hereinafter mentioned, shall be used for the pro rata payment of the principal and interest of the unsecured notes, and of the secured extension notes and new notes in so far as provision shall not have been made for the payment thereof out of collateral specifically pledged therefor. Interest on any notes not paid out of income shall become due and payable at, but not before, the maturity or payment of the notes respectively.

Not over $3,000,000 New Five-Year Notes to Protect Company's Interest in Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.

For the purpose of enabling the company to make subscriptions to any new issue of capital stock or securities of the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., or to take any other steps which, in the unqualified discretion of the committee, may seem necessary for the protection of the company's interest in the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., creditors of the company who hold stock in the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. as collateral are to subscribe (1), either for new notes of the Security Investment Co. to be created as hereinafter provided, or (2) at their option, through the company, for "assenting" stock in the Wesinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. or such new stock or securities as may be issued in connection with any reorganization of said company, the stock or securities so subscribed for to be deposited for five years from May 1 1908, subject to an agreement, with respect to the right to vote thereon and the exchange thereof for new securities, conforming so far as practicable to the provisions of paragraph "4" above, but to remain the property of the subscribers, respectively.

The issue of said new notes shall not exceed in the aggregate $3,000,000. Such notes shall be payable in five years from May 1 1908, and bear interest from May 1 1908, payable semi-annually at the rate of 5% per annum, if earned (which interest, however, shall be a cumulative charge against the collateral pledged therefor and against the company), and shall be secured by the new stock of the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., or other stock or securities, which shall be purchased with the proceeds of said notes, to an amount which it is assumed at present will be equal in par value to the par value of the new notes issued, and by such of the unpledged stocks, bonds and securities belonging to the company as the committee may deem to be available. The new notes will be issued in amount of $1,000 each, and for fractional amounts equal to the installments paid on subscriptions.

The new notes, or the shares of "assenting" stock or other stock or securities which may be taken by the subscribers at their option as aforesaid, are to be subscribed for at par by the present creditors of the company having Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co.'s stock as collateral, to amounts, respectively, equal to 25% of such stock so held by them as collateral.

Management of the Company.

The board of directors of the Security Investment Co. shall be increased to nine members, and provision satisfactory to the committee shall be made to the end that, so long as any of said new notes or extension notes remain outstanding and unpaid, six of the members of said board of directors shall be persons approved in writing by the committee.

(The committee, which is composed of the same persons as the present Creditors' Committee of the company, endorses strongly the plan of readjustment proposed for the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. by the "Merchandise Creditors' Committee. Compare V. 86, p. 922, 1105.)

A statement as to the financial condition of the Security Investment Co. will be found on a preceding page under "Annual Reports."—V. 86, p. 1104, 550.

(C. A.) Smith Timber Co. of Marshfield, Ore.—Offering of 6% Guaranteed Bonds.—Charles L. Poole & Co., Chicago, are offering at par and interest the unsold portion of an issue of $3,000,000 6% first mortgage gold bonds, guaranteed, principal and interest, by C. A. Smith of Minneapolis, who "is one of the largest individual owners of timber lands in the United States and also one of the largest and most successful manufacturers of white pine lumber in the North, at Minneapolis, Minn." Denomination $1,000 and $500 (c*). Bonds are dated April 1 1908 and mature in semi-annual installments as follows: Oct. 1 1909 to Oct. 1 1910, $100,000; April 1 1911 to Oct. 1 1916, $200,000; April 1 1917, $300,000; also subject to call on any interest period upon 60 days' notice at 103 and interest. Principal and interest payable at Central Trust Co. of Illinois, trustee, Chicago.

A circular says in part:

This mortgage is a first lien on 156,200 acres of virgin timber lands well located in California and Oregon; also two large saw-mills located at Marshfield, Ore., on Coos Bay, one of the best harbors on the Pacific Coast. The greater part of the proceeds of the bond issue will be used to build two large lumber-manufacturing plants and standard-gauge railroads in connection with the timber lands in California; all of this acquired property becomes subject to the lien of these bonds. The balance of the proceeds is to be used to retire floating debt. The value of the standing timber at a conservative appraisal is $10,699,942, or more than 3½ times the amount of this bond issue, without taking into account the mill properties at Coos Bay, costing over $400,000, or the additional railroad and mill properties to be constructed. The net worth of the guarantor is many times the amount of this bond issue.

The mortgage requires a deposit with the trustee of $3 per 1,000 feet, log scale, for all timber cut and manufactured into lumber, to be applied to the payment of the principal only on a basis which will operate to retire all of the bonds before consuming 15% of the standing timber.

Abstract of Letter from Pres. C.A. Smith, Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 28 1908.

The C. A. Smith Timber Co. is incorporated under the laws of Oregon for $3,500,000, fully paid up. Its general office is at Marshfield, Ore. Officers are: C. A. Smith, President, Minneapolis; J. E. Oren, Vice-Pres., Marshfield, Ore.; C. L. Trabert, Secretary, Minneapolis; A. H. Powers Treasurer, Marshfield, Ore.

This company owns the lands covered by the bond issue of $3,000,000, constituting about 145,600 acres, containing, I am satisfied, considerably more timber than is here shown, viz.:

| Acres. | County and State. | Feet. | | Est. Value. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 30,800 | Humboldt, Cal. | 1,800,000,000 | redwood | $3,600,000 |
| 47,200 | El Dorado, Cal. | 1,100,000,000 | sugar and white pine | 2,200,000 |
| 57,000 | Coos and Douglas, Ore. | 5,100,000,000 | fir, spruce, &c. | 5,100,000 |
| 10,600 | Lincoln, Ore. | | | |
| 145,600 | acres. | 8,000,000,000 | feet. | $10,900,000 |

A 30-year contract has been entered into wherein the C. A. Smith Lumber & Manufacturing Co. agrees to cut of the timber covered by the bond issue at least 50 million feet a year and pay to the C. A. Smith Timber Co. on a basis of $5 50 per 1,000 for Port Orford cedar and $2 75 per 1,000 for spruce, fir and other timber during this year with an advance of 50 cents and 25 cents per 1,000 respectively each year.

The C. A. Smith Lumber & Manufacturing Co. was organized with $750,000 capital, all paid in, to be purely a manufacturing and mercantile company. A small mill, which is covered by the bond issue, was purchased about a year ago and has been manufacturing from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 feet per month. A new mill and a complete lumber manufacturing plant has since been completed at a cost of upwards of $400,000. This plant is also covered by the bond issue. A distributing yard is being put in on Suisan Bay near San Francisco and a steamer has been built at a cost of $300,000 by this company with a carrying capacity of 2,250,000 feet to carry the product to the distributing yard. This company also owns two-thirds interest in the Smith-Powers Logging Co., which is incorporated with a paid-up capital of $150,000 for the exclusive purpose of logging and delivery the timber covered by the contract between the C. A. Smith Timber Co. and the C. A. Smith Lumber & Mfg. Co. I firmly believe that the C. A. Smith Lumber & Mfg. Co. will be able to deliver the lumber at the distributing yard, paying all expenses for transportation, manufacturing, logging and for the timber as per above agreement, at a net cost of less than $8 per 1,000 feet. At the lowest price which, as I understand has ever prevailed in California for fir and spruce, this lumber should average not less than $12 per thousand feet, and at a fair average price, from $15 to $18 per 1,000 feet.

With the exception of a small interest owned by the men directly connected with the management of the C. A. Smith Lumber & Mfg. Co., I am the sole owner, as I am also of the C. A. Smith Timber Co. I also own other large tracts of timber in Oregon and California which are not covered by the bond issue, but located largely in the same territories. I am also the principal owner of the C. A. Smith Lumber Co. and the C. A. Smith Timber Co. of Minneapolis, two very successful companies, and have interests in other manufacturing and mercantile companies, banks, &c.

The proceeds of the bonds will be used exclusively for the payment of the floating debts as far as may be necessary, and principally for the building of two other lumbering plants with necessary railroads for the manufacturing of the timber covered by the bond issue. This bond issue will also be a first lien on the new lumbering plants and railroad above referred to.

Toledo Coal & Clay Co.—Stock Again Reduced.—There has been a further reduction in the capital stock from $140,000 to $20,000.—V. 84, p. 1372.

Union Electric Light & Power Co. of St. Louis, Mo.—Bonds Offered.—N. W. Harris & Co., New York and Boston, and the Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, are offering by advertisement on another page, at 93½ and interest, netting the investor about 5½%, $2,500,000 "refunding and extension" mortgage 5% bonds, dated May 1 1908 and due May 1 1933, but redeemable at 110 and interest on and after May 1 1918 on any interest-payment date. Denomination $1,000 (c*). Bankers' Trust Co., New York, and Breckinridge Jones, St. Louis, trustees.

Abstract of letter from Vice-President C. W. Wetmore. April 30 1908.

Referring to your purchase of "refunding and extension mortgage" bonds, this company was organized in 1903, being a consolidation of several then existing electric light and power companies operating in St. Louis. In December 1907 the Laclede Power Co. was acquired, and the Union Electric Light & Power Co. now controls the entire central station light and power business of the city, with the exception of the electric business of the Laclede Gas Light Co., which is relatively unimportant. The population served is in excess of 720,000.

|---|---|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $2,905,972 | Annual bond int., incl. int. on $5,500,000 "ref. and ext. mtge. bonds" | $781,000 |
| Operating expenses and taxes | 1,410,847 | | |
| Net earnings | $1,495,125 | Surp. over bond int. | $714,125 |

The actual bond interest charge during the current year will be less than $781,000, owing to part of the "refunding and extension mortgage" bonds having been outstanding for less than a year.

| $2,855,417 | $2,242,482 | $1,573,348 | $1,571,041 | $1,422,896 |

Dividends at the rate of 5% were paid last year and during the present year are being paid at the rate of 6% on $9,885,000 outstanding stock.

Capitalization.

To develop the rapidly growing business field by extensive additions and improvements and to provide for the refunding at maturity of the present mortgage debt, the company has increased its authorized capital stock from $10,000,000 to $18,000,000, and has authorized an issue of $50,000,000 "refunding and extension mortgage" 5% 25-year gold bonds.

| Capital stock outstanding (dividends at the rate of 6% are being paid thereon) | | *$9,885,000 |
| Mortgage debt (total amount outstanding)— | | |
| "Refunding and extension mortgage" 5% bonds due May 1 1933 (present issue) | $5,500,000 | |
| Reserved to refund a like amount of underlying bonds | 10,000,000 | $15,500,000 |

"Refunding & Exten. Mtge." Bonds—Status and Purposes for which Issuable.

Subject to the underlying bonds above mentioned, the "refunding and extension mortgage bonds" are, in opinion of counsel, secured by a first lien on all the property, franchises, etc., now or hereafter acquired.

Of the present issue of $5,500,000 bonds, $3,000,000 will be deposited with the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., as trustee, to provide for the payment at maturity of $3,000,000 collateral trust notes maturing Jan. 15 1909 (see V. 86, p. 725, 1046). The proceeds of the remaining $2,500,000 bonds will be used to pay floating debt incurred for improvements and extensions. Of the unissued bonds, $10,000,000 bonds are reserved to retire a like amount of underlying bonds. The remaining $34,500,000 bonds will only be issued from time to time to an amount not exceeding 85% of the cost of extensions and permanent improvements, upon the further condition that the net earnings for the previous year shall have been at least 50% in excess of the interest on all bonds outstanding (including underlying bonds) together with those proposed to be issued.

Plant, Equipment and Franchises.

This company has one of the most complete, modern and efficient electrical plants in the United States. The principal generating station, costing approximately $5,000,000, was not completed until the latter part of 1906; it has a present rated generating capacity of 50,000 h.p., which can be increased to an ultimate capacity of 100,000 h.p. The company has also in operation another river-side plant of approximately 9,000 h.p. Another plant of 5,000 h.p. is held in reserve. The company has five modern sub-stations, advantageously located, and three large storage batteries. The downtown business district is served exclusively through underground conduits, and a large area outside of this section is served in the same manner, the remainder of the city being covered by substantial overhead lines.

The franchises are, in the opinion of counsel, unlimited as to time, except in the "underground district," where the franchises run until 1940. The subways or conduits in the underground district may, on appraisal, be purchased by the city after 1911.

The equity in the property, in my judgment, exceeds the par value of the capital stock ($9,885,000) over and above all outstanding bonds, including the present issue of $5,500,000 of "refunding and extension mortgage" bonds.—V. 86, p. 1046.

Union Paper Co.—Mortgage.—A mortgage for $100,000, it is stated, has been made to the Morton Trust Co., as trustee, under authority granted last fall.

United States Coal & Oil Co.—Option to Subscribe.—Stockholders of record May 12, it is stated, have the right to subscribe on or before May 20 for $1,500,000 of the new 6% bonds dated May 15 to the extent of $500 of bonds for each 40 shares of new stock, which is equivalent to 80 shares of old stock. Subscriptions are payable 50% May 20 and 50% June 20. Compare V. 86, p. 921, 803.

United States Rubber Co.—Offering of 5% Guaranteed Debentures Replacing Bonds due Aug. 1 1908.—This company's subsidiary, the Boston Rubber Shoe Co., is issuing $4,500,000 gold debenture 5% bonds, dated June 1 1908, due Sept. 15 1910, to replace the unpaid balance of an issue of $5,000,000 similar bonds dated 1898 and due Aug. 1 1908. Interest due March 15 and Sept. 15. The bonds are the sole obligation of the Boston Rubber Shoe Co., which has plants at Malden and Melrose valued at $2,500,000, and quick assets amounting to nearly $5,000,000. The new bonds are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the United States Rubber Co., and are further protected by indenture, under which the Boston Rubber Shoe Co. agrees:

(1) No mortgage shall be placed upon the property without securing these bonds thereunder. (2) No further bonds shall be issued without the consent of four-fifths of the holders of these bonds. (3) During the life of these bonds the company shall have quick assets sufficient to pay all its debts.

A large part of these bonds having been taken by the holders of the maturing notes, the balance is being offered at 98½, to net 5¾%, by Curtis & Sanger, Kidder, Peabody & Co. and Estabrook & Co.—V. 86, p. 863.

Vulcan Detinning Co.—Report.—The report for the year ending March 31 1908 shows a surplus—after deducting depreciation and betterments, also dividends of 3¾% ($56,250) on the preferred stock—amounting to $15,581. This compares with a surplus of $20,366 in the preceding year, when dividends of 5½% ($77,500) were paid. The total surplus March 31 1908 was $389,374, against $373,793 on March 31 1907.—V. 85, p. 1649.

Williamson County (Tex.) Telephone Co.—Foreclosure.—See Austin City Telephone Co. above.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JANUARY 31 1908.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 22 1908.

To the Stockholders of the General Electric Company:

|---|---|
| The profits of your company for the year ending January 31st 1908 (including $9,778 93 from securities sold and $1,010,961 63 from royalties, dividends, bond interest, readjustment in Stocks and Bonds Account, and Sundry Profits), after deducting all patent, general and miscellaneous expenses, and allowances for depreciation and losses, and writing off $3,745,989 06 from Factory Plants (see page 1166), were | $6,586,653 37 |
| Paid in dividends during the year | 5,183,614 00 |
| Carried to Surplus Account | $1,403,039 37 |
| Surplus at the end of last fiscal year | 15,110,796 77 |
| Total surplus January 31 1908 | $16,513,836 14 |

Late in the year there was a sudden and severe shrinkage in the value of all merchandise and materials used by your company, notably copper. All said materials, whether raw, manufactured, or in process of manufacture, which were on hand January 31st 1908, were inventoried at the lower prices then prevailing. The book value of such inventories was thereby reduced by about $2,000,000.

In valuing the Notes and Accounts Receivable, in amount the largest in your company's history, great care has been exercised and liberal reserves have been established to provide for possible losses thereon. These reserves, and allowances for depreciation of factory plants, and the shrinkage in inventory values have greatly reduced the profits of your Company. As a result the amount in excess of dividends upon its share capital which is carried forward to surplus account is relatively small. During the year all the assets and liabilities of the Stanley G. I. Electric Manufacturing Company, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, were taken over by your Company, and the factories owned by that Company at Pittsfield are now a part of the factory plants of your Company. In this practical liquidation of the Stanley Company there has been a considerable shrinkage in the valuation of its factory properties, inventories and other assets, thus adding to the otherwise large depletion in the profits for the year.

In view of the then great expansion in business, your directors deemed it wise, early in 1907, to provide for future development at some point nearer the Central West, in preference to further a enlargement of the plants at Schenectady and Lynn.

For this purpose the unencumbered fee of about 700 acres of land adjacent to the City of Erie, Pa., was purchased at a cost, including engineering and other expenses, of $232,301 53. In view of the existing depression, the erection of buildings thereon is deferred for the present.

The various securities included in the Stocks and Bonds account of your company have been carefully re-valued, item by item, with the result that the book value thereof has been fixed at $18,000,089 85.

The Financial Report of the Treasurer and General Auditor, and reports of the Vice-Presidents in charge of the Manufacturing and Selling Departments, are submitted herewith. There are also appended to this report the certificate of the Public Accountants, and the Consolidated Balance Sheet of the Affiliated Companies.

The past year has been one in which the energies of all the departments of the company have been taxed to their utmost, and in which the pressure upon the department heads has been particularly severe. The arduous and effective work done by them is worthy of the highest commendation.

By order of the Board.

C. A. COFFIN, President.

REPORT UPON SALES.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 21 1908.

C. A. Coffin, Esq., President General Electric Company.

SALES AND ORDERS.

|---|---|
| Total Sales Billed | $70,977,168 |
| Total Orders Received | $59,301,040 |

| Years ending January 31 | Sales Billed. | Orders Received |
| 1903 | $36,685,598 | $39,944,454 |
| 1904 | 41,699,617 | 39,060,038 |
| 1905 | 39,231,328 | 35,094,807 |
| 1906 | 43,146,902 | 50,044,272 |
| 1907 | 60,071,883 | 60,183,659 |
| 1908 | 70,977,168 | 59,301,040 |

"Orders Received" include only apparatus manufactured by the General Electric Company, and do not include such items as services of experts, labor of installation, freight and transportation, supply material, boilers, engines, etc., of outside manufacture, and bare copper wire.

All these items are included in "Sales Billed."

In the ten-year period ending January 31 1908, Sales Billed have increased from $12,396,093 to $70,977,168, an average increase of 19.8% per year.

Sales Billed during the year 1907 increased 18.2% over the previous year.

Orders Received during the first six months of the fiscal year—February 1 to July 31 1907—increased 22% over the corresponding period of the year 1906. Owing, however, to the disturbed financial conditions prevailing during the latter part of the year, Orders Received for the second six months of the fiscal year decreased 23% as compared with the previous year.

Since November last there has been a heavy decrease of Orders Received as compared with the past three years.

|---|---|
| The total number of separate orders and contracts received during the year was | 237,006 |
| an average per week of | 4,558 |

Among many important orders received during the year are:

Great Western Power Company, San Francisco, Cal., three water wheel generators, 10,000 Kw. each, together with the necessary transformers and other electrical apparatus for transmitting current at 100,000 volts from its power house on the Feather River to Oakland, Cal., a distance of about 165 miles.

The Central Colorado Power Company, Colorado Springs, Colo.; four 5,000 Kw. Generators and other electrical apparatus for water power development at Glenwood Springs on the Grand River, the electrical energy to be transmitted throughout the central portion of the State for mining, general power, lighting and railway service.

The Detroit River Tunnel Company, a subsidiary of the Michigan Central Railway Company; apparatus for equipment of the Detroit Tunnel under the St. Clair River. The contract includes several 1,000 Kw. motor-generator sets with accessories and six 100-ton locomotives, each equipped with four 250 H.P. motors.

The Great Northern Railway, for electrification of the Cascade Tunnel; water wheel generators and 100-ton locomotives each equipped with four 250 H.P. alternating current motors giving a continuous output of 1,000 H.P. per locomotive.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, for electrification of its surburban lines in Oakland and Alameda, Cal.; forty-four four-motor equipments with Sprague-General Electric control. The motors are 125 H.P. each.

The Hudson Tunnels Company; the turbine-generators, rotary converters, motors and controlling apparatus for complete electrical equipment of its system of tunnels under the Hudson River connecting New Jersey and Manhattan. A portion of this system was put into successful operation on February 25th 1908 and regular service is now maintained between 19th Street (6th Avenue) New York City and Hoboken, N. J.

The West Jersey & Sea Shore RR. Co., a branch line of the Pennsylvania Railroad running from Camden to Atlantic City mentioned in last year's report has maintained its record of satisfactory operation and orders for additional equipment have been received during the past year to provide for the increased traffic.

The New York Central & Hudson R. RR. Co. is now operating in its New York City Terminal 35 electric locomotives of our manufacture, each equipped with four 550 H.P. direct current motors. Twelve additional locomotives have recently been ordered, making a total of 47 locomotives purchased from us by this Company.

The use of electrical apparatus for industrial purposes is extending rapidly and large purchases of our apparatus have been made during the year for completely equipping mills with turbine and engine-driven generators for lighting and power, and with motors of standard and special designs for driving machinery of every description.

Orders for supplies, such as meters, transformers, arc lamps, wiring devices, electric heating devices, repair parts of electrical apparatus, etc., show an increase over last year. Our list of supplies comprises upwards of 50,000 items, separately catalogued and priced. In addition to the large stock of finished product carried at the several points of manufacture, we maintain fourteen warehouses in various cities from which shipments to the value of over $6,000,000 were made during the year.

1,200-VOLT DIRECT CURRENT SYSTEM.

To meet the requirements of interurban railways where a potential higher than 600 volts is desirable and the conditions are unfavorable to the adoption of the single phase alternating current system we have developed a high voltage direct current railway system to operate at 1,200 volts. Two roads have been operating under this system for several months with entire success. Equipment for several additional roads of this character is in process of installation.

THE CURTIS STEAM TURBINE.

The Curtis steam turbine continues to give excellent service and the confidence of users is evidenced by numerous additional orders for existing installations.

|---|---|
| The total number of Curtis turbines shipped to date is | 969 |
| having a total capacity of | 1,086,000 H.P. |
| Orders were received during the year for turbines aggregating | 380,000 H.P. |

We now have in process of manufacture for the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago and the New York

Edison Company a number of turbine-generators of 14,000 Kw. capacity each, which will be the largest steam driven electrical units ever produced.

INCANDESCENT LAMPS.

The consumption of carbon filament lamps has steadily increased during the year, and with our enlarged capacity we are prepared to take care of the demand. In addition we have received large orders for different types of high efficiency metal filament lamps, first consideration being given to such sizes and types as will aid central lighting stations in providing for the requirements of their customers and the extension of their business.

FOREIGN BUSINESS.

The business of our Foreign Department has been well maintained.

ORGANIZATION.

In addition to the several Departments at the General Office in Schenectady, we maintain fully equipped Local Offices in Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco, supplemented by Resident Agents in 22 other cities.

I desire to express my appreciation and commendation of the excellent work of the Department and Local Office Managers and Agents during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

J. R. LOVEJOY, Vice-President.

REPORT UPON MANUFACTURING AND ENGINEERING.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 21 1908.

C. A. Coffin, Esq., President, General Electric Company.

Sir:—I submit the following report on manufacturing and engineering for the fiscal year ending January 31st 1908:

MANUFACTURING.

Expenditures aggregating $6,350,576 74 have been made during the year for real estate, erection of new factory buildings, extensions to existing buildings, additional machinery, patterns, special tools, fixtures, etc.

The increase in expenditures mentioned above over previous years is due to including the expenditures made during the year upon the Pittsfield plant, and to the urgent demand for largely increased manufacturing facilities to properly care for our business, which rose from $40,000,000 for the year ending January 31 1904 to $60,000,000 for the year ending January 31 1907, and culminated in an annual rate of $75,000,000 during the first quarter of the fiscal year just ended. Our unfilled orders as of January 31 1907, had also reached $28,000,000, and deliveries were generally unsatisfactory.

Since the beginning of the business depression expenditures for plants have been limited to those needed to complete extensions already far advanced or to those which were clearly necessary for reasons of economy or maintenance of equipment and buildings.

The following table shows approximately the total area of floor space and the number of employees as of January 31st during the last five year:

| | Floor Space. | Employees. |
| 1904 | 3,700,000 | 17,000 |
| 1905 | 4,100,000 | 18,000 |
| 1906 | 4,350,000 | 22,500 |
| 1907 | 4,770,000 | 28,000 |
| 1908 (including Pittsfield Works, formerly Stanley-G. I. Co.) | 6,460,000 | 20,000 |

The large reduction in orders during the last quarter has resulted in greatly curtailing the working force.

SCHENECTADY WORKS.

Of the buildings mentioned in my last report as under construction, a building of 237,000 sq. ft. floor area used for the manufacture of large apparatus, a blacksmith and boiler shop of 39,000 sq. ft. of floor space, an extension to the power house of 18,000 sq. ft., a wood-working plant of 80,000 sq. ft., and an addition of 26,000 sq. ft. for the manufacture of wire and cable, a total of 400,000 sq. ft. of floor space were completed during the year.

A store house of 125,000 sq. ft. and an addition to the porcelain factory of 45,000 sq. ft., authorized early in the year, have been completed.

A building of 142,000 sq. ft. for the manufacture of wiring devices, also authorized early in the year, is nearly completed.

LYNN WORKS.

The building for the manufacture of stationary motors of 170,000 sq. ft., mentioned in my last report, was completed early last summer.

A building of 99,000 sq. ft. for the production of meters and instruments, and one of 71,000 sq. ft. to be used as a carpenter shop, pattern shop and for pattern storage, are under construction.

PITTSFIELD WORKS.

Buildings aggregating 230,000 sq. ft. for the manufacture of transformers, lightning arresters, fan motors and switches, were completed during the year and are now in use.

An iron foundry of 59,000 sq. ft. of floor space is under construction and will be completed and in operation early the coming summer.

LAMP WORKS.

(In previous reports described as Harrison Works.)

The manufacture of incandescent lamps is now carried on at Harrison and Newark, N. J., Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Toledo, O. Where "Lamp Works" is herein referred to, these several plants are included.

Increased floor space aggregating 195,000 sq. ft. has been provided during the year, and buildings of 92,870 sq. ft. of floor space are now under construction and will be completed within the next four months.

The total land area at all the Works above described is now about 515 acres.

ENGINEERING.

During the first part of the last year our engineers were fully occupied in supervising the technical details of our greatly expanded business. Upon the decline in business which followed they have had more time to devote to improvements and economies in design of our apparatus. More attention has also been given to the design of special apparatus intended to meet novel conditions and to the extension of our business along profitable lines.

The apparatus designed by our engineers for the long distance transmission of electricity has proved most reliable, economical and satisfactory in operation.

There has been a continued increase in the capacity of electric generators and transformers.

Our high tension switching apparatus has been still further improved and we have been favored with the most important orders for such installations.

The details of our steam turbine-generators have been improved, great economy and proved reliability are now assured, and the turbine-generator is now standard for all new important electrical installations where steam is utilized. We are now building turbine units of a capacity of 14,000 Kw, the largest electrical generating units ever produced. The Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago has now in operation in one station nine large turbines capable of generating a total of 103,500 Kw.

Our engineers have devoted considerable attention to the design of a line of turbine-generators for use with exhaust steam. Such steam turbines are so much more efficient than steam engines when operated by low pressure steam that they can be most usefully employed to supplement steam engines in existing installations. Their use will result in large increases in output without any increase in coal consumption.

Our single phase alternating current railway equipments have been greatly improved during the past year.

Our new direct current railway motor, mentioned in my last report, has proved so satisfactory in practical operation that it is rapidly being adopted as the standard type. It marks an important advance in economy and durability.

We have extended the range of economical operation of direct current railway apparatus by designing it for use at 1,200 volts, about double the existing standard, and have sold a number of such equipments to the Southern Pacific RR. Co.

We have sold to the Great Northern RR. Co., four 100-ton three phase electric locomotives designed to handle all trains traversing the 2½ miles of Cascade Tunnel in Washington. This installation will be especially notable as the first instance of the substitution of electricity for steam on a mountain division of one of the Continental railways. The traffic conditions are peculiarly difficult on account of the grades and tunnels. These electric locomotives, because of their increased speed and better control, will practically double the traffic capacity of the present steam locomotives. Electricity for their operation will be supplied from water power hitherto unused.

A gas-electric car which fully meets the requirements of Steam Railroad Companies for service on branch lines has been perfected. The equipment consists of a gasoline engine driving an electric generator, which furnishes current to standard railway motors. The engine and generator are located in the forward end of an especially designed car conveniently divided into passenger and baggage compartments, making a complete self-contained unit.

We have made many valuable improvements in the design of machinery for electric reduction of metals and in apparatus for various industrial applications.

We have shipped several large motors of special design of about 10,000 H.P. capacity each for driving rolling mills, and have received orders for additional equipments.

Important improvements in the design of our lines of wiring devices, rheostats, circuit breakers, switches, instruments, and other small devices, have been made during the year.

Our new tungsten incandescent lamp, which gives more than double the illumination of the carbon filament for the same expenditure of power, has been further developed and has now become a standard commercial article.

Several novel types of arc lamps of greatly improved economy have also been perfected and sold in large quantities.

It is a pleasure to call attention to the work of our engineers and factory managers which is of the highest order of ability and originality combined with unusual loyalty and devotion to the company's welfare.

Respectfully submitted,

E. W. RICE JR., Vice-President.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 21 1908.

C. A. Coffin, Esq., President, General Electric Company.

Sir—The Balance Sheet and Statement of Profit and Loss transmitted herewith—with an explanation of each item on the Balance Sheet—include the Assets and Liabilities and Profit and Loss accounts, as of January 31 1908, of the Edison General Electric, Thomson-Houston Electric and Stanley G. I. Electric Manufacturing Companies (which, for the convenience of bookkeeping, are consolidated with those of the General Electric Company). The Stanley G. I. Electric Manufacturing Company is included in this consolidated statement this year for the first time. When "the Company" is spoken of herein, all the above-mentioned corporations are included.

ASSETS.

PATENTS, FRANCHISES AND GOOD-WILL.

During the year there was expended in acquiring sundry patents, for licenses under patents, and in patent litigation, $872,345 67.

This amount has been charged to Profit and Loss, leaving the Company's patents, franchises and good-will standing at a nominal valuation of $1, the same as at January 31 1907.

FACTORY PLANTS.

This account represents the Real Estate (lands and buildings); Machinery (steam and electric plants, tools, appliances, etc.); Patterns (including drawings, etc.); and Sundries (fittings and other small property accounts) of the manufacturing plants at Schenectady, N. Y.; Lynn, Mass.; Lamp Works at Harrison, N. J., and elsewhere, and Pittsfield, Mass.

All are free from mortgage or other lien.

| On January 31 1893 the book value of the first three mentioned factory plants was | $3,958,528 21 |
| During the fifteen years from that date to January 31 1908, expenditures for land, buildings and additions to and replacement of machinery, fixtures, furniture, patterns, etc., including cost of acquiring the Pittsfield plant, have been made at a total cost of | 30,892,485 72 |
| Total | $34,851,013 93 |
| There has been written off during those fifteen years a total allowance for depreciation and replacement of | 21,951,013 93 |
| Leaving their book value at January 31 1908 | $12,900,000 00 |

Divided as follows:

|---|---|
| Schenectady Works | $7,494,876 14 |
| Lynn Works | 3,360,067 06 |
| Lamp Works | 905,056 80 |
| | $11,760,000 00 |
| Pittsfield Works | 1,140,000 00 |

REAL ESTATE.

(Other than Factory Plants.)

This account represents the investment in the Edison Building, 44 Broad Street, New York City, and sundry parcels of land in various places, mostly improved and rented, which have been acquired at various times, chiefly in payment of debts; also the tract of land recently acquired at Erie, Pa. All are free from mortgages.

COPPER MINING INVESTMENT.

This account represents the full amount invested in copper mining and milling properties at January 31 1908, of which 1,129,961 63 is represented by Capital Stock and $1,572,014 37 by advances. The principal property therein is that of the Bully Hill Copper Mining & Smelting Company, Winthrop, Shasta County, California, including an interest in a railway, and valuable mills, which have recently been put in active operation. The Assets and Liabilities of the Copper Companies are included in the Balance Sheet of the Affiliated Companies on the following page

STOCKS AND BONDS.

|---|---|---|
| Miscellaneous securities of manufacturing, patent owning, and companies, carried at one dollar for each lot | | $97 00 |
| Other stocks and bonds (total par value $17,268,001 55), described below, are carried at a book value of | | 17,999,992 85 |
| Stocks of Affiliated Companies of a total par value of $2,900,000 | $3,356,775 52 | |

As the Capital Stocks of these Companies are chiefly owned by the General Electric Company, a Consolidated Balance Sheet thereof is appended to this Report. The stock of the Stanley G. I. El. Manfg. Co., of Pittsfield is no longer carried under this heading, except at $1, for reasons stated on page 1164. The Copper-Mining investments are also shown separately this year.

| Stocks and Bonds of Security Holding Companies, viz | 5,979,250 17 | |
| United Electric Securities Company, Boston, Electrical Securities Corporation, New York, Electric Bond & Share Company, New York | | |
| Stocks and Bonds of Local Lighting and Railway Companies | 4,196,197 11 | |
| Miscellaneous Stocks and Bonds | 2,648,895 34 | |
| Stocks of Sundry Foreign Companies of a par value of $3,162,994 00 | 1,818,874 71 | |
| | $17,999,992 85 | |
| Total book value of all stocks and bonds as per Balance Sheet | | $18,000,089 85 |

Considerable profits have been realized by the Affiliated Companies, and by the Local Lighting, Railway, Selling and other Companies, which profits have been added to the surplus accounts of such Companies, excepting a small portion thereof which has been distributed in dividends.

Pursuant to the established policy of selling securities which there is no special reason for holding permanently, various stocks and bonds have been sold for cash since the last Annual Report.

Their total par value was $79,338 00.

|---|---|
| They were sold for | $66,330 19 |
| They had been carried on the books at | 56,551 26 |

NOTES AND ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE.

This account represents the total debts now due the Company.

They appear in the annexed Balance Sheet at an estimated realizable value—i. e., from their face, $31,957,999 73, there has been deducted an allowance (which is believed to be ample) of $2,100,272 89 for possible losses (see pages 0000 and 0000.)

SALES DURING THE YEAR.

The net amount of sales billed to customers during the year was $70,977,168 46.

Of some 21,000 regular customers on the accounts receivable ledgers, an increase for the year of 1,300, there were debit balances against 10,000 at the close of the fiscal year.

COLLECTIONS DURING THE YEAR.

During the year the cash collections from notes and accounts receivable were approximately $66,000,000.

On January 31 1907 the face amount of notes and accounts receivable was $27,094,347 85, all of which have been settled during the year except $3,544,586 13.

WORK IN PROGRESS.

This account does not include outlays for anything in process of manufacture at the factories, but represents expenditures for labor, materials, &c., at cost, on 546 uncompleted installations of finished apparatus in progress at various places.

MERCHANDISE INVENTORIES.

These accounts represent actual inventories—counted and valued item by item—of raw materials and goods manufactured and in process of manufacture at the factories; of shipments in transit to storerooms of local offices; of manufactured goods in storerooms of local offices; of materials in local repair shops; of office furniture and fixtures, machinery, tools, instruments, etc., in the general and local offices and in local repair shops, etc., and also of all goods on consignment.

A considerable quantity of apparatus and supplies is carried at local offices for the convenience of customers, to save time in delivery from factories and to save freight on individual shipments to customers by having them shipped in car-load lots to local office storerooms.

Active selling finished and partly finished apparatus and supplies have been valued at estimated factory cost; inactive or slow selling apparatus and supplies at about 50% of estimated factory cost; and obsolete apparatus and supplies at scrap value.

The total of inventories of apparatus and supplies in all local offices showed a decrease from book value of $350,000 which amount has been charged off to Profit and Loss.

OFFICE FURNITURE AND FIXTURES.

The total appraised value of all office furniture and fixtures, machinery, tools, instruments, etc., in the general and local offices and in local repair shops is $155,339 24. All these items are carried at a total book value of one dollar.

CONSIGNMENTS.

Finished apparatus for novel uses has been delivered to various concerns subject to purchase if its operation is successful. The greater part of consignment account represents such contingent sales, and the remainder represents apparatus on exhibition or loaned to regular customers for temporary use by them.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| All such shipments are charged on this account at estimated factory cost. Their total is | | $469,450 32 |
| Less 50% allowance for depreciation | | 234,725 16 |
| Net book value of apparatus loaned and consigned as per Balance Sheet | | $234,725 16 |

LIABILITIES.

The Company has no Note Payable, nor is there any paper outstanding bearing the Company's endorsement.

DEBENTURES.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| At January 31 1907 there were outstanding | | |
| 5% 30-Year Gold Debenture Bonds of 1892 | $55,000 00 | |
| 3½% 40-Year Gold Debenture Bonds of 1902 | 2,047,000 00 | |
| | $2,102,000 00 | |
| During the year there were issued under circular dated May 22 1907, 5% 10-Year Gold Debenture Bonds convertible into Stock at par on and after June 1 1911 (including payment of subscriptions amounting to $111,750 00, for which Bonds have since been issued) | 12,872,750 00 | |
| Total issued, plus paid subscriptions, at January 31 1908 | | $14,974,750 00 |

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| On January 31 1907 the outstanding Capital Stock of the Company amounted to | | $63,572,800 00 |
| There has since been issued under Circular of December 10 1906 to stockholders at par | 1,594,600 00 | |
| Total Capital Stock issued as per Balance Sheet | | $65,167,400 00 |
| Authorized against the above $55,000 Debentures of 1892, which are convertible into stock at 120 | 45,833 33 | |
| Authorized against the par of the Convertible Debentures of 1907 | 12,872,750 00 | |
| Not yet issued | 1,914,016 67 | |

ACCRUED INTEREST ON DEBENTURES.

This account, as its name implies, is the full amount of interest accrued to January 31 1908 on all classes of the Company's debentures then outstanding.

UNCLAIMED DIVIDENDS.

This account represents the full amount unpaid on all dividends declared and payable to January 31 1908, inclusive—the addresses of a few stockholders being unknown.

ACCOUNTS PAYABLE.

This account includes all unpaid audited indebtedness.

|---|---|---|
| At the close of business on January 31 1908 the unpaid vouchers on hand—none of which were then due under the terms of purchase—amounted to | $89,121 15 | |
| Between January 31 and February 27 1908, the date of closing the general books, additional liabilities belonging to the past year were audited amounting to | 1,670,396 32 | |
| Total as per Balance Sheet | | $1,759,517 47 |

During the year the average amount of unpaid vouchers carried over monthly—by keeping the books, other than the cash book, open a sufficient time to include each month's obligations in that particular month—was about $2,150,000.

PRICE, WATERHOUSE & COMPANY, CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS
New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Seattle, Montreal, London, Melbourne, Mexico.

54 William Street, New York, April 21 1908.

44 Broad Street, New York City.

We have examined the books of the General Electric Company, in which are incorporated also the accounts of the Edison General Electric Company, the Thomson-Houston Electric Company and the Stanley G. I. Electric Manufacturing Company; and we find that the Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account (see above) are correctly prepared therefrom.

We have also examined the books of the Affiliated Companies owned by the General Electric Company (except in the cases of Foreign Selling Companies, the accounts of which, as certified by Local Auditors, we have accepted), and find that the Consolidated Balance Sheet of these Companies (see above), is correctly prepared therefrom.

We have satisfied ourselves that during the year only actual Additions, Extensions and Replacements have been charged to Capital, while ample provision has been made for Renewals and Depreciation; and that all expenditures in connection with Patents and Patent litigation have been charged against the Earnings of the year.

We are satisfied that the valuations of Materials and Supplies and Manufactured Products on Hand, and of Uncompleted Contracts as certified by the responsible Officials, have been carefully and accurately made at or below cost, proper provision having been made for reduction to market values of materials bought at higher prices and for those goods which are either obsolete or not readily salable.

Full provision has been made for Bad or Doubtful Notes and Accounts Receivable and for all ascertainable Liabilities.

We have verified the Cash and Stocks and Bonds by actual inspection or by proper certificates and are of the opinion that the aggregate value placed on the Stocks and Bonds, the details and character of which are stated on the preceding page, is fair and conservative.

And we certify that the Accounts and Statements herein submitted, in our opinion, set forth the true financial condition of the Company on January 31 1908 and that the statements of Profits for the year ending on that date are correct.

PRICE, WATERHOUSE & COMPANY,

—Wm. A. C. Ewen, the railroad bond specialist, has removed from his quarters in the First National Bank Building, 2 Wall St., to a larger and more attractive suite of offices at 74 Broadway. Mr. Ewen was Treasurer of the Duluth South Shore & Atlantic Ry. prior to 1890; he became Comptroller of the East Tennessee Virginia & Georgia Ry. system in 1892 and later was retained as assistant to the Richmond Terminal reorganization committee. Upon the incorporation of the Southern Railway, Mr. Ewen was elected Secretary, from which office he resigned in 1895 to take charge of the reorganization of the Central of Georgia Ry. system; subsequently he reorganized the Charleston & Western Carolina Ry. and as its Vice-President operated the latter until the property was sold to the Atlantic Coast Line in 1898, when he resigned to enter business as a bond dealer. Mr. Ewen makes a specialty of underlying "closed mortgage' railroad bonds.

—N. W. Harris & Co. of New York and Boston are publicly offering for investment $2,500,000 Union Electric Light & Power Co. (St. Louis, Mo.) refunding and extension mortgage 5% bonds, due 1933, at 93½ and interest, netting the investor 5½%. This price is made subject to sale and advance without notice. The company owns and controls practically the entire central station electric light and power business of St. Louis, which is now the fourth largest city in the United States, and has about 720,000 population. The gross earnings of the company have doubled in four years from $1,422,896 in 1903 to $2,855,417 in 1907. Full particulars of this investment appear in the firm's advertisement in to-day's issue and many facts relating to the property are given in our "General Investment News" department.

—The banking house of Wm. A. Read & Co., 25 Nassau Street, with offices in Boston, Chicago and Baltimore, are offering on another page a list of high-grade investment bonds. The municipals include New York State Highway gold 4s, due 1958, State of Alabama renewals 4s, due 1956, City of Winnipeg school district 4s, due 1941, and New York City interchangeable exempt 4½s, due 1957; also Chicago & North Western Ry. general mortgage registered 3½s; Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh gold 4½s, due 1957; St. Louis Iron Moutain & Southern equipment 5s, due 1909-1914; and Interborough Rapid Transit 6% gold notes, due 1911.

Several of the issues are legal investments for savings banks and trust funds in New York.

—The Boston banking house of Tucker, Anthony & Co., 53 State St., have opened a New York office in the Blair Building, at 24 Broad St., under the management of Walter Abbott. The firm has private-wire connections for the use of customers with New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Hartford, New Haven and New Bedford. Tucker, Anthony & Co. are members of the Boston and New York Stock Exchanges.

—Investors are offered an opportunity to day to purchase the remaining unsold portion of $3,124,700 City of Pittsburgh funding and improvement 4½% coupon bonds which the municipality lately awarded to Kountze Bros., 120 Broadway, and N. W. Harris & Co., Pine St. corner William, New York. These bonds are legal investments for savings banks and trust funds in New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut.

—The firm of Jamison, Stanley & Co., at St. Joseph, Mo., has been formed to deal in bonds and local securities. Mr. Jamison is a member of the jobbing firm of Jamison Bros. & Johntz, Kansas City. Mr. Stanley is also from Kansas City, where he has been a member of the law firm of Thomson, Stanley & Price.

—Monroe R. Rothschild, member of the New York Stock Exchange, and Joseph G Mayer have formed a co-partnership under the firm name of Rothschild & Co., 25 Broad St., succeeding the old concern of Monroe R. Rothschild. A commission business is stocks and bonds will be transacted.

—At 99 and interest, Bond & Goodwin, 111 Broadway, New York, will sell American Locomotive Co. 5% coupon notes, due 1910, yielding the purchaser 5½%. Bond & Goodwin will also accept orders for these notes at 35 Congress St., Boston, and 234 La Salle St., Chicago.

—The circular of Messrs. A. B. Turner & Co., 24 Milk St., Boston, for May 1908 presents an attractive list of stocks, especially New England mill stocks, which on present prices will net anywhere from 5% to 18% on the investment. The firm makes a specialty of mill stocks.

—The stock and bond house of Colston, Boyce & Co., Baltimore, is occupying handsome banking rooms at No. 7 North Calvert Street. It will be remembered that this house took over the bond investment business of the old firm of Wilson, Colston & Co.

—Searing & Co., bankers, 7 Wall St., this city, have established an uptown office at 139th St. and 8th Ave., to be known as the firm's "Eighth Avenue Branch." John Kirkpatrick is the manager.

—Douglas Fenwick and James C. Rogerson this week opened offices at 34 Wall St. under the firm name of Fenwick & Rogerson. The new concern will deal in Government, municipal and railroad bonds.

LARD on the spot has been easier, owing to continued dulness of trade and liberal receipts of live hogs. A rise in the market for futures at the West, however, has prevented any marked decline in spot prices. Western 8.40@8.50c. and City 8⅛c. Refined lard has been weak for Continent and steady for other grades. Trade has been quiet and confined to local jobbing purchases. Refined Continent 8.90c., South America 9¾c. and Brazil in kegs 11c. The speculation in lard futures at the West has been moderately active. Prices have shown some irregularity, but on the whole the tone has been firmer, owing to the strength of the grain markets, buying by packers and covering of shorts.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been more active at a sharp advance. The rise was due largely to unfavorable weather reports, a strong and active Liverpool market, where the spot sales have ranged daily from 12,000 to 20,000 bales, and finally to aggressive buying by Wall Street bull interests. Temperatures at times have been rather low in parts of the Southwest, where light frosts have indeed occurred, and rather cool conditions have also prevailed in parts of the central and eastern sections of the belt. Moreover, at points in Mississippi, in Alabama and Florida the rains at times have been heavy. Indeed, over considerable tracts of the belt the weather, according to not a few reports, has been too cold and rainy. At the same time, it is the general belief that certain prominent Wall Street interests have bought persistently and aggressively, causing a steady advance, to which the covering of what looked like a somewhat over-extended short interest has largely contributed. For a considerable period it is believed a good many operators, especially at the South, sold both the summer and fall months for short account, owing to the favorable weather which then prevailed, and also because of the dulness of trade, the result apparently being the formation of a large short interest, part of which, it is understood, consisted of sales against the actual cotton at the South. Then came a period of more or less unfavorable weather, the revival of activity in the spot trade at Liverpool and somewhat better reports in regard to the dry goods trade and an increasing number of buying orders for both sides of the account. At one time during the week there was talk of the possibility of political troubles in India and for a moment it had some effect here. But it was only for the moment being silenced by a rise in the stock market both at home and abroad and an advance in British consols. Of late Liverpool has been a free buyer and the South has also bought quite heavily in covering shorts. Indeed at one time there were rumors that private settlements of short contracts had been made here for Southern account. Realizing of profits at home and abroad has given prices occasional setbacks, but on the whole the tone has been strong, owing to buying either to cover shorts or else for long account, in the belief that prices were entitled to a rally after so prolonged and severe a decline as that which recently occurred. The Wall Street manipulation, however, cannot be ignored as a telling factor in the rise. The season, too, seems to have arrived when what are popularly known as weather scares are not unlikely to have more or less influence, if only for the moment, on the course of prices. To-day prices declined, owing to fair and warmer weather and realizing of profits, partly for Wall Street bulls. Liverpool and the South were also sellers, some May notices were issued, and local traders put special pressure on July. Liverpool spot sales, however, continued large, reaching 15,000 bales, and in the later business Liverpool again became a buyer. Spot cotton has been quiet. Middling uplands closed at 10.55c., an advance for the week of 35 points.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Our reports by telegraph from the South this evening indicate that rain has been quite general during the week, but that while the precipitation has been rather excessive in portions of Mississippi, Alabama and Florida, elsewhere it has as a rule been moderate or light. Planting operations have been delayed somewhat as a result of the wet weather and there have been some complaints of too low temperature, but at the close of the week the weather is turning warmer. In Texas the crop is reported to be doing well.

Galveston, Texas.—Replanting is progressing well where necessary, and the crop is doing well, barring the low temperature of the last few nights. There are some few reports of lice in the plant, but the return of warm weather will overcome the slight damage thus occasioned. We have had a trace of rain on two days during the week. The thermometer has ranged from 56 to 87, averaging 72.

Abilene, Texas.—There has been rain on one day during the week, to the extent of twelve hundredths of an inch. Lowest temperature 40, highest 88, average 64.

Brenham, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week. The thermometer has averaged 68, the highest being 85 and the lowest 50.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—There has been no rain during the week. The thermometer has averaged 75, ranging from 58 to 92.

Cuero, Texas.—There has been no rain the past week. The thermometer has ranged from 47 to 85, averaging 66.

Dallas, Texas.—It has rained on one day of the week, the rainfall being twenty-four hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 63, highest 85, and lowest 41.

Fort Worth, Texas.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the rainfall being thirty hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 60, ranging from 46 to 82.

Henrietta, Texas.—Rain has fallen during the week, to the extent of forty-three hundredths of an inch on one day. The thermometer has ranged from 41 to 85, averaging 63.

Huntsville, Texas.—We have had no rain the past week. Average thermometer 68, highest 89, lowest 47.

Kerrville, Texas.—Dry all the week. The thermometer has averaged 61, the highest being 84 and the lowest 38.

Lampasas, Texas.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the rainfall being five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 62, ranging from 38 to 86.

Longview, Texas. We have had rain on two days during the week. The rainfall reached twenty-three hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 46 to 84, averaging 65.

Luling, Texas.—We have had a trace of rain on one day during the week. The thermometer has averaged 68, the highest being 86 and the lowest 49.

Nacogdoches, Texas.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the rainfall being twenty-eight hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 65, ranging from 44 to 85.

Palestine, Texas.—It has rained on one day of the week, the precipitation being one hundredth of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 58 to 82, averaging 70.

Paris, Texas.—Rain has fallen on one day during the week, to the extent of eleven hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 65, highest 83, lowest 46.

San Antonio, Texas.—There has been no rain during the week. The thermometer has averaged 68, the highest being 86 and the lowest 50.

Taylor, Texas.—We have had a trace of rain on two days of the week. The thermometer has averaged 66, ranging from 48 to 84.

Weatherford, Texas.—There has been rain on one day during the week, the precipitation being eight hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 61, the highest being 86 and the lowest 42.

Ardmore, Oklahoma.—We have had rain on two days during the week, the rainfall being thirty-seven hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 42 to 82.

Holdenville, Oklahoma.—We have had rain on one day the past week, the rainfall being two inches and ninety-one hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 42 to 80.

Marlow, Oklahoma.—We have had rain on one day the past week, the rainfall being one inch and two hundredths. Average thermometer 62, highest 83, lowest 40.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, May 8 1908.

Prices for wheat flour have ruled firm and most grades have advanced under the stimulus of a further rise in wheat quotations. At times there has been a better inquiry, especially for spring-wheat flour. Actual sales, however, have continued small. Buyers are still, as a rule, pursuing a hand-to-mouth policy in making purchases. The output of the mills is considerably smaller than at this time last year, but is largely in excess of the demand. Export trade has been at a standstill. Rye flour has been firm, with a better demand, car-lot sales being reported on several days. Corn meal has been quiet and firm.

Wheat has advanced during the week, partly under the stimulus of an active export demand. There has also been a large decrease in the world's visible supply, the falling off in a single week, indeed, reaching the unusually large total of 14,583,000 bushels, which is rendered the more striking by the fact that in the same week last year there was an increase of 465,000 bushels. The world's stock of wheat, too, has fallen to 124,121,000 bushels, which is 44,000,000 bushels smaller than a year ago and 15,000,000 bushels smaller than at this time two years ago. Leading interests, it is said, are to ship out a large proportion of the stock at Chicago, and stories have been current that prices there are being manipulated with the view of establishing a considerably higher level of values, bulls declaring that the present condition of things in the wheat business is very similar to that which prevailed three years ago. However this may be, the world's stocks have latterly decreased sharply, as is shown by the above figures, and moreover the receipts at the West have been small. The weather conditions at the West have been reported in the main as too cold and wet. Snow has fallen in the Northwest. European markets, though showing the effects at times of realizing, have on the whole advanced. Some reports of damage in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma by the Hessian fly have had more or less effect at times. Some have paid more attention to this than to the rains in that section, contending, indeed, that rains there at this time are apt to be beneficial rather than otherwise. Some of the crop reports from France have been unfavorable, complaining of unseasonably cold weather and backward growth. The condition of winter-wheat crops in Russia, according to the latest reports, is unfavorable, and it is estimated that one-third of the winter-wheat acreage will have to be re-plowed The outlook for Russia's spring crops is favorable, but existing supplies of wheat in that country are reported light. The strength of the American markets is derived chiefly from the cash position. In other words, the cash demand is good and supplies of the actual wheat in this country are rapidly decreasing. The American visible supply as reported last Monday showed a decrease for the week of 5,547,000 bushels, making the total only 30,318,000 bushels, against 51,589,000 bushels at the same time last year. To-day prices advanced on a less favorable Government report than had been expected, the strong cash situation, smaller Argentine shipments, higher foreign markets and general buying. The Government stated the condition of winter wheat at 89, against 91.3 a month ago, 82.9 a year ago, 90.9 two years ago and a 10-year average of 85.8

Indian corn futures have advanced, owing to bull manipulation and covering of shorts. New high records have been established on the present movement. Bulls have been favored by small receipts and continued heavy rains over a wide area. These have not only restricted the movement but have also delayed plowing and it is now believed that the acreage will be reduced. Chicago bull leaders have, it is stated, made arrangements to ship much of the stock out of that city. There is believed to be a considerable short interest still uncovered in the May option. The cash demand at the West has been larger at advancing prices. To-day prices advanced on unfavorable weather, small receipts, a brisk cash demand, bull support and covering of shorts.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have advanced. Leading bulls have bid up prices and shorts have covered. It is stated that the bulk of the stock at Chicago will be shipped out shortly. Of late there has been an active shipping demand at the West and cash prices have risen. Seeding has been practically completed in most sections, but, owing to the excessive rains, the area planted is believed to have been curtailed. The receipts have been light. At times there has been liquidation, attributed to leading bulls. There has also been more or less short selling of the distant months. To-day prices were higher on bull manipulation, unfavorable weather and crop accounts, an active cash demand and covering of shorts.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT REPORT ON CEREALS, &c.—The report of the Department of Agriculture, showing the condition of the cereal crops on May 1, was issued on the 8th inst., and is as follows:

The Crop Reporting Board of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture, from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the Bureau, finds the area under winter wheat remaining in cultvation on May 1 to have been about 29,751,000 acres. This is 4.2%, or about 1,318,000 acres, less than the area sown last fall, and 5.8%, or about 1,619,000 acres, more than the area of winter wheat reported as harvested last year.

The average condition of the growing winter wheat on May 1 was 89% of a normal, as compared with 91.3% on April 1, 82.9% on May 1 1907 and 85.8%, the mean of the May 1 averages of the past 10 years.

The average condition of the rye crop on May 1 was 90.3% of a normal, as compared with 89.1% on April 1, 88% on May 1 1907 and 89.5%, the mean of the May 1 averages of the past 10 years.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climatological Division of the United States Weather Bureau, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the weather in the various States for the week ending May 4, summarizing them as follows:

During the week ending May 4 the weather was abnormally cold and unfavorable over much the greater part of the country, especially in the Lake region, central valleys and Southern States. Freezing temperatures were common in the central and northern plateau and Rocky Mountain regions, upper Missouri Valley, Lake region, New England, and the interior of the Middle Atlantic States. Heavy frosts were frequent and general, and light frosts occurred as far south as the central and southern portions of the Gulf States and the interior of the Carolinas.

The rainfall was heavy in the Ohio Valley and in portions of the lower Lake region, New England, central Mississippi Valley and east Gulf States; elsewhere it was generally lighter than usual. Snow fell to considerable depths in the Lake region and Ohio Valley on April 30 and May 1.

The sunshine was normal, or above, in the Southern States and about normal on the Pacific coast, but generally throughout the northern districts east of the Rocky Mountains there was more cloudiness than usual.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, May 8 1908.

A further readjustment of prices has taken place in the primary cotton goods market during the past week and this has been followed by some increase in the number of inquiries, although the actual volume of business transacted has not been appreciably larger. There have been more instances of manufacturers refusing to sell goods at the prices now current in the New York market, and in the case of standard gray goods at Fall River there has even been an advance of 1/8c. compared with last week's quotation. It is claimed that some lines of goods are selling fully 2c. a yard below the cost of manufacture, and for this reason, and in view of the firmer tone of the raw material market, there is a greater disposition to shut down machinery and curtail production still further. A large number of buyers assembled in the New York market during the week to attend an important auction sale of carpets, and the disposition evinced to purchase these at fairly good figures induced cotton goods agents to announce some price revisions which had been delayed until such time as it was felt that a reduction would be followed by an adequate increase in business. It is the belief in many quarters now that the next two months will see a big change in the cotton goods market and that when buyers do commence to operate with some degree of freedom, they will be surprised to find the effect that the present curtailment of production will have upon the market. Fall River wages will be reduced about 14% under the sliding-scale agreement based upon an average margin between cotton and cloth for the six months preceding May 25. There has been continued improvement in the men's wear woolen and worsted goods market, but dress goods have again been quiet.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending May 2 were 7,142 packages, valued at $376,835, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $4,094,482 in 1908, against $5,188,869 in 1907.

Sheetings have been further reduced during the week, and while drills remain nominally unchanged some low prices have been made. At these figures, however, orders have been refused by manufacturers who prefer to close down their mills rather than run them at a loss. Medium and light-weight sheetings have also been reduced. Export sales during the week have included 1,000 bales of 3.50 yard sheetings to the Red Sea; there has been no improvement in the Chinese demand, but some further purchases of light-weight sheetings within the next two months are anticipated in some quarters. Bleached goods are very quiet and business is confined almost entirely to the better known lines. There has been more inquiry for duck and osnaburgs at the lower prices recently named, and bookings of denims, plaids, ticks and other coarse, colored cotton goods show some slight improvement. Kid-finished cambrics have again been reduced and are now quoted at 3¾c. to 4c. There has been a somewhat freer movement of napped goods and the situation of these is regarded as comparatively satisfactory. Dress ginghams have been lowered 2c. in some instances and further reductions in staple prints are looked for in the near future. Print cloth regulars are nominally 1/8c. lower than last week at 3 1/8c. and standard gray goods 1/8c. higher at 4 1/8c.; there has been rather more inquiry from converters.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The men's wear woolen and worsted goods market shows little material change from a week ago. The demand for light-weight brown worsteds for the current season still continues, but is not as insistent as it was a few weeks ago, and buyers are more particular in regard to quality and coloring. In the heavy-weight division duplicate orders are coming in with a fair amount of freedom, but for quantities that are somewhat disappointing. It is generally recognized, however, that clothiers are only buying cloth that they have already sold, and in some instances not even fully protecting themselves to this extent, fearing that some of their orders may be canceled later on. For this reason it is felt that they will again have to enter the market at a later date and that in the end the quantity of goods disposed of will prove to have been quite satisfactory. So far it would appear that clothiers have done the best business in the agricultural sections of the Middle West and North West and the worst in the industrial centers of the East. The Pacific Coast, the South and New England have all placed much smaller contracts than last year. There is very little doing in woolen and worsted dress goods at the moment, more interest being shown in cotton dress goods and cotton mixtures. It is too early for any duplicate ordering for fall of any importance and the current demand for light-weight goods is small.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted dress goods are quiet. Silk piece goods are mostly dull, but there has been a slightly improved demand for ribbons. Irish linen manufacturers have reduced fall prices from 10 to 12½%. Spot burlaps are scarce and firmer.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN APRIL.

Our records show that $21,197,499 municipal bonds were placed during the month of April. This compares with $19,909,004 for April 1907, and, with the exception of 1905, when $40,409,428 bonds were sold (New York City having at that time placed an unusually large amount of bonds, namely $25,000,000), is the largest total ever reported for that month. Canadian debentures sold and temporary loans negotiated amounted to $1,256,153 and $1,832,000, respectively, but these are not included in our totals.

The largest sale reported during the month was that of Philadelphia. This city offered $5,875,000 4% 30-year bonds on April 27 and received bids aggregating $34,111,200. The award was made at 104.299—a basis of about 3.76%. On June 27 1899 this city disposed of $5,600,000 3% bonds at 100.589—a basis of about 2.95%. The State of Massachusetts was also in the market on April 7 with nine issues of 3½ per cents amounting to $3,271,000. These securities mature at various dates from 1909 to 1948 and the price obtained for the lot was 101.40. Cincinnati, Ohio, was also successful in obtaining prices ranging from 101 to 103.664 for five issues of 4% bonds, aggregating $1,093,000. Other sales of importance were as follows: Hudson, County, N. J., $850,000 4½s; Providence, R. I., $555,000 4s; Buffalo, N. Y., $500,000 4s; Seattle School District No. 1, Wash., $500,000 4½s; Denver, Colo., Montclair Park District, $397,700 6s; Albany, N. Y., $328,000 4s; Chicago, Ill., $300,000 4½s; Norristown, Pa., $300,000 4s; Meridian, Miss., $150,000 6s and $100,000 5s, and Marion County, Ind., $200,000 3½s.

Not all municipalities were successful in floating their new issues. A number failed to get satisfactory bids, either because the interest rate they offered was too low or for some other reason. Among the larger of these were the following: $900,000 3s of the State of Colorado; $600,000 4½s of St. Louis County, Minn.; $450,000 4s of Cleveland School District, Ohio; $390,000 4s of Toledo, Ohio; $325,000 4s of Milwaukee, Wis.; $250,000 4s of St. Paul, Minn., and $200,000 4s of Nashville, Tenn.

The number of municipalities emitting bonds and the number of separate issues made during April 1908 were 181 and 278 respectively. This contrasts with 180 and 257 for March 1908 and with 219 and 363 for April 1907.

For comparative purposes we add the following table showing the aggregates for April and the four months for a series of years:

| | Month of April. | For the Four Mos. | | Month of April. | For the Four Mos. |

In the following table we give a list of April loans to the amount of $21,197,499 issued by 181 municipalities. In the case of each loan reference is made to the page in the "Chronicle" where an account of the sale is given.

News Items.

New Jersey.—Extra Session of Senate.—In accordance with a proclamation issued early in the week by Governor Fort the upper house of the Legislature was convened yesterday (May 8) in special session to act upon appointments to the Civil Service Commission, the Board of Health and several others authorized by the Legislature at the regular session which ended April 11. See V. 86, p. 992.

New York City.—Amendments to City Charter in Relation to Corporate Stock.—Prior to adjournment on April 23 the Legislature passed an Act (Chapter 147, Laws of 1908) which provides for an amendment to the City Charter under the terms of which the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund are empowered to issue corporate stock maturing in not more than fifty years from date and redeemable before that time at the option of said commissioners at par and accrued interest. At present such corporate stock is "redeemable at a period of not less than ten nor more than fifty years from the date thereof." The Legislature also passed another amendment to the City Charter whereby bidders at the public sale of corporate stock are required to deposit certified checks drawn on a national bank or a trust company or State bank incorporated and doing business under the laws of the State of New York. At present the requirement is simply that checks must be drawn upon a "solvent banking corporation."

Virginia—West Virginia.—Testimony to be Taken by Special Master in Debt Settlement Suit.—On May 6 Chief Justice Fuller of the United States Supreme Court made public the terms of the decree of that tribunal ordering the taking of testimony by a special master in the suit of the State of Virginia versus the State of West Virginia, wherein the former undertakes to compel the latter to assume that portion of the debt of the old State of Virginia contracted prior to the creation of the State of West Virginia. As already stated in V. 86, p. 992, counsel for both States concluded argument before the United States Supreme Court on April 10. The facts which the master is to ascertain and report to the Court are stated as follows in the daily papers:

1. The amount of the public debt of the Commonwealth of Virginia Jan. 1 1861, stating specifically how it was evidenced, under what authority, and for what purposes created, and dates and nature of bonds or other evidence.
2. The extent and value and population of the territory of Virginia and of West Virginia June 20 1863, giving population with and without slaves.
3. All expenditures made by the Commonwealth of Virginia within the present State of West Virginia since any part of the debt was contracted.
4. Such proportion of the ordinary expenses of the Government of Virginia since any of the debt was contracted as was properly assignable to the West Virginia counties on the basis of average total population of Virginia, with and without slaves.
5. And also on the basis of the fair estimated valuation of the property, real and personal, by counties, of Virginia.
6. All moneys paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth from the counties now included within West Virginia prior to that State's admission into the Union.
7. The amount, value and description of all money, property, stocks and credits which West Virginia received from the Commonwealth of Virginia not embraced in any of the preceding items and not including any property, stocks or credits acquired by the Commonwealth after the organization of the restored Government of Virginia.

The Court reserves the consideration of the allowance of interest, of the costs of this suit, and all further directions, until after the Master has made his report.

The full details for the week covered by the above will be given next Saturday. We cannot furnish them to-day, clearings being made up by the clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last day of the week has to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below detailed figures for the week ending with Saturday noon, May 9, for four years.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

As announced last week, "The Chronicle" is now issued from its new home, corner Front, Pine and Depeyster Streets.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Our worthy President, in calling together at Washington a conference the current week of about 150 conferees—Governors of States and Territories and others—said in his letter of invitation that it "is the plain duty of us who for the moment are responsible to take inventory of the natural resources which have been handed down to us, to forecast the needs of the future, and so handle the great sources of our prosperity as not to destroy in advance all hope of the prosperity of our descendants." When we first read the invitation, we understood it to be a clear and plain acknowledgement of harmful doing in the past by the conferees which had proved so disastrous to progress as "to destroy all hope of the prosperity of our descendants." In other words, we at once took the expressions Mr. Roosevelt had used as a confession of the well-worn truth which is being emphasized so conspicuously in the events of the day—"non progredi est regredi"—not to go forward is to go backward; and as the nation had been stopped in its forward progress by, as we believed, Mr. Roosevelt's policies, we were, through his fault, already going backward. Moreover, he having unwittingly encouraged the principle that old saw covers, it acted as an eye-opener—enabling him to realize its full meaning and express regret for his course.

But since Mr. Roosevelt's assemblage of Governors opened Tuesday, the scope of its proposals has been further disclosed so as to be a little clearer in its purpose. What is now assumed as the occasion of the meeting lies in the claim that the natural resources of our country are in danger of exhaustion if the old wasteful methods of exploiting them are much longer to continue. That is a somewhat different idea from that we at first had in mind. But, according to the speeches made, the pathos of an infinite destiny would seem to adhere to the present suggestion, if we must believe all that is claimed for it. At least, we are reminded by the situation of an old story, which seems to be so pat with the subject that it may help to enforce an inherent weakness it bares. The story was of a man long years ago sitting on the top of a dead whale he had landed, with tears running down his sunken cheeks, crying over the fact that whales were getting scarce and that soon there would be no more of them and no light for any one after sunset.

The most of us have lived long enough to know that this anticipation failed to be realized, and that the world's experience did not accord with it. Of course, every device, speaking in general terms, for husbanding resources should be used. But does not the history of our new country teach that the further we remove the responsibility from the individual, the less efficacy there is in work done, the less inventive force is exercised, and the greater are the extravagances practiced? We admit that there are some matters—but they are exceptions—which might call for the united action of Federal and State governments. Besides, does not experience compel us, somewhere in the make-up of the heavens and of the earth, to allow for a Grand First Cause, operating in the arrangement of the Scheme of Things? How marvelous it is that, when whales give out, rivers of oil flow in as a substitute! Even when building materials began to grow scarce—which the old, lugubrious prophets told us would drive us to the mountains for shelter—iron and steel became, not only a device for the exhausting lumber supply—that is a very small expression of the marvel—but enabled us, with cheapened Portland cement, to erect a profitable fire-proof building on a portion of a city block of land that would accommodate in luxury people who would need several blocks of the old style of houses, if they had been put up on the same land.

In accordance with a pre-arranged program, the House of Representatives at Washington on Thursday passed the Vreeland Currency Bill after a special rule had been agreed on limiting debate to only a few hours and permitting the offering of only a single amendment. The bill seems to suit no one. Perhaps the clause in it which would permit the banks to issue emergency notes against mercantile assets is to be regarded as a step in advance, and yet these notes cannot be termed as assets or credit currency in the correct sense. The general characteristics of a credit currency are that the whole volume of notes outstanding are secured by the general body of assets. These notes, however, are to stand by themselves and are to be secured by a segregated portion of the assets. Moreover, they are to be based upon "any securities, including commercial paper," which the banks may hold. Thus the idea of specific collateral back of the notes, which has been the basis of the note issues since the national system was organized, is still retained. The only step forward is in the fact that commercial paper as well as bonds will be accepted as collateral.

Much the same qualifying statement must be made with reference to the utilization of the expedient of clearing-house associations. The term, "clearing-house associations" is distinctly a misnomer and is also misleading in that it conveys the idea that the new currency is to be issued through the instrumentality of the existing clearing-house organizations. In reality nothing of the kind is contemplated. The bill provides that banks not less than ten in number, with an aggregate capital and suprlus of at least $5,000,000, may form voluntary associations to be known as "clearing-house associations." The banks constituting themselves into such associations are to be in contiguous territory and are to be jointly and severally liable for any deficiency in the amount necessary to pay the notes after the sale of the deposited securities in case of a failure to redeem the notes. Obviously, notes backed by clearing-house associations of this type stand on a wholly different footing from notes for which the existing clearing-house associations and which do "clearing" in the real sense, might be sponsors.

The author of the measure displayed a very accommodating disposition and made numerous concessions and seemed ready to make more up to the very hour that the vote was taken—one change was actually incorporated at the very last minute—in order to secure the passage of the measure. This calls attention to what will remain a distinct feature of the currency legislation of the present session, whatever form such legislation may finally take, namely that all those whose names have been identified with the currency bills that have received consideration at the hands of Congress have evinced the same spirit, never hesitating to consent to important modifications in their bills in order to obtain approval for them. The Aldrich Bill, after it emerged from the Senate was in many essential respects a wholly different proposition from the bill as first prepared by Senator Aldrich. The changes were the outgrowth of necessity, some of them being forced upon Mr. Aldrich in open Senate, but not a few being voluntarily made in committee with the object of putting the bill in form where it would command the necessary votes to secure its passage. Even Congressman Fowler, who is of a combative temperament and not ordinarily inclined to yield on any point, seems finally to have caught the infection, for the daily papers on Sunday morning reported that Mr. Fowler the day before had introduced a new currency measure, differing from the old in that the provisions guaranteeing deposits and those authorizing national banks to administer trusts were to be omitted. It is known to our readers that we have from the first declared ourselves opposed to the section of the Fowler Bill which purposed endowing national banks with trust functions. However, that provision was not essential to Mr. Fowler's plan and could be eliminated without affecting in the least the other portions of the measure. Not so the Guaranty Fund. This is the fundamental part of Mr. Fowler's whole scheme, and to eliminate it meant radically altering the plan. That the author of the measure was willing to go so far as this, indicates the extent of the concessions he was ready to make. These concessions came too late. Had they been made earlier the result might have been different.

The unfortunate part of the whole affair is that with Mr. Aldrich ready to compromise, with Mr. Fowler in the same frame of mind, and with Mr. Vreeland most complaisant of all, and with public sentiment in favor of currency reform becoming steadily more insistent and steadily more enlightened, the outcome seems, nevertheless, likely to be far from what could be wished. When the Vreeland Bill as passed by the House on Thursday reached the Senate Finance Committee yesterday, that Committee struck out all matter in the bill after the enacting clause and substituted the Aldrich Bill, but after eliminating the provision for increased cash reserves by the banks and the section forbidding loans to corporations in which the officers or directors are interested. In that form the Senate passed the bill. The situation therefore now is that whatever currency legislation is enacted at the present session of Congress will be framed by conferrees on the part of the two Houses. This will give a small body of men a tremendous amount of power, which, however, does not necessarily forebode ill. It is quite possible that the results will be better than now generally expected.

Now that Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland has had his way—has triumphed over the street railways of his city and has succeeded in having three-cent fares inaugurated—he is already finding himself beset with many difficulties. In the "Cleveland Leader" of day before yesterday we find some startling headlines, to this effect "Jeer Mayor, Ask Reform—Citizens, Amid Cat-calls, Condemn Car Service—Demand a Change." It appears that now that the people have three-cent fares, they are not satisfied with the service. The "Leader" says that in one of the most hostile meetings ever held in the City Hall, citizens of Cleveland demanded from the Municipal Traction Co. the restoration of lines and the reform of the transfer system. To the accompaniment of jeers, we are told, the Mayor and Mr. Du Pont (the President of the company) promised to remedy all the evils. But we are also told that the Mayor held to his purpose of abolishing all service except that which paid. It is stated that every class of Cleveland society was represented at the meeting, from the blue-shirted working man to the white-vested banker, and that at times the clamors for redress became so loud and insistent that it was almost impossible to maintain order. Constant reminders of campaign promises were thrown from the back of the hall. The Mayor said that six or seven of the lines ought to be torn up—they did not pay. Three-cent fares would not pay if too many burdens were put on the system. It was now the people's railroad, and "plugger" lines should not be continued. But the patrons of the lines could not see it in that way.

While this has been going on in Cleveland proper East Cleveland has been having some excitement of its own. It is a smaller place, but its inhabitants also want favors. Furthermore, if three-cent fares prevail in opulent Cleveland, why shouldn't one-cent fares suffice for the less well-to-do people of East Cleveland. At all events, the "Cleveland Leader" on Wednesday contained an interesting account of what is termed a "red-hot" meeting of the Village Council the night before, at which the idea was broached of organizing a company to operate cars through the village to the city limits at one-cent fares. The reporter states that 100 citizens offered to take stock in the proposed company on the spot. One excited man shouted "We'll show Tom Johnson we can run cheaper cars than he can." It appears that when the Municipal Traction Co. took over the lines in East Cleveland it kept the fare up to five cents on the East Cleveland cars and consequently the people of that village are "enraged" at the treatment they are receiving. Accordingly, they are now determined, or at least some of them are, to have a line of their own for one-cent fares—"run at cost of operation." The plan is a very simple one—at least in their estimation. It is expressed in these words: "We have a sewage-disposal power plant. Install a dynamo. The cost will be little." It is thus apparent that Mayor Johnson is having his hands full. The lesson ought to be a valuable one.

Mention of the chief reason for the special session of the Legislature which began this week is deferred until the prescribed formalities in connection with filling the vacancy in one Senatorial district are completed, but eight other subjects are named for action. Two of these are the appointment of unpaid commissioners to inquire into "the facts relating to speculation in securities and commodities, with the view to ascertaining the manner in which illegitimate transactions may be prevented and legitimate transactions safeguarded"; also, "the number and condition of the unemployed within the State and the means best adapted to secure a resumption of productive activity." Neither of these propositions requires much comment. The latter is obviously of no practical benefit, the simplest means of furthering the stated object being to keep hands off and leave productive activity to revive of itself in time and after rest. The other proposition mentions "commodities" for the sake of appearances, but its meaning is plain. The Stock Exchange, with an intelligence and ability beyond that of outsiders, already does its utmost to prevent illegitimate and safeguard legitimate transactions. There is a popular notion, born of misrepresentation and prejudice, against which explanation and argument seem void of effect; but in point of fact, "speculation" is the making of some forecast about the future, and therefore is a factor in every transaction and every business or merely personal plan; it is an inseparable part of human life from beginning to end.

Several propositions suggested are not without merit, but since the entire eight (including the one yet to be especially urged) were pressed upon the legislators at the regular session only so lately concluded, the question arises, why an extra session? The Executive is always in session, so to speak, and all constitutions, therefore, empower him to call the legislators together in case some unforeseen emergency occurs during the intervals between regular assemblings; but it was never intended that an Executive should exercise this power merely because of inability to procure some measure which he greatly desired. If his recommendations fail of enactment in one session, it is his right and duty to repeat them next time, unless his views have changed; but to call back the law-makers immediately is to command them to do the unfinished work he has laid out for them, with an intimation that they must comply before they can have release. The impropriety of this ought not to need any urging; but the fact that it has been done repeatedly, without arousing protest and with little remark, may remind us how far the obliteration of the original balance of powers between the several departments of popular government has gradually and insidiously proceeded.

One of the eight propositions deserves especial mention; it is that to extend the powers of the Public Service Commission over telegraph and telephone companies. This measure was pressed and discussed only last month, and failed in the Assembly. Governor Hughes offers no new argument for it, and no argument at all except that the public ought to be protected and the policy of the State in respect to supervision "should be uniform." Uniformity and consistency do not of themselves constitute any argument, and every man's intelligence at once rejects the suggestion that because he takes a certain course in one case he is therefore bound in reason to the same course in other cases. Some public restlessness and complaint (most notably on account of the congestion of local travel in this city) did exist, and did greatly assist in pushing through this pet scheme; but there is no dissatisfaction with the telegraph, and particularly with the telephone; yet consistency and uniformity are said to require meddling with these also.

If both the plan itself and its results thus far were admittedly good, a sufficient objection to extending it now would be that the Commissioners have already all they can attend to. But the point as now urged is this

"The plan which was adopted last year of establishing public service commissions has worked admirably, and indeed as an adequate scheme of regulation presents the only alternative to legislative action, which is manifestly not as well adapted to the just settlement of the great variety of grievances which must be dealt with separately and after investigation and are susceptible of a fair disposition only through a continuous administrative board."

If it were conceded that all these public utilities must somehow or other be brought under a State regulation, then it would follow that the choice lies between successive regulative statutes and a turning of the subject over to a commission once for all. But such a necessity for choice is not admitted and does not exist, the other course (not an "alternative" between two) being to "let us alone"; therefore the conclusion of the above quoted sentence is a non sequitur. The assertion that "the plan which was adopted last year has worked admirably" begs the question; this is not merely not admitted, but is widely denied, and to the observation of nearly all thinking persons who are open-minded the great plan is already a demonstrated failure. Only last Monday some testimony on this point came from Mr. F. W. Whitridge, receiver of the Third Avenue road, who is certainly competent to testify how this intervention has affected his own work and has no reason for not speaking dispassionately. The Commissioners demanded of him 360 new cars in less than ninety days, to which he had to reply that material could not be obtained, and if it could be the construction within the required time was physically impossible. This is his testimonial, none the less practical for being a little caustic

"The Commission which now exists will also doubtless prove useful; it has not spared expense nor shunned publicity in its desire to serve the public. It has directed to me orders of one sort or another on an average of one every five days, and I annex copies of some of my replies thereto so that those who undertake the reorganization of this property may judge of the degree of assistance or hindrance they are likely to meet from the Public Service Commission. However useful it may become, it is the fact that so far as the Third Avenue Railroad is concerned the Public Service Commission has as yet, with the exception of a trifling suggestion about insulating certain wires under the cars, proposed nothing novel, has hastened nothing which we were trying to do, and has accomplished nothing at all."

Nothing at all; but Mr. Whitridge adds, "except to give a little more trouble," of which he already had a sufficiency. Last summer, the reader will remember, great difficulty was found in persuading men of any reasonable calibre to undertake this Commission business; this reluctance was clearly in part because they perceived it to be (as we declared it at the time to be) something beyond the powers of any handful of men and therefore a preposterous impossibility. But after the reluctance is overcome and the members take the thing up, the human desire comes in to keep their jobs and salaries and to make as decent an appearance as they can. A fussy activity is therefore necessary to placate the demand of grumblers to "do something." The Berwick fish-dealer who did not care what happened to the railways but wanted lower rates on fish is legion and always abroad. People want new cars, plenty of space, frequent and swift service, and low fares; and they are always ready to grumble and demand. A Public Service Commission must pay heed to this; only in that way can it seem to "serve" and make good its right to exist.

Therefore to criticize or make merry over the foolishness of the Commissioners in their getting busy would be both unjust and misleading, for it would obscure the essential fact in the case, which is that such places as these inevitably become political jobs. Their holders cannot render any real service, if they would; what they can do and must do is to fuss and to add to the "sufficiency" of trouble.

The strained condition of the finances of the German Empire, which has recently caused much unfavorable comment in European journals, seems to be clearly shown by the official admission in the budget committee of the Reichstag, on the 28th ult., that Germany must borrow 50 millions sterling within the next five years, even without fresh appropriations—thus increasing the national debt to 250 millions sterling—in order to cover deficits in the ordinary budgets; the Finance Minister expressed himself as horrified at the prospect of loans of such magnitude. Reduction of expenditures as a remedy for this situation were regarded by Herr von Sydow, the Imperial Secretary of Finance, as the only means of relief; but, owing to the rapid growth of the Empire in population and in wealth, the people seem to be resolved to have a great navy, as well as the most perfect army in Europe, and they feel that they can afford the luxury; therefore they must submit to increased taxation.

It appears that the United States is not the only country in the world which has a circulation based upon 2% bonds. During our war with Spain, the Government of that country was in such financial extremity that it issued large amounts of bonds called "war pegares," bearing interest at the rate of 2%. These bonds were taken up by the Bank of Spain, which institution was permitted to issue notes against them up to a certain proportion. It was only by means of this inflated currency that the Spanish Treasury was enabled to tide over its difficulties. As the financial situation improved, after the war, large amounts of the "pegares" were redeemed, and in 1902 the Bank of Spain was allowed gradually to substitute bills and other commercial securities for the Government issues. This process of substitution is, however, progressing but slowly, and it seems probable that the whole of the "pegares" will not be withdrawn by 1911, the time fixed for their withdrawal; consequently, some portion of the Bank's currency must continue to be based upon 2% bonds.

The resumption this week of exports of gold to Paris seems to make interesting the comments upon the movement by London financial journals of May 2, before the previous export operations had been interrupted. The impression then prevailed that gold was being accumulated in Paris, through purchases in London and imports from New York, in preparation for some important financial operation. It was thought that, whatever might be the cause for such accumulations, the Bank of France would rapidly grow stronger, and that when its purposes had been accomplished, the large amounts of gold arriving in London from the Cape would be available for other quarters, presumably Berlin. As regards this question of greater ease in the London money market, it was regarded by one journal as likely to be influenced almost entirely by the desire of the Bank of France to accumulate gold and by the obvious necessity of strengthening the cash resources of the Bank of Germany. "When these two demands for gold shall have been satisfied, the accumulation in London may be very large, and still lower unofficial discount rates may be anticipated."

It may be observed that this week the anticipated lower discount rates were recorded; open market discounts, not only in London, but in Paris and Berlin, fell to the lowest points yet reached. The fall in London was probably in great part due to the change in the policy of the Bank of England in purchasing securities—including consols for the reduction of the national debt—instead of withholding money from the market, as has recently been done. The decline in Paris was most likely caused by the large increase last week in the Bank of France's gold stock and by the engagement in New York this week of the metal for Paris. The lower open market rate at Berlin may have been due to the recent steady gain in cash and to the prospect of further gains, possibly through Paris or London, from New York.

In consequence of the surrenders of public deposits under the April call of the Treasury Department, the securities pledged therefor have been released and it is reported that they largely consist of railroad, State and municipal bonds. When the deposits were placed in the banks in large amounts during the crisis, many depositories were not able to obtain Government bonds in sufficient sums as pledges, and they were permitted to provide other securities in a comparatively liberal proportion. The Secretary of the Treasury is now said to be desirous of restricting pledges so far as possible to United States bonds, and he therefore requires that the other securities shall be released on surrender of deposits, leaving Government issues as the principal pledge. This requirement may have the effect of involving in loss those depositories which have bought or borrowed the other securities, provided there has been a depreciation in the market value thereof while they have been pledged for public deposits.

The export movement of commodities from the United States for the month of April 1908, as indicated by the official trade statement made public this week, continued upon the restricted scale noticed in March. The falling off from last year's total was approximately 24 millions of dollars, this year's aggregate having been $133,470,333, against $157,451,781 in 1907 and $144,380,040 in 1906. All leading items of breadstuffs exhibited a smaller outflow than in the previous month, or April of 1907, the falling off being most marked in corn, the shipments of which in the period this year being only 2,406,280 bushels, as contrasted with 9,479,106 bushels a year ago. This decline explains in great measure the decrease in total value of breadstuffs from $14,549,107 in April 1907 to $10,- 307,072 the current year—an aggregate smaller than for any month since July 1 1906. Cotton exports for the month, moreover, were very materially less in both quantity and value than in the corresponding period of 1907, the comparison being between 375,164 bales, valued at $19,962,695, and 639,227 bales, valued at $35,946,384. Provisions shipments also were less for the month than for April 1907, and the same was true of cattle and hogs. In fact mineral oil was the only item in the official statement showing an increase in shipments this year. The items to which we have referred give an aggregate value of only $55,056,972, a total over 20¼ millions of dollars less than for April 1907. That loss, consequently, in greatest measure accounts for the decrease in our foreign trade from the movement of the preceding year, for although declines in shipments of other articles have been quite general, they have been relatively so small that in the aggregate they furnished a further loss in value of shipments of only 2¾ millions of dollars compared with 1907. For the four months of the calendar year 1908 the total merchandise exports reached $648,930,232, or a loss of 19 millions from 1907, and for the ten months of the fiscal year 1907-08 the total, at $1,631,906,065, exceeds the period of 1906-07 by 23½ millions.

In imports the falling off from April a year age was noticeably greater than in exports. At New York, through which port the inflow of commodities constitutes 60% of the aggregate for the whole country, the inward movement was 22½ millions less than for the month a year ago. But imports have likewise fallen off quite materially elsewhere than in New York, so that, according to the official statement, the actual loss in imports for the whole country reached 44 millions, as compared with the month of 1907.

The inward movement of all descriptions of commodities aggregated a value of only $87,481,258, against $129,554,075 in April 1907 and 107 1-3 millions and 95 millions, respectively, in 1906 and 1905. For the four months of the calendar year 1908 the merchandise imports aggregated $346,345,030, or a loss of 166 millions from the record movement of 1907, and for the ten months of the fiscal year reached $1,018,345,740, contrasting with $1,195,399,104 for the period in 1906-07.

The favorable merchandise trade balance the foregoing result gave for April this year was $45,989,075, or 18 millions greater than in April 1907, swelling the export balance for the ten months of 1907-08 to approximately 613½ millions of dollars, a figure greater than in the ten months of any preceding year, and in excess of any full twelve-months' period except 1897-98 (when it was 615 millions) and 1900-01 (when it was 664 millions). For the four months of the calendar year 1908 the net export balance reached 302½ millions of dollars, a result largely in excess of that for the similar period in any former year.

The cotton-manufacturing industry of Fall River makes a more satisfactory dividend exhibit for the second quarter of 1908 than would seem to be warranted by the business conditions recently ruling and still obtaining. Not only has inactivity been a characteristic of trade the past few months, but prices of goods, notably printing cloths, have tended downward, reducing materially the excellent margins of profit the mills had theretofore enjoyed, and upon which the present wage scale was based. On a capitalization of $24,775,000 the quarter's distribution to shareholders totals up $410,750, or an average of 1.66%, owners in all but one of the thirty-three establishments our compilation includes participating.

It is of interest to note, moreover, that the current quarter's average dividend is, with the exception of those for the like periods of 1907, 1906 and 1900, greater than for the second quarter of any year in our record. Last year's exhibit was, of course, exceptional from the fact that one mill—the Troy Cotton & Woolen Manufacturing Co.—that ordinarily pays out from 3 to 6% in each quarterly period, distributed 45% then, against 6% in 1908. But extra or large dividends, either in the form of cash or stock, were a feature last year and were merely tangible evidence of the unexampled prosperous times through which the mills had been passing. All things considered, the second quarter's exhibit for this year is decidedly more favorable than one would be led to expect, especially if the basis for dividends had been the profits accruing during immediately preceding months. In fact, it is a question whether, had that been the basis, that distribution in many or most cases would have been passed. With the highest wage scale on record, cotton ruling above 11 cents for middling uplands most of the time, and standard printing cloths slow of sale on a low basis of value (below 3½ cents since late March) little of profit can be figured by the manufacturer. It is therefore quite evident that the second quarter's dividends have been, or will be, largely paid out of accumulated surpluses.

For the quarter the majority of the mills have maintained the previous year's rate, four (including the Troy. Co., referred to above) have paid out less than a year ago, one has passed its dividend, and the remainder (twelve) have increased the amount distributed. Actually the amount distributed in the second quarter last year was $117,775 greater than the aggregate this year, the average rate having been 2.21%. In the thirteen years prior to that time the highest rate of distribution was 2.14% in 1902 and the lowest 0.50% in 1898.

Combining the results for the second quarter of 1908 with those for the earlier period of the year, we find that the thirty-three corporations have distributed to their stockholders in the first half of 1908 almost a million dollars ($972,300) on a capitalization of $24,775,000, or an average rate of 3.92%, which contrasts with 4.70% in the six months of 1907 and 3.26% in 1906. The lowest half-yearly rate of distribution in our record is that for 1898—0.76%.

Interest at Fall River now centres upon what will be the outcome of the next semi-annual adjustment of wages. The present scale that went into force last November expires on May 23, and the new should go into effect Monday, May 28. The regular meeting of the Textile Council at which the report on the average margin for the past six months will be made is scheduled for Wednesday, May 20. In view of the fact that during the period there has been a marked shrinkage in the margin between cotton and cloth, it is figured, roughly, that the adjustment under the agreement will cut the price of weaving somewhere about 15%. No trouble, however, is expected to follow the announcement of the new scale, its signing being now looked forward to as merely a matter of form. The market for goods at Fall River is at the moment much better as to general demand, but bids being made by buyers are stated to be below actual cost of production, even with reduced wages.

Building operations during the month of April 1908, while showing an increase over the preceding month—the normal development of activity with the advance of spring—do not exhibit any features indicative of general revival in the industry. In some sections of the country, of course, as in earlier months of the year, it is noticeable that a larger outlay is being put into construction work arranged for in April 1908 than in the month of 1907, but for most localities the expenditure covered by this year's contracts is very much less than for the like period last year. In fact, the "American Contractor's" compilation for the month of April, which covers forty-seven of the leading cities of the United States, indicates that in the aggregate the permits issued at those points called for an outlay of only $47,816,565 this year, compared with $72,183,172 for 1907, or a decrease of 33.8%. The comparison April 1908 makes with 1907 is, as has been the case month by month since the opening of the year, unfavorable, but the operations reported are large when contrasted with those for only a few years further back. In referring to that fact, the "Contractor" says in effect that while the unsettled conditions incident to the panic and extreme currency stringency have served to restrict building operations since last fall, it should not be forgotten that the enormous amount of construction work done within recent years has no doubt left an over-supply which is sufficient to meet current demand for new buildings at the moment.

As already stated, there has been considerable activity in building operations in some localities this year. In this respect New Orleans has recently been conspicuous, the large gain in expenditure of 402% involved by March 1908 contracts over those of a year ago being followed by an increase of 163% in April. At Denver, moreover, operations in each month of 1908 have been greater than in the corresponding month of 1907, the percentage of increase rising month by month and culminating with an excess of 171% in April. Salt Lake City and Chattanooga also report operations greater by over 100% than for April 1907, and at Birmingham, Chicago, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Manchester, St. Joseph, Spokane and Topeka this year's outlay exceeds that for 1907.

On the other hand, conspicuous inactivity is to be noted at many points. Particularly is this true at San Francisco, where the permits issued in April this year called for the expenditure of but $2,084,015, or 74% less than last year, this decline following decreases of 45% and 66% respectively in the two preceding months. The falling off in estimated outlay at Reading is placed at 91%, Mobile 82%, South Bend 81% and Philadelphia 53%. Greater New York's exhibit is better than for earlier periods of the year, the percentage of decrease being less. For the combined boroughs the falling off in April this year reaches 40%, but in Manhattan alone the situation was much more favorable, the decline being only 12%, whereas in the Bronx it is reported at 47% and in Brooklyn 75%.

Combining the results for the four months, we obtain a clearer idea of how great has been the falling off in activity in building operations in 1908. For the forty-seven cities the outlay called for by the four months' contracts of this year has been only $124,034,078, against $196,197,171 in the similar period of 1907, or a decline of nearly 37%. During the same interval Greater New York's operations fell off over 52%, the expenditure arranged for having been $32,288,792 and $67,642,108 respectively.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week; had it not been for the fact that the exchanges at Continental centres were against London, the English Bank rate might have been reduced.

The differences between the average and the actual conditions of the New York Associated Banks, as disclosed by last week's statement, was quite important. The average gain in cash was $4,672,000; the actual gain was $9,262,400. The increase in reserves shown by the average statement was $971,125, to $63,883,475; the actual increase was $6,301,850, to $67,112,725. Loans increased, according to the average exhibit, $5,887,000; the actual gain in this item was $3,765,800. Deposits showed an average increase of $12,565,700 and an actual increase of $11,842,200. Deposits of public funds in New York City depositories decreased $2,715,300 during the week, making a reduction of $6,248,800, compared with May 2; the extent of such reduction as the result of the maturity on May 9 of the first installment of the Treasury call will not be shown until to-day (Saturday).

Though an effort has been made during the week to ascertain through the daily reported balances of the Sub-Treasury at the Clearing House the actual effect upon the market supplies of money of last Saturday's surrenders of public funds, such effort has not been successful because of the fact that offsetting operations by the Sub-Treasury, due to Government disbursements in excess of revenues, have deranged calculations. The daily Treasury statement shows that on May 14 the public funds in all depositories throughout the country had been reduced, compared with those on May 2, by 16 2-3 millions; presumably by Monday of this week the first installment of 20 millions of public deposits that were required to be surrendered on May 9 were covered into the Treasury. The reason why the full amount of such surrenders was not disclosed by the daily Treasury statement probably is that new deposits resulting from current internal revenue collections offset withdrawals to some extent.

Notwithstanding the surrender of 20 millions public deposits, as above noted, which was largely effected through the New York banks, and the withdrawal during the week from local institutions of 6¾ millions gold for export to Europe, the market for money did not appear to be even sentimentally affected. The fact that this was the case this week and that previous withdrawals of gold for export have failed to influence the market seems to indicate a state of congestion which is unrelievable, at least at present, through withdrawals of supplies of money, and possibly no relief may be experienced even though such withdrawals shall continue. On Saturday of next week the Treasury call for 25 millions of public funds will mature, this being the second and final installment of the call of April 28. Should there be a continued outflow of gold to Europe there may be some impression made thereby upon the market; if a hardening tendency shall not develop it will indicate that the congestion is largely due to the counteracting influence of the Treasury fiscal conditions—disbursements in excess of revenues, together with the influx from the interior, being sufficient to meet the meagre current requirements of business and speculation and to contribute to increasing bank surpluses.

Money on call, representing bank and trust company balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 2% and at 1½%, averaging 1¾%; as was the case last week, trust companies were in competition with banks in the loan market, and therefore, the minimum rate was recorded by both classes of institutions. Time money on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral continues in abundant supply; while there is a good inquiry for long maturities there is practically none for loans for short periods. Rates are 2½% for sixty days, 2¾@3% for ninety days, 3@3¼% for four, 3½% for five, 3½@3¾% for six months and 4½@4¾% for over the year. Commercial paper of first class is in active request, not only by local institutions but by out-of-town banks. Quotations are 3½% for very choice sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable and 4% for a slightly lower grade and for four months' single names and 4@4½% for six months' unendorsed paper; while there is a better supply of good to ordinary names than for those that are choice, the demand therefor is small.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 2⅛%. The open market rate at Paris is 2⅛% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4⅛%. According to our our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £440,118 bullion during the week and held £37,029,269 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due mainly to shipments to the interior of Great Britain. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £161,000 (of which £80,000 from Egypt and £59,000 from Australia and £22,000 from miscellaneous sources); exports, £252,000 (of which £227,000 to Paris and £25,000 to South America), and shipments of £349,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was active and, though irregular, generally strong this week, influenced by a good demand for remittance and by a small supply of bills. The inquiry was stimulated early in the week by the development of a short interest of some magnitude, the result of recent speculative operations, as was noted last week. The effort to procure cover for oversold exchange disclosed a bare market for bankers' drafts, which made the inquiry therefor more keen. Later in the week there was an urgent demand for bills to remit for American stocks that had been sold for European account, which sales apparently reflected some desire by London speculators to realize the profits on their holdings, these profits having been enhanced by the boom in our stock market, that seemed to have an unsubstantial basis for its promotion. The pendency of the London Stock Exchange settlement had some influence on the market, though it seemed to be slight, as was indicated by the failure of cables to respond to the strong tone for short. The recession in cable rates, coincidently with the announcement of engagements of gold for export, appeared to make it probable that shippers of the metal were drawing against their credits and selling cables for the reimbursement of the exports of gold. Long sterling was higher in response to lower open market discounts in London; commercial bills were, however, quite scarce, owing to the small exports of commodities, and quotations were firm. Continental exchange rates, and especially francs, were strong, and the maintenance of the latter at the gold-export point seemed to indicate that shipments of some of the metal were effected through the medium of francs instead of by the process of arbitration of exchange. After provision had been made for gold exports by Thursday's French steamer, the market became easier, but there was a partial recovery in the tone; the temporary ease reflected a lighter demand for remittance, next Tuesday's steamer offering better inducements to remitters than to-day's—Saturday's

The week's gold exports by Thursday's steamer were $5,755,000 to Paris; it was expected, however, that some portion of this sum would be sent to Berlin through the French capital. On Friday there was an urgent demand for gold for direct shipment to Berlin, which inquiry was stimulated by the fact that the supply of gold bars in the New York Assay Office available for export had been reduced to such an amount that further large requirements for export would temporarily exhaust the stock of this form of the metal in the New York office, and make necessary a resort to coin until new bars could be manufactured. As the result of this deficiency in the supply of gold bars, the stock thereof was nearly absorbed through engagements of 3½ millions for shipment by Saturday's (to-day's) and by Tuesday's steamers to Berlin. With the amount of gold forwarded this week—$5,775,000 on Thursday and 3½ millions engaged for to-day (Saturday) and Tuesday of next week—the shipments and engagements thus far on the present movement will be $9,275,000; exports in April to Paris were 12 millions, so that, including these effected and arranged for this week, the movement thus far will embrace 17¾ millions to Paris and 3½ millions to Germany; a total of 21¼ millions. The direct movement of gold hence to Berlin, as above noted, seems to have been due to inducements in the form of interest on the metal while it was in transit, which enabled cable marks, or possibly sight, to be advantageously employed for the reimbursement of the exporter.

French exchange and European and New York monetary conditions appear to have been and still are the dominant factors contributing to our exports of gold. While open market discounts at Paris were relatively higher than were those at London, French bankers drew gold from the British capital, through purchases of the metal in the bullion market, and the repayment by the Bank of England of the advances which the Bank of France made to it last November caused the latter directly to accumulate gold in its own vaults. The relatively higher rates for money in the London open market than for those in New York, which prevailed last month, induced our bankers to remit their balances to London for employment and the continued prevalence of such relative rates tended to increase the volume of New York credits so employed. The reluctance of our bankers to disturb such credits, and the contraction of supplies of exchange through limited exports of commodities, contributed to the maintenance of firm rates for exchange at New York on London. Thus, a situation gradually developed, through low rates for exchange at Paris on the British capital and high rates for sterling at New York on London, which made it advantageous for French bankers to draw gold from this city, which movement began last month. As gold was concurrently moving toward Paris from London, the French market with comparative rapidity accumulated the metal; there was, however, profitable employment for excess supplies of gold, for Berlin most urgently needed it and Paris liberally financed the Reischsbank and the Berlin market, thus contributing, as shown this week, to a reduction in the German unofficial rate to the lowest since before the crisis of 1907.

Compared with Friday of last week, exchange rates were strong on Saturday at an advance of 10 points for long to 4 8490@4 85, 10 points for short at 4 8720@4 8725 and 20 points for cables at 4 8770@4 8775. On Monday long rose 15 points to 4 8505@4 8510, short 5 points to 4 8725@4 8730, while cables fell 5 points to 4 8765@4 8770. On Tuesday long advanced 15 points to 4 8510@4 8520, short 5 points to 4 8730@4 8735, cables declined 10 points to 4 8755@4 8765. On Wednesday long rose 5 points to 4 8515@4 8525, short fell 10 points to 4 8715@4 8725 and cables 10 points to 4 8750@4 8755. On Thursday the market was easier at a decline of 5 points for long to 4 8510@4 8520, of 5 points for short to 4 8710@4 8720 and of 10 points for cables to 4 8735@4 8745. On Friday the market was irregular, with long 5 points higher and short and cables 5 points lower.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

b The Austro-Hungarian Bank Statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of Gulden and Kreutzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 80 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

d The total of gold in the Bank of Russia includes the balance held abroad—that is, the amount held for Russian account in other Continental banks. The proportion so held, and consequently duplicated in the above statement, is about one-quarter of the total.

BRITISH BUDGET AND OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

Mr. Asquith's announcement to Parliament last week of the Budget estimates for the British Government's expenditure during the coming year was, for numerous reasons, awaited with deep interest. It was known that the financial results of the preceding year had been considered satisfactory. What had been still more striking was the evidence more lately presented that the British Government's revenue did not, like our own, suffer from the period of world-wide depression which followed the October panic in New York. On the contrary, the receipts of the past few months were so great as to bring the revenue for the fiscal year ending last March £1,501,200 above Mr. Asquith's estimate of a year before.

This, with a decrease in expenditures below his estimate, brought about a surplus of something like £4,700,000, where practically no surplus had been expected. Under ordinary circumstances, interest in a Budget estimate dealing with such figures would have centred on plans for remission of taxation or for large redemption of debt—either of which would affect not only the financial markets but the prosperity of the people. On the present occasion, calculations of this nature were entirely overshadowed by expectation that Mr. Asquith would use the occasion to bring forth his calculations on the plan for pensioning the aged out of the nation's funds.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Asquith announced merely a trivial reduction in the sugar duty, and otherwise left the existing basis of taxation unchanged. The income tax, therefore, which still, at a shilling in the pound, stands at a figure never before reached except during or immediately after a period of war, remains as a burden on the people. Mr. Asquith announced that, allowing for redemption of consols during the coming year, the British debt this past year has been reduced to the extent of $90,000,000, and that a year from now it will stand exactly where it stood twenty years ago. This does not mean, as may have been hastily inferred, that the whole or the greater part of the debt contracted during the Transvaal War has been paid off. Twenty years ago was 1888, and between that date and the outbreak of the Boer War, in 1899, the enormous revenue yield under Sir William Harcourt's death duties enabled the Exchequer to redeem outstanding consols at such a pace that the total debt was cut down in the eleven-year period no less than $390,000,000. The decrease of the debt since the Transvaal contest, has brought it only to the figure at which it stood before this reduction in the period from 1888 to 1899. Furthermore, Mr. Asquith does not make as large an allowance for redemption of the Imperial debt this coming fiscal year as in the year just past, and when the Budget is examined further, the reason for such reduced allowance will be manifest.

Stated in American values, the Government's surplus revenue for the past fiscal year was $23,600,000; for the coming fiscal year it is estimated at $24,500,000. Taking these figures into consideration, Mr. Asquith proceeded to unfold his plan for old-age pensions. His proposition was for pensions of $1 25 per week for all of the British population more than seventy years of age and not in receipt of a weekly income greater than $2 50. He figured out that the maximum number of such pensioners would not exceed 500,000, from which he deduced the conclusion that the annual cost under his estimate would not run beyond $30,000,000 annually. The plan he wishes to put in effect in January 1909.

Now, the first point which will impress the reader of these statements is that even Mr. Asquith's tentative estimate of $30,000,000 per annum is considerably greater than the actual surplus revenue of the fiscal year 1908, or the estimated surplus revenue for the fiscal year 1909. The shortage in the coming fiscal year's surplus below the estimate for old-age pensions would be very much greater but for the fact that the Ministry reduces its allowance for debt-redemption as compared with the past twelve months. This much is plain, then, at the start, that all the surplus revenue in sight is devoted to this old-age pension scheme, even in the face of the exorbitantly high income tax and of the admitted tendency toward further rapid increase in expenditure for war and navy. The question of providing for the future, therefore, becomes extremely practical.

Introducing, as he did, a plan of expenditure which is experimental and in some ways revolutionary, Mr. Asquith was necessarily on the defensive. Lawyer-like, he warned Parliament in his speech that his plan was merely a beginning and more or less of an experiment, and that his calculations were largely conjectural. This was not wholly a cheerful view of things. Proceeding, the Prime Minister remarked that his scheme would be attacked as socialistic. To this he replied that if this was socialistic, then both parties of the country were responsible for it. For our own part, we should say that use of such an argument by a man of Mr. Asquith's severely logical temperament was the strongest testimony possible to the weakness of his position. When such a mind professes itself satisfied with the tu quoque retort, it comes pretty close to giving up its claim on the consideration of thoughtful reasoners. According to the dispatches, Mr. Asquith went on to say that the old-age pension plan "is exactly on the same footing as free education." This we can hardly believe to have been the Prime Minister's actual assertion; there is, in our judgment, not the slightest possible analogy between the two uses of the public funds.

We have emphasized this matter of Mr. Asquith's logic because, to our mind, it portrays more than anything else could do the peculiar and unfortunate situation into which the question has been brought through the trafficking of both parties with the socialistic vote. Such political manoeuvres bring their own penalty. and it is merely a more exemplary punishment if the individual sufferer is a man who, like Mr. Asquith, cannot easily be imagined as sympathizing heart and soul with the undertaking itself.

We hardly need repeat our opinions previously stated, that the announcement of this plan of Mr. Asquith's is only the beginning of his troubles. One difficulty he himself discovered immediately, in the entire lack of enthusiam by the Labor Party over his plan. Their outspoken comment was that the age limit of seventy years was too high, and that sixty-five was the only reasonable term. But, clearly, the further the age limit is reduced, the more rapidly Mr. Asquith's margin of safety in his Government surplus will be invaded. Nor can any one familiar in the least with the course of political and social agitation suppose that demands for such extension will not become increasingly aggressive. As we have seen, Mr. Asquith himself, in introducing his Budget, warned Parliament, though with more or less vagueness, of such probable extensions of the plan. What the end is to be, with the Government once started on this dangerous road, it is impossible to foresee; the only unquestionable fact is that in a matter of this sort, backsteps are not likely to be feasible. Retrenchment, or revision of the schedule in the direction of economy, is a dream in which no experienced legislator will indulge.

Our own war pensions are a typical case in point. As far back as 1872, when something like $25,000,000 was paid out annually for that account, General Garfield declared in the House of Representatives, while reporting the session's appropriation bill, "We may reasonably expect that the expenditure for pensions will hereafter steadily decrease, unless our legislation should be unwarrantably extravagant." Yet, as everybody knows, our annual pension bill, despite the fact that death of survivors of the war should have progressively reduced it, rose in 1893 to $159,000,000, and had been brought down only to $139,000,000 by the fiscal year 1907. The reason for this upsetting of General Garfield's prediction was precisely the reason which is likely to prevail in the case of the British old-age pensions. The increase was a partisan bid for voters. Yet, even in our pension legislation there were considerations which do not at all prevail in the case of the British Government. The extravagant increases in such allowance by our Congress were adopted at times when sudden and enormous expansion of population and prosperity had so greatly increased the annual expenditure as not only to provide facilities for larger appropriations, but to embarress the money markets and general trade through the accumulation of actual cash in the vaults of the Treasury.

England has no such recourse in the way of automatically-expanded revenue to rely upon. As we have seen, its Government starts on this experiment with the income tax already at the war figure, and with the Premier's cautious estimates of the preliminary outlay for old-age pensions hardly covered even by the existing surplus. It is possible, and we sincerely hope it is probable, that this fiscal consideration will check the tendency to recklessness in the direction of enlarging these new and socialistic outlays by the Government. We have hitherto pointed out the great conservative force exerted by the English middle classes in such matters, and it is on these thrifty middle classes that the pressure of taxation will bear most heavily. To what extent such extravagant projects for the future will affect the plans of the English advocates of a protective tariff, it is too early to say. Mr. Asquith himself declared that he would not purchase all the possible advantages of old-age pensions at the cost of sacrificing Great Britain's free trade policy. All people interested in sound Anglo-Saxon legislation will hope that Mr. Asquith's own confidence will be justified by the future. But the experiment is yet to be tried.

THE CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS AT WASHINGTON.

The conference of the Governors of the different States, together with the leaders in the industrial world and United States Senators, Congressmen, Justices of the Supreme Court, and Cabinet Ministers, called by President Roosevelt, and which has been in session in Washington throughout the week, beginning with Wednesday, has attracted a great deal of attention. It is possible to conceive, too, that it may take an important place in history. The purpose of this conference seems to be to secure co-operation on the part of Federal and State officials, and all those in authority, in husbanding the country's natural resources. The idea is to prevent the dissipation and destruction of the country's vast resources, whether in the mine, or the forest, or through exhaustion of the soil by improvident or improper farming methods or through erosion by floods and overflows.

The object is most laudable and in the highest degree commendable. Some very notable speeches have distinguished the sessions of the convocation, and these alone would furnish full justification for calling it—we have reference to such addresses as those delivered by James J. Hill, Andrew Carnegie, &c. Whether the outcome of the gatherings will be what President Roosevelt, doubtless, is hoping for, namely indorsement of his irrigation, land and forest policies, may be doubted. That the movement will, however, bear good fruit in various directions is not open to question.

While sympathizing with the general purpose which has brought so many representative people together, it seems to us that the views taken of the future have been rather unnecessarily doleful. This is particularly true of the address of Mr. Roosevelt, which was obviously not an impulsive delivery but prepared with great care and deliberation. It might also be added that there was an element of the theatric and spectacular in the way in which the convocation was held, impairing the possible influence of the movement, but that seems inseparable from the acts of the President, and therefore may be passed by .

The burden of Mr.Roosevelt's remarks is that like a spendthrift we are fast using up our natural heritage, and that if we do not have a care—if we do not conserve what we still possess—there will be nothing left for posterity. In this last event, we are told, not only must industrial progress come to an end, but very likely political disintegration and degeneracy may ensue and the stability and perpetuity of our political institutions be endangered. We do not share in these extreme views. Waste is never to be excused and it is the duty of the nation as of the individual to guard against the same in every possible way. And yet we cannot get ourselves to believe that if our lumber supply is frittered away or our mineral wealth is exhausted, this will mean the end of the country's material advance or jeopardize civilization. On the contrary, we are inclined to think that if the contingency mentioned should arise, nature will be found equal to the occasion and provide proper substitutes.

There is no waste as far as nature is concerned. Waste concerns the individual. There is waste through improper tilling of the soil and through unskilful and unscientific methods of mining. But the loss is that of the individual. He pays the penalty in the poor reward that he gets for his toil. We do not mean to argue that the wholesale or reckless destruction of our forests is to be excused, or might not produce serious disadvantages in the present state of the country's development. We merely wish to emphasize the fact that there is no absolute destruction of anything in nature. The statement, indeed, is a self-evident one.

One of the first things that is impressed upon the the mind of the student by an instructor in physics is that what appears to be waste or destruction in the application of any of the processes of nature is simply a change'of form. The energy stored up in coal may be frittered away in a reckless use of the coal, but after all the energy itself has not been destroyed. We maybe sure it still exists in some other form, available for the uses of man if he can discoverthe secret of how to release it.

The President in his address urged that the occasion for the conference lay in the fact that the natural resources of the country are in danger of exhaustion if we permit the old, wasteful method of exploiting them longer to continue. We began, he says, with an unapproached heritage of forests; more than half of the timber is gone. We began with coal fields more extensive than those of any other nation and with iron ores regarded as inexhaustible, but many experts now declare that the end of both iron and coal is in sight. The enormous stores of mineral oil and gas are largely gone. Our natural water-ways are not gone, he declares, but they have been injured by neglect and by the division of responsibility and utter lack of system in dealing with them.

Even James J. Hill, far-sighted man that he has proved himself to be through an eventful business career, is inclined to give expression to pessimistic views when dealing with the matter. He says "When iron and coal are taken from the mine they cannot be restored; and upon iron and coal our industrial civilization is built. When fuel and iron become scarce and high-priced, civilization, as far as we can now foresee, will suffer as man would suffer by the gradual withdrawal of the air he breathes. The exhaustion of our coal supply is not in the indefinite future." We prefer to believe—while not at all countenancing waste and extravagance—that when our iron supplies become exhausted, some adequate substitute will be found in nature. Andrew Carnegie in his address gives some hint of the way in which this may come about, although even Mr. Carnegie permits himself to indulge in some curious suggestions. After noting what an enormous quantity of iron and steel is consumed by the railroads, Mr. Carnegie makes this statement: "No single step, open to us to-day, would do more to check the drain on iron and coal than the substitution of water carriage for rail carriage wherever practicable and the careful adjustment of the one to the other throughout the country." The situation, certainly, has not yet become so desperate that it is necessary to dispense with the railroad in order to diminish the consumption of iron and steel. Just now, indeed, a few orders for iron and steel from the railroads would be very welcome.

In the very next paragraph, however, Mr. Carnegie points out a probable way out of the dilemma. He says, fortunately the use of concrete, simple and reinforced, is already reducing the consumption of structural steel. The materials for cement and concrete are found in every part of the country; and while the arts of making and using them are still in their infancy, the products promise to become superior to steel and stone in strength, durability, convenience and economy of use. Again, further on in his address, he makes the following pregnant observation;

"The most promising check on coal consumption is the substitution of other power. Naturalists tell us that coal is a reservoir of solar energy stored up in ages past, and that the same is partly true also of other chemically complex substances, including ores. The sun-motor still runs; its rays render the globe habitable, and may yet be made to produce power through solar engines, or may be concentrated in furnaces—as in the Portuguese priest's heliophore at the St. Louis Exposition, with its temperature of 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit, in which a cube of iron evaporated like a snowball in a Bessemer converter. The sun helps to raise the tides, which some day will be harnessed. . . . It is only within the past decade that electrical transmission has made water-power generally available for driving machinery, for smelting, and for moving trains, and has at the same time created a new market for copper; yet it is a safe forecast that this method of using solar energy (for such water is as the product of sun-heat) will soon affect the constantly increasing drain on our coal. And just as the woods and the ores and the mineral fuels have become sources of wealth and power within our memory, so will become the running waters within a few years."

This last, it appears to us, is the correct view to take. At the present rate of industrial progress we are undoubtedly making heavy draughts upon the country's resources, and it is incumbent upon us to guard against waste and extravagance by every possible means. And yet we need not be unduly solicitous regarding coming generations of men. Nature, which, as we have already shown, is never wasteful, will come to our aid with new supplies or by revealing to us new methods for availing of existing supplies.

There is also another part of Mr. Roosevelt's address which deserves a moment's notice. The President cannot get rid of the idea that the business community is uncommonly depraved and that he is a moral regenerating force for bringing it back to the paths of rectitude. He says: "So great and so rapid has been our material growth that there has been a tendency to lag behind in spiritual and moral growth; but that is not the subject upon which I speak to you to-day." Notwithstanding the statement made in the last clause of this quotation, he nevertheless returns to the subject at the close, in these words:

"Finally, let us remember that the conservation of our natural resources, though the gravest problem of to-day, is yet but part of another and greater problem to which this nation is not yet awake, but to which it will awake in time, and with which it must hereafter grapple if it is to live—the problem of national efficiency, the patriotic duty of insuring the safety and continuance of the nation. When the people of the United States consciously undertake to raise themselves as citizens, and the nation and the States in their several spheres, to the highest pitch of excellence in private, State and national life, and to do this because it is the first of all the duties of true patriotism, then and not till then the future of this nation, in quality and in time, will be assured."

In the paragraph just quoted we have the theory upon which Mr. Roosevelt has been acting through the whole of his administration as President. He entertains the notion that there is an exceptional amount of wickedness in the world and that he has been selected to cast it out. Therefore he has been proceeding, Samson-like, to pull down the whole industrial structure. The results are now visible on every side. For ourselves we are fully convinced that our citizens are just as honest and straightforward as they have ever been—also, as patriotic and devoted to the country as they have ever been. Nor can we accept the conclusion that there is a "problem to which this nation is not yet awake but to which it will awake in time and with which it must hereafter grapple if it is to live"—this, evidently, being further allusion to the President's belief in excessive wickedness, from which it is his duty to rescue the country. Much could be said to show that there is no absence of moral tone in the community. This being so, we can see no occasion for despair. With all respect for the President and his work, we deem it our duty to point out that the country lived very comfortably and very prosperously, all the time observing the moral law, for over a hundred years before the forceful personality of the President appeared on the scene, and we are encouraged to hope that it will continue on in its course, making steady progress towards a higher plane, for at least several thousand years more after he has given up the duties of his office.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR APRIL.

Our compilation of the gross earnings of United States railroads for the month of April—covering, of course, only the roads which furnish early preliminary returns, comprising altogether 79,203 miles of road—makes a very poor showing. In fact the exhibit is the worst for any month since the panic of last October and November plunged the country on its downward course. The amount of the falling off for the roads reporting reaches no less than $11,486,050. The ratio of decrease is not far from 20%—in exact figures 19.85%. In other words, during the month of April, gross earnings of the country's rail transportation lines, judged by these early returns, were reduced one-fifth as compared with the corresponding month of last year. This, as already said, is far in excess of the shrinkage in preceding months, the decrease in March by the roads making early returns having been only 14.36%, that for February 10.71% and that for January but 8.74%. Moreover, as showing the general nature and wide extent of the falling off, all the 53 systems or companies contributing returns share in the decrease, with only three exceptions. One of these three latter roads is the Canadian Northern, operating a greatly increased mileage in a new country, and the other two are minor lines in the remoter sections of the country.

In searching for the reasons to account for this very heavy contraction in railroad revenues, it is almost needless to say that the country's industries have been in a state of extreme depression, this depression having become steadily more pronounced through April and indeed having grown in intensity up to the date of this writing. In addition, however, there has been another contributing cause—we mean contributing in a double sense, first in intensifying trade depression and secondly in producing itself a large falling off in railroad revenues. We refer to the suspension of mining in the bituminous coal regions in various parts of the country. This has not attracted as much attention as it would if the country's industries had been in a state of great activity where a full supply of fuel was necessary to keep the wheels of industry in motion; but it was nevertheless an important circumstance with the roads in nearly all portions of the United States. Most of the soft-coal mines produced little or nothing and consequently the shipments of coal over the roads were necessarily greatly reduced or discontinued altogether, with the result that one very important item of traffic with large numbers of lines was heavily curtailed. In one section of the Middle Western States, namely Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, an adjustment of the wage schedule, differences concerning which had been the cause of the suspension, was reached by the 17th, but even here the miners did not return to work in any great numbers until after the close of the month.

It should also be noted that there was a falling off in the cotton traffic in the South and a very heavy shrinkage in the grain movement and likewise in the live-stock shipments in the West. Thus, everything seemed to combine to accentuate the falling off in railroad revenues. Furthermore, comparison is with totals last year which had shown (for reasons which need not be enumerated here) much larger gains in earnings than had been the case in the months preceding. In brief, in April 1907 our early compilation had shown $11,044,527 gain, or 16.12 per cent. Under all these circumstances, any better result than that now disclosed was of course out of the question. We might add that in the years preceding 1907, gains in April had also been marked in nearly all the years for the period of about a decade. This fact is brought out in the following table furnishing a summary of the April totals back to 1897.

Note.—We do not include the Mexican roads in any of the years.

With the roads as a whole showing such decided shrinkage in gross revenues the present year, it follows inevitably that the individual roads or systems have been distinguished in the same way. It is important to bear in mind, however, that the showing in net is likely to be much better, as most of the roads managed to reduce their expenses in a very satisfactory manner. We have already stated that out of the whole 53 roads reporting gross earnings, all but 3 have fallen behind in their totals. In the case of many systems or companies, the losses are very large, both in amount and ratio. Thus, those three prominent trans-continental lines on the north, namely the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Canadian Pacific, have all been prominent in this way, the Great Northern reporting a decrease of $1,486,423, the Northern Pacific a decrease of $1,169,660 and the Canadian Pacific a decrease of $918,000. The roads in other sections are distinguished in much the same way, though their loss is not quite so heavy in amount. In the Southwest the Missouri Pacific has a loss of $917,000, in the Middle West the Illinois Central has a loss of $856,699, and in the South the Southern Ry. a decrease of $834,591 and the Louisville & Nashville a decrease of $713,882. In the following we show all changes of the separate roads for amounts in excess of $30,000

We have referred above to the falling off in the grain movement. The shrinkage extended to all the different cereals and in nearly all cases reached large proportions. Taking the grain movement at the Western primary markets for the five weeks ending May 2, we find that the receipts of wheat in this period the present year were only 9,850,961 bushels, against 22,481,423 bushels in the corresponding five weeks of 1907. The receipts of corn were only 13,633,312 bushels, against 17,038,717 bushels; of oats, 16,158,442 bushels, against 21,142,877 bushels, and of barley 3,211,827 bushels, against 5,467,868 bushels. Adding rye, the receipts of the five cereals the present year aggregated only 43,120,972 bushels, against 66,822,200 bushels. In the table we now give we furnish a summary of the grain movement in our usual form.

With reference to the falling off in the Western live-stock movement this also reached large proportions. Of cattle the deliveries at the five Western markets in April 1908 were only 494,161 head, against 745,314 head in April 1907; of hogs only 1,175,897 head, against 1,337,246, and of sheep 656,825, against 810,930 head.

The cotton movement in the South shows shipments overland for the month in 1908 of only 72,876 bales, against 128,798 bales in April last year, and receipts at the Southern ports of only 313,078 bales, against 382,385 bales. The port receipts in detail compare as follows for the three years —The House of Representatives at Washington, by a vote of 184 to 145, passed on Thursday the modified Vreeland Currency Bill, drafted by the committee of five appointed last week to report a perfected bill; the bill had been adopted at the Republican conference on Monday night, by a vote of 128 to 16. In the final action on the measure, the Democratic members of the House voted solidly against it, fourteen Republicans joining in the opposition. The action of the committee in using the Vreeland bill as a basis for the new measure was in accordance with the instructions of the conference last week. The perfected Vreeland bill provides that banks, not less than ten in number, with an aggregate capital and surplus of at least $5,000,000, may form voluntary associations, to be known as clearing-house associations. These associations must be composed of banks in contiguous territory. Through these associations emergency currency to an aggregate amount of $500,000,000 may be issued. The currency is to be based upon "any securities, including commercial paper," which the banks may hold. Any bank may join the association of its district, but no bank may belong to more than one association. The bill stipulates that each association shall be a body corporate, may sue and be sued, and shall be governed by a board composed of one officer of each constituent bank. Any association member having bond-secured circulation outstanding to an amount equal to 40% of its capital, which has an unimpaired capital and a 20% surplus, may take out the new notes to the extent of 75% of the cash value of the securities deposited. The assets of all the banks in each association are to be jointly and severally liable for the circulation of any bank, and the Government is to have a first lien on them for that purpose. In general, each association is made, it is said, fully responsible for each of its members. The total circulation of any bank, including national bond-secured and emergency, is limited to the amount of its unimpaired capital and surplus. The issue by any association must bear the same ratio to the $500,000,000 limit that the aggregate capital and surplus of its membership bears to the aggregate capital and surplus of all the banks in the country. The same reserve is to be held against the notes as against deposits, banks in central reserve cities being required to maintain a cash reserve of 25% against the new currency; those in reserve cities a similar reserve, one-half of which may be deposited in banks in central reserve cities, and banks outside central reserve and reserve cities a 15% reserve, of which nine-fifteenths may be on deposit in reserve cities. The redemption of the special currency is unlimited. The proposed currency is to be taxed at 4% per annum for the first two months, with an increase in the rate of 1% per month for each additional month until 10% is reached. The bill provides for the creation of a currency commission, to be composed of six Senators, six Representatives, and six other persons, to be appointed by the President. Pursuant to an amendment adopted on Thursday, the wording on the face of the notes will state that they are secured by bonds or other securities "in accordance with law."

The Senate Finance Committee yesterday unanimously authorized Senator Aldrich to report the Aldrich Bill with certain sections omitted as a substitute for the Vreeland Bill. The bill was subsequently passed by the Senate by a vote of 47 to 20, and was then sent to a conference committee of both Houses. One of the sections stricken out is that providing for a larger cash reserve by national banks than is at present required; another is that prohibiting a bank from investing in stocks or other securities of corporations whose officers or directors are identified with the bank. The amendment making Philippine and Porto Rican bonds a basis for the security of the notes is also said to have been eliminated.

—In its issue of April 27, the San Francisco "Daily Commercial News" took occasion to refer to the present condition of the banks of the city as compared with 1907, 1906 and 1905, such a comparison being considered of especial interest in view of the changing conditions of the past two years, which have been felt by the banks in many ways. It is pointed out that, when insurance money was flowing into San Francisco after the fire of 1906, both bank clearings and deposits were abnormally large. Later came a period of contraction all over the country, and then the panic of last fall. While deposits for 1908 are found to be below those for 1907 and 1906, and in most instances below those for 1905, the shrinkage is considered only natural, inasmuch as a large portion of the inhabitants has had to rebuild and furnish new homes, and naturally had to draw on their savings accounts.

In the same issue the "Commercial News" publishes some facts of interest concerning the certificates issued last fall by the San Francisco Clearing-House Association. Two classes of certificates were issued—one for use between the banks in Clearing-House operations and the other for general circulation, the latter being in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10 and $20. The first certificates for use between banks were issued on Oct. 29 1907; these bore interest at 8% per annum. The maximum amount issued of this class was $12,339,000, the high-water mark being reached about Dec. 24, and practically all being retired before the end of January. The certificates for general circulation were first issued on Nov. 4 1908, a total of $7,179,000 being used, with the largest amount in circulation on Dec. 16. Owing to their general circulation, the retirement of all of these, it is stated, has not yet been effected, about $45,000 still remaining outstanding. The loan committee examined in all about $50,000,000 of collateral, of which some $25,000,000 was deposited as security. Of this, 80% was in the form of commercial paper and 20% in bonds.

—During the past few weeks we have printed the text of several of the newly-enacted banking laws of New York State. To-day we publish another of the bills passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. This provides for the publicity of certain official acts of the Superintendent and reads as follows:

AN ACT

To amend the Banking Law relative to publicity of certain official acts of the Superintendent and details of the business of the department.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 689 of the laws of 1892, entitled "An Act in relation to banking corporations," is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be Section 39-b, to read as follows:

Section 39-b. Official acts of Superintendent and details of department business to be made public.—1. The Superintendent of Banks shall keep n his office, in a place accessible to the general public, a bulletin board upon which he shall cause to be posted at noon on Friday of each week a detailed statement, signed by him or, in case of his absence from Albany or inability to act, by the Deputy Superintendent in charge, giving the lowing items of general information with regard to the work of the department since the preceding statement:

(a) The name of every corporation that has filed in the banking department a certificate of incorporation or organization, its location and the date of filing of such certificate.

(b) The name and location of every corporation or individual banker authorized by the Superintendent of Banks to commence business, its capital, surplus and the date of authorization.

(c) The name of every proposed corporation to which a certificate of authorization has been refused by the Superintendent of Banks, and the date of notice of refusal.

(d) The name of every corporation that has applied to the Superintendent of Banks for permission to open a branch office, the date of such application and the location of the proposed branch.

(e) The name of every corporation that has been authorized by the Superintendent of Banks to open a branch office, the date of approval and the location of such branch office.

(f) The name and location of every corporation designated by the Superintendent of Banks as a depositary for the lawful money reserve of banks or trust companies, its capital, surplus and the date of designation.

(g) The name and residence of every person appointed by the Superintendent of Banks as a deputy, examiner or employee in the Banking Department, the title of the office to which appointed, the compensation paid and the date of appointment.

(h) The date on which a call for a quarterly report by banks or trust companies was issued by the Superintendent of Banks and the day designated as the day with reference to which such report should be made.

(i) The name and location of every corporation or individual banker of whose property and business the Superintendent of Banks shall have taken possession and the date of taking possession, and the name and residence of every person appointed by the Superintendent as a special Deputy Superintendent of Banks.

(j) The name and location of every corporation or individual banker which shall have been authorized by the Superintendent of Banks to resume business, and the date of resumption.

(k) The name and location of every corporation whose creditors or depositors have been paid in full by the Superintendent of Banks and a meeting of whose stockholders shall have been called, together with date of notice of meeting and date of meeting.

(l) The name and location of every corporation subject to the banking law whose affairs and business shall have been finally liquidated and the corporation dissolved.

(m) The name and location of every corporation which has applied for approval of a change of name, and the name proposed.

2. Every such statement, after having been posted as aforesaid for one week, shall be placed on a file for such statements to be kept in the office of the Superintendent of Banks. All such statements shall be public documents and at all reasonable times shall be open to public inspection.

Section 2. This Act shall take effect immediately.

—At the annual election of the New York Stock Exchange on Monday the regular ticket was unanimously elected, no opposition ticket having been presented. R. H. Thomas, who became President of the Exchange a year ago, was unanimously re-elected to that office, and F. W. Gilley was re-elected Treasurer.

—The Knickerbocker Trust Co. of this city announced this week that the two installments of 5% each due depositors June 26 1908 and Sept. 26 1908, respectively, would be anticipated, payment to be made June 1 1908. The company resumed business on March 26, after a suspension of five months, having closed its doors on Oct. 22. Under the plan of resumption, the depositors received certificates representing 70% of their deposits, 10% of which was paid with resumption and the balance in installments extending over a period of two years and four months. The remainder of the deposits, namely, 30%, are represented by "surplus certificates" bearing 4% interest, the principal of which is payable only out of net earnings and surplus; it is stipulated however, that the surplus shall in no event be reduced below $8,000,000 by reason of any such payment.

—The New York Stock Exchange firm of Mayer & Co., at 11 Wall Street, which assigned Oct. 22 last, resumed business on Monday the 11th inst. The difficulties of the firm were said to have been due principally to the shrinkage in the value of stocks, and more particularly Delaware & Hudson. The liabilities were placed at approximately $6,000,000. The appointment of the receiver was vacated a few weeks ago, at which time, also, all bankruptcy proceedings against the firm were discontinued. Last week the Exchange members, George R. Leslie and Abraham B. Baylis, were reinstated to membership on the Exchange. William F. Goldbeck, who had served as the assignee, issued a statement on Sunday night in which he said that the firm had paid its Stock Exchange creditors in full, with interest, and had settled all its indebtedness.

—Receiver Charles A. Hanna of the National Bank of North America of this city began the payment of a 25% dividend to the depositors of the institution on Thursday. This is the first distribution to be made to the depositors.

A decision was rendered against the bank on Wednesday in a suit brought against Receiver Hanna by Albert B. Boardman to recover $100,000 on a check made by the Mercantile National and indorsed by Charles W. Morse. The check, was made payable to Morgan J. O'Brien and was delivered to Mr. Morse, who, without authority, it is claimed, indorsed it in the name of Mr. O'Brien and delivered it to the National Bank of North America, which in turn indorsed it and presented it for payment through the New York Clearing House to the Mercanitle National Bank. The latter, unaware that the indorsement in Mr. O'Brien's name was unauthorized, paid it to the National Bank of North America.

—The Lincoln Trust Co., 208 Fifth Avenue, this city, is making steady and substantial progress in the rehabilitation of its business under the direction of its new President, Alexander S. Webb Jr., who lately assumed office. On Thursday evening of this week we learned on inquiry that the company's deposits were $7,770,000, which is a growth in business of $2,000,000 since March 27th last.

—A. E. Stilger, Cashier of the Chelsea Exchange Bank of this city, has been elected First Vice-President of the institution, continuing also as Cashier.

—The Jenkins Trust Company of Brooklyn Borough will formally adopt its new title, the Lafayette Trust Company, on June 15, having this week received permission from the court to make the change.

—Argument on the motion for the removal of the receivers of the Williamsburgh Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough, which was to have been heard on the 12th inst., has again been adjourned, this time until Monday next, the 18th inst.

—The National Newark Banking Co. of Newark, N. J., opened on Monday in new quarters in the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company's Building, at 752 Broad Street, corner of Clinton Street. The bank has spacious offices on the ground floor of the Clinton Street side of the building, with four separate entrances to its banking rooms from the main corridor. The desks and all the appurtenances are of metal. A mezzanine floor overlooks the general offices, and on that floor are located the directors' meeting room and the corresponding department. The main vault, which is of the most approved type, is in the basement. The bank is the oldest in the State. It was organized in 1804 under the name of the Newark Banking & Insurance Co. Upon the renewal of its charter in 1855 the name was changed to the Newark Banking Co. and with its reorganization as a national institution in 1865 it became the National Newark Banking Co. It has a capital of $1,000,000, surplus and undivided profits of $1,600,000 and average deposits of $6,000,000. The present officers of the institution are: D. H. Merritt, President; A. H. Baldwin, Vice-President; H. W. Tunis, Cashier, and W. M. Van Deusen, Assistant Cashier.

—A new national bank is being formed in Jersey City, N. J., under the title of the Merchants National. The proposed institution will locate in the Hudson City section, and is to start business in the late summer. The capital will be $200,000. The organizers are O. H. Albanesius, Edward Hoos, John Doecher, J. Connell and Fred. J. Stuber.

—Full payment has been made on the new $100,000 capital of the Ironbound Trust Co. of Newark, N. J., making the capital now $200,000 and the surplus $100,000. Action toward increasing the capital was taken by the stockholders in March.

—The Providence Clearing-House Association, at a meeting on the 7th inst., unanimously voted to reinstate the Union Trust Co. of that city to full membership. As noted last week, the company resumed business on the 4th inst. after a suspension of six months.

—Arthur B. Silsbee, Treasurer of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co., has been chosen President of the Merchants' National Bank of Boston, to fill the vacancy due to the death of Franklin Haven. Mr. Silsbee will assume the duties of his new office on June 1. A. P. Weeks, who is Cashier of the bank, has in addition become Vice-President.

—Nathaniel Thayer, a director of the New England Trust Co. of Boston, has been elected Vice-President of the institution to succeed the late Franklin Haven. James M. Prendergast has been chosen to replace Mr. Haven as a member of the executive and finance committees.

—The Central National Bank of Philadelphia, after providing for its usual semi-annual dividend of 8%, has added $100,000 to its surplus, making it $2,600,000, and leaving undivided profits of $295,000.

—A settlement is reported to have been reached between Receiver J. H. Strawn of the failed Farmers' & Drovers' National Bank of Waynesburg, Pa., and the directors of the institution in the matter of charges of negligence against the board. By its terms, it is stated, the directors are to pay the receiver an aggregate of from $125,000 to $150,000 in addition to the double liability assessments on their stock. It is stated that they have further agreed, in some instances, to surrender their claims against the bank or the receiver in the matter of deposits or other interests. The agreement, it is reported, precludes the bringing of any suits for damages against the directors. The announcement of a 15% dividend in favor of the depositors of the bank was recently made. A 25% dividend is said to have been previously distributed, making in all thus far 40%. The bank closed its doors on Dec. 12 1906.

—According to advices received yesterday by the New York papers, measures to reassure the depositors of the Allegheny National Bank of Pittsburgh, which recently suffered a defalctaion, were taken at a meeting on Thursday night, when arrangements were completed for the raising of a guaranty fund of $500,000 cash by "certain strong financial interests" jointly with the directors of the bank. The agreement also provides for an entirely new management. As stated last week, William Montgomery, Cashier of the bank, has been charged with the embezzlement of funds of the institution to the amount of $469,000. He was arrested on the 7th inst. but was released under $50,000 bail. The amount was later increased to $100,000, owing, it is said, to the discovery of additional shortages. The bank is both a State and city depository, the State deposit amounting to $532,222 and the city deposit to $1,500,000. Mr. Montgomery is said to have turned over to the directors his holdings of Tonopah Extension stock, besides 1,200 shares of stock of the bank, valued at $144,000, and his residence, the valuation of which is placed at $28,000. The heaviest selling in months of Rapid Transit stock, which occurred at Philadelphia on Wednesday, was believed to have been an indirect outcome of the defalcation, rumor having it that politicians were seeking to cover up loans, not only in the Allegheny National but other institutions having State deposits.

—Two other Cleveland institutions suspended this week The Reserve Trust Company, capital $300,000, made an assignment on Thursday to the Superior Savings & Trust Company. Its liabilities are said to be $2,700,000.

On the same day the American Savings Bank Company, capital $50,000, closed its doors. It is stated that efforts are being made to secure assistance from another financial institution and that it is hoped to reopen the bank shortly. Its deposits amount to about $300,000. Both institutions began operations in 1903.

—A new financial institution, namely, the Bank of Cleveland Co., opened for business in Cleveland, Ohio, on Monday. The bank has an authorized capital of $50,000, of which $25,000 has been issued. It will remain open beyond the regular banking hours, or from 9 a. m. until 11 p. m. It is also announced that its operations will be restricted to Cleveland and Cuyahoga County. The quarters of the institution are in the Hippodrome Building. The management is made up of O. P. Fisher, President and Treasurer; E. W. Fisher, D. F. Sherbondy and H. O. Secrest, Vice-Presidents, and Julius Pomerene, Secretary.

—An assignment was made on the 8th inst by the Euclid Avenue Trust Co. of Cleveland. The Cleveland Trust Co. is the assignee. The immediate cause of the assignment is said to have been the refusal of the company's Clearing House representative to clear for it. The institution, it is reported, is the only one in the city which required aid during the financial troubles last fall. The company began business in Dec. 1903, having succeeded to the business of the failed Euclid Avenue Trust & Savings Bank. Of its authorized capital of $500,000, $200,000 is reported to have been paid in. The deposits on the day of the assignment are said to have been in the neighborhood of $1,350,000, which included a deposit of city funds aggregating $171,835 and another of State funds to the amount of $55,000. The Cleveland "Leader" states that it is expected that all depositors will be paid in full, but that it is believed the capital is impaired and that the stockholders will suffer a loss of a large part of their investment. J. P. Madigan succeeded W. H. Crafts as President early the present year. Mr. Madigan is Treasurer of the county.

—Group V. of the Ohio Bankers' Association will meet on Thursday next, the 21st inst., at Springfield, Ohio. S. C. Arbuckle is Secretary.

—The Defiance City Bank, of Defiance, Ohio, assigned on the 6th inst, J. W. Winn being named as assignee. The institution had a capital of $200,000. The trouble is said to have grown out of the failure in 1906 of the Creelman Lumber & Manufacturing Co., the bank, it is reported, having held a large quantity of the paper of the concern. The institution has a city deposit amounting to about $14,000.

—Henry Reis, lately Vice-President of the Old State National Bank of Evansville, Ind., has been elected President of the institution to succeed R. K. Dunkerson.

—The National Safe Deposit Co. of Chicago, in its annual report for the year ending May 1 1908, shows net profits for the twelve months of $294,929, against $241,927 for the previous year and $209,958 for the year ending May 1 1906. The floating debt has been reduced from $480,000 to $180,000. The company has an authorized capital of $2,500,000 and an authorized bond issue of a similar amount. It is announced that it will begin the payment of semi-annual dividends, at the rate of 6% per annum, on Nov. 1 1908. The company owns the First National Bank Building, in which are located the First National Bank, the First Trust & Savings Bank and the National Safe Deposit Co.

—A permit to organize the Ashland State Bank of Chicago has been issued to Lewis G. Elliott, Charles R. Wakely and G. Frank Flick. The capital is to be $200,000.

—An agreement to consolidate has been entered into between the State Bank of Michigan at Grand Rapids and the Kent County Savings Bank of that city. While the final details of the consolidation have not yet been completed, it has been definitely decided that the new bank will have a capital of $500,000 and surplus of $150,000. The entire capital will be taken by the shareholders in the two banks. It is understood that the consolidated institution will be known as the Kent State Bank, and that its President will be Henry Idema, Vice-President of the Kent County Savings Bank. The active Vice-President will be Daniel McCoy, President of the State Bank of Michigan, and there will be two other Vice-Presidents in John A. Covode and John A. S. Verdier, respectively President and Cashier of the Kent County Savings Bank. The last-named institution has a capital of $50,000, surplus and profits (Feb. 14 1908) of $292,217 and deposits of $3,020,887. The State Bank of Michigan has a capital of $150,000, surplus and profits (Feb. 14) of $150,997 and deposits of $2,239,306.

—A 30% dividend has been paid by Receiver William W. Wedemeyer of the failed Chelsea Savings Bank of Chelsea, Mich. The State, which had a deposit with the institution at the time of its closing, is said to have received $180,000. The bank suspended on Dec. 3 1907. Frank P. Glazier, ex-State Treasurer, was its President.

—The dates assigned for the coming meetings of the various groups of the Nebraska Bankers' Association are: Group 5, May 20, at Kearney; Group 6, May 29, at Chadron; and Group 1, June 17, at Lincoln. Group 4 held its annual session at Hastings on the 6th inst.

—A bid for all the assets of the failed Bankers' Trust Co. of Kansas City, Mo., which, it is expected, will enable the payment of a dividend of between 40 and 43% to all creditors, other than stockholders, has been made by Ira M. Cobe of Chicago. The offer has been submitted to the Court for approval by Receiver Thomas R. Marks, and a hearing on the matter will be held on Saturday, the 23d inst. In his offer of purchase Mr. Cobe agrees, with its acceptance, to pay to the receiver sufficient cash which, with the amount now in hand, will equal a dividend of 43% upon all the proved claims; and, further, to assume and pay all the unpaid costs and expenses of administering the trust, as well as all unpaid fees and compensation of the receiver and his counsel. If the bid is accepted, the stockholders will receive nothing on their stock. The institution suspended on Oct. 26 1908. It had a capital of $500,000 and deposits, it is understood, of about $900,000.

—The new American National Bank of Wilmington, N. C., organized within the past month with a capital of $100,000, began business on the 7th inst. The bank conducts a commercial and savings business. It is under the management of W. B. Cooper, President, George O. Gaylord, Vice-President, and Thomas E. Cooper, Cashier.

—An application to charter the Commercial National Bank of Macon, Ga., was approved by the Comptroller of the Currency on the 2d inst. The institution is being organized by interests in the Commercial & Savings Bank of Macon, for the purpose of taking over the commercial business of the latter. The savings bank has a capital of $50,000; the national bank will have a capital of $125,000

—The annual convention of the Alabama Bankers' Association opened yesterday at Montgomery, and will be brought to a close to-day. Alfred J. McGrath, Vice-President of the Western National Bank of Philadelphia, was one of the speakers at yesterday's session, his theme being "Co-operation—Essential between Banks." The world's best advances, Mr. McGrath declared, have been made or checked by co-operation or withholding of it. No better example, he stated, is afforded than when Europe's progress was threatened by personal ambition. The necessity of co-operation among banks of all States of the Union, he noted, grows more essential year after year, as shown by the endeavors of the various State bankers' associations to secure for their part the adoption of a uniform negotiable-instruments law, which, working hardship to none, benefits all affected in more than thirty States of the Union in which it has been adopted. Continuing, Mr. McGrath said:

"Had there been co-operation in the matter of currency reform within the last few years, the upheaval in the fall of 1907, from which the country is now only slowly recovering, would not have occurred. Every one had his own remedy. There was no coherent method of relief submitted—no co-operation. The multiplicity of plans submitted, and the confusion of ideas advanced, emphasized the need of education in a matter vitally affecting the ebb and flow of our currency supply in a proper ratio to the demands of our commerce.

"By co-operation the present sub-treasury system of drawing money from its legitimate channels might be abolished, and by co-operation an emergency circulation could be provided for, secured by, let us say, as a hypothesis, the bonds of States and municipalities, preferably those of central reserve and reserve cities, which had not exceeded the legallimit of their indebtedness; by co-operation a tax could be agreed upon which would necessitate this currency being retired when it became redundant, and instead of granting interest on treasury notes, which was punitive on the people who did not have even the use of them, a tax so regulated as to compel the retirement of this currency when circumstances made it redundant would ensue to their benefit by lightening their burden."

William B. Ridgely, ex-Comptroller of the Currency, and President of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, also addressed the bankers at the opening session, having for his subject, "Legislation and the Revival of Business."

—Authority to organize the National City Bank of Birmingham, Ala., was received from the Comptroller of the Currency on the 4th inst. The bank will have a capital of $500,000. Ben T. Head, W. H. Porter, Charles M. Spence, H. S. Chase and Nathan L. Miller are identified with the movement.

—The annual meeting of the Louisiana Bankers' Association, held at New Orleans on the 5th and 6th inst., brought forth addresses on various topics of moment. One of these was that of Col. Robert J. Lowry, President of the Lowry National Bank of Atlanta, which bore the title of "Timely Suggestions." In the course of his remarks, the New Orleans "Picayune" states, Col. Lowry warned the business men of the country that they were face to face with a form of opposition that was anti-corporation, socialistic, even anarchistic, in its tendency. To-day it was attacking the public carriers; to-morrow it might attack the banks. The corporations of the country, and the banks included, did not object to proper regulation, but the form of regulation, paternalistic in character, was ill-advised and dangerous. Col. Lowry further contended that it would be far better if the legislative halls were filled with business men, instead of the average kind of men who got into the legislatures. Then we would have the great issues confronting us properly solved, and the South and the whole nation would be truly great. It behooved the bankers to lend their moral support and aid to the cause which meant the betterment of the whole people, for the banks could only prosper when the whole people were prosperous.

State Bank Examiner W. L. Young discoursed on the duties and responsibilities of bank directors, incidentally referring to the subject of the guaranty of deposits. Mr. Young stated that he believed the most effectual plan to insure depositors in banks against loss is to insure banks against loss on account of the failure of borrowers. The nearest thing we may hope for, he said, looking to the accomplishment of this end, is that insurance to loans which will be given by the directors in exercising such degree of care and caution in placing loans as will reduce the bad debts to a minimum number. At its closing session the association adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of "a committee, to be composed of one from each Congressional district, to assist and support the Standing Legislative Committee in presenting to the Legislature at the coming session the urgent need for laws by which capital can be induced to seek investment in Louisiana; that said committee be empowered and instructed to use every means at its command to have objectionable laws rejected and suitable ones enacted, and that the expenses of this committee be borne by the Louisiana Bankers' Association." Peter Youree, President of the Commercial National Bank of Shreveport, is the newly-elected President of the association.

—The Union National Bank of Pasadena, Cal., whose application to organize was lately approved by the Comptroller, will be under the management of H. I. Stuart, President; C. W. Smith and B. F. Ball, Vice-Presidents; E. H. Groenendyke, Cashier, and H. L. Monat, Assistant Cashier.

—At a meeting on the 6th inst. the stockholders of the First Federal Trust Co. of San Francisco authorized the creation of a bonded indebtedness of $1,000,000, to be secured, it is understood, on the property of the institution at Post and Montgomery streets. Further particulars concerning the bonds were given in our issue of April 4. The company, which commenced business on Jan. 6 last, has a capital of $1,500,000.

—The Ladd & Tilton Bank of Portland, Ore., which was founded as a private bank in 1859, was incorporated on the 2d inst. As an incorporated institution, the bank starts with $1,000,000 capital, in $100 shares, and surplus and undivided profits of $400,000. The capital had previously been $250,000. The management of the bank will be the same as heretofore. The necessity for the incorporation, it is stated, arises from the increasing business of the institution, which can be handled better by a corporation than by a private bank. Frederick B. Pratt of the firm of Pratt & Co. of New York has become associated with the institution as a member of its board of directors. The officers of the bank are: William M. Ladd, President; Edward Cookingham, Vice-President; W. H. Dunckley, Cashier, and R. S. Howard Jr., J. W. Ladd and Walter M. Cook, Assistant Cashiers. The deposits of the institution were $12,206,670 on the 2d inst., its total assets on that date being $13,606,670.

—Arrangements for the convention of the Washington Bankers' Association, which is to be held at North Yakima on June 18, 19 and 20, are nearing completion. The speakers thus far announced are Judge Edward Whitson, who will discuss "Pioneer Days and Pioneer Banking"; Charles W. Swigart, Engineer U. S. Reclamation Service, and W. N. Granger, Irrigation Manager Sunnyside Project U. S. R. S., both of whom speak on "Reclamation and Its Results." W. R. Andrus of Tacoma will lead a discussion on the "Currency Question" and a number of bankers will debate the subjects "Shall Bank Deposits Be Guaranteed," and "The Late Currency Stringency and How We Met It." The subjects of "Bank Depositary Bonds," "Fidelity and Burglary Insurance" and the Gunn Bill will also be on the program for consideration. P. C. Kauffman, Second Vice-President of the Fidelity Trust Co. of Tacoma, is Secretary of the Association.

—The Union Trust Co. of Spokane, Wash., announces the appointment of J. E. Ferris, formerly of Chicago, as Manager of its bond department.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, May 2 1908.

There is an exceedingly strong demand in Paris at present for gold. We hear of one case, for example, in which an order was given some time back for a million sterling of the metal by a great French bank and the order up to the present has been found impossible of execution. Various French institutions, in fact, are so keenly competing with one another that the demand cannot be satisfied. The London market was greatly disappointed. It is true that the reserve of the Bank of England is large and that it is likely to increase. But the reserve has been reinforced mainly by the return of coin and notes from the interior. The Bank of England has not obtained anything like the proportion that was expected of the gold offering weekly in the open market. For a considerable time past, in fact, it has been able to obtain none, the French competition was so strong.

Trade in this country undoubtedly is slackening and as it slackens money is being set free and will gradually flow back to London. But there is an extraordinary number of new issues of all kinds coming out. This week four millions sterling of Pennsylvania Railroad bonds offered by the Messrs. Baring and the Messrs. Rothschild have been an extraordinary success. Such a success, indeed, has not been known for a long time past. The success undoubtedly has made an exceedingly good impression, and there has been an improvement in the American department, though, as the week draws to a close, the improvement has not been maintained. That is due, however, to the reaction in New York, not to any change of opinion in London. Still the reaction in New York, the utter stagnation in Paris and the general quietness of the bourses all over the Continent have tended to check the improvement here in London.

The main reason, however, of the quietude of this market is the number of new issues that are expected. It is beyond question that a very large number will come out, and as some of them are for considerable amounts, it is not reasonable to expect that they can all be subscribed for and taken up without injuriously affecting existing securities. Hitherto it had been hoped that caution would be exercised in bringing out new issues, that they would not be hurried out in an overwhelming stream. Now the fear is that each issuing house is so eager not to be left behind that they are all desirous of bringing out what they haye to offer as quickly as possible. Consequently, it is feared that all the money set free by the decline in trade will be mopped up in subscriptions to the new issues and that therefore the market for the old securities will languish.

Another circumstance that is disappointing markets, and therefore checking improvement, is the scarcity of money. The rates both of interest and discount are low, the Bank of England, as already said, is strong, and trade is unquestionably declining. Yet the supply of money in the open market is not large—is indeed scanty. Even this week, though the Stock Exchange settlement showed that there is an exceedingly small account open for the rise, yet the mere calling in of money by the banks at the end of the month and the payment of installments for new issues falling due compelled borrowers to renew loans obtained from the Bank of England and to add even to their borrowing. It is feared, consequently, that as the French competition for gold is so keen and as the joint-stock banks are not very well supplied with cash, money will remain comparatively scarce for a considerable time yet. As a result careful operators are hesitating about committing themselves to large engagements.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 10 lacs of its bills and the applications amounted to less than two lacs at 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee were allotted in full. Later in the day the Council sold a little over 1½ lacs at 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of April 16:

GOLD.—Paris was again the important buyer this week, the shipments there from New York of nearly £2,500,000 proving insufficient to satisfy their demands, and of the £1,000,000 that arrived here they secured about £800,000, the balance being taken for the Russian order and the usual India and trade demands. The checque is now down to 25.11, and the French demand is apparently not satisfied yet. Next week we expect £393,000 from the Cape. The Bank has received £62,000 from Australia and £32,000 from Egypt, and has lost £50,000 to Paris. Arrivals—Cape, £1,034,000; Straits, £100,000; Australia, £75,000; West Africa, £74,000; Brazil, £17,000; total, £1,300,000. Shipments—Bombay, £90,350; Colombo, £15,000; Calcutta, £6,000; total, £111,350.

SILVER.—The market has been weak. On the one hand India has been less active, for of this week's large shipments the greater portion had been bought previously, while on the other hand America has been a large seller and China has also tried to sell. The price has fallen ¾d. to 24 5-16d., and, with no immediate prospect of India being in the market, the tendency is dull. Forward has fluctuated between 1-16d. and ⅛d. over cash. The Indian rate is Rs. 63¼ per 100 Tolahs. Arrivals—New York, £193,000. Shipments—Bombay, £214,000; Colombo, £7,500; Calcutta, £5,500; Hong Kong, £5,000; total, £232,000.

a Includes bank notes. b After eliminating the item "Due from reserve depositories and other banks and trust companies in New York City," deposits amount to $698,516,100, an increase of $28,327,500 over last week's figures.

Note.—In the case of the Clearing-House banks, the deposits are "net" both for the average and actual figures: in all other cases "gross" deposits are shown. The Clearing-House actual figures included United States deposits amounting to $37,239,700, a decrease of $2,715,300 from last week; averages included United States deposits of $39,166,000, a decrease of $2,241,800 from last week.

"Reserve on deposits" includes, for both trust companies and State banks, not only cash items but amounts due from reserve agents, and in the case of trust companies includes likewise municipal bonds. State banks in New York City are required by law to carry a reserve amounting to 15% of deposits, while outside of New York City only 10% is required, which reserve in both cases need not be more than one-half in cash. Trust companies in Greater New York are required to keep a reserve of 15%, of which only 5% need be in cash and 5% more may be in municipal bonds, while in the case of the trust companies in the rest of the State the required reserve is 10%, of which only 3% need be in cash and 3% more may be in municipal bonds.

The State Banking Department also furnishes the following report for State banks and trust companies outside of Greater New York.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—It is not easy to find in the news of the week, or elsewhere, sufficient cause for the rather sharp advance which the stock market has experienced. In several cases new high records for the year have been established and a considerable number of usually inactive and obscure issues have been included in the upward movement.

There is logical reason, however, for the somewhat better feeling which is well known to exist in financial circles, and if the country is favored with good crops it seems quite possible that during the later autumn months the wheels of industry and transportation will again move in a more normal way.

Little attention has been paid to the announcement made this week that the number of idle cars continues to increase, or to the resumption of gold exports. The latter movement was commenced by the engagement of $5,750,000 for shipment to Paris and $3,500,000 to Germany. The Bank of England reports an increased percentage of reserve held and the local money market remains easy, notwithstanding gold shipments and the withdrawal of Government deposits.

The open market rates for call loans at the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1½% to 2%. To-day's rates on call were 1½@2%. Commercial paper quoted at 3½@4% for choice 60 to 90-day endorsements and for 4 months best single names; 4@4½% for a slightly lower grade of 4 to 6 months' single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £440,118, and the per cent of reserve to liabilities was 51.12, against 50.92 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%, as fixed March 19. The Bank of France shows an increase of 33,200,000 francs gold and 2,075,000 francs silver.

Note.—The Clearing House now issues a statement weekly showing the total of the actual figures on Saturday morning. These figures, together with the returns of separate banks, also the summary issued by the State Banking Department showing the condition of State banks and trust companies not reporting to the Clearing House, appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—Though irregular, the market was generally strong this week, closing easier in consequence of a lighter demand for remittance and a better supply of bills. Gold exports $5,755,000 to Paris; 3½ millions were engaged for shipment to Berlin. To-day's (Friday's) nominal rates for sterling exchange were 4 86 for sixty day and 4 88 for sight. To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 8515@4 8525 for long, 4 8705@4 8715 for short and 4 8730@4 8740 for cables. Commercial on banks 4 8480@4 8490 and documents for payment 4 84⅛@4 84¾. Cotton for payment 4 84⅛@4 84¼, cotton for acceptance 4 8480@4 8490 and grain for payment 4 84⅝@4 84¾.

To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for Paris bankers' francs were 5 17½@5 17½ for long and 5 15⅝*d*@5 15⅝ for short. Germany bankers' marks were 94⅞@95 for long and 95 7-16d @95 7-16 for short. Amsterdam bankers' guilders were 40 23@40 25 for short.

Exchange at Paris on London to-day 25f. 11½c.; week's range, 25f. 13c. high and 25f. 11½c. low.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board $30,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 13.

The market for railway and industrial bonds has been active and generally strong. Monday's business amounted to nearly 6½ millions, par value, and the average for the week has been about 4½ millions.

Western Maryland 4s made a sensational advance of 13, points over 9 of which occurred to-day. Southern Railway 5s close 4½ points higher than last week, Mexican Central con. 4s 2½ points and Rock Island, Atchison, Lake Shore, Pennsylvania and Interboro-Metropolitan issues from 1 to 1½ points. The last-named being active.

United States Bonds.—No sales of Government bonds have been reported at the Board this week. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been more active, the transactions averaging over 1,000,000 shares per day. Although somewhat reactionary on Tuesday, the market has generally been strong, closing prices are in most cases from 2 to 6 points higher than last week, and several issues made a new high record. On Thursday the volume of business was the largest of the year and quotations advanced steadily. To-day's market was strong during the early hours, reactionary for a time, and again strong at the close.

Chesapeake & Ohio has been unusually active and advanced nearly 8 points. Reading and Union Pacific both covered a range of about 5 points and close at or near the highest. Northern Pacific declined a point on Tuesday, but closed with a net gain of over 3. Baltimore & Ohio is up 5 points, New York Central 4 and Pennsylvania 2½.

The Copper stocks have been notably strong, presumably on an advance in the metal. Anaconda has sold at 45½, as against 37¼ last week, and Amalgamated is 5½ points higher. Other industrial issues have advanced from 2 to 4 points.

For daily volume of business see page 1216.

Outside Market.—Alternate periods of activity and dulness marked the trading in "curb securities this week. Prices moved with irregularity, though the result in general has been an improvement. Copper shares in particular were prominent and values show considerable increase, benefiting, no doubt, by the improved market for the metal. Butte Coalition from 22 reached 25½, ending the week at 25. Cumberland-Ely advanced from 8 to 8½. Boston Consolidated Copper declined from 12 to 11⅞, moved up to 12½ and closed to-day at 12. Active dealings in Greene Cananea advanced the price from 8¼ to 9½, the close to-day being at 9¼. Nevada Consolidated Copper rose from 11¾ to 12¼, the final quotation to-day being 12⅛. Nevada-Utah moved up from 4½ to 4⅝, but dropped back finally to 4⅛. Heavy transactions were recorded in Ohio Copper, the price advancing from 2½ to 4½, with the close to-day at 3¾. United Copper common shared in the upward movement, going from 6¼ to 8⅛, but to-day reacted to 7¾. Goldfield Consolidated sold up from 5⅞ to 6 1-16, but dropped finally to 5 9-16. Nipissing fluctuated between 6⅞ and 7. In the specialties Standard Oil was conspicuous for a 16-point rise to 616 and a final reaction to 610. A quarterly dividend of $9 was declared, the same as the corresponding time last year. American Tobacco sold up from 340 to 355. Chicago Subway ran up from 17½ to 19⅝ and closed to-day at 19½. Illinois Central "rights" advanced from 4⅜ to 4½. In bonds International Salt 5s advanced a point to 53 and Allis-Chalmers 5s sold up from 66 to 66¾, and closed to-day at 66½.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Annual Reports.—An index to annual reports of steam railroads, street railways and miscellaneous companies which have been published during the preceding month will be given on the last Saturday of each month. This index will not include reports in the issue of the "Chronicle" in which it is published. The latest index will be found in the issue of April 25. The next will appear in that of May 30.

Philadelphia Baltimore & Washington Railroad.

President James McCrea ,March 9 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—There was a continued increase in gross earnings, but this was more than offset by the increase in operating expenses, due, mainly, to a greater cost of labor and materials. After deducting rentals due roads operated under lease, and providing for all fixed charges, taxes and other li bilities, there was a net income of $1,988,876 out of which were paid two dividends of 2% each; and after deducting $17,526 on account of the principal of car trusts, there remained a balance of $998,720, which was applied toward the extraordinary expenditures of the year.

Extraordinary Expenditure for the Year.—These aggregated $3,655,862, chiefly as follows:

After applying surplus income of $998,719 toward this expenditure, there remained a balance of $2,657,142, which was charged to capital account as follows: Cost of road, $2,295,548; cost of equipment, $361,594.

In addition, cost of road was further increased by the transfer thereto from real estate of $1,548,165, representing property used for railroad purposes heretofore carried in the latter account.

New Stock and Bonds.—An allotment of stock was made at par to the stockholders to the extent of 7% of their holdings, resulting in an increase in the outstanding stock of $1,644,400. The proceeds were applied toward the necessary improvements in progress on the system. For the same purpose authority was given, at a special meeting held July 31 1907, for an increase of $5,000,000 in the bonded debt, to be issued in such form and at such times as the directors may prescribe. None of these bonds have been issued.

Washington Terminal Co.—New Stock and Bonds.—The stockholders of the Washington Terminal Co. on July 2 1907 approved an increase in its authorized capital stock from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000. Of this additional stock three had been issued to the end of 1907 $500,000, which was subscribed for in equal proportions by your company and the Baltimore & Ohio RR. Co. as joint owners of the Washington Terminal property.

For the purpose of further providing for its needs the Washington Terminal Co. sold $1,575,000 of its 5% 2-year gold notes, dated Aug. 1 1907. These notes were secured by the deposit with a trustee of $2,000,000 of the Washington Terminal Co.'s first mortgage 4% gold bonds, which have been guaranteed jointly by your company and the Baltimore & Ohio RR. Co. (See V. 85, p. 42; V. 84, p. 1368.)

Washington Terminal Opened.—The Washington Terminal station was opened for traffic on Nov. 17, in pursuance of the provisions of an agreement dated Oct.24 1907 between your company, the Baltimore & Ohio RR. Co., the Washington Terminal Co., the Southern Railway Co., the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. Co. and the Washington Southern Ry. Co., providing for the use of the Washington Terminal station and the facilities connected therewith.

The old station property at Sixth and B sts., Washington, having been abandoned, your board authorized the execution of a deed conveying this property to the United States of America, in conformity with the requirements of the Act of Congress approved Feb. 28 1903, and possession of the property has been taken by the Government.

Subsidiary Companies.—The Delaware RR. shows a substantial increase both in gross and net earnings, and after paying all fiexd charges and dividends aggregating 8%, it transferred $250,000 to its extraordinary expenditure fund, to cover future betterments and improvements, and credited the balance of its income, amounting to $56,300, to profit and loss account.

The Philadelphia & Baltimore Central RR. shows increased gross earnings, but a greater increase in expenses, so that there was a deficit of $72,081 in meeting all charges.

The Philadelphia & Delaware County RR. shows a surplus of $3,446 after meeting all charges.

The Delaware Maryland & Virginia RR. shows a deficit of $41,851 in meeting its liabilities.

The operation of the Columbia & Port Deposit Ry. was considerably interfered with until about the middle of Sept. 1907 by the construction of the McCall Ferry Power Co.'s dam on the Susquehanna River; but the Railway Co. was properly compensated for the loss of traffic and revenue resulting therefrom.

West Jersey & Seashore RR.

President James McCrea, under date of Mch. 23 1908, says:

General Results.—The operations of the system for the year show an increase in gross earnings of $448,620 and an increase in operating expenses of $469,126. The number of passengers carried increased over 16% and the tonnage mileage increased nearly 15%. The higher prices for materials and increased wages, however, added largely to operating expenses.

Improvements, &c.—Construction, equipment and real estate expenditures during the year aggregated $2,177,877 (net) which was charged against capital account chiefly on account of the following items:

|---|---|
| Electrification, power house, sub-station and apparatus | $317,198 |
| Camden improvements, &c | 374,030 |
| Freight line, Westville to Haddonfield Jct | 406,188 |
| Atlantic City, paving, relaying and grading of tracks on Atlantic Av. | 516,927 |
| Equipment | 397,761 |

In addition your company paid $68,231 as its proportion of the cost of Camden joint terminal improvement, making its total investment in this terminal to Dec. 31 1907 $1,962,731.

It also became necessary during the past year, under the agreement made by your company September 1904, to pay over to the municipal authorities of Atlantic City the sum of $150,000 toward the cost of paving Atlantic Ave. and to expend $366,927 in re-grading and re-laying the trolley tracks of your company on that avenue.

It will be recalled that in order to provide for a portion of the capital expenditures begun in 1905, and also to defray the cost of your proportion of the Camden joint terminal improvement, all aggregating about $9,300,000, issues of your capital stock were made to the amount of $4,689,550 and of your consolidated mortgage bonds to the amount of $2,061,000. The further amount required for the outlay already made has been temporarily advanced by the Pennsylvania RR. Co. The additional sum of about $1,000,000 will be required during 1908 to utilize these improvements and provide additional station, track and yard facilities imperatively needed. In the meantime the increase of your stock and bonds has largely added to your current charges, while the expenses consequent upon the opening of the electric service to Atlantic City, and the higher taxes, wages and cost of materials, have absorbed the increase in the gross earnings.

Dividend Reduced. It will also be noted in this connection that the disbursements for interest, sinking fund and dividends exceed those for 1906 by about $261,000, and that the taxes, which were abnormally increased in 1906, show a further increase of over $41,000 for the past year. As against these increased charges and expenses, your revenues had the advantage during the past year of a more favorable allowance on traffic passing by the Delaware River Bridge route to and from your system. But as that allowance embraced a full settlement of the questions connected with that traffic, no further benefit will accure therefrom.

With these facts before them the Board deemed it wise to make a reduction in the recent dividend; but, judging by past experience and the business that is being developed through the electric service and improved facilities, it is confidently hoped that these expenditures, which were deemed necessary to adequately provide for protect, and further develop the increasing traffic of your line, will produce in the near future commensurate increases in your net revenues.

Agreement with Atlantic City & Shore RR.—This company was by agreement granted trackage rights over your electric trolley line along Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City, and thence to Longport; also the use of the steamboat lines from that point to Ocean City, so as to aid in the development of the Atlantic City, Longport and Ocean City territory. For these privileges your company receives a fixed rental and also shares in the increased revenues resulting from the growth of the territory. See V. 85, p. 158.

Third Avenue Railroad System, New York.

Receiver Frederick W. Whitridge, who took possession of the Third Avenue RR. on Jan. 12, of the 42d St. Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Avenue Ry. and the Dry Dock East Broadway & Battery RR. on Feb. 1, and of the Union Railway on March 31, reports under date of May 9 1908 to the bondholders' committee, James N. Wallace, Chairman, substantially as follows (Compare V. 85, p. 1642):

Physical Condition.—The general conditions of the Third Avenue RR. were very bad; there were no offices, no supplies or material on hand, the shops had been neglected, the track was and is in very bad shape, the cars in need of extensive repairs. The power house alone was in good condition.

The supplies and material immediately necessary, most of which has been received, amounted to $50,000. Sprinkling apparatus in all of the barns and the cost of the various other fire apparatus essential to secure new insurance, the old policies, after the repeated fires in the New York City Ry. barns, having been nearly all canceled, amounted to $135 000, I hope presently that the property upon the system will meet the requirements of the most exigent underwriters.

Car Repairs.—Of the 567 cars delivered to me by the New York City Ry. Co. receivers, there was not one on which some work was not immediately necessary. I ordered a sufficient number of new motors and controllers (50) to fully equip every car in the system. I estimate the total cost of putting all the cars in order, including the new motors, and other electrical equipment, to be approximately $300,000.

Repair to Track.—In many places on the main line of the Third Avenue track the contact rail is completely worn away, the slot rail very thin, and the car rail worn to the breaking point. Paving of the tracks, in accordance with the city ordinance, with Belgian blocks, will save $5,000 or $6,000 a year in maintenance. Under a temporary arrangement with the New York City Railway receivers, we are to repair the crossings on joint account. Altogether there will be needed for the track this year about $436,000, and thereafter, with a liberal allowance for maintenance, I think no further expenditure will be necessary for some years to come.

Buildings.—The building at 65th St. and 3d Ave. needs extensive repairs to the roof, and in order to enable the shops to do their work certain other structural alterations are required, bringing up the total cost to about $151,000, for $14,821 of which amount I have let contracts.

At 129th St. and 3d Ave. there is, in front of the car barn, a building used as a hotel and several tumble-down stores or saloons. I propose to clean out the main building and construct therein proper offices for the 3d Ave. and other lines; also accommodations for a club for the employees, which are much needed. The whole improvement will cost nearly $106,000.

The sub-station at Bayard St. was intended to be the basis of a nine-story building, and the one story now completed was constructed with this in view. The new Manhattan Bridge will have its New York terminus immediately across the Bowery, and I hope to find somebody to take a lease of the property for a long period of time and construct the building. The cost of this building is estimated at about $485,000.

Power.—I have agreed to make a contract with the receivers of the New York City Ry. Co. in respect to the supply of power from the power house controlled by them at 96th St. and First Ave. and the power house at 216th St., owned by the 3d Ave. RR. Co., which will for the present avoid the large expenditure necessary to make the latter electrically independent.

With the growth of the Bronx and the probable increase in the amount of power which will be used by the Union Ry. and its connecting lines, and the probable increase in the amount of power used by the Metropolitan lines, in consequence of their heavy cars, it seems probable that some increase in the plant at 216th St., or the expenditure necessary to make the Third Avenue completely independent, will be necessary within the next few years.

I think it desirable to immediately build a new sub-station for the Union Ry. at 161st St., which will cost about $225,000, and likewise a new sub-station near the Kingsbridge plant, which will cost a similar sum. Certain repairs at the Bayard St., 65th St. and 129th St. sub-stations are also necessary, at a cost of about $109,000. The engineers report, on which I make these recommendations, are at your disposal.

Cars.—To meet the demands of the public and of the Public Service Commission, I believe it to be desirable to purchase for the system within the next twelve months, in addition to the 75 cars already purchased, 250 to 300 new cars. I can do this on a car-trust basis at 6%, running over a period of ten years. It is, however, undoubtedly more economical to raise the money and pay for the same at once. The money needed for this purpose may amount to $1,500,000. Whether the kind of car to be purchased should be of the present "pay-as-you-enter" type is by no means certain. Those cars are expensive, heavy, require much more power and entail much greater expense for the maintenance of way.

42d St. Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Ave. Ry. Co.—The track is in fair condition, but $30,000 is needed at once for the maintenance expenditures which should have been made during the last few years. Almost $4,000 must be expended on the building at 177 Manhattan St.

Dry Dock East Broadway & Battery RR.—This property is in the same condition, but needs not more than $10,000 immediately expended on it. This company owns considerable real estate, which is leased to the Metropolitan receivers, and from which, and from the rent of its tracks, parts of which are used by the other railroads under control of the New York City Ry., a revenue amounting to over $50,000 is received. The re-building of the barn in 14th St., burned a year ago, will cost about $80,000, but this can be done from the insurance money.

Neither of these railways owns any cars or has any means of supplying power, and their cars are furnished by the Third Ave. RR. on the rental basis and the power is included within the contract above referred to, made with the New York City Ry. receivers.

Union Railway.—This road and the connecting lines cover 105 miles of streets—most of it double-track—and is in excellent condition as respects the track. It furnishes cars and power to the Westchester Electric Ry. and to the Yonkers Tarrytown & Southern Boulevard Ry. companies. Many of these cars are out of date, and within a few years a considerable number of modern cars will be needed. In case the purchase of the new cars above referred to, for the Third Avenue, is authorized, many of the present double-truck cars in use upon that road should be equipped for trolley service and transferred to the Union Ry.

Some time ago this railway company bought a piece of land in Pelham for the erection of a car barn. This plan can be carried out at a cost of about $225,000, giving this part of the system adequate storage for all of its cars and proper shops for their maintenance, which are much needed.

The Union Ry. also has a franchsie for building a line of road on the Bronx and Pelham Parkway. The 5½ miles of this road can be completed for something like $250,000, which would, if built, be an exceedingly good-paying line. The best part of this franchise, I am advised, is still good, and I purpose to endeavor to obtain the necessary permits from the city departments to construct as much of this piece of road as possible—at least from Fordham Station to a point beyond the Zoological Gardens.

Summary.—The several amounts which ought to be expended are:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Supplies | $50,000 | New cars ordered | $300,000 |
| Sprinkling apparatus | 135,000 | 42d Street track | 30,000 |
| Repairs to cars | 300,000 | 42d Street buildings | 4,000 |
| Repairs to track | 436,000 | Dry Dock track | 10,000 |
| Repairs to buildings | 151,000 | Union Ry. and car barn | |
| Office building | 106,000 | and shops | 225,000 |
| Repairs to sub-stations | 109,000 | New construction—Bronx | |
| Union sub-station | 225,000 | and Pelham Parkway | 250,000 |
| Kingsbridge sub-station | 225,000 | New rolling stock | 1,500,000 |
| Total | | | $4,056,000 |

Underlying Charges.—In addition to the money to be expended as herein stated, there are certain obligations of these roads not in default upon which the interest, aggregating $572,000 annually, must be paid, namely:

| Companies— | Bonds. | Rate of Int. | Semi-an. Interest. | When Due. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Third Avenue RR. Co | $5,000,000 | 5% | $125,000 | Jan. & July |
| 42d St. M. & St. N. Ave. Ry | 1,200,000 | 6% | 36,000 | Mch. & Sept. |
| Dry Dock E. B. & B. RR. Co | 950,000 | 5% | 23,750 | June & Dec. |
| Union Railway Co | 2,000,000 | 5% | 50,000 | Feb. & Aug. |

| Westchester Electric RR | 500,000 | 5% | 12,500 | Jan. & July |
| *Yonkers RR | 1,000,000 | 5% | 25,000 | April & Oct. |
| Tarrytown W. P. & M. Ry | 300,000 | 5% | 7,500 | Mch. & Sept. |

* Guaranteed by the Union Railway Co.

Receiver's Certificates.—I intend to ask the Court for authority to issue $2,500,000 of receiver's certificates, payable within one year and bearing interest at the rate of 6%. With those and the earnings from the property, I think I can do all of the work and make all the payments which I have herein enumerated. It may be desirable to issue a certain number of certificates of the Union Railway, to an amount necessary to pay for the car barns, the Bronx and Pelham Parkway construction and for the power station, not exceeding in all, however, $750,000, which could later be taken up by the Third Avenue certificates; or it may be desirable, while having authority, to issue certificates for the Union Railway as above mentioned, as I already have authority to issue certificates for the 42d Street and the Dry Dock railways, of which I have not availed myself, to issue Third Avenue certificates for the whole amount of $2,500,000 directly, as the bankers may prefer those to certificates of the other roads. If the certificates of those subordinate lines could be used permanently, the Third Avenue certificates should be diminished pro tanto, but in any case only certificates for $2,500,000 for one year will be outstanding.

Taxes.—The special franchise tax has not been paid upon the Third Avenue RR. except for the first year since the law went into force, and the unpaid taxes for eight years aggregate on their face about $1,200,000. The taxes upon the other lines, also unpaid, amount to approximately $100,000 for the 42d Street Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Ave. Ry. Co., $120,000 for the Dry Dock East Broadway & Battery RR. Co. and $180,000 for the Union Ry. Under the Metropolitan management all these franchise taxes have been in litigation. Whatever else may not be covered by the lease to the New York City Ry. Co., the taxes were so covered, and ought to have been paid by the Metropolitan and the New York City Ry. companies. Whether the Court will hold the amount of those taxes to be a lien on the Metropolitan property I do not know, but I venture to think that, in any case, the cash proceeds of the operation of the Third Avenue road, which were collected by the receivers of the New York City Ry, and by that company from the date of the last payment under the lease down to the 12th of January, should be paid to me in cash less the amount of the operation of the Third Avenue RR.

Proceeds of Bonds.—On taking charge of the property I ascertained from the bankers that the proceeds of Third Avenue 4% bonds had been paid over by them to the company in three checks, as follows: One drawn on the National City Bank for $17,000,000; one on the National Bank of Commerce for $17,564,444, and one for $1,943,000. There is, in my judgment, no evidence on earth or under the earth of the expenditure of any such sum of money upon the Third Avenue system. Over $20,000,000, it appears, was expended prior to the lease to the Metropolitan upon work, part of which appears to have been done by contract, for which the contractor was paid 15% on cost. Generally speaking, everything which has been done can be traced, but to trace the whole of the money expended since the lease would cost possibly $200,000, but if traced there would be no certainty that I could be able to recover any part of it for the bondholders or the company.

Accidents.—The amount paid for accidents on the Third Avenue RR. from Jan. 12 1908 to May 1 is $6,202. In approximately the same period last year the Third Avenue division of the Metropolitan paid in settlement of claims and suits and judgments recovered $84,492.

Transfers.—In accordance with the opinion of the Court, I abolished transfers between the Third Avenue and the Metropolitan lines on April 11. The result, to some extent, has been disappointing, as the number of passengers carried has fallen off during the first few days something like 60,000 a day. The receipts, however, remain about what they were, and I am hopeful that a part, at least, of the passengers who have abandoned us will return to the Third Avenue system. I am also presenting a petition to the Court for permission to abolish transfers in the Bronx and with the Manhattan Elevated Company. If this petition is granted it will cause great inconvenience, but the abolition of these transfers is, I think, necessary, and I believe it will be profitable.

Advertising.—I have made a contract with the Railway Advertising Co. for a period of years, on the Third Avenue system, for $85,000 a year for the first six years, and thereafter 50% of the gross receipts, with a guaranteed minimum of $100,000 a year.

Accounts.—As the repairs to cars, trucks, buildings and tracks are all now being charged to operating expenses, it is practically impossible to form any just judgment of the earnings of the properties. I expect to complete these repairs by Oct. 1, and after these extraordinary expenditures mentioned have been made, it will be possible to make a record which will enable the owners of the company to know what it will earn as a basis for reorganization, although there must, of course, some arrangement be made in respect to the taxes and the amount of liability therefor which has to be assumed by the Third Avenue RR. Co. and the other lines.

The report closes with the receiver's letters to the Public Service Commission regarding the orders of the Commission. —V. 86, p. 858, 722.

Washington (D. C.) Railway & Electric Company.

President Allan L. McDermott under date Washington, D. C., April 20 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—The amount of increase over the year 1906 was as follows: Gross earnings, $252,508, or 8.06%; net earnings, $116 852, or 7.69% total income, $114,609, or 7.33%; fixed charges, $66,110, or 6.35%; and balance, surplus, $48,500, or 9.26%.

The operating expenses still show an increase in a slightly greater ratio than earnings. This is due to a continued increased expenditure for maintenance. While the total operating expenses increased $135,656, or 8.41%, the cost of maintenance increased $98,822, or 26.12%, partly due to the endeavor to maintain the properties each year in better condition than heretofore, and, as in the previous year, to the increasing cost of materials and supplies.

Each of your railways showed an increase in revenue from passenger traffic over the year preceding, the amounts of such increase and the percentage of the same for each of the last two years over those immediately preceding were as follows: Washington Railway & Electric Co., $29,448, or 2.45%; City & Suburban Ry., $26,847, or 6.81%; Anacostia & Potomac River RR. Co., $33,380, or 9.05%; Brightwood Ry. Co., $1,280, or 1.80%; W. W. & Forest Glen Ry. & Power Co., $593, or 4.36%; Georgetown & Tennallytown RR. Co., $3,075, or 6.92%; Washington & Rockville Ry. Co., $3,384, or 9.13%; total, $98,008, or 4.60%.

Capital Outlay.—The capital charges for the year amounted to $1,146,005, of which $914,175 were for account of the Potomac Electric Power Co. representing the partial cost of buildings and apparatus at the Bennings power station and various sub-stations, and of the extension of service conduits, cables, poles, lines and equipment; $35,174 on account of the Anacostia & Potomac River RR., chiefly in connection with the new Navy Yard bridge; $86,927 on account of additional equipment and construction on the Washington Railway & Electric Co.'s lines; $2,029 for account of the City & Suburban; $102,293 represented the discount on securities issued by the Washington Railway & Electric Co. and the Potomac Electric Power Co., and sold for construction purposes; $5,408 on account of old claims of the reorganization committee finally adjusted. The capital credits aggiegated $91,526.

Capitalization.—During the year underlying liens aggregating $912,881 were retired as follows: Metropolitan RR. Co. certificates of indebtedness, series "A," maturing Oct. 1 1906, $13,240, and series "B," maturing June 1 1997, $249,741, and U. S. Electric Lighting Co. debenture improvement bonds and certificates of indebtedness maturing May 1 1907, $649,900.

Securities to a total of $2,073,250 were certified. These include $423,000 Washington Railway & Electric 4s, issued, $250,000 to retire a like amount of Metropolitan Railroad certificates "B." and $173,000 for extensions, betterments and improvements; also Potomac Power Co. 5s issued as follows: $650,000 to retire a like amount of U. S. Electric Lighting Co.'s certificates of indebtedness and debenture improvements, and $1,000,000 for extensions, betterments and improvements.

During the year $650,000 Washington Railway & Electric Co. 4s were sold, of which $250,000 to retire Metropolitan RR. "B" certificates—the discount on these, amounting to $52,700, was charged to profit and loss; $400,000 to refund disbursement on account of extensions and improvements—the discount on these, amounting to $84,293, was charged to cost of property.

The Potomac Electric Power Co. sold during the year $300,000 of their consolidated 5s on account of new construction—the discount on the same, amounting to $18,000, was charged to cost of property. The balance of the capital requirements of the Potomac Electric Power Co. was provided for by two loans, one of $650,000 with the U. S. Mortgage & Trust Co. and one of $500,000 with the Washington Railway & Electric Co.

Expiration of Voting Trust—New Directors.—During the past year the voting trust expired and at the annual meeting in Jan. 1908 John C. Dawson, R. T. W. Duke Jr., James B. Lackey and George W. Young retired from your board. Woodbury Blair, Clarence F. Norment, Wm. Loeb Jr., and Ward Thoron were elected to the board in their places. At a meeting of the board April 18 1908 the membership of the board was increased to nine directors, and Charles J. Bell and W. B. Hibbs were elected to fill the two vacancies thus created.

The debt of the company also includes the bonds of the former Columbia Ry. Co. and the Metropolitan RR. Co.

The total funded debt of the system including the debt of the controlled companies, ($8,875,100) is $21,948,809.

United Railways Investment Company.

President Ernst Thalmann says in substance:

The audit of the accounts of the United Railroads of San Francisco for its last fiscal year, which ended Dec. 31 1907, and of the Philadelphia Company for its last fiscal year, which ended March 31 1908, have not yet been completed, and when prepared and filed with the company will be open to the inspection of the stockholders.

No dividends in cash or scrip were paid during 1907 by the United Railroads of San Francisco, all its receipts over and above fixed charges and expenses, and all the surplus earnings of the Philadelphia Company above the amount of dividends paid by it, having been retained for their respective corporate purposes.

A combined income account of the Philadelphia Company and affiliated companies for the year ended Dec. 31 1907 is attached to this report. The statements of earnings shown thereon justify the anticipations of your board as to the earning power of that company (compare below):

During the last fiscal year the most salient feature in the financial history of your company was the strike on the lines of the United Railroads of San Francisco, which began March 5 1907, and lasted approximately six months. As an incident of the strike, the lines of the United Railroads of San Francisco were subjected to a persistent boycott, and the employees were exposed to repeated attacks. While the strike resulted in a large immediate loss, it is the belief of your board that the ultimate outcome will be beneficial to the city and to your company. Naturally, the earnings during this period fell to an extremely low figure, but they have recently regained their former level. The officers of the United Railroads of San Francisco report that the earnings for March 1908 were $558,932, while those shown for March 1907 were $537,700. This comparison furnishes reasonable ground for encouragement as to the future of the United Railroads of San Francisco.

The concensus of reports received from those familiar with existing conditions in San Francisco justifies a firm belief that the future prosperity of that city is assured, and in that future prosperity there is every reason to believe the United Railroads of San Francisco will fully participate.

The losses sustained by the United Railroads of San Francisco through the strike, as well as the financial requirements of that company, among other things rendered it impracticable to issue the series of $3,000,000 3-year notes of this company and to carry out the plan with respect thereto contemplated in the resolutions which were ratified by the stockholders in July 1907

A substitute arrangement has, however, been carried into effect. Your company subscribed to the remaining $3,500,000 cumulative first preferred stock of the United Railroads of San Francisco mentioned in the report for the year 1906, and made the shares of such first preferred stock owned by this company, including the shares to be issued to it under such subscription, the basis for a series of notes of this company, termed the "6% notes of 1908," which are to aggregate $3,500,000. Under the provisions of this arrangement, the United Railroads of San Francisco is to apply the proceeds of the subscription to the stock towards the payment of its floating debt, in consequence extinguishing practically all the items of contingent liability mentioned in the note to the balance sheet. (V. 86, p. 669, 920.)

The operations of the United Railroads of San Francisco during the past year, in addition to the difficulties incident to the strike and the consequences of the fire, have been greatly hampered by the lack of a proper supply of power under its own control, and to remove this difficulty, a 5,000 k. w. turbine engine has been shipped to San Francisco, and arrangements made to install the same, and it is expected it will be in operation before the last of this year.

American Beet Sugar Co., New York

(Report for Fiscal Year ending March 31 1908.)

President H. Rieman Duval says in substance:

General Results.—All of your factories were operated during the campaign, their daily capacity being:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Oxnard, Cal | 2,000 tons | Lamar, Colo | 400 tons |
| Chino, Cal | 700 tons | Las Animas, Colo | 800 tons |
| Rocky Ford, Colo | 1,000 tons | Grand Island, Neb | 300 tons |

Only the Rocky Ford factory, however, worked to its full capacity.

The California factories made a short campaign because, on account of excessive rains, the beet plantings were reduced nearly 6,000 acres and the yield 95,196 tons, which resulted in a diminished production of 214,463 bags of sugar compared with the previous year. The Colorado plantings increased 5,368 acres, producing 42,854 more tons of beets than during the previous year, thus providing a fair run for all the factories, including the new Las Animas factory, and resulting in an increased production of 114,112 bags of sugar as compared with the previous year. The Grand Island factory had, due to bad planting weather, a short campaign, with plantings 2,251 acres less than the preceding season, and its slicings were reduced 25,658 tons and its product 50,878 bags, as compared with year 1906-'07.

The average selling price of sugar has been but little higher than last year, owing partly to the decreased demand last summer and autumn, occasioned by the light fruit crop and also to competition.

There were brought into this fiscal year, from the last one, 694,763 bags of sugar at cost, and there remains of this year's production 446,493 bags, which have been credited at cost, and so carried into the new year.

The net surplus of the year amounts to $638,311, which, in accordance with custom, has been applied as an addition to working capital. The working capital now amounts to $1,307,000.

Included in general expenses is an item of $354,055, the cost of depreciation and repairs, which indicates that the plants have been thoroughly maintained; but some additions and improvements will be currently necessary, and they must be provided from current income.

Additions and improvements now contemplated are estimated to cost $123,700.

Las Animas Sugar Co.—Control, Bond Issue, &c.—For valuable considerations your company entered into a contract during the campaign of 1906 1907 with certain land owners of Las Animas to build at that point an 800-ton factory, complete, for the campaign of 1907 1908. Finding it impracticable, with due regard to economy, to finance the cost of this factory during the depressed financial conditions of last autumn, both at home and abroad, your officers made a contract with the Las Animas Sugar Co., which company, having a capital of $1,000,000 stock and $1,000,000 6% 25-year gold bonds, undertook to build and lease, for a period of 25 years, to the American Beet Sugar Co. a complete 800-ton factory. The lease, dated Oct. 1 1907, provides that the American Beet Sugar Co. shall pay to the Las Animas Sugar Co., during a period of 25 years, a yearly rental of $80,000, being 6% interest on the bonds, $60,000, and an annual sinking fund of $20,000, the said sinking fund to be applied to the redemption and cancellation of the bonds.

The American Beet Sugar Co. purchased the entire capital stock of the Las Animas Sugar Co., which company owns about 5,000 acres of land, valued at $700,000, in the Arkansas Valley in Colorado. Those lands have been included in the mortgage of the Las Animas Sugar Co., and their proceeds, as sold, will be applied to its sinking fund. The mortgage provides for the calling of the bonds at 105 and interest at specified times, and the proceeds of the land sales should effect the cancellation of many bonds during the 25-year period, thus reducing the annual rental. The American Beet Sugar Co. has been given by the purchasers of two-thirds of the bonds a call at the price of sale and interest to October 1908.

The Las Animas factory was completed by October 1907 and is a first-class factory of the latest pattern. Its capacity is rated at 800 tons per day. Its operation was unusually satisfactory for a first campaign.

Real Estate Holdings.—The company owns altogether (including the lands of the Las Animas Sugar Co.) about 22,000 acres of land, nearly all of which can be made productive. In California it has at Springville, near Oxnard, 2,000 acres of good beet land, which has a market value of about $300 per acre. At Chino there are about 5,000 acres of land, which with proper drainage is becoming indispensable to your company as a beet farm. In Colorado there are at Rocky Ford about 5,000 acres of irrigated land, nearly all of which is divided into 40 and 80 acre farms, with suitable buildings, and leased to tenants. At Lamar and east thereof there are (including the Las Animas Sugar Company's property) about 10,000 acres, the most of which is irrigated by the Lamar Canal, which your company owns. Some of this land is improved and leased to tenants, but the greater part of it is farmed by the company; the more easterly part, though possessing water rights, is unprovided with water because of the incapacity of the Lamar Canal to carry water there until reconstructed.

The company has at Chino, Springville and at Lamar sufficient camps, implements, mules and horses to properly conduct its farming operations.

Your directors are considering whether or not it is wise to sell the lands in Colorado, which it is estimated have a value of $1,500,000, and on which amount they do not now earn interest, but their ability to provide, in a crisis, beets enough to supply the factory at Lamar, or even the Las Animas factory, encourages their retention. Land sales at present are limited in that region, where the practice is to sell on 10-year payments, at 6% to 10% interest.

Outlook.—The promise of the California beet harvest is very early, the acreage contracted being greater than 1907-1908 by 11,000 acres, and it is expected that the factories there will open six weeks earlier than last year. In Colorado the plantings have been late, owing to a protracted drought, which has now been partially broken, and the prospects for an equal crop and better beets than last year are good. At Grand Island weather conditions have been favorable, and with a full acreage contracted the outlook is more promising than it has been for several years.

Offices Combined.—The office of Chairman and President were consolidated because, contrary to the earnest wishes of the board, Robert Oxnard declined re-election to the presidency, wishing to be relieved from the travel incident to that office. He consented, however, to accept the office of Vice-President, to care particularly for the California interests.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Atlanta Birmingham & Atlantic RR.—Company Operates Its First Passenger Train into Atlanta.—The first passenger train over the Atlanta division entered the city of Atlanta on May 8, bringing President H. M. Atkinson and a party of capitalists of New York and Boston. President Atkinson is quoted as saying that plans will be completed as speedily as possible for a passenger service into Atlanta, and that trains will be running into Birmingham on or before Sept. 1 of the present year. Compare map on page 13 of "Railway and Industrial" Section.—V. 86, p. 1099.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Called Bonds.—Forty-nine ($49,000) Monongahela River RR. first mortgage 5% coal bonds called for redemption are payable at the office of the American Bonding Co. of Baltimore on June 1.—V. 86, p. 601, 479.

Boston & Maine RR.—Decision of Massachusetts Court.—See New York New Haven & Hartford RR. below.—V. 86, p. 1041.

Boston & Northern Street Ry.—Called Bonds.—Ten first mortgage bonds of the Lowell Lawrence & Haverhill Street Ry., dated June 1 1893, viz., Nos. 37, 205, 231, 323, 475, 728, 774, 834, 1009, 1035, have been called for payment at 105 and interest at the office of the American Trust Co., trustee, Boston on June 1.—V. 86, p. 720.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed an additional $1,375,000 first refunding mortgage convertible 4% bonds, due 2002, making the total amount listed to date $33,557,000.

Calumet & South Chicago Ry.—Properties Taken Over.—This company, having taken over the properties of the Calumet Electric Street Ry. Co. and the South Chicago City Ry., under the terms of the ordinance passed by the City Council on March 30, has filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $1,000 to $5,000,000. Further particulars as to the company's financial plans are not ready for publication. The following is pronounced correct:

Terms on which the capital stock of the companies will be exchanged have not been announced. According to its last report, the South Chicago City Ry. Co. had $1,844,800 of capital stock outstanding. The Calumet Electric Street Ry. Co.'s stock amounts to only $500,000. The former company has $1,804,000 first mortgage 5% 20-year bonds, due in 1913.

The Calumet's bonded debt is $2,949,000,and it is also has a substantial amount of receiver's certificates outstanding.

The new stock of the Calumet & Chicago Railway Co. is to be of one class and will be exchanged in part for the stocks of the old companies, which are to be materially scaled down, and in part for taking up floating debt. New first mortgage bonds will also be issued for the purpose of refunding some of the mortgages and for future requirements of the company.

The ordinance extending the franchises of the constituent companies from 1912 and 1915 to 1928, and providing for the consolidation under the name of the Calumet & South Chicago Ry., is very similar in its provisions to the franchise extension ordinances of the Chicago City Ry. and the Chicago Railways Co. (compare V. 84, p. 1123). The city is to receive 55% of the net receipts after operating expenses, taxes and depreciation have been deducted from the gross receipts, and may purchase the property for municipal operation upon six months' notice, for the present value, which is fixed at $6,000,000, plus the amount expended for improvements and a 12% bonus. The Chicago City Ry. may also purchase the property on the same terms.

The company is required to rehabilitate its property completely within 3½ years, and to begin the reconstruction of 40 miles of new track at the expiration of one year from the date of acceptance of the ordinance. Seven specified extensions are to be completed before Jan. 1 1910, 15 new cars are to be purchased within a year,and as many more thereafter as may be determined by the board of supervising engineers, composed of three members, of whom one is to be appointed by the city and one by the company, with Bion J. Arnold as the third member and Chairman.

Provision is made for an interchange of transfers with the Chicago City Railway by establishing four transfer zones. In the first, transfers are to be exchanged after four months. In the second,the Council may require an exchange of transfers after one year and four months, provided the net earnings for the year amount to 5% on the investment and the company's share of the net earnings amounts to 1¼% on the investment. The exchange of transfers may be extended to the third and fourth zones under the same provisions. The company is authorized to operate express as well as passenger cars.—V. 86, p. 917.

Chicago Indiana & Southern RR.—Official Statement.—Touching the 50-year mortgage 4% gold bonds, guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Co., which were offered recently at 91 and accrued interest by J. P. Morgan & Co. and Drexel & Co., President W. H. Newman, under date of March 23, says:

More than 20 miles of the road (aggregating with branches 329.04 miles.—Ed.) are in the centre of the South Chicago and Calumet River manufacturing district. This part of the line was very expensive to build, but is of great value to the property. The company owns extensive shops at Gibson, Ind., and yards at that point and at Indiana Harbor which contain more than 70 miles of track. From Indiana Harbor it enters Chicago over the tracks of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry.Co. It has also trackage rights over the Indiana Harbor Belt RR. which give it access to all the industries on that line in Chicago and direct connection with Western roads. At Danville, Ill., it makes connection with the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry. and with it forms a continuous line to the coal fields of Indiana and Southern Illinois and furnishes a through route between Chicago and the Southern States via the Ohio River gateway.

The development of the coal mines in the Harrisburg district since the construction of this road has been very rapid and the coal tonnage received at Danville, although the line has been opened but a short time, has now reached more than 2,000,000 tons per annum. This places the company in position not only to supply fuel to 150 or more important growing industries in the manufacturing district of the Calumet River and South Chicago, but to furnish its affiliated lines—the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry. Co. and the Michigan Central RR. Co.—with coal in their western territory, and enables it to compete with other roads in the handling of coal for all consumers in Chicago. The Kankakee division is largely used for interchanging freight between Eastern and Western roads entering Chicago. The company owns equipment as follows: 121 locomotives, 19 cars in passenger service and 5,362 cars in freight and work service. Compare V. 86. p. 980 852 856.

Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR.—Report of Sale of Receivers' Certificates Confirmed.—We have obtained official confirmation of the report that there have been definitely sold in London $1,000,000 6% receivers' certificates covering the Wisconsin Division, due in three years, but subject to prior redemption at the option of the receivers.—V. 86, p. 1159, 917.

New Receiver.—George G. Moore, an experienced railroad man, has been appointed one of the receivers of the company to succeed Helge A. Haugan, President of the State Bank of Chicago, who resigned.—V. 86, p. 1159, 917.

Chicago Railways Co.—Sale of Notes.—This company has sold to the Merchants' Loan & Trust Co. and the Union Trust Co., both of Chicago, jointly, $1,200,000 6% collateral notes. The securities are in addition to the $5,000,000 of similar notes sold earlier in the year (V. 86, p. 546).

The new notes are dated Feb. 1 1908 and mature Feb. 1 1913, but are redeemable on Feb. 1 1911 or any interest date thereafter at 101 and interest. The notes are secured by deposit with the Union Trust Co., as trustee, of $1,666,000 Chicago Railways Co. consolidated mortgage 4-5% bonds, series A, which is at the rate of $1,388.33 of the consolidated mortgage bonds for each $1,000 note.

In order to distinguish the new securities from the former issue of 6% collateral notes, which are of the same date and maturity, the new issue will be known as "funding notes."

With the new issue outstanding, the company will have a total of $6,200,000 collateral notes, payable in five years, in addition to (a) $500,000 notes issued on security of $834,000 series "A" bonds, in exchange for North Chicago City Ry. bonds, and (b) a short-term note for $485,000, secured by pledge of series "C" bonds, which was issued in the settlement with the Guaranty Trust Co. (V. 85, p. 1576).

The following explanation is from "Chicago Economist":

With the closing up of the affairs of the old Union Traction Co., additional funds were required to meet certain obligations incurred in past years There was a debt of $517,027, due on behalf of improvement and rehabilitation expenses prior to Feb. 1 1908, and a charge of $829,582 of accrued interest on the various series of underlying bonds, which are being exchanged for the bonds of the new issue. This makes a total indebtedness of $1,346,610 to be extinguished. To provide for this indebtedness, there has been an addition of $1,666,000 to the issue of series "A" (consolidated mortgage) bonds, bearing interest at 4% to February 1912, and 5% thereafter. There had already been added to this issue $334,000 of bonds to provide additional collateral for the $500,000 of notes issued to settle the claims of the $500,000 first mortgage bonds of the old North Chicago City Ry., so that the total additional amount is $2,000,000.- -V. 85, p. 1576.

The $1,200,000 of notes is issued with the $1,666,000 of series "A" bonds as collateral. The notes are dated Feb. 1 1908 and are of the same character as the $5,000,000 6% collateral notes already issued by the Union Trust. This $1,200,000 will lack a little of meeting the debt, but under the mortgage $2,000,000 was as much additional bonds as could be issued, and hence $1,200,000 of notes was as much as could be brought out with ample security.

(The total issue of consolidated mortgage "A" bonds is now $17,900,000, of which $8,632,800, it is understood, is in the hands of the public, $8,433,200 is pledged to secure the $6,200,000 5-year collateral notes, being the present funding notes and the earlier issue of $5,000,000, and $834,000 is pledged to secure $500,000 notes issued to holders of North Chicago City Ry. first mortgage bonds.—Ed. "Chronicle.")

Listed in Chicago.—The Chicago Stock Exchange has listed the new securities in the following amounts:

Consolidated mortgage 20-year bonds series "A," $11,832,800; series "B," $16,900,000; series "C," $4,000,000; participation certificates series 1, no parts of capital, 30,800 equal parts; series 2, 24,300; series 3, 60,000; series 4, 50,000 equal parts.—V. 86, p. 1159, 1039.

Chicago & Western Indiana RR.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed an additional $2,772,000 consolidated mortgage 50-year 4% bonds, due 1952, making the total amount listed to date $19,915,000. The additional bonds ($2,772,000) represent:

|---|---|
| Track elevation, 18th to 72d streets, Chicago, including additional right of way | $1,556,967 |
| Additional right of way at Burnham ($111,055) and South Deering ($14,059) | 125,114 |

Cleveland Electric Ry.—Mayor Johnson Treasurer.—Newspaper accounts state that Mayor Tom L. Johnson has been elected Treasurer and Manager of the company and will devote a large part of his time to its affairs.

Editorial Article.—See last week's "Chronicle," page 1134 —V. 86, p. 1099, 1042.

Delaware & Eastern Ry.—Favorable Decision.—The Appellate Division, Third Department, on May 8 handed down a decision sustaining the action of the former Board of Railroad Commissioners granting certificates of public necessity to the Schenectady & Margaretville and Hancock & East Branch roads, forming part of this company's proposed line from Hancock, N. Y., to Schenectady, per plan V. 84, p. 931.

The Ulster & Delaware and Delaware & Hudson appealed against the Schenectady & Margaretville and the New York Ontario & Western against the Hancock & East Branch.—V. 85, p. 921.

Delaware & Hudson Co.—Bond Issue Authorized.—The shareholders on May 12 ratified the proposition to authorize an issue of $50,000,000 4% "first and refunding mortgage bonds," of which $20,000,000 are to be issued as soon as the consent of the Public Service Commission is obtained. Compare V. 86, p. 981.

Merger Approved.—The Public Service Commission for the Second District has approved the proposed merger of the New York & Canada RR. with the Delaware & Hudson Co., enabling the latter to make a substantial saving in the cost of management.

New Bond Issue for Subsidiary.—See Greenwich & Johnsonville Ry. below.—V. 86, p. 981.

Denver & Rio Grande RR.—Consolidation and New Mortgage.—It is proposed to merge the Rio Grande Western Ry. Co., now controlled by stock ownership, into the Denver & Rio Grande, and to ask the stockholders of the latter to vote in July next on a proposition to make a refunding mortgage covering the consolidated properties to secure an issue of about $150,000,000 bonds, of which about $90,000,000 will be reserved to retire underlying bonds and the remaining $60,000,000 will be available for other purposes.

Sale of Notes.—In order to enable the Western Pacific Ry. Co. to complete and equip its line to San Francisco, the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western Ry have agreed to buy at 75 about $20,000,000 Western Pacific second mortgage bonds. To finance this joint purchase the Denver & Rio Grande has arranged to sell to Blair & Co., William A. Read & Co. and William Salomon & Co. (comprising the syndicate which, in 1905, took $50,000,000 Western Pacific first mortgage bonds), $10,000,000 of an issue of $15,000,000 D. R. G. 35-year 6% convertible notes, with an option to the bankers on the remaining $5,000,000. These notes will be secured by pledge of a block of the new refunding bonds, into which the notes will be convertible at the option of the holders. The notes will also be subject to call at par at the option of the company.

Status of Western Pacific Ry. Enterprise.—President E. T. Jeffery in a circular dated May 12 says in substance:

The Western Pacific Ry., now under construction from Salt Lake City, Utah, to San Francisco, Cal., is virtually an extension of the Denver & Rio Grande RR. system, and, when completed, will furnish a Pacific Coast outlet for it and other lines, having an aggregate mileage of nearly 18,000 miles, about four-fifths of which will contribute traffic to, and receive it from, the Western Pacific via its Salt Lake terminus. Satisfactory traffic contracts have already been made between the Western Pacific, the Rio Grande Western, the Denver & Rio Grande and the Missouri Pacific, which contracts are pledged under the first mortgage of the Western Pacific Company, insuring a large passenger and freight traffic to the Western Pacific when it is put in operation.

The Western Pacific skirts the southern shore of Great Salt Lake and will participate in the large traffic of extensive smelting and refining works now under construction in that vicinity. It crosses, with moderate grades, the State of Nevada, and, in time, after the main line is completed, the rich and rapidly developing mineral resources of the State will be reached by necessary laterals and feeders. It traverses the State of California, contiguous in places to important mineral and timber resources, and a part of it runs through an exceedingly rich and almost undeveloped territory. The population, wealth and business of California have increased since 1898 in a degree hardly credible, and there seems to be no room for doubt that the Western Pacific Ry. will be self-supporting from the day it is fully opened to business.

The main line, without cut-offs to be built a little later to shorten the distance for through traffic, is 929 miles long; about 80% of it has a maximum gradient of 4-10 of 1%, or 21.12 feet per mile. It crosses the Sierra Nevada Mountains at an elevation of 5,018 feet above tidewater, with a maximum grade on the eastern slope of 8-10 of 1%, or 42.24 feet to the mile, and on the western slope of 1%, or 52.8 feet to the mile. It crosses the Coast Range with a maximum grade of 1%, and reaches San Francisco Bay at Oakland, and thence San Francisco by means of steam ferry and other marine transfer facilities. The line will be entirely free from deep snows, and therefore from snow-sheds. The line now under construction will pass through Oroville, Marysville, Sacramento, Stockton and Niles in California. It is expected, however, after completion of main line as hereinbefore described, that a cut-off or more direct line between Sacramento and Oakland will be constructed.

It is the purpose of the company to establish at San Francisco and Oakland dock and warehouse facilities ample to accommodate a large ocean commerce. The company has already obtained terminal facilities in San Francisco and Oakland which will be quite equal to those of any railway entering these cities, and it has secured highly satisfactory facilities at both Sacramento and Stockton.

The Western Pacific Ry. Co. has already expended more than $30,000,000 in cash on its lines and terminals, and the right of way and necessary terminal lands have, with unimportant exceptions, been secured. Grading has been completed on practically 600 miles and upon approximately 300 miles thereof rails have been laid. The original plans called for 66 tunnels, with a total length of 62,614 feet, against the present requirement of 44 tunnels, with a total length of 45,332 feet. About 60% of this tunnel work has now been completed. It is expected that during the coming summer it will be possible to open approximately 360 miles of line for traffic. The work of completing the entire line is being diligently prosecuted and it is hoped to open the road for business, from beginning to end, some time early in the year 1909. The great growth of population in the Central and Western States, and the rapidly increasing trade with the Orient, confirm and increase my original confidence that the enterprise will be profitable itself and contribute to the prosperity of the Denver & Rio Grande.—V. 86, p. 1159.

Dry Dock East Broadway & Battery RR.—Status.—See "Third Avenue Railroad System" under "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.—V. 86, p. 546.

Erie RR.—Quarterly.—The earnings for the quarter and nine months ending Mch. 31 as reported to the New York State authorities, on a portion of the system were:

| 3 Mos. | Gross. | Net. | Oth. Inc. | Charges. | Surp. or De |

Compare V. 86, p. 480.—V. 86, p. 917, 856.

Evansville & Terre Haute RR.—Bonds Sold.—The company has sold to Flower & Co. $373,000 first general 5% bonds of 1942 held in the treasury, at a price, it is said, approximating par. There are now $3,855,000 of these bonds outstanding.

The remainder of the $7,000,000 authorized issue is reserved to provide for underlying liens. The proceeds will be used to reimburse the company for money expended on new construction, equipment and betterments.—V. 85, p. 1000.

George's Creek & Cumberland RR.—Order for Sale of Stock at Auction.—See Western Maryland RR. below.

Greenwich & Johnsonville Ry.—Consolidated Mortgage.—The Public Service Commission, Second District, has authorized the company to make a consolidated mortgage to the Standard Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $1,000,000 30-year 5% gold bonds. The "Albany Journal" of May 12 says:

The company is authorized to issue $400,000 of the bonds, the proceeds to be used to discharge the indebtedness incurred in the construction of its Salem branch, extending from Greenwich to the connection with the Delaware & Hudson Co., and for the work of putting the Salem branch into full operation. The company is directed to hold $500,000 of the bonds for the purpose of retiring and discharging its present funded debt. The remaining $100,000 of bonds is to be held by the company and not issued except by order of the Commission.—V. 85, p. 40.

Havana Central RR.—New Bonds and Notes.—The shareholders will vote June 15 on authorizing (1) an issue of bonds to an amount not exceeding $3,500,000 to be secured by mortgage covering terminal and other properties; also (2) an issue of three-year 6% sterling notes to an amount not to exceed £515,000, with the new bonds and other collateral as security. Compare V. 84, p. 1052, 1307, 1366, 1551

Hocking Valley Ry.—Status of Consolidation Plan.—See Kanawha & Michigan Ry. below.—V. 86, p. 47.

Kanawha & Michigan Ry.—Statement by Minority Stockholders' Committee.—The committee consisting of G. D. Mackay, Chairman, W. H. Goadby and I. L. Ellwood, under date of New York, May 6, makes substantially the following statement to the minority stockholders:

The past year, which promised to be a period of important developments for the minority holders, was, owing to unavoidable circumstances, a year of some hardship. While the results have been disappointing, the actual condition of the company is far better than it was a year ago. Had there been no panic it is more than probable that dividends could have been begun, but the falling off of earnings brought the available revenue down to a point where there could not possibly be a surplus applicable to dividends.

The merger is at the present time held in suspension by delay of the courts. It is not definitely known when the judge will hand in his decision, although it is due at any time. While a quick decision would give us the satisfaction of knowing that there would be no opposition to the merger, the state of the bond market is not yet so that the financing necessary to make the merger effective could be immediately done. (The suit referred to is that brought by the Attorney-General of Ohio to have the merger plan described in V. 83, p. 271, adjudged in contravention of the State law.—Ed.

Since a year ago two members of your committee have been on the executive committee of the road watching over the interests of the minority holders. Important improvements are constantly going on and at the meeting of the board April 30 $325,000 was unanimously voted to renew the approaches (in all about 3.3 miles) to the Ohio River bridge, which at present are unable to bear ordinary coal trains. Out of the earnings $140,000 has already been spent in erecting two stone piers and a channe span of steel. This work on the approaches will complete practically s new bridge. While the total cost of this new bridge and its approache will be nearly $500,000, bringing a fixed charge on the company of about $25,000 a year, it is estimated that it will save $50,000 or $75,000 in net earnings, besides permanently reducing the operating expenses at the bridge, which has been one of the greatest handicaps to a low cost of operation.

At the request of your committee, General Superintendent Connors has made an estimate on the future cost of operation, a copy of which is enclosed. (See below—Ed.)

Your committee also asked the directors to authorize the examination of the books during the past five years, in order that the minority stockholders might be satisfied that full justice has been done. There was a unanimous consent of all the directors that this should be done in any method which the minority holders desired. If the minority holders prefer that their own accountants make a separate report, the road would no doubt bear half the cost ($2,000), while a contribution of 5c. per share on the stock represented by your committee will be more than sufficient for the remainder. Please communicate your desires.

The remaining second mortgage bonds in the treasury, which were issued to provide for the floating obligations of the company, of which about $400,000 remain in the treasury, will be used for the new work on the bridge.

Extract of Statement by General Supt. M. C. Connors April 28 1908

Gross Earnings and Ratio of Oper. Exp. and Taxes to Gross Earnings.

| | Gross. | Ratio. | | Gross. | Ratio. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1902 | $1,096,359 | 80.84% | 1905 | $1,764,173 | 86.20% |

Assuming the same ratio of increase during the ensuing six years, and considering the improved physical condition of the property, increased facilities, the completion of contemplated line changes at Pt. Pleasant, permitting the discontinuance of helping engines at that point, and the renewal of approaches to and bridge over Ohio River, permitting the use of consolidated type of freight engines, which will result in an increase in trainload of at least 25%, I believe that the property will be operated (including taxes) for between 70 and 75% of its gross earnings.

The Coal & Coke Ry. and the Kanawha & West Virginia RR.—two feeders to the K. & M. Ry.—are but in their infancy, and I fully believe that the business originating on our own rails, with what we receive from these companies, will produce, within a year or two at least, a gross earning of $3,000,000 per annum, and on this basis we should be able to keep the ratio of expenses to gross earnings, including taxes, between 70 and 75%. Some additions to freight-car equipment will be necessary to bring about such results, but I question whether additional freight locomotives will be required for several years to come.

Aside from the contemplated line and grade changes, with which you are familiar, there will be—outside of the usual rail and tie renewals—but little extraordinary expense to provide for.—V. 85, p. 1402.

Kansas City Southern Ry.—Annual Meeting—New Director—Official Statement.—At the annual meeting at Kansas City on May 12 a large majority of the stock being represented, the present board was unanimously re-elected with the exception that W. G. Street of New York City was substituted for Y. van den Berg of New York City. In answer to a question from a stockholder President Edson said:

Net earnings of the property for the nine months to March 31, less taxes, are $2,186,074. I estimate that the net for the remaining three months on the present basis of earnings will not be less than $622,488, or, for the fiscal year, $2,808,562. The total charges for the year, including interest on bonds, notes and car trusts, will be $1,225,053, leaving net applicable for dividends of $1,583,509.

There have been expended in the rehabilitation and improvement of the property to June 30 last $4,533,859, and there have been further expended this year to March 31 $1,217,926. There have also been acquired during the year 30 locomotives, at a cost of $525,660.

The property from Kansas City to Shreveport is well ballasted, the embankments are widened and the ditches cleaned out to standard width, and, with the putting down of the rails now being delivered the track will be laid throughout with heavy rails. Permanent bridges are being built as the present temporary structures fall in for renewals. The Chairman of the executive committee, upon his return from an inspection trip recently made over the system, said that in his opinion the physical condition of the property, and in particular that portion from Kansas City to Shreveport, is as good as that of any road south of the Missouri River.

The benefits derived from the improvements made are manifest in the low cost at which traffic is now being carried. With a revival of business, the gross earnings should be measurably increased and the property be operated at a less ratio of expense than in the past.—V. 85, p. 1213, 1203.

Lima (Peru) Urban Ry.—Bonds Called.—Fourteen 6% gold bonds have been called for redemption July 1 1908. Coupons due that day will be paid after that date at the offices of William Salomon & Co. and W. R. Grace & Co., New York City. Compare V. 85, p. 1270.

Los Angeles Ry.—Offering of Guaranteed Bonds.—See Pacific Light & Power Co. under "Industrials" below.—V. 86, p. 52.

Menominee & Marinette Light & Traction Co.—New Stock.—This company, formed by consolidation in June 1903, and having outstanding $560,000 capital stock in shares of $100 each, proposes to increase its capital stock to $1,000,000, and will issue the $440,000 new stock in order to provide for the construction of a 4,500 horse-power hydro-electric plant two miles east of Ingalls. The company has outstanding $195,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, dated July 15 1904 and due 1924. Augustus Spies is President.

Mexican Central Securities Co.—Merger Plan Approved.—See National Railways of Mexico below.—V. 68, p. 524.

National Railways of Mexico.—Success of Merger Plan.—A large majority of all classes of securities of the Mexican Central Ry. and National RR. of Mexico, it is stated, has been deposited in favor of the merger plan. The following announcement was made Wednesday as to the approval of the plan by the Mexican Central Securities Co., Ltd., of London, which holds $37,937,000 Mexican Central Ry. consol 4s, thus ensuring the success of the plan.

At an extraordinary general meeting of the Mexican Central Railway Securities Co., Ltd., in London on May 4, the debenture holders of that company approved the resolutions necessary to permit of the deposit by the trustees of the company of its holdings of $37,937,000 Mexican Central consolidated 4% bonds under the plan of readjustment and union of the Mexican Central Railway Co., Ltd., and National Railroad of Mexico, dated April 6 1908.

The question of the authority of the trustees under the direction of a committee of the debenture holders to make such deposit having been submitted to the court in London, a decision favorable to the making of such deposit has been rendered by the court.

The committee of the Mexican Central Railway Securities Co., Ltd., which has been appointed by the debenture holders to effect the deposit of the securities above stated, consists of five members, including Robert Fleming, who has recently been in New York. Mr. Fleming sailed for Europe on May 9, and it is expected that the holdings of the Securities Company will be deposited in the course of the coming week, which will be practically the last step to be taken in connection with the plan.

Charter Filed.—The charter of the new company, called the Ferrocarril Nacional de Mexico, was filed on May 5 in the office of the Public Register in the City of Mexico.—V. 86, p. 918, 982.

New England RR.—Payment of Minority Stockholders.—Treasurer George B. Phippen has sent the following notice to the minority stockholders, who, it is said, hold one share of the preferred stock and 110 shares of the common stock:

The franchise and property of the New England RR. Co. has been sold to the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. Co. (subject to the mortgage thereon) for the sum of $27,500,000, which has been paid to it. The directors of the New England RR. Co. have directed the distribution of foregoing purchase price among its stockholders by the payment to each of the preferred stockholders of $150 on each of the shares of the preferred capital stock held by him, and to each of the common stockholders of $100 on each of the shares of the common capital stock held by him, the same being the proportion of each share of such stock respectively in the final distribution in full of all the net assets of this company.—V. 86, p. 1043.

New Orleans Fort Jackson & Grand Isle RR.—New Officers, &c.—The following officers and directors are announced:

Officers: Charles D. Haines, President; William J. Kelly, Secretary, and F. P. Breckenridge, Treasurer.

Directors.—Charles D. Haines, H. C. Warmouth, Frank T. Howard, F. P. Breckenridge, Elmer T. Haines, A. B. Wheeler and Henry Leverich.—V. 85, p. 1577.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Terminal Improvement at New York City.—The "Record and Guide" of New York, in its issue of May 2, contains an article by H. A. Bennett, C. E., regarding the "Grand Central Yard Improvement," in which he says that some idea of the magnitude of the work may be gathered from the following facts:

The suburban station will cover 22 acres and the express level 39 acres; total, 61 acres. There will be constructed 1¾ miles of new steel viaduct, requiring 100,000 tons of steel. There will be 25 miles of tracks within the yard, accommodating 1,200 cars; 18 interlocking plants, 18 signal towers.

Eight power stations of 7,000 H. P. each will supply the power. Thirty-five 2,200 H. P. electric locomotives will be used, each weighing 100 tons, and having a maximum speed of 80 miles per hour; also 100 2,400 H. P. motor cars each weighing 53 tons and capable of a maximum speed of 52 miles per hour. Only the suburban trains use electricity at present, and 55 all-steel multiple-unit cars, each weighing 41 tons, have been put in operation.

The amount of the saving to the operating department will more than pay the interest on the $40,000,000 which the undertaking is estimated to cost.

"An average daily force of 1,000 men will be employed to carry on this work, which, it is estimated, will be completed by Jan. 1 1912."—V. 86, p. 1101, 1043.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—Divisional Bond Offered.—Kidder, Peabody & Co., Estabrook & Co. and R. L. Day & Co., all of Boston, Mass., offered this week at 98 and interest, and quickly sold, $4,000,000, being the final block of an issue of $15,000,000, Harlem River & Port Chester RR. division first mortgage 4% 50-year gold bonds, dated May 2 1904 and due May 1 1954. A circular says:

This bond is secured by a first mortgage upon the approaches of the main line and terminals of this system of roads in New York City, consisting of six tracks (four tracks for freight service and two tracks for passenger service) from New Rochelle to Harlem River, 11½ miles. (Against the $221,000 Harlem River & Port Chester 4s, due 1911, outstanding, cash to the full amount of principal and accrued interest to maturity has been deposited with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., trustee.) It is also secured by a mortgage on 225 acres of land located within the borough of the Bronx, City of New York, on which are freight and station facilities for the proper handling of the company's large and increasing business. This property has approximately two miles of water frontage, chiefly on the Harlem River and East River.

Coupon bonds, denomination $1,000, may be registered as to principal. Registered certificates, denomination $10,000, may be converted into coupon bonds of $1,000 each.

Refunding until Jan. 1 1910.—It was recently announced that an agreement had been entered into with Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston providing for the sale of about $9,000,000 mortgage bonds of underlying merged roads now held in the treasury and also for the sale of about $2,000,000 short-term notes, the proceeds of which will be used to pay off between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 securities maturing up to Jan. 1 1910.

It is stated unofficially that the bonds here referred to include, besides the $4,000,000 bonds of the Harlem River & Portchester offered above, $3,000,000 bonds on the New Haven & Northampton and $2,000,000 on Boston & New York Air Line. In this connection the following facts are of interest:

The New Haven & Northampton in 1906 made a blanket mortgage to secure an issue of $10,000,000 "refunding mortgage" 4% gold bonds, due June 1 1956 (compare V. 82, p. 1323), of which on June 30 1907 $2,008,000 had been issued and were in the treasury of the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. Of the remaining bonds authorized, between $1,800,000 and $1,900,000 were reserved to take up underlying bonds maturing in 1909 and 1911 and the remainder were issuable to cover the cost of repairs and future double tracking, eliminating grade crossings, widening and deepening the east cut at New Haven, and otherwise improving the road. These bonds are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the New York New Haven & Hartford RR.

The parent company on June 30 1907 also held $3,102,000 Boston & New York Air Line 4s, total authorized issue $5,000,000, of which $1,675,000 are in the hands of the public. This issue has been assumed.

Final Distribution.—See New England RR. above.

Control of Trolley Roads Held Illegal.—The full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court on May 8 affirmed the information filed some time ago by Attorney-General Malone against the company for transgressing the law in securing control of certain street railways in Massachusetts.

These roads are the Worcester & Webster Street Ry., the Webster & Dudley Street Ry., the Berkshire Street Ry., the Worcester & Southbridge Street Ry. the Blackstone Valley Street Ry. and the Springfield Street Ry.

The decision is based on the theory that, while the company is a consolidated corporation under the laws of Connecticut and Massachusetts, neither State can grant franchises to be enjoyed in the other which are contrary to its laws, the corporation being a domestic corporation in each State and governed by the laws of the State of its creation in all it does within that State. The Court says: "We think it plain that, in the different provisions of the statutes of Massachusetts to which we have referred, the Legislature intended to retain control of the consolidated corporation, as a domestic corporation, in everything it might do within this Commonwealth, and that, recognizing its right to receive franchises and acquire property in Connecticut, it did not give it an implied right to receive any franchise in Connecticut to be enjoyed or exercised in Massachusetts in violation of the laws and public policy of this Commonwealth."

Effect on Boston & Maine Stock Holdings.—Charles F. Choate Jr., counsel for the company, on Monday at a hearing before the Committee of Railroads of the Legislature, which is considering proposed legislation bearing on the relations of the company to the Boston & Maine, read a statement from Vice-President Timothy E. Byrnes, stating as follows:

In view of the decision of the Supreme Court on Friday last, it seems proper for us to state briefly our position with reference to certain of the matters pending before your committee. We had believed that the New Haven company possessed the right under the law to hold stocks of other companies engaged in transportation in Massachusetts. The company has not sought any controversy with the Commonwealth. Before the recent suit was brought, Mr. Mellen wrote to the Attorney-General: "Will you kindly advise me in what respect we are derelict in connection with the street railways mentioned, and I beg to assure you of our disposition to correct whatever you, as chief official of the Commonwealth in charge o such matters, consider necessary"; to which the Attorney-General replied that he is of the opinion that there is an important legal question involved, and he has therefore filed proceedings in the Supreme Judicial Court to test the question. The question has been presented to the Court, and the Court has decided that the company has not the right to hold stocks of trolley companies in Massachusetts. The company will promptly obey the decree of the Court. We believe the principle enunciated by the Court applies as well to the holding of Boston & Maine stock by the New Haven company, and that it will be necessary for the company also to dispose of this stock unless the Legislature decides that it is consistent with the interests of the Commonwealth that it should be retained."—V. 86, p. 1101, 1043.

Northern Texas Traction Co. of Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas.—Notes Offered.—Estabrook & Co., Boston, and Lee, Higginson & Co., Boston and New York, are offering at 97¼ and interest, yielding the investor 7% per annum, $500,000 three-year 6% notes, dated May 1 1908 and due May 1 1911. Interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1 at Boston. Coupon notes of $500 and $1,000 denominations. City Trust Co., Boston, Trustee.

Abstract of Letter from Stone & Webster, General Managers, Boston, May 12 1908.

The company is organized under the laws of Texas and does an electric railway business in Fort Worth, Texas, and operates an interurban electric railway between Fort Worth and Dallas, with a terminal on its own tracks to the centre of Dallas. The franchises possessed are satisfactory. From Fort Worth to Oak Cliff, a suburb of Dallas, approximately 29 miles, the company owns in fee its entire private right of way, excepting on streets of the towns through which it passes; and in these towns its rights extend for approximately fifty years. From Oak Cliff to the business centre of Dallas the franchises extend for different periods until 1922.

The system includes approximately 80.5 miles of single track, composed of 33 miles of interurban lines, 8 miles of line in Oak Cliff and 39.5 miles of city lines in Fort Worth. The city lines have been practically all relaid during the last five years with 60 and 72-lb. rail. The interurban line is of steam railroad construction laid with 70-lb. "T" rail. The rolling stock includes 106 passenger and express cars and 7 miscellaneous cars. A modern power station of about 3,750 horse-power capacity is also located at Handley, from which current is distributed to four sub-stations.

The proceeds of the $500,000 notes will pay off all existing floating debt, representing the cost of permanent extensions, additions and improvements, and will leave a substantial cash balance in the treasury. All the authorized mortgage bonds are now outstanding, and no further mortgage can be placed upon the property of the company without equally securing these notes.

|---|---|
| Capital stock (including $500,000 to be authorized May 16 1908) | $3,000,000 |
| First mortgage 5% bonds, due Jan. 1 1933 | 2,500,000 |
| Total auth. and outstanding issue 6% 3-year notes (present issue) | 500,000 |

| Year— | Gross. | Operating. | Net. | Interest. | Bal., Sur |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1907 | $1,060,953 | $623,572 | $437 281 | $128,503 | $308,878 |
| 1906 | 854,135 | 547,151 | 306,984 | 119,581 | 187,403 |
| 1905 | 661,037 | 391,863 | 269,174 | | |
| 1904 | 561,711 | 328,813 | 235 898 | | |

The net earnings were therefore almost three times the interest charges, including the interest on these new notes.

The company is paying dividends upon its capital stock at the rate of 6% per annum.

Stock.—The Attorney-General of Texas has approved the charter amendment increasing the capital stock from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000. A special dispatch to the "Dallas News" says:

The Attorney-General held that the new law as to capital stock does not apply to increases made by interurban companies. As the company furnishes the necessary affidavits that 50% of the increase has been subscribed and 10% of it paid in, the amendment will be filed. The new corporation law requires the entire amount of capital stock to be subscribed and 50% paid in, but interurban companies are expressly exempt.

It is understood that the company is to issue stock dividends instead of paying the money in dividends and that the money thus retained is to be used in betterments and possible extensions.—V. 86, p. 1043.

Northwestern Ohio (Electric) RR.—Bond Issue for Projected Road.—A mortgage has been filed to the Security Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Toledo, as trustee, to secure an issue of $1,000,000 5% bonds dated Nov. 1 1907.

These bonds are to be issued on account of the construction and equipment of this interurban road, intended to run from Defiance, O., northerly to Montpelier, passing through Evansport and Bryan.

The project is being promoted by Col. H. C. Bell of Toledo. The President and Secretary are G. G. Bloom of Stryker and John Crowe of Defiance.

Odessa & Middletown (Electric) Ry., Delaware.—Sold.—At the sale of this 4-mile road which took place at Wilmington, Del., on May 6 under foreclosure of the $50,000 mortgage (Integrity Title, Insurance, Trust & Safe Deposit Co., trustees), the property was bid in by H. R. Bringhurst "for $8,100 clear of all incumbrances."

Oregon Electric Ry., Portland, Ore.—New Stock, Extensions, &c.—This company filed on April 22 supplementary articles of incorporation to permit the building of extensions to the cities of Hillsboro, Eugene, Mill City, &c., and also increased its authorized issue of capital stock from $2,500,000 to $10,000,000 (par of shares $100) and classifying the same into $5,000,000 common and $5,000,000 preferred, the latter to have preference over the common as to both dividends and assets and its dividends to be cumulative after Jan. 1 1911. Work on the Hillsboro line, it is stated, is already under way. The company within the past 18 months has constructed 50 miles of railway between Portland and Salem, Ore. Under the supplementary articles of incorporation it has the right to build 301 miles of extensions as follows:

Salem to Albany, 18 miles; Garden Home to Hillsboro, 12 miles; Hillsboro to Tillamook, 57 miles; Tigardville to Eugene, 125 miles; Salem to M. City, 54 miles, and Albany to Cascadia, 35 miles.

The company's bonds to an amount not stated have been underwritten by a syndicate in which New York bankers are interested. Compare V. 83, p. 819. The officers are:

President, George Barclay Moffatt, New York; Vice-President, Guy W. Talbot, Portland; Secretary, George F. Nevins, Portland; Treasurer, H. W. Brower, New York. V. 83, p. 819.

Quebec Central Ry.—Report.—For calendar years:

| Cal. Year— | Gross Earnings. | Net Earns. | Other Income | Int. on Bds. & Deb. Stk. | Impts.& Equip. | Balance Surplus |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1906 | 904,865 | 321,949 | 6,175 | 99,983 | 62,500 | 165,641 |

Adding $12,700 brought forward from the year 1906 makes an available balance of $192,946. From the latter was paid the yearly interest on the 3% debenture stock, calling for $49,348, and the full 7% on the income bonds, $115,145 (against 5½% in 1906), leaving $28,453, from which a special appropriation of $13,000 was made on account of estimated loss of about $85,000 through the irregularities of an official, leaving $15,453 to be carried forward.

In 1907 $51,000 was included in working expenses for renewals, which under the method adopted in previous years would have been appropriated form net revenue at the end of the year.

An English financial paper says:

On Dec. 31 1907 £400,337 of the 4% debenture stock had been issued. Of this amount £270,500 had been used for retiring 5% prior lien bonds, of which £95,000 were outstanding on Dec. 31 1907. Since the close of the fiscal year the outstanding bonds have been paid off; therefore the 4% debenture stock now ranks as a first charge on the entire undertaking.—V. 86, p. 1169.

Pennsylvania RR.—Called Bonds.—Sunbury Hazleton & Wilkesbarre Ry. first mortgage Series A bonds of 1878 to the amount of $20,300 have been called and will be redeemed at par and interest on June 1 by the Fidelity Trust Co. of Philadelphia.—V. 86, p. 1101, 1043.

Raleigh & Southport Ry.—Listed in Baltimore.—The Baltimore Stock Exchagne has listed the $359,000 of outstanding consolidated mortgage 5% gold bonds due in June 1965. Compare V. 82, p. 929.

Rochester-Corning-Elmira Traction Co.—Securities Authorized.—On account of the construction and equipment of its proposed double-track electric road from Rochester to Elmira, a distance of 120 miles, this company has been authorized by the Public Service Commission, Second Division, to issue capital stock to the amount of $3,880,000, making a total of $4,000,000 stock outstanding and $4,210,000 30-year 5% gold bonds, to be secured by a mortgage which the Commission would limit to $6,000,000, but which the company wished to make $8,000,000. The Commission made the following stipulations:

No bonds shall be sold at less than 85% of the face or par value. The bonds shall be issued from time to time in installments of not more than $1,000,000 each, and only upon the entry of an order additional to the general order authorizing such issue, upon proof upon the first application, that the capital stock has been subscribed by responsible parties, and upon each other application showing for what purpose the proceeds of the bonds are to be used in the construction and completion of the work and the disposition made of the proceeds of previous issues of stocks and bonds.

[The company was incorporated July 25 1906 with $1,000,000 authorized capital stock to operate a surface electric road 120 miles long from Mount Hope and Elmwood avenues, Rochester, to State and East Water streets, Elmira, passing through Monroe, Livingston, Steuben and Chemung counties. Principal office 42 Broadway, New York City. Directors are: Max H. Schultze, C. O. Gere, Frederick Eckstein, Samuel M. Levy, Henry Brunssen, Harry Vetterlein, Horace G. Abel, Henry H. Kaufman and Tracy S. Breckingham, of New York City.]

St. Louis & San Francisco RR.—Sale of Bonds.—The company has sold to J. & W. Seligman & Co. and Redmond & Co. the remainder of its refunding 4% bonds in its treasury and those that have hitherto been deposited as security for the $1,620,000 6% notes due June 25 1908. The sale includes all refunding bonds that the company will have available under the terms of the mortgage between now and July 1 1909. The company announces that it will now redeem and anticipate payment on such notes as have been secured by the refunding bonds as collateral.

Payment of Notes.—The $130,000 collateral trust 6% notes dated June 26 1907, the retirement of which was arranged some time ago (V. 86, p. 982) were payable on or before May 10 at the Mercantile Trust Co., this city. An additional block of $720,000 of the original $1,750,000 issue has been called for payment on June 7.—V. 86, p. 982, 920.

Sedalia (Mo.) Light & Traction Co.—Earnings.—E. H. Gay & Co., who are offering a block of the first mortgage 5% bonds dated Dec. 1 1905, present issue $500,000 (compare V. 86, p. 481, 170), report as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Net earnings | 31,554 | Balance | 14,054 |

From the above it will be seen that the first seven months' operation of the merged companies, after completion of improvements and consolidation of generating stations, resulted in $1,500 more than the interest charge on $500,000 bonds for the entire twelve months. On this basis the first full year's operation will show a substantial surplus.—V. 86, p. 481.

Southern Ry.—Sale of Notes Convertible at Option of Holders into "Development and General Mortgage" Bonds,—The company has sold to a syndicate, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., an issue of $15,000,000 6% convertible gold notes, dated May 1 1908, and payable on or before May 1 1911; interest payable Nov. 1 and May 1. A letter, dated May 14 1908, from President W. W. Finley, Esq., states that these notes are to be secured by pledge under trust agreement with New York Trust Co., trustee, of the following collateral:

|---|---|
| Southern Ry. "development and general mortgage" 4% bonds, series A | $20,000,000 |
| Tennessee Central RR. prior lien mortgage 4% bonds | 2,500,000 |
| Virginia & Southwestern Ry. first consolidated mortgage 5% bonds (see V. 86, p. 1102) | 2,000,000 |

The holders of these notes have the right at their option at any time, upon five days' previous notice, to convert their notes at par into the pledged "development and general mortgage" 4% bonds, Series A, at the following rates: Until and including May 1 1909 at 80%; thereafter until and including May 2 1910 at 82½%; and thereafter until and including May 1 1911 at 85%, interest in each case, and upon both notes and bonds, being allowed and adjusted.

Subject to the prior exercise of the foregoing option, the Railway Co. has the right at any time to withdraw any or all of said collateral by payment therefor in cash at the following prices: "Development and general mortgage" 4% bonds, Series A, at the same prices and for the same periods as provided above for conversion of the notes; Tennessee Central prior lien mortgage 4% bonds at not less than 85%; Virginia & Southwestern first consolidated mortgage 5% bonds at not less than 90%, with accrued interest in each case. Such cash is to be applied by the trustee to the purchase or redemption of the notes as printed in the trust indenture.

Option to Subscribe.—J. P. Morgan & Co., as syndicate managers, will permit the holders of the company's 2-year 5% sterling notes maturing June 1 1908 and July 2 1908, to deposit their notes, ex last coupon, and receive preference in allotment to the extent of the notes so deposited, and at the time allotment is made depositors of notes maturing June 1 1908 will receive a cash payment of $10 per note, and depositors of notes maturing July 2 1908 will receive a cash payment of $5 per note in adjustment of difference in price and interest. Preference in allotment will also be given to registered holders of the company's State trust certificates. Sterling notes maturing June 1 and July 1 may be deposited at the offices of Messrs. J. S. Morgan & Co., 22 Old Broad Street, London, E. C.

Option on Tennessee Central.—The report that the company had decided not to exercise its joint option with the Illinois Central on the greater part of the securities of the Tennessee Central Ry., which expires July 1 next, could not be confirmed yesterday from the company's officials.—V. 86, p. 1101.

Southern Electric Securities Co., New Orleans.—Sale of Controlled Property.—See Vicksburg Street Ry. & Light Co. in V. 86, p. 1161.—V. 86, p. 230.

Sharon Ry.—Stock Offered.—A. M. Kidder & Co. offer, by advertisement on another page, at 120 ($60 per $50 share) and accrued dividend, to net 5% to the investor, 2,000 shares of stock of the Sharon Ry., guaranteed 6% under lease to the Erie RR. for 900 years from Dec. 1 1900. Total amount outstanding, $882,150.

The stock is tax-exempt in Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New York. The road is an important link in the Erie system, serving territory very productive of freight traffic; the side tracks furnishing access to the various furnaces, mills, &c., along the line, including those of the United States Steel Corporation, Republic Iron & Steel Co., Sharon Steel Co. and allied companies, Driggs-Seabury Ordnance Co., &c. Compare V. 86, p. 795, 722.

Tennessee Central Ry.—Report as to Option.—See Southern Ry. above.—V. 84, p. 869.

Third Avenue RR., New York.—Proposed Issue of Receivers' Certificates—Existing Charges that Must Be Paid, &c.—See receivers' statement under "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.—V. 86, p. 858, 722.

Toledo (O.) Railways & Light Co.—An Effort to Be Made to Readjust the Affairs of the Company without a Receivership.—To save the company from what was regarded as a certain receivership, a committee to represent the bondholders and creditors of the company is in process of formation. The committee will include:

New York men—Norman B. Ream and C. Ledyard Blair, Mr. Blair being a member of the banking house of Blair & Co. Cleveland men—Hon. Myron T. Herrick, President of the Society of Savings; John Sherwin, President of the First National Bank; H. P. McIntosh, President of the Guardian Savings & Trust Co.; and J. R. Nutt, the Secretary of the Citizens' Savings & Trust Co. Chicago will be represented by William B. Hale, of that city.

The company is a consolidation of all the street railways, gas, electric lighting and heating companies of Toledo, and also controls the Toledo & Western, the Toledo Fayette & Western, the Maumee Valley Railways & Light Co. and the Toledo Ottawa Beach & Northern Railways Co. all interurban lines radiating from Toledo. The Toledo Railways & Light Co. has a bonded debt of $13,258,000 and a floating debt of approximately $2,500,000. The expiring franchises of some of the street railways owned by the company, and the general financial depression, has not only made it impossible for the company to finance its floating debt, but has prevented the company from arranging a general financial plan for taking care of some $10,000,000 of the bonded debt which becomes due next year.

"The properties have always been good earners, and last year earned a net surplus of $314,700 over all of its fixed charges, which would seem to indicate the possibility of a successful readjustment."

The committee will shortly issue a call for the deposit of the junior securities, including the secured floating indebtedness, and will co-operate with the officials of the company in an effort to re-adjust and reorganize the affairs of the company without the complications and expense of a receivership.—V. 86, p. 227, 170.

Union Pacific RR.—No Haste About Financing.—Reports have been current this week of pending negotiations here and abroad for the sale of $25,000,000 or $50,000,000 of the company's new bonds (see V. 86, p. 1161), in order to put the treasury in funds to meet existing capital requirements, including the payment of floating debt (incurred for construction and additions), and to finance the company's subscription for its pro rata share of new stock etc., shortly to be placed by the Illinois Central (V. 86, p. 720, 981, 1042). President Harriman, after the directors' meeting on Wednesday, when the regular dividend was declared, had, it is stated, the following conversation with a representative of the "New York Evening Sun":

"Everybody is trying to do the Union Pacific financing, and I want it understood that the Union Pacific doesn't need any financing."

"But you said yourself last week that the company would need $25,000,000," was remarked.

"Oh, what is $25,000,000 to the Union Pacific?" was the reply. "The Union Pacific doesn't need any money."

"Does that mean that there will be no immediate offering of any of the bonds authorized?" was asked.

"It will all depend upon the market," said Mr. Harriman. -V. 86, p. 1161

Union Railway, New York.—Status—Receiver's Certificates, &c.—See "Third Avenue Railroad System" under "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.—V. 86, p. 920, 858.

Washington Traction Co., Springfield, O.—Sold.—At receiver's sale at Springfield, O., on May 11 this property was bid in by George W. Baker of Washington C. H. for $36,667.—V. 86, p. 1161.

Western Maryland RR.—Sale of Stock Ordered.—Judge Morris in the United States Circuit Court at Baltimore on May 8 authorized the Mercantile Trust Co. of New York to sell at auction within 30 days 19,993 shares of capital stock of the par value of $50 each of the George's Creek & Cumberland RR. Co., deposited with the trust company by the Western Maryland RR. Co. as collateral security for a 6-months' 7% note for $1,101,875, which matured April 17 1908 but remains unpaid. The sale, it is stated, "is a proceeding entirely friendly to the Western Maryland." The $1,000,000 stock of the 33-mile road was purchased in January 1907 for a sum said to have been $1,816,307. Compare V. 84, p. 160.—V. 86, p. 920, 858.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

American Felt Co.—The duties of President are being performed by Vice-President W. H. Sweatt, who has been the active head of the company for some time. The election of a new President to succeed the late Charles L. Lovering, it is said, will be deferred until the annual meeting next January. —V. 85, p. 158.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Earnings of "Associated Operating Companies."—For first quarter of calendar years 1908 and 1907:

| Three Months— | Telephone Revenue. | Net (Over Taxes). | Other Income. | Interest Charges. | Balance for Dividends. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1908 | $29,042,200 | $7,414,200 | $1,236,200 | $1,973,600 | $6,676,800 |

Operating expenses include maintenance charges amounting to $8,347,500 in 1908, against $7,598,200 in 1907.—V. 86, p. 1045, 983, 858.

Anaheim (Cal.) Union Water Co.—New Bonds.—An informal meeting of the stockholders has recently, by a unaminous vote, recommended that the board of directors take steps towards issuing $300,000 bonds to pay off the floating debt, and also to take care of the present bonded debt, said bonds to be sold for cash and at not less than their face value and at a rate of interest not to exceed 6%.

The amount of outstanding stock is 8004 shares. The company is a co-operative organization supplying water to Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia and Yorba. The officers are: Wm. Crowther, President, Fullerton, Cal; S. Kraemer, Vice-Pres., P. H. Krick, Sec., and John Hartung, Treas., all of Anaheim.

Bituminous Coal Companies.—Indiana Union Miners' Strike.—Union coal miners in and around Evansville, Ind., went on strike May 14, stopping all coal mining in Indiana except in the block-coal district.

Agreement in Illinois.—On May 9 the coal miners and operators of Illinois reached an agreement, the miners voting to continue the agreement of 1906 and paying the shot-firers.—V. 86, p. 1041.

Butterick Co., New York.—Dividends Resumed.—A quarterly dividend of ½ of 1% has been declared on the $12,000,000 stock, payable June 1 to holders of record May 20. Quarterly distributions at the rate of 4% per annum were made from Sept. 1 1902 to Sept. 1 1907, both inclusive, but none in December and March last. (V. 85, p. 1340.)—V. 86, p. 339

Canada Paper Co., Ltd., Windsor Mills, Que.—Second Mortgage—Lease.—This company, having outstanding at last accounts $588,600 common stock, $344,100 7% cumulative preferred stock and $200,000 first mortgage 5% bonds (interest M. & N.), has called a meeting of its shareholders to be held at the company's office, No. 70 McGill St., Montreal, on May 19 1908, for the purpose of considering a by-law providing for an issue of $150,000 second mortgage bonds and for the purpose of considering an agreement which provides contingently for a lease of the company's property generally. Kilgour Bros. of Toronto were recently reported as seeking control.

Chicago (Bell) Telephone Co.—New Officers.—President Arthur D. Wheeler has been elected Chairman of the Board to succeed John M. Clark, who resigned in anticipation of a prolonged absence from the city, but remains a director. B. E. Sunny, a Vice-President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., has been elected President.

Gain in Telephones.—Jan. 1 to April 30, 4 months:

| 4 Mos. | Gain (No. Telephones.) | Telephones in Service April 30. |
|---|---|---|
| 1907. | 11,658 (city, 8,371; otu. 3,287) | 182,617 |

"Chicago Inter Ocean" says: "From Dec. 1 to April 1 the company expended $1,185,000 for changes in service and improvements required under the new ordinance, and will spend $2,000,000 more before the present year is at an end from proceeds of the recent sale of additional stock. It is stated that the company has in the neighborhood of 7,000 orders for new telephones ahead. V. 86, p. 482, 423.

Ohio & Indiana Consolidated Natural & Illuminating Gas Co.—Foreclosure Decree.—See Fort Wayne Gas Co. above.

Circular to Bondholders of Controlled Companies from Independent Prolective Committee.—A circular dated New York April 28, has been sent out by the "Indiana Gas Companies' Bondholders' Protective Committee," consisting of:

This circular says in part:

The undersigned are members of a committee composed of bondholders in the Indiana Natural & Illuminating Gas Co., Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas Co., Fort Wayne Gas Co., Lafayette Gas Co. and Ohio & Indiana Gas Co., called the "Indiana Gas Companies' Bondholders' Protective Committee," which was chosen about a year ago at a meeting of bondholders of the companies above named who were dissatisfied with the plan of reorganization put out by the Wallace committee, and had declined to assent thereto. At the time that the committee was formed, an order was obtained restraining the Wallace committee from putting their plan into execution for the time being, but this order was afterwards reversed, although the action in which it was granted is still pending and is expected to be eventually tried.

The committee then proceeded to gather information. It appeared that the mortgage securing the bonds had been made to two trustees, that Ferdinand Winter of Indianapolis had resigned as trustee, thus permitting the Central Trust Co., as the remaining trustee, to begin foreclosure suits.

As a result of the legal proceedings instituted in Indianapolis by our committee, Judge Anderson of the United States Court has appointed H. W. Bennett, a gentleman of high standing in that community, as substitute trustee, in place of Mr. Winter, and has required the receivers to furnish full particulars of the financial condition for each year of their receiverships and for several years theretofore.

In the case of the Fort Wayne Co. the foreclosure suit was begun before the time specified in the mortgage had elapsed; there is also a further question as to whether the company should ever have defaulted on its bonds if it had been operated independently and its finances not merged with those of the other companies. The foreclosures in all the companies, other than the Fort Wayne, have proceeded to a decree; in the Fort Wayne suit no decree has yet been entered.

The circular closes with various criticisms of the modified plan of the Wallace committee. Considerable additional information of importance, it is stated, has been secured since the circular was issued; see the aforesaid plan in V. 86, p. 984.

Ohio Oil Co.—Acquisition.—This subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co., it is stated, has acquired for $325,000 cash,

The holdings of the Superior Oil Co., one of the subsidiary companies of the Benedum-Trees Oil Co., consisting of leases on 2,200 acres in Crawford County, Ill., on which are 39 producing wells, with an aggregate production of 1,000 barrels a day.—V. 86, p. 984, 288.

Pacific Light & Power Co., Los Angeles, Cal.—Offering of Guaranteed Bonds.—N. W. Halsey & Co. are offering by advertisement on another page the unsold part of $1,750,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each (c*), dated September 1 1902 and due July 1 1942, without option of prior redemption. Interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1 at Union Trust Co., San Francisco, trustee, or N. W. Halsey & Co., New York. These bonds are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Los Angeles Ry. Co., which owns a majority of the capital stock.

Total bonds authorized, $10,000,000 (of which only the aforesaid $1,750,000 are guaranteed), including $8,594,000 outstanding, $366,000 reserved for underlying liens, $354,000 retired by sinking fund and $686,000 available for betterments.

Abstract of Letter from President Wm. G. Kerckhoff, Sept. 14 1907.
(Revised to 1908 as to Earnings)

The company was organized under the laws of California in March 1902. Capital stock, $10,000,000, in shares of $100 each, all outstanding. Is engaged in the sale of electricity in Los Angeles and vicinity, with special attention to pulling the load of the Los Angeles Ry. Co., the Pacific Electric Ry. Co., and the Los Angeles Interurban Ry. Co., and a general lighting and power business. Owns an extensive system of generating plants with a present generating capacity of 43,000 h. p., including:

|---|---|
| Kern River plant, including dam, concrete canal 12 miles in length, power-house at Borel, Kern County, and a double transmission line of 126 miles to Los Angeles; present capacity | 13,500 h. p |
| San Gabriel plant, including conduit of 7 miles on the San Gabriel River, power-house at Azusa, Los Angeles County, and transmission line to Los Angeles, 23 miles; capacity | 1,500 " |
| Mentone plant, with tunnels and flumes approximately 5 miles in length, a power-house on Santa Ana River and a transmission line to San Bernardino and Azusa | 2,000 " |
| Redondo steam plant, nearing completion | 20,000 " |
| Los Angeles steam station | 3,800 " |
| Other hydraulic plants (1,760 h. p.) and other steam plants | 2,160 " |

Also has an interchange arrangement for giving and taking power as needed with the Ontario Power Co., Pacific Electric Ry. and Los Angeles Ry. Co., and controls a number of undeveloped water-power systems.

In addition to supplying a large amount of power to the electric railways named above, the company is one of three companies supplying the city of Los Angeles, and is getting at profitable rates all the business it can handle there. It also sells current, either directly or through other corporations in Hollywood, University, Dolgeville, Duarte, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Covina, Monrovia, Glendale and Azusa, Los Angeles County; San Bernardino, Ontario and High Grove, San Bernardino County; Riverside, Riverside County, &c. A considerable amount of power is sold for pumping water for irrigation.

Directors: William G. Kerchoff, President; Henry E. Huntington, Vice-President; A. C. Balch, General Manager; Howard E. Huntington, Kaspare Cohn, Abram Haas, George S. Patton.

There is an authorized issue of $10,000,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds, dated Sept. 1 1902, due July 1 1942, without privilege of earlier redemption. Of this amount, $8,736,000 have been issued, of which $366,000 are reserved with the trustee for the retirement of underlying bonds and $307,000 have been retired by the sinking fund, leaving $6,623,000 unguaranteed bonds outstanding at the present time, in addition to the guaranteed bonds referred to below. These bonds are secured upon all of the property, rights and franchises of every description belonging to the company. Annual sinking fund, 2% of the face value of bonds outstanding Jan. 1 1905 to Jan. 1 1909 inclusive, and 2½% from Jan. 1 1910 to Jan. 1 1942 inclusive. For purchase of bonds of this issue at a premium of 10% or less, or if this be impossible, to be invested in other securities approved by the board. This sinking fund is expected to retire the entire issue at maturity.

Of the above bonds, your portion has been guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Los Angeles Ry. Co. as follows: "For a valuable consideration it thereunto moving, the Los Angeles Ry. Co. hereby guarantees the payment of the principal of the within bond and interest accruing after Jan. 1 1907, at the time and place and in the manner specified therein, and in the coupon thereunto annexed. (Signed) Los Angeles Railway Co."

Portland Gold Mining Co., Cripple Creek.—New President.—Secretary Frank G. Peck has been elected President to succeed Irving Howbert. The "Engineering and Mining Journal" says:

This mine has produced over 10% of the gross production of the camp and has paid nearly $8,000,000 in dividends on the capitalization of $3,000,000, returning to the stockholders about 30% of the gross production of the mine. It is reported that large new bodies of rich ore have been discovered at the 1,500-foot level. Mr. Howbert is quoted as saying that this new vein at 1,500 feet is wider and richer than that on the level 100 feet above it. The drainage tunnel, when completed, will drain the mine at 2,200 feet depth.—V. 82, p. 456.

Quincy Copper Mining Co.—Dividend Again Reduced.—A quarterly dividend of $1 (4%) per $25 share has been declared, payable June 15, comparing with $1 50 (6%) March 23 1908, $2 (8%) Dec. 26 1907 and $2 50 (10%) Sept. 25 and $4 50 paid at each of the first two quarterly distributions in 1907. A Boston paper says:

For the quarter ended March 31 the company earned a trifle over $1 a share on its 110,000 shares of stock. It is the policy of the directors to pay dividends in accordance with the earnings. The output for the first three months of the year was a little over 5,000,000 pounds, which cost about 11 cents a pound to produce, including construction. The company has no copper on hand, and is sold ahead through June at around 13 cents per pound.—V. 86, p. 550.

San Diego (Cal.) Consolidated Gas & Electric Co.—Collateral Trust Notes.—This company, early in 1907, it is learned, made an issue of $250,000 7% collateral trust gold notes.

These notes are dated April 1 1907 and due April 1 1912, but subject to call on April 1 1909 or any Oct. 1 or April 1 thereafter; denominations $500 and $1,000; interest payable quarterly July 1, &c., at office of New York Trust Co., trustee. Sinking fund, beginning Oct. 1 1909, 1 2-3% of the par value of the notes. There is also an issue of $1,500,000 1st refunding 5% bonds dated April 20 1905.—V. 85, p. 103.

San Joaquin (Cal.) Light & Power Co.—Collateral Trust Notes.—A Los Angeles paper states that this company, which is affiliated with the Pacific Light & Power Co. of Los Angeles, is marketing, through the Columbia Trust Co., as trustee, a $50,000 issue of collateral trust 3-year 7% notes, dated March 1 1908, secured by a deposit of first mortgage bonds. Denominations of $100 and $50. The aforesaid paper adds:

The company is devoting practically all of its earnings to betterments, and up to the beginning of the present year the sum from earnings thus invested had exceeded $400,000.—V. 85, p. 288.

Scranton Lumber Co.—6% Guaranteed Bonds Offered by Clark L. Poole & Co., Chicago.—The unsold portion of this company's issue of $1,000,000 6% first mortgage gold bonds, which are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the United States Lumber Co., are offered at par and interest by Clark L. Poole & Co., First National Bank Building, Chicago, by advertisement on another page of this issue.—V. 86, p. 1104.

Sheridan (Wyo.) Coal Co.—Called Bonds.—Twenty-four ($24,000) mortgage bonds of 1903 have been called and will be paid at par and interest at the Union Trust Co., Chicago, trustee, on June 30 1908. Compare V. 84, p. 1372.

Silversmiths' Co., New York.—Dividend Rate Reduced from 6% to 4%.—The directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 1%, payable May 15 to stockholders of record May 9, thus reducing the annual rate to 4%, contrasting with 6% from May 1907, when distributions were begun, to Feb. 1908, both inclusive.—V. 84, p. 1185, 1252.

(C. A.) Smith Timber Co., Marshfield, Ore.—6% Guaranteed Bonds Offered by Clark L. Poole & Co., Chicago —The unsold portion of this company's issue of $3,000,000 6% first mortgage gold bonds, which are guaranteed principal and interest by C. A. Smith of Minneapolis, are offered at par and interest by Clark L. Poole & Co., First National Bank Building, Chicago. See last week's "Chronicle."—p. 1103.

South Dakota Water Co.—Franchises Held to Have Lapsed.—Judge Carland in the United States Circuit Court on April 14, in the suit brought by the company (now in receiver's hands) for an accounting against the city held, in over-ruling a demurrer to a cross bill filed by the City of Sioux Falls seeking to eject the old company from its streets, that the latter has no rights in the streets under the franchise of April 9 1884, which expired in 20 years.

The United States Supreme Court in 1905 held valid the bonds issued by the city for a municipal water plant (V. 81, p. 1391), which is now completed and in use. The city in the first instance could not agree with the company as to price of its plant, and so constructed its own system, and now refuses to buy the old plant. Compare V. 79, p. 790, 746, 518.—V. 81, p. 1854.

Springfield Coal Mining Co., Illinois.—Status.—A. H. Bickmore & Co., New York, some time since, when offering a block of first mortgage 5s, said:

First mortgage sinking fund 5% 20-year gold bonds, due 1923, callabl at any interest date at 107½; authorized and issued, $650,000; retired by sinking fund, $65,000; outstanding, $585,000. Since the consolidation in 1902 the earnings have been largely increased. A recent estimate places the value of properties in excess of $1,500,000. The company operates about 6,000 acres of coal land with excellent railroad connections.

For the calendar year 1907 net earnings from all sources, $102,518; interest charges, $42,050; surplus earnings, $60,468. Net earnings for the five preceeding years have averaged $130,000.—Compare V. 81, p. 1318; V. 76, p. 870.

Standard Screw Co.—Report.—For calendar year ending March 31.

| Cal. Yr.— | Net Profits. | Other Inc. | Ex-penses. | Bond Int.,&c. | Pf. Div. (6%). | Common Dividend. | Balance, Surplus. |
| '07-'08 | $512,137 | $2,046 | $38,002 | $23,434 | $120,000 | (6%) $149,634 | $183,113 |

Texas Land & Cattle Co.—Sale.—A press dispatch from Wharton, Texas, on May 7 said

A. H. Jones of Bexar County has purchased from the company 13,203 acres of land for the consideration of $171,611; $33,000 was paid in cash, the balance to be paid in four notes. The deeds were filed Tuesday afternoon.—V. 82, p. 457.

Topeka (Kan.) Independent Telephone Co.—Notes Offered.—The Theodore Gary Investment Co., Macon, Mo., is offering for sale the unsold portion of a block of $30,000 6% collateral notes, running for three to five years, each $800 note secured by $1,000 of the 5% consolidated mortgage gold bonds, dated May 1 1906. "On moving into the new building the past summer, the company had in operation 5,200 telephones and its service is rapidly increasing." Compare V. 84, p. 808.

Utah Copper Co.—Additional Stock on "Unlisted."—The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the admission of $750,000 additional capital stock to quotation in the unlisted department from time to time on official notice of issuance in exchange for the first mortgage convertible bonds due April 1 1918, making total amount authorized to be admitted $7,347,500.—V. 86, p. 985, 233.

Utica (N. Y.) Gas & Electric Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the outstanding $1,000,000 "refunding and extension mortgage" 5% 50-year bonds due 1957, and has authorized the listing from time to time, but prior to Jan. 1 1909, of $1,000,000 additional of said bonds, on official notice of sale and distribution, making the total amount authorized to be listed $2,000,000. Compare V. 86, p. 726, 606.

Warwick Iron & Steel Co.—Called Bonds.—Fifteen bonds called for payment will be redeemed on June 1 at the Real Estate Title Insurance & Trust Co., 523 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.—V. 84, p. 1253.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—Circular by Merchandise Creditors' Committee.—The committee representing the merchandise creditors has issued a circular to the stockholders under date of May 15 urging them to subscribe to the $6,000,000 additional assenting stock called for by the readjustment plan.

The committee calls attention to the confidence of the merchandise creditors "in abandoning their position as creditors and becoming partners." The circular further says in part:

"The merchandise creditors have responded promptly, as those having claims amounting to $3,600,000 out of a total of $4,250,000 have already signed our agreement. A large proportion of the remainder is already promised, and we believe that practically the entire amount will join the plan. The merchandise creditors are willing to support this plan because they believe that, under such a readjustment of the company's affairs as it contemplates, the stock of your company will reach par, or better, within the next two years, and thus enable them to realize the full amount of their claims. If this supposition on their part be correct, it must certainly follow that your interests will be fully protected and conserved.

"We believe that the combined support of the creditors and the stockholders, together with the assured careful and conservative management of the business and all its varied interests (in which all classes of creditors will be strongly represented), will result in eventually making the stock of the company more valuable than it has ever been. On the other hand, if the $6,000,000 of new capital which the stockholders are called upon to raise is not subscribed, we see no alternative other than a sale of the company's assets on foreclosure." Compare circular letter of President George Westinghouse, V. 86, p. 1105, 922.

Western Sugar & Land Co., Colorado Springs, Col.—Preferred Stock Issue.—This company owns 4,500 acres of land in Mesa County, Colorado, with good irrigation rights and a complete beet-sugar factory at Grand Junction, Colorado. The company has a first mortgage bond issue of $400,000; also a second mortgage bond issue of $300,000, dated 1905 and due in 1923, but now subject to call at any time at 105. The company's capital stock was $1,000,000, all common stock until February of this year, when the capital stock was increased to $2,000,000, the increase of $1,000,000 shares being preferred 7% cumulative stock; $300,000 of this preferred stock, we are informed, will be used for retiring the second mortgage bonds. The balance will be sold for providing working capital, &c. Further particulars follow:

Par value of shares, $100 each. The first mortgage was made to the Colorado Title & Trust Co. of Colorado Springs, and secures $400,000 of 6% gold bonds dated June 1 1903 and due June 1 1923; interest payable Dec. 1 and June 1 at office of Morton Trust Co., New York; tax free; denomination $500 and $1,000. ## PHILADELPHIA COMPANY.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THEYEAR ENDED MARCH 31ST 1908.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 31st 1908.

The Board of Directors herewith submit their report for the fiscal year ended March 31st 1908.

During the year 9 wells were purchased, 1 well reinstated and 144 wells were drilled, of which 119 were productive of gas, 4 of oil and 21 unproductive; 8 wells were sold and 62 abandoned, having ceased to be productive; making the total number of wells owned or controlled through stock ownership and in use by the Company at this date 869.

During the year 39.62 miles of pipe were reclaimed and 144.56 miles were laid. The total amount of pipe lines operated by this Company either through ownership or stock ownership in other corporations is now 2,134.67 miles.

This does not include the 161.99 miles of mains of the Allegheny Heating Company nor the 372.13 miles of mains of our several artificial gas companies.

The Company now holds under lease 422,701⅛ acres of gas and oil territory situated in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. It controls through its ownership of the Fairmont and Grafton Gas Company 20,857⅛ acres, and through its majority ownership of the Equitable Gas Company 905 acres of leaseholds.

The Company sold during the year 35,857,820,745 cubic feet of natural gas, being a decrease of 339,826,276 cubic feet, with increased receipts from that source of $631,407 43.

There has been an increase during the year of 3,693 domestic consumers of the natural gas supplied by the Company and the Companies it operates, including the Allegheny Heating Company and the Fairmont & Grafton Gas Company, making the total number of domestic natural gas comsumers of these companies 91,382.

Accompanying this report are statements showing the financial condition of the Company.

For the Board,

J. H. REED, President.

(Signed) HASKINS & SELLS,
Certified Public Accountants.

New York, May 2d 1908.

—John R. Loomis, of the accounting firm of Loomis, Conant & Co., 30 Broad St., was unanimously elected President of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants, at its annual meeting held this week at the Waldorf-Astoria. Mr. Loomis is well known to the profession and public at large through his services in the interest of certified public accountancy in this State and throughout the country. He was prominently connected with the organization of the International Paper Co., acting as its chief accountant and auditor until he accepted the comptrollership of the Union Box Board & Paper Co. In the earlier period of his practice, which extends over 20 years, Mr. Loomis was for many years consulting accountant for the law firm of Shipman, Larocque & Choate.

—Bond & Goodwin and Mann, Bill & Ware are offering by advertisement on another page, at 97½ and interest, yielding 7%, $1,000,000 5% collateral funding coupon gold notes of United States Rubber Co., due Sept. 15 1909. This issue of secured notes is protected by provision for maintenance of large surplus of cash assets over all debts of the company, also provision that no mortgage can be placed on the property of the company while any of this issue remains outstanding. The company shows a good record of earnings and has a large accumulated surplus. This issue of notes provides for the current financial requirements of constituent companies.

—The banking and bond house of Wm. A. Read & Co. has taken possession of its new Chicago offices directly opposite the Board of Trade Building, on the corner of La Salle Street and Jackson Boulevard. These offices, on the bank floor (formerly occupied by Harris, Winthrop & Co.) are among the most eligible in Chicago. They have every advantage in location. W. M. L. Fiske is Chicago manager for the firm.

—Ernst & Ernst, a prominent accounting firm in Cleveland, has just opened a Chicago branch office in the First National Bank Building, fourth floor, under the management of Horace Manning, resident partner. Mr. Manning is an expert accountant of many years' experience. The specialties of the firm will be auditing, accounting and systematizing.

—Trippe & Co., bankers and brokers, have moved to larger offices at 25 Broad St., in the Broad Exchange Building. George M. Woolsey represents the firm on the New York Stock Exchange. The firm includes: Charles W. Trippe, J. Edward Thompson, William J. Palmer, John J. Gillies, W. B. Thompson and G. M. Woolsey.

—George B. Leighton, of Monadnock, N. H., has written an interesting pamphlet of 24 pages on some of the factors in the New England railway problems which have not received attention in the general discussion of the subject. While the remarks apply chiefly to New England some questions of general interest are also treated.

—The attention of investors is invited to the attractive list of bonds advertised in another column by Leo Speyer at Arthur Lipper & Co.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, May 15th, 1908.

There has been no essential change in the general commercial situation. Trade has kept within conservative limits, caution still being the watchword. The outlook for the crop in the main continues good and prices of commodities have on the whole been pretty well maintained.

LARD on the spot has been easier, owing to liberal receipts of hogs at weaker prices and larger offerings of product. Trade has been dull and confined mainly to local jobbers. Western 8.30@8.35c. and city 8@8⅛c. Refined lard has been steady for Continent and weaker for other grades. Export trade has been at a standstill and the domestic demand has been quiet. Offerings have been larger. Refined Continent 8.90c., South America 9.60c. and Brazil in kegs 10.85c. The speculation in lard futures at the West has been active. Prices have been irregular but in the main the tendency has been downward, owing to an increased movement of live hogs, weakness at the stock yards, dulness of spot, selling by packers and liquidation by commission houses.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF LARD FUTURES IN CHICAGO.

| | Sat. | Mon. | Tues. | Wed. | Thurs. | Fri. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| May delivery | 8.45 | 8.45 | 8.35 | 8.37½ | 8.30 | 8.32½ |
| July delivery | 8.55 | 8.52½ | 8.45 | 8.42½ | 8.37½ | 8.40 |
| September delivery | 8.72½ | 8.70 | 8.62½ | 8.60 | 8.55 | 8.57½ |

PORK on the spot has been firm, with family higher. Offerings have been light, stocks are moderate and there has been a fair demand for domestic and export account. Mess $14 50@$15 25, clear $16 50@$17 25, and family $17@$18. Beef has ruled firm. Supplies are moderate and there has been a good demand, partly for export. Mess $13@$13 50, packet $14@$15, flank $13@$13 50, family $16@$16 75 and extra India mess $23 50@$24 50. Cut meats have been dull and easy but without quotable change. Pickled hams, Western, 10@10⅜c., and city 9c.; pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs., 9@9¾c. Tallow has been quiet and steady; city 5¼@5⅝c. Stearines have been quiet and steady; oleo 11@11¼c., and lard 10@10¼c. Butter has been quiet and weak with supplies increasing; creamery extras 22c. Cheese has been quiet and steady; State, f. c., small, colored fancy, 14½c. Eggs have been quiet and firm; Western firsts, 16½@17½c.

OIL.—Cottonseed has been fairly active and firm; prime summer yellow 43½c.; winter 45@46¾c. Linseed has advanced with trade more active and indications of higher prices shortly. City, raw, American seed, 44@45c., boiled 45@46c., and Calcutta, raw, 70c. Lard has been moderately active and steady; prime 67@70c. and No. 1 extra 53@55c. Cocoanut has been dull and steady; Cochin 7¼@7½c. and Ceylon 6¼@6½c. Olive has been quiet and steady; yellow 68@75c. Peanut has been dull and steady; yellow 65@80c. Cod has been moderately active and steady; domestic 42@43c. and Newfoundland 44@45c.

COFFEE on the spot has been moderately active and firmer. Rio No. 7, 6⅜c. West India growths have been firm and more active; fair to good Cucuta 9@10c. The speculation in future contracts has been rather quiet and the market has lacked features of striking interest. Early in the week, however, buying by prominent roasters imparted a firmer tone to the market, especially as the spot demand improved and the foreign advices were favorable. Of late, however, there has been more disposition to sell and prices have been somewhat easier.

| | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| May | 6.15c. | September | 6.15c. | January | | 6.15c. |
| June | 6.15c. | October | 6.15c. | February | | 6.15c. |

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been active and excited the past week, and values have advanced sharply. Fluctuations in prices have been frequent and violent. The great feature has been the strength of the July option, which, under the influence of aggressive buying and bidding up by prominent Wall Street interests, rose to a premium over October at one time of 80 points. Large spot interests, too, have been active in the buying of that month, and the covering of shorts has been on an enormous scale, even some of the large shorts, it appears, after having stood their ground for some time, finally being forced to cover. The action of the Liverpool market, too, has been a factor of no small importance in the rise. Prices there have shown surprising strength, and the spot demand in the English market has continued on a large scale, the sales on most days ranging from 15,000 to 20,000 bales, despite the rapid advance in prices. Moreover, the weather news from the Southwest has on the whole favored the bulls. Torrential rains have occurred in Texas, Arkansas and the Mississippi Valley, the precipitation on one day alone ranging from 2½ to 7 inches at a number of places. Cold nights, too, have been complained of. The spot markets at the South have been advancing. The reports in regard to the cotton goods market have been more favorable. This is true also of the English trade. Private reports from Manchester regarding the state of trade have been of an encouraging kind, and the big spot demand in the English market has given color to such reports. Liverpool, the South and local commission houses have been heavy buyers here. But reactions have occurred at times, notably on Thursday, when, after advancing sharply early in the day, prices fell violently, especially on July, which, after rising $1 50 a bale, lost the improvement and made a net decline of about as much. The premium on that month over October fell from 80 points to about 50. Leading Wall Street interests were reported to have sold heavily. Some reports had it that they had disposed of their holdings at a large profit, but some were inclined to the view that the pool had merely sold a portion of its line, partly with the idea of forcing smaller longs to sell out. In any case room traders seized the opportunity to sell aggressively for the decline, and the whole list reacted sharply. The short interest, moreover, had been largely eliminated on the sharp rise. The crop news has been in the main of a favorable character, and according to some advices the damage from the recent cold spell in the Southwest was more than offset by beneficial rainfall. To-day, prices advanced rather sharply at first, owing to unexpectedly strong Liverpool advices, large spot sales in the English market, Wall Street and commission house buying, covering of shorts and buying of July by spot interests. Later on came a reaction, July falling sharply on local and Wall Street selling, hammering by room traders and favorable weather. Still later prices rallied, especially on the new-crop months, owing to buying by commission houses and spot interests and covering of shorts. Spot cotton has been quiet and firm. Middling uplands closed at 11c., showing an advance for the week of 45 points.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Telegraphic advices to us this evening from the South indicate that rain has been quite general the past week west of the Mississippi River, and that in some sections of Texas and at a few points elsewhere the precipitation has been in excess. East of the river the weather has been dry in the main. Early in the week low temperature was complained of in some districts, but latterly it has turned warmer. No measureable damage is reported as a result of the rains; in fact our Galveston correspondent reports that benefit therefrom has more than offset any injury done. Planting, where not already completed, is as a rule making good progress, and the crop is said to be doing well on the whole.

Galveston, Texas.—While the week's precipitation has been general and excessive in a few localities, the damage done has been more than offset by the otherwise beneficial results. We have had rain on two days of the week, the rainfall being one inch and fifty-four hundredths. Average thermometer 71, highest 80 lowest 62.

Abilene, Texas.—We have had rain two days of the week, the rainfall reaching thirty-two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 72, the highest being 90 and the lowest 54.

Brenham, Texas.—There has been heavy rain on three days during the week, the precipitation being three inches and thirty-two hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 72, ranging from 56 to 88.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—We have had rain on two days the past week, the rainfall being two inches and twenty hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 70 to 84, averaging 77.

Cuero, Texas.—We have had rain on two days the past week, the rainfall being one inch and forty-four hundredths. Average thermometer 72, highest 90, lowest 53.

Dallas, Texas.—It has rained during the week on three days, the rainfall having reached two inches and ten hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 68, the highest being 90 and the lowest 45.

Fort Worth, Texas.—There has been rain on three days during the week, to the extent of two inches and fifty-four hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 74, ranging from 60 to 88.

Henrietta, Texas.—There has been rain on three days during the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and ninety-four hundredths. Thermometer has ranged from 53 to 87, averaging 70.

Huntsville, Texas.—It has rained excessively on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching seven inches and sixty-five hundredths. Average thermometer, 74, highest 87, lowest 60.

Kerrville, Texas.—Dry all the week. The thermometer has averaged 71, the highest being 91 and the lowest 50.

Lampasas, Texas.—Rainfall for the week twenty-six hundredths of an inch on three days. The thermometer has averaged 65, ranging from 48 to 91.

Longview, Texas.—It has rained heavily on two days of the week, the precipitation reaching four inches and sixty-eight hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 50 to 88, averaging 69.

Luling, Texas.—Rainfall for the week ninety-seven hundredths, of an inch on one day. Average thermometer 73, highest 90, lowest 55.

Nacogdoches, Texas.—There has been heavy rain on two days during the week, to the extent of four inches and seventy-three hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 68, the highest being 84 and the lowest 52.

EUROPEAN COTTON CONSUMPTION TO MAY 1.—By cable to-day we have Mr. Ellison's cotton figures brought down to May 1. We give also revised totals for last year that comparison may be made. The spinners' takings in actual bales and pounds have been as follows:

| Oct. 1 to May 1. | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| For 1907-08. | | | |
| Takings by spinners bales | 2,509,000 | 3,845,000 | 6,354,000 |
| Average weight of bales lbs. | 506 | 483 | 492.1 |
| Takings in pounds | 1,269,554,000 | 1,857,335,000 | 3,126,889,000 |
| For 1906-07. | | | |
| Takings by spinners bales | 2,701,000 | 4,190,000 | 6,891,000 |
| Average weight by bales lbs. | 503 | 481 | 489.6 |

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Great Britain is 506 pounds per bale this season, against 503 pounds during the same time last season. The Continental deliveries average 483 pounds, against 481 pounds last year, and for the whole of Europe the deliveries average 492.1 pounds per bale, against 489.6 pounds last season. Our dispatch also gives the full movement for this year and last year in bales of 500 pounds.

ENGLISH COTTON MILLS TO CURTAIL YARN PRODUCTION.—By cable we are informed that at a conference held to-day at Manchester, English spinners of American cotton decided to close their mills the week of June 8 and two days weekly for a month thereafter.

EGYPTIAN COTTON CROP.—The Alexandria General Produce Exchange Association has issued its first report for the season on the Egyptian cotton crop, as follows:

Owing to heavy rains during January and February having delayed plowing, sowing is generally fifteen to twenty days late, but is nevertheless now finished, except in a few places in North Behara and Garbieh. The plants have come up well, and although considerably less forward than last year, appear to be in good condition and healthy. Taking this into consideration, it is hoped that with the aid of favorable temperature the actual belatedness can be made up in the future.

The amount of land planted seems to be about equal to last year. As usual, Mit-Afifi sowings predominate, with less Nubari and Abassi but a marked increase in Joanovich; especially in the Garbieh and Dakahlish provinces. Water is far from abundant, but it seems likely that with rotations as fixed there will be sufficient for agricultural needs up to the arrival of the floods.

Reports from Upper Egypt regarding the present state of water, cotton plants and acreage planted are similar to those from the Delta. No appearance of worms has been noticed so far.

Messrs. L. H. A. Schwartz & Co., the Boston agents of Messrs. R. & O. Lindemann, Alexandria, Egypt, have received advices under date of Friday April 24th, as follows:

NEW CROP.—Sowings are about completed and an even heat favors the young plants. We learn that for Upper Egypt one must count on a reduction in the cultivation of cotton in the neighborhood of 10%, while in the Delta the same acreage as last year will be planted with cotton.

Regarding the varieties sown, it is estimated that the cultivation of Joanovich has again been noticeably increased at the expense of Mitafifi. Of Nubari it would seem a little less has been sown, and of Abbassi about the same quantity as last year.

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have as a rule been firm and some grades have latterly advanced despite the sharp decline in wheat quotations, the generally favorable crop prospects and the stagnation in trade. Some mills have latterly closed down. This action has been attributed by some to inability to secure wheat for grinding, but the more general explanation is the extreme dulness of trade. Despite the curtailment of production, however, the output of the mills during the past week was about double the sales. Export business has been lifeless. Rye flour and corn meal have been in light demand and firm.

Wheat has declined, owing to heavy selling attributed to large Chicago interests recently active on the long side. Crop accounts, too, have in the main been favorable, a fact which has encouraged pit traders to sell aggressively for the decline. The cash trade has, on the whole, been quiet, especially the domestic demand, and the reports in regard to the flour trade have been distinctly unfavorable, the reported closing down of mills in various parts of the country having had no small influence on sentiment. The spring-wheat crop in this country, as well as in Manitoba, has been planted in most sections, and the indications are for some increase in the area. The crop outlook in most parts of Europe, according to the latest reports, is on the whole more favorable than recently, though the Russian winter wheat, it appears, has been damaged by excessive wet due to melting snow, and spring plowing has been retarded by cold and excessive moisture. But rallies have occurred in prices at times. There has been a tendency to overdo the short side. Then, too, there have been numerous reports of serious damage to winter wheat in Kansas by Hessian fly. It is said that fields in some parts of that State have been plowed up, owing to the fly damage. The foreign market advices, too, have on the whole been encouraging and the statistics have been distinctly bullsih. The receipts have continued small, the arrivals at the primary markets on some days being less than half as large as on the corresponding days last year. Supplies have continued to diminish. The world's available stock decreased nearly 7,000,000 bushels during the past week, as compared with a decrease of less than one million in the same week last year. The world's supply is now stated at only 117,253,000 bushels, or about 50,000,000 bushels less than at this time last year, while the supply in the United States is some 25,000,000 bushels smaller than then. The stock of contract wheat at Chicago is in round numbers 6,000,000 bushels smaller than a year ago and is steadily diminishing. The shipments from Argentina have decreased. To-day prices declined on generally favorable weather and crop reports, weak cables from Liverpool, predictions of larger receipts at the Northwest, larger Argentine shipments than expected, selling by cash interests, selling by pit traders, and liquidation.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have been easier in the main, owing to the fall in wheat, favorable crop reports from most sections and liquidation. The trading has been dull, few caring to engage in it, owing to the manipulation by strong Chicago interests. The receipts have been moderate and there has been a fair cash demand. The bull leader has made large shipments out of Chicago, but stocks there are relatively large, and it is contended that there will be ample supplies for delivery on all May contracts. Seeding has been practically completed, and early-planted oats look well as a rule To-day prices declined on the depression in wheat, an easier cash market at the West, favorable weather and crop accounts, liquidation and the dulness of the trading.

Indian corn futures declined for a time early in the week, under liquidation attributed to leading bulls at Chicago. The market also felt the effects for a time of the depression in wheat. But there was little disposition to sell for short account, and of late prices have rallied. The weather has been unfavorable for farm work and plowing is backward everywhere. Heavy rains, too, have interfered with the movement to market, despite the high prices current. There has been a good shipping demand at the West at strong prices. Bull leaders have given support at times. On the whole, however, speculation has been quiet, owing to the open manipulation of prices. To-day prices declined early on the break in wheat, more favorable weather and liquidation, but rallied later on covering.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climatological Division of the United States Weather Bureau, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the weather in the various States for the week ending May 11, summarizing them as follows:

The weather during the week ending May 11 1908 was unseasonably cold and unfavorable over most of the country, the deficiency in temperature being most marked over the districts from the Middle Rocky Mountain region to the Middle Atlantic and New England coasts. Light to heavy frosts were general in the plateau regions and from the upper Missouri Valley southward to Oklahoma and northwestern Texas, and light frosts occurred as far south as the northern portions of the Gulf States and western North Carolina. In the Rocky Mountain regions and New England the southern limit of freezing temperature was about the same as in the preceding week, but in the region between these districts it was generally from 150 to 300 miles farther north.

The precipitation was excessive over the greater part of the central valleys and Lake region and in New England and the Middle Atlantic and central and east Gulf States. There is complaint of too much moisture in portions of the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys, while most of Texas and portions of the upper Missouri Valley need rain.

There was sufficient sunshine in the Southern States and upper Missouri and Red River of the North valleys, but excessive cloudiness prevailed throughout the central valleys, Lake region, Middle Atlantic States and New England, and warmth and sunshine are much needed in these districts.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, May 15 1908.

There have again been signs of improvement in the cotton goods market during the past week and not only has the demand perceptibly broadened but the tone of prices is appreciably firmer. This does not mean that there has been anything like activity in the market, but conditions have not been by any means as dull as in the recent past. One of the reasons for the re-awakening of interest has been the sharp advance in the price of cotton, which forcibly brought home to many buyers the extent of the decline that has taken place in cotton goods, and particularly in those that are the most affected by fluctuations in the price of the raw material. Buyers generally are showing more confidence in the stability of prices and it is recognized that many lines have gone as low as they are likely to during the remainder of the year. On the other hand, there are some others that will be revised when a favorable opportunity presents itself, and these are now being shipped on memorandum, the price to be agreed upon later. Another favorable feature has been an improvement in the export demand, substantial sales having been made during the week to India, China and miscellaneous countries. An important announcement has been made by the receivers of the Arnold Print Works to the effect that they will sell at auction on Tuesday next 7,000 cases of Arnold wash goods. It is a long time since there was a large auction sale of cotton goods in New York and it is not only expected that a large number of buyers will be attracted to the city by it, but also that it will go far to clear the situation and improve the prospects of jobbers re-entering the market. There has been a moderate demand for men's wear woolen and worsted goods, but orders for dress goods have been small.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending May 9 were 2,131 packages, valued at $140,244, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York to May 9. | Week | Since Jan. 1 | Week | Since Jan. 1 |
| Great Britain | 8 | 217 | 23 | 935 |
| Other European | 31 | 433 | 16 | 461 |
| China | | 11,069 | | 8,949 |
| India | | 3,181 | 175 | 4,404 |
| Arabia | 250 | 11,349 | | 17,948 |
| Africa | 207 | 2,239 | | 3,527 |
| West Indies | 484 | 8,044 | 381 | 9,242 |
| Mexico | 150 | 782 | 51 | 909 |
| Central America | 282 | 5,252 | 131 | 6,022 |
| South America | 350 | 15,825 | 508 | 18,541 |
| Other countries | 369 | 6,682 | 406 | 13,625 |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $4,234,726 in 1908, against $5,382,409 in 1907.

There has been a decided improvement in the demand for heavy brown drills and sheetings during the week and as a result prices have in several instances been advanced from ¼c. to ½c. from the low point reached. The sharp advance in the price of the raw material has apparently had its effect upon converters, who have been purchasing with a greater amount of freedom than for some time past. In addition to a continued demand for 3.50 yard sheetings for the Red Sea, business has been done with China during the week in 4-yard sheetings; India also appeared as a buyer of some 500 bales of standard drills. The improvement in the export demand has caused some sellers to revise some of the very low prices at which they were offering goods. Low-count bleached goods are slightly firmer with a better demand. Business in coarse, colored cotton goods has not been active but the tone of the market is better. Linings have been quiet. Napped goods have continued in good demand for fall. There has been a further reduction in the price of dress ginghams and this has gone far to relieve the congestion which was hampering operations. Staple prints have not yet been reduced, but goods are being shipped on memorandum; there are indications that stocks in second hands are getting low. Print cloths have been active and wide goods are fully ⅛c. higher; converters have been free purchasers. So far narrow goods have not participated in the improvement.

WOOLEN GOODS.—Buying of men's wear woolen and worsted goods for the current spring season has continued during the week and duplicate orders for fall have been the heaviest so far recorded. The only cause for complaint in the case of the latter is that the orders have not been widely distributed, and while some mills are already in the enviable position of being practically sold up, others find themselves with not enough orders to keep their machinery running. Altogether, however, while there has been a decided improvement in the season's prospects, probably not more than one-half of last year's yardage has been placed and from the lateness of the season it is apparent that the total will fall very far short of that placed during the previous season. The sharp declines recorded at the London Colonial Wool sales, which commenced on Tuesday last, would indicate that prices of woolen and worsted goods for next spring will be lower. So far few light-weight lines have been shown and there is a disposition to delay openings as long as possible. While a few duplicate orders have been received for fine worsted dress goods, the volume of business passing in the primary market has been insignificant. Little in the way of activity is expected until garment makers, who are now on the road, get a clearer idea of the size of the orders they will receive.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Fine imported woolen and worsted dress goods have met with a fair demand during the week. Silks have been irregular. Ribbons have sold fairly well. Greater interest is being shown in advance ordering of linens. Burlaps are firm, owing to the limited supplies of heavy-weight cloths.

STATE AND CITY DEPARTMENT.

News Items.

German Empire.—Bonds Offered by Bankers.—Eversz & Co. of Chicago are offering at par and accrued interest a portion of the 250,000,000 marks German Empire 4% gold bonds and 400,000,000 marks Kingdom of Prussia 4% gold bonds. These securities were recently emitted by the German Government and, it is reported, were over-subscribed several times. The bonds will be listed on the Berlin and Frankfort Stock Exchanges and will be issued in denominations of 1,000 marks ($240), 2,000 marks ($480) and 5,000 marks ($1,200). They are irredeemable prior to April 1 1918 and, it is stated, are not subject to any Government tax. Interest April 1 and Oct. 1. Interim certificates, exchangeable for bonds, will be on hand about May 20.

Jersey City, N. J.—Decision in Water Works Case.—On May 2 Vice-Chancellor Stevens at Newark rendered a decision fixing the amount to be paid by the city for the city's new system of water-works, the contract for which was signed in 1899. See item under head of "Jersey City Water Supply Co." in our "Investment News" department elsewhere.

Bonds Authorized.—At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Finance, held May 12, an ordinance was adopted providing for the issuance of $1,000,000 4½% coupon (with privilege of registration) funding bonds. Denomination $1,000. Date July 1 1908. Interest semi-annual. Maturity June 30 1928.

Massachusetts.—Exemption from Taxation of Future Issues of Municipal and County Bonds, Notes and Certificates of Indebtedness.—The Governor on April 28 approved an Act (Chapter 464) exempting from taxation for State, county, city or town purposes bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness of any county, city or town in Massachusetts which may be issued on or after May 1 1908. The Act also provides that so much of the deposits of savings banks as is invested in these securities shall be exempt from taxation. We give below the law in full:

An Act to exempt from taxation future issues of Municipal and County Bonds, Notes and Certificates of Indebtedness.

Be it enacted, &c., as follows:

Section 1. Bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness of any county, city or town in the commonwealth which may be issued on or after the first day of May in the year nineteen hundred and eight shall be exempt from taxation for State, county, city or town purposes. Such bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness shall state upon their face that they are exempt from taxation in Massachusetts, and, unless they so state, shall not be exempt.

Section 2. So much of the deposits of savings banks and institutions for savings as is invested in the bonds, notes or certificates of indebtedness described in section one of this Act shall be exempt from taxation.

Section 3. All Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This Act shall take effect upon its passage. [Approved April 28 1908.]

New York State.—Governor's Message to Special Session of Legislature.—The Legislature convened in special session at 8:30 p. m. on May 11 in accordance with the proclamation issued by Gov. Hughes on April 23, the day of final adojurnment of the regular session. See V. 86, p. 1053. In his message to the Legislature the following recommendations are mdea by the Governor:

Amend the election law to provide for the complete identification o voters in connection with registration.

Extend the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission so as to control telephone and telegraph companies.

Pass a law to prevent political parties from undoing the will of the voters in their local or State conventions.

Amend the labor law to provide a bureau for inspection of mercantile houses, and transferring the enforcement of the law relating to mercantile establishments from the Health Board to the Commissioner of Labor.

Pass resolutions for the appointment of special commissions to investigate speculation in railroad stocks and other commodities, and the condition of the unemployed in New York
